THE STANDARD SOUTHERN NEWSPAPER

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

ASSOCIATED PRESS SERVICE

VOL. LII, No. 165. Entered at Atlanta P. O. as Second-Class Mail Matter. ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 26, 1919. ONLY MORNING NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED IN ATLANTA. Daily and Sunday, weekly, 50c; monthly 90c. Single copies: Daily, 5c; Sunday, 7c.

COAL STRIKE DEADLOCKS CABINET

STRAINED ALMOST TO SNAPPING

RELATIONS TENSE BETWEEN MEXICO AND UNITED STATES

Carranza's Delay in Releasing U. S. Consular Agent Jenkins Has Caused Very Grave Situation.

NO REPLY BY MEXICO TO AMERICAN NOTE

Cabinet Considers the Situation But Reaches No Decision — Army and Navy Ready to Meet Any Emergency.

Mexico City, November 25.—There was a rumor in newspaper circles this evening that the Mexican government's answer to the American note demanding the release of Consular Agent Jenkins would be given Wednesday. The American embassy announced that it has received no intimation to this effect.

At the embassy it was stated tonight that no word had been received indicating that Mr. Jenkins had been set free.

Washington, November 25.—The new flare-up over the Mexican problem, growing out of the Jenkins case, was given serious consideration today at a meeting of the president's cabinet.

There was no intimation as to what this government might do in event President Carranza refused to answer the note from the state department demanding immediate release of William O. Jenkins, consular agent at Puebla, held on a charge of conniving with bandits who kidnaped and held him for a $150,000 ransom.

No attempt was made to conceal the feeling that the situation was serious and that relations between the United and Mexico were strained. Officials said the three departments, state, war and navy, were ready to meet any eventuality and deal with any situation arising out of a more defiant attitude by the Carranza administration toward the United States.

Reports Are Doubted.

In the absence of advices from the embassy at Mexico City, officials were not inclined to put much faith in reports coming by way of Laredo, Texas, that the release of Jenkins "was momentarily expected." There was no word to the department from the Mexican embassy here and while nobody seemed to know what the next day might bring forth, officials said they would not be surprised to hear that Jenkins actually had been released.

Meanwhile the government has checked up on the official and private record of Jenkins and had given him a high class rating. Officials declared there was no foundation for the charge that he had conspired with the bandits, and that information from every available source showed that his statement of his capture, and the methods employed by the bandits was correct in all details.

The latest reports from the American embassy showed that Jenkins was still in the penitentiary and ill, and that bail had been refused him.

In looking into the various features of the consular agent's predicament officials pointed out today that under the Mexican constitution state courts had no jurisdiction over cases involving diplomatic or consular officers, such jurisdiction being lodged specifically in the federal court. It was contended that the federal court of Mexico could settle the question with one stroke of the pen, simply by assuming jurisdiction, as is its right. Mexican officials have stated that their government could not mix up in the case, that it was before the state court and that the federal court could not interfere.

High Praise for Jenkins.

"Jenkins is the soul of honor. He is incapable of the offense charged against him by the Mexican authorities."

This was the tribute paid to William O. Jenkins, American consular agent, held in the penitentiary at Puebla, Mexico, for conspiracy against th Carranza government, by his schoolboy friend and college mate, Congressman Ewin L. Davis, of the fifth district of Tennessee.

The congressman "grew up" with "Bill" Jenkins. They went through public school together in Bedford county, Tennessee, and continued their intimate friendship at Vanderbilt university, Nashville, Tenn. Jenkins was a famous football player

Continued on Page 22, Column 2.

No General Strike To Be Called Dec. 1 On the Railroads

Brotherhood Chiefs Deny That They Are Holding Secret Sessions at Cleveland in Regard to Strike.

LOCAL UNIONS URGE CALLING OF STRIKE

But Union Leaders Say That Question Has Not Been Considered at Cleveland Conference. Statements by Shea and Lee.

Chicago, November 25.—Reports that national leaders of the four railway brotherhoods in session in Cleveland were holding secret discussions as to whether a strike of railway workers in the United States should be called by December 1 and which gained wide circulation and considerable credence in Chicago railway union circles, were denied tonight by W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and by Timothy Shea, acting president of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen. President Lee, however, admitted having received a telegram from the Kansas City local saying that the trainmen and yardmen there had decided to strike tomorrow, and that he had warned them that if they thought they were "bigger than the United States government," he had no advice to give them.

Knowledge of the Kansas City situation and of similar pressure from other locals is what gave impetus to the reports which spread so rapidly here tonight.

It was said by one union official that many of the delegates who are now in Cleveland went there with the specific purpose of forcing the general committee to call the nation-wide strike.

Strike Permission Asked.

It became known tonight that the Kansas City local of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen had telegraphed national officials of their organizations asking permission to call a strike of trainmen and yardmen tomorrow. It was reported that the national officers replied in such a way as to leave the question entirely open and subject to the decision of local officials.

The union officials in Chicago from whom the information was obtained stated that so far as they were aware the secret conference in Cleveland had not yet reached the point where resolutions or motions for the strike actually had been presented but that the discussion concerning it today, according to their information, was favorable to the project and that the tie-up could be expected within three days. A similar announcement was made late today at the convention of the newly organized labor party here.

Locals Urging Strike.

Buffalo, Detroit, Pittsburg and St.

Continued on Page 17, Column 3.

SOUTH DAKOTA GOES INTO WOOD COLUMN

Mitchell, S. Dak., November 25.—Reports received at the republican state headquarters here from the county proposal conventions held in South Dakota on Tuesday, November 18, show that General Leonard Wood will receive the indorsement of the state proposal convention at Pierre December 2 for the republican nomination for president, and that Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, will be given the dissenting or minority indorsement.

Proposal men known to be for General Wood in reports thus far received will cast some thirty thousand votes as compared to 8,000 estimated for Governor Lowden. It is expected that this will be about the proportion in which the total vote will divide. If Senator Hiram Johnson enters the South Dakota primary must be in the independent column of the republican party ballot.

Under the new primary law of the state, delegates designated as proposal men, are elected from all county districts for the purpose of nominating candidates for the offices of president, senator, congressman and also state tickets at the state convention. Both the republican and democratic parties will hold their conventions at Pierre on December 2.

DEATH SENTENCE FOR GEN. ANGELES

Execution Is Delayed, as Attorneys for Angeles Have Appealed to Supreme Court.

Juarez, Mexico, November 25.—General Felipe Angeles and his two companions, Major Nester Enciso de Arce and Soldier Antonia Trillo, captured near Parral, Chihuahua, November 15 by Major Gabino Sandoval, were found guilty by a court martial at Chihuahua City this morning and sentenced to be shot at noon today, according to information received by Judge Gonzales Medina, of the Mexican federal court, here this afternoon.

The sentence was not carried out, it was said, because the attorneys for Angeles appealed to the federal court at Juarez and the supreme court of Mexico at Mexico City for a stay of execution by applying for a writ of habeas corpus.

The Juarez court denied the appeal, Judge Medina holding his court had no jurisdiction and the supreme court was the only tribunal which could act. Besides the supreme court, President Carranza also could save the condemned man with a pardon.

It was said by court officials that if the supreme court grants the application it simply means that court will only revie w the proceedings of the court martial and that if no errors are found it will mean carrying out of the sentence, unless Carranza intervenes. Carranza already has many petitions seeking clemency for General Angeles.

For three hours General Angeles faced the military court of four Carranza generals and defended the action of himself and his companions. Two of the four men captured with him already have been executed by Carranza soldiers. The soldier Trillo, on trial with Angeles, is but seventeen years old.

Couriers brought the story of the trial to the border tonight. Attempts to obtain telegraphic information failed.

During his address to the court General Angeles praised America and Americans. In this connection he was reported to have said:

"The Mexican people always have viewed with dislike and apprehension the great American nation; always being brought up to believe their powerful neighbors are harboring thoughts of our conquest. Nothing is more erroneous.

"Our great neighboring nation, headed by its great president, Mr. Wilson, has only the kindliest feeling for us and our welfare. It is often said here that the American army is a nonentity. Though true that its former army was of little importance, its present army is one of the greatest in existence. It embodies all of the flower and young, clean-blood of the nation."

WILSON'S PARDON TO JESSE KOHLER CAME AFTER DEATH

Los Angeles, November 25.—A pardon signed by President Wilson for Jesse Kohler, a federal prisoner, was received yesterday. When officials went to present it to Kohler at the county hospital where he had been taken because of illness, they learned he had died eighteen days ago.

Kohler was convicted in 1918 on a charge of using the mails to defraud, and was sentenced to eighteen months in a federal penitentiary. He had advertised for men to accompany him to Mexico to remove a treasure secreted by Villa and was charged with having diverted to personal use expense funds advanced by them. He maintained there had been no criminal intent in his act.

TECH PROFESSORS CAN'T HAVE EGGS ON THEIR SALARIES

Pittsburg, November 25.—Carnegie Institute of Technology professors are so poorly paid some of them are unable to have eggs for breakfast and at least one of them is unable to buy himself a badly-needed pair of shoes.

The statements are said to have been made yesterday at a meeting of the general faculty and made public today when resolutions asking the trustees to revise the salary schedule were sent to the trustees.

Prohi Officer for Florida.

Washington, November 25.—Lieutenant Oscar P. Hilburn, of Tampa, was appointed today federal prohibition enforcement officer for Florida.

MILLS RE-ELECTED HEAD OF FARMERS' UNION IN GEORGIA

Jenkinsburg Man Again Named President by the State Convention in Session Here—Other Officials Also Re-elected.

TALK BY BARRETT FEATURES SESSION

The National President Stresses Growing Importance of Food Producers and Urges Closer Co-operation.

J. H. Mills, of Jenkinsburg, was re-elected to the presidency of the Farmers' Union of Georgia at the Tuesday evening session of the state convention. J. D. Weaver, of Dawson, was elected to his fourth successive term as vice president, and A. J. Fleming, of Jenkinsburg, was re-elected to the office of secretary and treasurer.

In his speech of acceptance, Mr. Mills signified his gratitude to the union for the support they have given him in the past, and said that he was going to endeavor to make his next term the most successful in his efforts for the co-operative plan and for the benefit of the union in general.

Representing practically every county in Georgia, more than 300 farmers of the state gathered Tuesday morning in the state capitol for the state convention of the Farmers' union, presided over by Mr. Mills, president of the organization.

Addresses by men prominent in the work of the body consumed most of the morning session, which was formally opened by J. R. Smith, who welcomed the convention on behalf of Atlanta, in the place of Mayor Key, who was kept away by official business.

The response on behalf of the union was made by Mr. Weaver, vice president of the organization, after which the president of the body made the annual address to the body.

Address by Barrett.

Much interest in the afternoon session was centered about the talk

Continued on Page 22, Column 1.

Hunger Strike By 73 Radicals Against Barrier

The "Reds" Confined at Ellis Island Also Stage "Silence" Strike Against Congress Probers.

New York, November 25.—A hunger strike was coupled with a "silence" strike today by seventy-three radicals at Ellis Island in an effort to have removed an iron barrier separating them from visiting relatives.

The barrier was erected after discovery that several reds planned to escape by exchanging clothes with friends and after some visitors had passed revolvers to the radicals.

In a letter to the house immigration committee, which is in New York investigating the immigration and deportation system, they reiterated that they would not attend deportation hearings held by immigration inspectors and would go on a hunger strike in addition. Three summons to the dining room were unanswered. Drinking water and oratory had been their only diet tonight for 24 hours.

About a half dozen voluntarily attended hearings, but joined in the hunger strike. One attended a hearing, but refused to answer questions.

Byron H. Uhl, acting commissioner at the island, asked the advice of the local United States district attorney as to whether hearings could be held without the presence of the radicals. He thought members of the house committee had been incorrect in announcing that a supreme court decision required their presence.

The strikers, with the exception of two young women, are segregated in a large room. All are anxious to be deported to soviet Russia or go there voluntarily, according to their counsel.

Discovery of a plot of several "reds" to escape with the aid of visitors was the reason for setting up the wire barrier against which the strike is directed, it was announced this afternoon.

It was explained the prisoners had borrowed overcoats from callers who had given them their passes. It also became known today that arms had been slipped to prisoners.

Coal Committee Asks Shut-Down by Plants For Four-Day Period

BOLSHEVIK CASH PAID TO MALONE

Martens Says He Gave $1,000 to Dudley Field Malone, Former Official Under Wilson—Martens Tells of Propaganda Work.

New York, November 25.—Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, who calls himself ambassador of the soviet government of Russia, admitted late today that he paid Dudley Field Malone, former collector of the port of New York, $1,000 on September 12 "for help in a commercial transaction." He told the joint legislative committee investigating radical activities that it was for advice in trying to arrange a $9,500,000 shipment of boots, meats and chemicals to be paid for on delivery in Petrograd.

Martens denied he knew that Malone had formed, or was forming, "a corporation to do business with soviet Russia, and declared that his "embassy" was not specifically interested in such an organization. He did not know that Malone "had been speaking in behalf of the soviet government of Russia," either before or after he paid him $1,000, he said, and denied that he and Malone had spoken from the same platform in Madison Square Garden here last June.

Malone was not regular counsel for the soviet bureau, Martens said, but was employed solely as special agent in plans to buy and ship to Russia $5,000,000 worth of boots and $4,500,000 worth of other supplies.

Propaganda Work.

Martens asserted, in reply to questions volleyed at him by Attorney General Newton that 25 per cent of his activities here are devoted to propaganda for recognition of the Russian soviet government by the United States, or "publicity work to impress upon the American people that the Russian soviet form of government is desirable."

Inquiries, based on the committee's announced efforts to find out if Martens is, or is not, in realty chief of the communist radicals trying to spread revolution throughout the United States, brought no definite affirmative results today. Martens admitted having a branch office in Detroit, in charge of a Dr. Rovin, which has been established for the past four or five months, with a small force of workers.

The reason for this sub-bureau, Martens said, was because of plans looking towards the purchase of motor cars and tractors for the soviet. He had "negotiated" with the Ford Motor company, but had not actually bought anything there, he said. He admitted that he "knew all the time" that he couldn't ship anything in large amounts to Russia.

Received About $90,000.

Martens said since April he had received about $90,000 for his use here, all from the soviet government. No contributions had been solicited or received from any other source, he said. Couriers brought as much as $20,000 at a time in secret and carried back correspondence the same way. He flatly refused to tell how they came and went, who they were, or where they could be found.

The bolsheviki do not intend to repudiate $100,000,000 worth of bonds issued by the imperial and provisional governments of Russia, as reported, said Martens. Martens asserted that although the soviet government had been authorized by the all-Russian congress of soviets to repudiate obligations contracted in preceding regimes, it did not intend to take advantage of this permission.

Trial of Ex-Kaiser Begins in London Early Next Year

British Government Is Completing Arrangements — Holland to Be Asked to Surrender William.

London, November 25.—The British government expects the trial of Former Emperor William of Germany to begin in London early in the new year and is completing necessary arrngements, says the Mail, which adds that as soon as the allies have ratified the treaty a united request for the surrender of the ertswhile emperor will be presented to Holland.

There is no room for doubt that the request will be complied with, the newspaper says. Ratification of the treaty is confidently expected in a few weeks.

ASK CO-OPERATION OF ALL INTERESTS TO HELP SCHOOLS

Acute Shortage of Fuel Imminent, Says Committee, in Requesting Drastic Action to Curtail Consumption.

REDUCTION LIKELY IN TRAIN SERVICE

Industries Asked to Shut Down From Wednesday to Monday — Business Houses, Offices, Etc., Asked to Close at 4 P. M. Every Day.

Imminent and acute shortage of coal has caused the regional coal committee to issue a patriotic appeal to various industries, commercial houses, and other large users in all parts of the southern region to cut down on their coal consumption, and has specified certain desires as to this curtailment. The committee asks that all industries, other than those performing continuous operations that cannot stop without heavy loss, suspend operations on the evening of November 26, over Thanksgiving, until Monday morning. It further requests that, as far as practicable, all business offices and houses arrange to close daily at 4 p. m. during the coal crisis in order to lessen consumption of fuel for both heating and lighting.

The request, which is made as a patriotic appeal to every citizen, further asks that the mayors, city commissions, sheriffs and other municipal and county officials throughout the southern region co-operate in seeing that the requests are complied with and that their people realize that these steps are imperatively necessary for the country's protection.

May Curtail Trains.

Significant, also, is the addition to the request that announces the possibility of the situation becoming so acute in the very near future that the railroads will be asked to curtail their passenger service, and instructions have already been issued by Regional Director Winchell to the railroads in the southern region to prepare for such an emergency. If this is done, all railroad trains not absolutely necessary to the public convenience will be dispensed with, railroads are requested to hold themselves in readiness to put the program into effect at a moment's notice following telegraphic instructions.

The statement says that the general public does not realize the seriousness of the situation; specifying that since November 1, the coal production of the country has been below one-third of normal and the reserve stocks of fuel are rapidly vanishing.

Appeal From Committee.

The appeal from the regional coal committee, in full, follows:

"We are faced with a situation far more critical than the general public has yet realized. Since November 1 the country's coal production has been below one-third of normal and the reserve fuel stocks are rapidly vanishing. The production today is not sufficient to meet the actual daily requirements of consumers in the first five classes of the fuel administration's preference list; therefore, even the drastic restrictions imposed on November 17 limiting delivery of coal to consumers in these classes have not stopped the drain on stocks of coal in hand.

"So far, by careful handling of coal in possession of the railroads, it has been possible to meet emergency demands nearly everywhere for domestic fuel and supplies to insure continued operation of public utilities, including ice plants and other such industries upon which the health and safety of communities are dependent. Now, however, the suppiying of even these consumers is endangered and it becomes necessary to appeal to that part of the public which is receiving supplies under existing restrictions to adopt very strict measures of conservation.

"To this end this committee, representing the United States fuel administration, asks that two steps be taken immediately:

"First, that all industries, other than those performing continuous operations of manufacture which cannot stop without heavy loss, either to plants or material on hand or in course of manufacture, arrange to suspend operations on the evening of November 26 over Thanksgiving day until Monday morning, December 1. As far as practicable, this course should be followed also by all mercantile establishments, office buildings and other such concerns.

Ask Early Closing.

"Second, so far as practicable, all stores, business houses and offices should arrange to close daily at 4 p. m. as long as the emergency exists in order to lessen consumption of fuel for both heating and lighting. This will very materially lessen the consumption of fuel by public utilities.

"Third, householders should guard their coal bins and exert personal effort to reduce to a minimum the use of fuel and lights in their homes.

"The mayors, city commissions, sheriffs and other municipal and county officials throughout the southern region are requested to co-operate in seeing that these requests are complied with and that their people realize that these steps are imperatively necessary for their own and the country's protection.

"This is an appeal to the patriotism of every citizen.

"REGIONAL COAL COMMITTEE."

In preparation for a situation still more acute than that now existing, which may be expected to develop if the coal miners do not return soon to the mines, Regional Director B. L. Winchell today instructed all railroads in the southern region to prepare programs of curtailed passenger service. Each federal manager is listing the passenger trains which readily can be dispensed with without serious inconvenience to the public and will be ready at a moment's notice to put the program into effect by telegraphic instructions.

ALL-DAY SESSION FAILS TO RESULT IN AGREEMENT

Meanwhile Less Than 40 Per Cent of Normal Coal Output Being Produced Nation Is Facing Critical Period.

M'ADOO IS ATTACKED BY COAL OPERATORS

For Alleging Their Profits Have Been "Shocking." Operators Say McAdoo Is Aiding Bolshevism. Former Secretary Demands a Show-down of Profits.

Washington, November 25.—Like the miners and operators, whose troubles it was trying to adjust, President Wilson's cabinet tonight seemed hopelessly deadlocked on the question of a wage increase in the binuminous coal industry.

After a six-hour session the cabinet, which took up the wage scale agreement where operators and miners left off last week, adjourned until tomorrow, when another attempt, with the aid of Fuel Administrator Garfield, will be made to agree upon a pay scale that will satisfy the mine workers and owners, and the people in all sections of the country, who are clamoring for normal production of coal.

The proper basis of calculating the proposed wage advance, and the ratio of dividing the consequent increase in cost of production of coal between the operator and the public, are understood to have been the points of difference among the cabinet members. Dr. Garfield, who took a leading part in the discussion, took issue with Secretary of Labor Wilson as to the method of applying the figures accepted by both.

No statement was forthcoming after the meeting except an announcement by Dr. Garfield that the cabinet would meet again tomorrow and that he would not see either the miners or operators meanwhile. He declined to say whether progress had been made, but one member of the cabinet declared prospects of an agreement were "not hopeless."

Secretary Wilson's estimate that the cost of living had increased 79 per cent over 1914 was accepted, it was understood, but a difference of opinion arose as to the application of this and other figures in computing an increase in wages.

Glass to Furnish Figures.

Secretary Glass said tonight that he might have "some very interesting figures" tomorrow, emphasizing that they had been compiled for the public and not for the acbinet. He declined to say whether they were the income tax returns received by the treasury department on excess profits from the coal industry. Significance was attached to this announcement in view of the fact that the amount of profits made by coal companies during the last two years, and the percentage of increase in any possible wage advance which the operators might be asked to bear, have been the most bitterly disputed points in the controversy.

The statements of former Secretary of the rTeasury McAdoo, charging that some coal concerns

Continued on Page 11, Column 1.

ASK CO-OPERATION OF ALL INTERESTS TO HELP SCHOOLS

Board of Education Would Have Representatives of All Organized Bodies to Discuss Problem.

SEEK EARLY MEETING TO PLAN BOND ISSUE

Committees From All Civic Organizations to Formulate Campaign and Present Suggestions to Mayor and Council.

Appointment of representatives from the educational, municipal, business, industrial and civic interests of the city, to come together in a meeting to formulate definite recommendations in regard to a band issue for the physical needs of the Atlanta public schools, was asked for in resolutions adopted by the board of education Tuesday afternoon, following its first general discussion of the proposal. The lady board of visitors to the schools met with the board and concurred in the resolution.

It was proposed by Commissioner W. H. Terrell, in the early part of the session, that a committee of three of the board of education, acting in conjunction with a similar committee from the lady board of visitors, be appointed to consider the needs of the schools and to determine the amount of money necessary to provide proper school facilities, then make a report to the mayor and general council, together with recommendations.

After deliberating on this motion, however, the board took the view that as the schools touch the hearthstones of every interest in the city, concurrence of these interests should be sought in order that the campaign for bonds should move with the requisite support and proper momentum from the start.

Asked to Co-operate.

The various civic bodies will be asked to name committees—the Atlanta Federation of Trades, the Rotary club, the Kiwanis club and other similar organizations, the city council and board of lady visitors. They will be asked to inform themselves first hand of what Atlanta needs to modernize her system in order to offer her youth the educational facilities with which a city commensurate with Atlanta's size and wealth should be endowed and to be ready to convert this knowledge into recommendations covering adequate improvement and enlargement of the system.

The crystallized opinion of these men and women will be presented to the mayor and general council, whose province it is to authorize such an election as proposed.

Discussion of what size bond issue should be asked for was not taken up by the board Tuesday, but left to be decided in the general meetings.

Dykes for $5,000,000.

Based on exhaustive studies which he has made, Superintendent of Schools W. F. Dykes has for some time advocated a bond issue of not less than $3,000,000, and has urged that if the future needs of the city are to be anticipated $5,000,000 will be necessary.

According to Mr. Dykes if only the smaller amount is sought it then will be possible merely to build new high school buildings to replace the dilapidated ones now in use; to build a few grammar grade schools, and to renovate several of the present buildings, but insufficient to permit re-establishment of the eighth grade.

But with $5,000,000 he said four additional junior high school buildings could be erected together with the necessary grammar grade buildings, placing the Atlanta public school system on a thoroughly modern basis.

Teachers' Salaries.

Acting with reference to a petition from the Atlanta public school teachers now before council in which they are asking for an increase in salary, the board of education adopted a resolution a copy of which will be sent to that body giving assurance that any additional appropriation made to the board would be used to increase the teachers' salaries on the present salary schedule now in effect.

This would not meet the demands of the teachers, but members of the board stated that they could not promise more at this time.

Want Hilley Back.

The board of education voted Tuesday afternoon to pay the salary of $2,400 a year to R. S. Hilley, former director of vocational guidance in the city schools, if he will return to his old place in the system on January 1.

Mr. Hilley resigned last September, stating the salary he was receiving was too meager. His salary

Continued on Page 21, Column 5.

Weather Prophecy

RAIN.

Washington—Forecast:

Georgia—Rain Wednesday, colder northwest portion; Thursday rain and colder; moderate south winds, shifting to northwest Thursday, becoming fresh.

Local Weather Report.

Highest temperature	66
Lowest temperature	50
Mean temperature	58
Normal temperature	49
Rainfall in past 24 hours, in...	.48
Deficiency since 1st of mo., in.	.45
Excess since January 1, inches	2.44

	7 a.m	Noon.	7 p.m.
Dry temperature ..	51	62	62
Wet bulb	48	58	61
Relative humidity .	82	77	97

Reports of Weather Bureau Stations

STATIONS and State of WEATHER.	Temperature. 7. p.m.	Temperature. High.	Rain 24 hrs. Inches.
ATLANTA, cldy.	62	66	.48
Birmingham, rn..	66	66	.38
Boston, rain ...	48	50	.07
Charleston, clr..	64	76	.00
Des Moines,cldy.	28	32	.00
Galveston, cldy .	74	76	.54
Hatteras, p. cldy	62	68	.00
Havre, cldy	0	8	.10
Jacksonville, clr.	66	74	.00
Memphis, cldy .	66	68	1.40
Miami, clear ...	74	78	.00
Mobile, clear ...	68	74	.00
Montgomery, cldy	66	68	.04
N. Orleans, p.cldy	72	80	.06
New York, cldy	52	52	.01
North Platte, cly	12	20	.86
Phoenix, cldy ..	62	64	.00
Pittsburg, rain .	48	52	.54
Raleigh, cldy ..	64	68	.00
San Francisco,cy	54	62	.00
Salt Lake C.,cldy	42	44	.00
Shreveport, rain.	68	76	.24
Tampa, clear ..	72	78	.00
Toledo, cldy	40	48	.04
Vicksburg, cldy	72	72	.94
Washington, r'n.	50	54	.04

C. F. von HERRMANN,
Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

The government shore wireless stations numbered 135 on June 30, 1918, of which eighty-eight were in continental United States, twenty in Alaska, nineteen in the Philippines, three in the canal zone, two in Hawaii and one each in Porto Rico, Guiam and Samao. The government ship stations total 470.

To Fortify the System Against Colds, Grip and Influenza take GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC. It Purifies and Enriches the Blood. It Builds up and Strengthens the Whole System. It Fortifies the System Against Colds, Grip and Influenza. Price 60c.—(adv.)

DRINK OR DRUG

POISONING requires ELIMINATION. The Neal Treatment acts as an ANTIDOTE for these poisons, eliminates them from the system, creates a loathing for drink or drugs and overcomes the diseased condition. (No Hyoscine used.) Dr. J. W. Conway, 10 years with the "Keeley," physician in charge. Address Neal Institute, 229 Woodward Ave., Atlanta, Georgia.

80 Neal Institutes in Principal Cities

NEW LABOR PARTY DRAWS PLATFORM

Many Radical Planks—No Positive Stand on Prohibition — Political and Industrial Equality for Negroes.

Chicago, November 25.—Work of organizing the new labor party of the United States was completed tonight with the adoption of a lengthy declaration of principles and the election of a national committee, which will consist of one man and one woman from each state.

Headquarters for the party will be established in Chicago. The convention adjourned tonight.

The organization will call a national convention next summer to nominate candidates for president and vice president. In the meantime the leaders of the movement will organize in the different states. A monthly tax of 2 cents per capita will be levied on the membership to finance the party.

To Abolish U. S. Senate.

Included in the declaration of principles are the following:

Abolition of the United States senate.

Election of federal judges by popular vote for terms not exceeding four years.

International solidarity of labor.

Maximum hours of labor for men and women to be eight hours a day and forty-four a week.

Minimum wage for workers to be fixed by law.

Old age, unemployment and sick pensions.

Government to own and operate the banking business of the country.

Nationalization of unused lands.

Incomes of individuals to be limited by law.

National initiative, referendum and recall.

Application of the "home rule" principle in state, county and city government.

Condemnation of government by injunction.

Repeal of the espionage law and all other repressive statutes passed during the war.

Condemnation of universal military training and conscription.

A demand for international disarmament to prevent future wars.

Immediate release of all political and industrial prisoners.

To Nationalize Industries.

Nationalization of all public utilities and all basic industries.

Criminal prosecution of profiteers and exploiters of labor.

Demand that all government work be done by day labor instead of by contract.

Equal pay for men and women.

Approved woman suffrage.

Other resolutions adopted were:

For the creation of a national department of health, to establish hospitals and medical and dental dispensaries in every county and city for the treatment of the sick.

A demand that the United States government recognize the Irish republic.

Opposition to a declaration of war against Mexico.

Demand that negroes be given political, industrial and economic equality.

Condemnation of mob violence, even when participated in by organizations and individuals professing to be inspired by motives of patriotism.

The convention adopted a resolution condemning the peace treaty and league of nations covenant as at present drafted for the reason that it did not conform with President Wilson's fourteen points and was not in the interest of the working classes of the world.

The convention approved the Plumb plan for government ownership of railroads and the co-operative movement to reduce the high cost of living.

Resolutions calling for the establishment of a soviet government in the United States and advocating the abolishment of the United States supreme court were voted down.

The Prohibition Question.

The party refrained from taking a positive stand on the prohibition question, but after several hours of heated discussion, a compromise measure was adopted which provided for the appointment of a special committee of three to investigate the effect of the prohibition constitutional amendment law. This committee will report at the next national convention.

Representatives of trade unions from cities urged the convention to go on record against the dry law, while party leaders and delegates from farmers' and co-operative organizations were anxious that no declaration be made.

A report by the committee on resolutions declared that it deemed it best to make no direct declaration on prohibition, but to ask congress to submit it to a referendum of the people. At the suggestion of Chairman Max Hayes, of Cleveland, this report was substituted as the compromise measure. A number of wet delegates withdrew from the session because they interpreted this action as a victory for the drys.

Candidates for Office.

The constitution was amended to prevent any member from running for office on any other ticket, or accepting the indorsement of any other party.

Langdon Davis, fraternal delegate from the independent labor party of Great Britain, said that in England it no longer was a question of whether the coal mines would be nationalized.

"The only question now is whether we will confiscate the mines or pay for them," he said.

Robert M. Buck, of Chicago, won his fight for equal representation for women on the national committee of the party.

Bank Robbers Get $10,000.

McKinney, Texas, November 25.—After cutting telephone wires leading into the town, robbers last night gained entrance to the Guaranty State bank, at Murphy, Collin county, and escaped with a sum of money estimated at $10,000, according to advices received by the sheriff's office here today.

Piles Cured in 6 to 14 Days

Druggists refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. Stops Irritation; Soothes and Heals. You can get restful sleep after the first application. Price 60c.—(adv.)

According to D. H. Downey, in Pennsylvania the greatest number at one time of bituminous mines employing ten men or more underground was 2,000. There were in 1918 probably as many as 2,000 small temporary workings, but the aggregate production of these small operations was less than 1 per cent of the whole output.

Only One "BROMO QUININE"

To get the genuine, call for full name LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE Tablets. Look for signature of E. W. GROVE. Cures Cold in One Day. 30c.—(adv.)

SONS OF ROOSEVELT TO RUN RESTAURANTS

Albany, N. Y., November 25.—The three sons of the late Theodore Roosevelt were named as directors and stockholders in a restaurant corporation, the articles of which were filed today. Besides Theodore, Archibald and Kermit Roosevelt, were named Philip J. Roosevelt and R. Derby.

The purpose of the corporation, capitalized at $9,900, was given as being to induct "one or more" restaurants.

Pasadena Mansion Houses Principals Of Georgia Romance

By Eleanor Boykin.

Los Angeles, Cal., November 25.—(Special.)—A romance, begun in a Y. M. C. A. hut in Augusta, Ga., when Drill Sergeant Noel T. Arnold, of the national army, 25 years old, fell in love with Mrs. Henry Tinker, 62, "mother" of the hut, has culminated in a mansion in the fashionable Oak Knoll district of Pasadena, where the honeymoon is being spent.

The bride is the widow of Henry C. Tinker, a wealthy New Yorker, and gave up a $10,000 annuity to marry the young ex-soldier who recently secured a divorce from a former wife from whom he had been separated for several years.

The couple arrived in Pasadena this week, after a motor trip covering 2,000 miles of California boulevards, and are now cooking their own chops in their elegant new home, with the same enthusiasm of other romantic brides and grooms, until they can procure servants.

Mrs. Tinker had a beautiful home in Augusta, and often entertained soldiers there. She frequently visited one of the Y. M. C. A. huts, taking a deep interest in the welfare of the men stationed at Camp Hancock, and it was in this way that she met Sergeant Arnold.

The two were married in San Francisco, following the obtainal of Arnold's divorce. Asked as she stood over the range wearing a becoming apron, if she considered the bliss she is enjoying worth the sacrifice of half of a $20,000 annuity, which she had to give up, Mrs. Arnold's reply was, "I would not be here if I did not think so."

She admitted with a blush that, although she has visited California many times before, the country has never looked so beautiful to her. The Arnolds expect to live permanently in Pasadena or Los Angeles.

The Tickle Makes You Cough

HAYES, HEALING HONEY Stops the Tickle, Heals the Throat and Cures the Cough. 35c. A free box of GROVE'S O-PEN-TRATE SALVE for Chest Colds, Head Colds and Croup with every bottle.—(adv.)

"There's a ROGERS Store Near You"

Everything for the Thanksgiving Dinner

Yellow Georgia Yams, 10 lbs. 19c

Fancy Irish Potatoes, 4½c lb.; 10 lbs. - - - - 39c

BEST CREAMERY BUTTER 73c

Uncle Sam's Candy

Is now being sold in all of our stores. This is the regular government candy that was bought for the army, so its quality is the best.

Lowney's Assorted Chocolates 83c pound

Pirika's Assorted Chocolates ½-lb., 44c; lb. tins, 79c

Pirika's Caramels ½-lb. Box 34c

Chocolate Dainties per box, 10c

Candy Sales Co., Aragon Corner

New Brazil Nuts, lb. 30c
New English Walnuts, lb. 40c
New Almonds, lb....42c
Cranberries 15c
New Summaid seeded raisins, pkg. 20c
No. 3 can new pack Pumpkin 9c
New pack Maine corn, 20c

Guaranteed Select Storage Eggs Doz. 55c

Del Monte Cherries, No. 3 can, 49c; No. 1 can 28c
No. 3 can black pitted cherries ..... .40c
Sunkist Orange Marmalade, 9-oz. jar 23c
Lea & Perrin's sauce, 26c
H. P. Sauce 22c
Kitchen Bouquet .. 23c
McIlhenny's Tabasco, 45c
Durkee's Challenge Sauce 12c
Bullhead Catsup . 12½c
Del Monte Tomato Sauce 7c

Hard Head White Cabbage, lb. - 2½c

Heinz India relish, 16-oz., 30c; 7 oz. 17c
Sunbeam Sweet Relish, 5½-oz. bottle 15c
Sour relish, 8-oz. bottle, 12c

Stores Will Be Closed At Noon Thursday

Atmore's mincemeat, 12c
Jiffy Jell 10c
Knox Gelatine 18c
Instant tapioca 12c
Atmore's plum pudding, 13c, 37c
16-oz. assorted fruit jam, 35c
Pure apple jelly, large glass 13c
Heinz sour mixed pickles, bottle 20c
Heinz sweet mixed pickles 20c

Purity Butterine, lb. 32c
Olives, plain 4-oz., 12c; stuffed, 3 oz. 12c
Large Queen olives, bottle 29c
Large Queen olives, 1 pt., 4 oz. 34c
Fancy stuffed olives, 12 oz., 35c; plain 14 oz. 22c
Curtis ripe olives, 3-oz. can, 12c; 8-oz. can 28c

Rogers' Bread

The best loaf in the city. Made of the highest grade ingredients in our own sanitary bakery.

Full 16-oz. loaf.... 9c
3 loaves 25c

Libby's Dill Pickles, large can 20c
Sunbeam Mayonnaise, large bottle, 32c; small 15c
Durkee's Salad Dressing, 3-oz, 13c; 8 oz., 27c; 16 oz. 44c
Wesson Oil, pts. 38c

ROGERS'
102-ECONOMY STORES-102

Turkeys Fine---Eggs Are Fresh---

Fruits and Nuts to Eat---
Country Sausage --- Butter Sweet---
A Market Full of Meat

Thanksgiving Prices

Fat Home Dressed Turkeys 47c
Fresh Pig Hams, pound 28c
Fresh Dressed Hens, pound.... 37c
Fresh Dressed Fryers, pound ... 50c

Plenty of Cranberries, Celery, Lettuce, Fruits and Vegetables, and everything that will make a Thanksgiving dinner complete.

Plenty of WHITE SUGAR to sweeten your Thanksgiving pies.

Our Poultry Dressed While You Wait.
Fresh Fruits, Meats, Vegetables, Poultry and Produce.

WE DELIVER

Buck's Meat Market

236 MARIETTA STREET
Main 5276-J Both Phones Atlanta 6949-F

CITY MARKET

COR. PRYOR AND ALABAMA STREETS

OUR THANKSGIVING SPECIALS

Fine Fat Choice Turkeys lb. 47c

COTTONBLOOM
No. 10 .....$2.24
No. 5 .....$1.14
No. 3 ..... 69c

PURE HOG LARD
Bring your bucket, lb..... 30c
No. 10 .....$2.99
No. 5 .....$1.50

Pork Hams, fresh, fancy ... 27½c
Regular Hams, sugar cured..... 29c
Fancy Dressed Hens, lb. 35c
Pork Shoulders, fresh, fancy, lb..... 25c
Picnic Hams, sugar cured, lb..... 21c
FANCY BREAKFAST BACON, whole or half strips, lb..... 35c to 38c
10 Pounds Sweet Potatoes..... 17c

All kinds of fruits and vegetables for your Thanksgiving dinner. Cranberries, fancy celery, fancy grapes, fancy apples, oranges, bananas and fruit cakes.

Plenty White Sugar

FEDERAL MARKET

32 Walton Street

SPECIALS FOR TODAY

Home-Dressed Turkeys and Hens. South Georgia Fresh Shoulders and Hams. Famous Pork Sausage. Brooks County Hams and Bacon. Old-fashioned Lye Hominy.

32 WALTON ST.

NEW MARKET

38 MARIETTA ST.

Thanksgiving Specials

Trimmed Pork Hams 27½c

Plenty Norfolk Oysters, Qt. 65c

Plenty Home-Dressed Poultry

OH, YOU TURKEYS!

Geo. Henderson, Mgr.

N. B. Cash Grocery Co.

138 WHITEHALL ST.

CELERY LETTUCE
CRANBERRIES
ALL KINDS OF FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

WE HAVE SUGAR

Thanksgiving Here

So Are The Turkeys And Fish

You'll find everything good for your Thanksgiving table at the Fulton Market today.

We have never had a finer lot of Turkeys at this season of the year. They are fat and tender. So are the Hens and Fryers.

To go with them there are plenty of Oysters for stuffing, Cranberries, Celery and all kinds of fresh fruit and vegetables.

Fine Fish, Fat Oysters

You'll want Oysters, too, for your stew or frying. The Chesapeake Bays are the largest and fattest that come to this market.

Well-flavored fish include deliciously fat Lake Erie White Fish, Lake Salmon, Mackerel, Pompano, Flounder, Whiting, Perch, Black Bass, Halibut, Finnan Haddie, Shrimp and then some.

Always remember that EVERYTHING is guaranteed.

Fulton Market

25-27 E. Alabama St.

Phone Main 1500

We Deliver

CALL US
Main - 2216
Main - 2217

Thanksgiving Day Dinner

Thanksgiving Day is the occasion of feast—of gratitude and blessing. It is the occasion of the home with its good things to eat. Let our grocery department supply the meal supreme of the year. Our great stock of groceries can supply everything but the turkey. Here are some prices to interest you:

24-lbs. Ballard's Flour $1.75, Postell's $2, Gold Medal $2

Can Figs ..30c | Jello 13c, Jiffy Jell 13c | Red Raspberries, Can 42c

A & P Peas ..26c | Aspa'gus Tips 38c

Seedless Raisins, 15 oz. box 24c

When A & P appears on an article you know it is absolutely the best.

Nut Crystal Fruit Cake. This is something fine. Also Home-Baked Fruit Cake 75c

No. 10 Cottolene at $2.10

No. 5 $1.15

Large Olives, Bottle 18c, 24c, Quarts 40c, 45c

Fancy Head Rice, lb. ....17½c | Mince Meat Pkg. 14c

Guava Jelly, 2-lb. pkg. . 60c | Can A&P Peaches . . 48c | Can A&P Apricots .. 48c

Fine, Fancy Apples, Oranges, Grapefruit, Brazil Nuts, Walnuts and others

Fresh Tennessee Eggs, doz. 75c

3 Rolls Toilet Tissue 25c

Cheese New York Full Cream 45c

M. 2216 2217 — THE GREAT ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC TEA CO. — M. 2216 2217

121 Whitehall — 121 Whitehall

Can Pumpkin 14c

Our Old-Fashioned Mothers Used OMEGA FLOUR

Try It-- It Will Satisfy You

Ask Your Grocer for Omega

Standard Flour for 25 Years

OMEGA FLOUR is made from the choicest of hard winter wheat. Years ago, when we were little lads and lassies, our mothers and our grandmothers were using OMEGA flour with the same delight and SATISFACTION that we are getting from it today.

It is the FLOUR SUPREME for biscuits, for rolls, for pastries, for cakes.

You are missing the sweetest and purest and BEST flour on the market if you are not using OMEGA.

C. P. Ozburn & Co.

Wholesale Distributors M. 3064

L. & N. Terminals, Atlanta

Thanksgiving Poultry

All fresh, firm and tender new stock. Not one cold storage bird in the lot.

Big, tender, corn-fed Turkeys; plump and juicy Geese and flavory Ducks. Spring chickens that will melt in your mouth. Whatever fowl you prefer for your Thanksgiving Dinner, you'll find the best of its kind at this market. Just notice these low prices:

Pork Hams, pound 27½c
Fancy Home-Dressed Turkeys 47½c
Dressed Hens, pound 35c
Dressed Ducks, pound..... 35c
Dressed Geese, pound 35c
Dressed Friers, pound 50c

J. H. BURGESS 115 Whitehall St.

Atlanta's Largest Retail Hotel and Restaurant Suppliers

BE A SELF COMMENCER

Start With Us.

Western Meats, Fruits and Vegetables

The best at the Lowest Prices

CHELENA & CEFALU MARKET CO.

"The Quality Cranks"

17 East Alabama Street

Freshly Dressed Poultry For Thanksgiving

Turkeys, Geese, Ducks, Hens, Friers

That is one thing we pride ourselves on—Freshness. No where can you get Poultry of this class. Fine, fat, tender and juicy. And our Fresh Meats, you have tried. Read our prices below and consider the quality.

THE FINEST FRESH DRESSED TURKEY..... 50¢

The Fattest of VEAL ROAST ..... 30¢
The Choicest of BEEF ROAST ..... 25¢ to 30¢
The Fanciest of LAMB LEGS ..... 35¢
The Best of PORK HAMS, whole ..... 30¢
Fancy, Long Island DUCKLINGS..... 50¢

PLAZA LITTLE PIG PURE PORK SAUSAGE ..... 40¢
As you like 'em NICE FAT HENS ..... 38¢
FRIERS AND BROILERS ..... 55¢
THE FAMOUS YORK RIVER OYSTERS
Selects, quart ..... 75¢
Stews, quart ..... 65¢

We Deliver

PLAZA

Main 881
3 S. Broad St.

Special for Your THANKSGIVING DINNER

Fancy Home-Dressed Turkeys, Hens and Fryers.

Plenty of Fine Celery, Lettuce, Cranberries, Fruits, Vegetables and Fresh Meats.

We Have Just Received 2,000 Pounds of Large Papershell Pecans.

Ward and Carpenter

117 North Pryor St. Ivy 2394. Opp. Candler Building.

To Get the Best Turkey and Delicacies for Your Thanksgiving Dinner

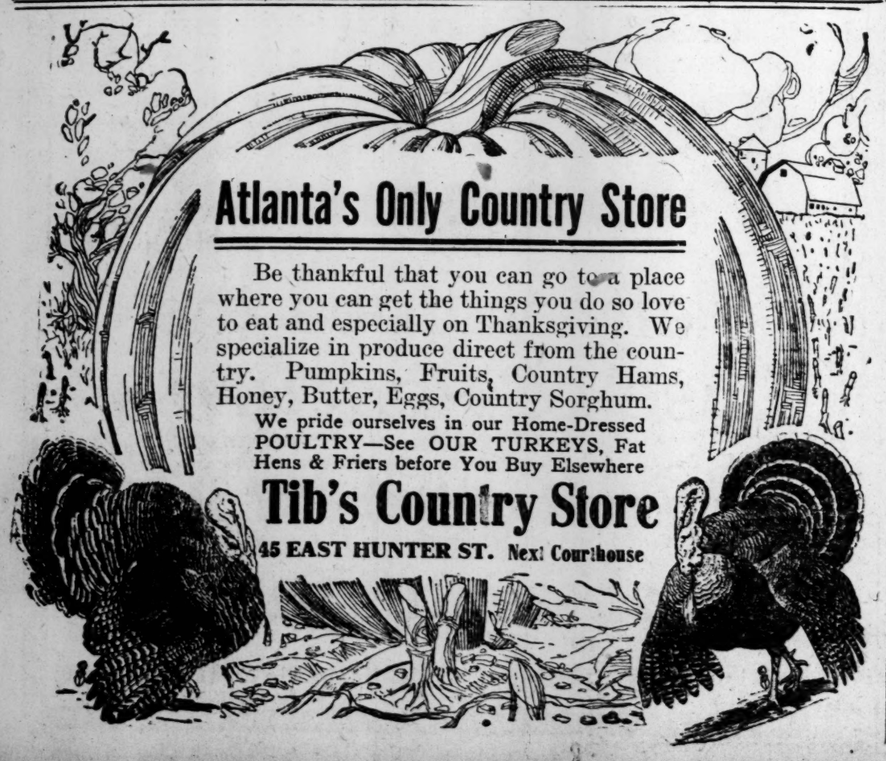

Call M-3144-3145

Union Meat Market

15-17 W. Alabama St.

Also Plenty of Home Dressed Hens and Friers Delivered Promptly

Atlanta's Only Country Store

Be thankful that you can go to a place where you can get the things you do so love to eat and especially on Thanksgiving. We specialize in produce direct from the country. Pumpkins, Fruits, Country Hams, Honey, Butter, Eggs, Country Sorghum.

We pride ourselves in our Home-Dressed POULTRY—See OUR TURKEYS, Fat Hens & Friers before You Buy Elsewhere

Tib's Country Store

45 EAST HUNTER ST. Next Courthouse

MORTUARY

B. F. Askew, Lawrenceville.

Lawrenceville, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—Benjamin F. Askew, age 58, prominent citizen and Methodist, died at his home at Luxomini Monday night. He leaves a widow; six daughters, Mrs. E. B. Holt, Mrs. Nora Seay, Mrs. Della Arnold, Mrs. Gertrude Nash, Mrs. Dona Whitehead and Mrs. Leona Nash, and two sons, Homer and Raleigh Askew. Funeral and interment will be at Duluth Wednesday.

J. M. Boston, Valdosta.

Valdosta, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—John M. Boston, prominent citizen of this county, died Monday afternoon at a sanitarium at Milledgeville, where he was carried a few days ago for an operation. His remains were interred at Sunset Hill cemetery, in this city, this afternoon. Mr. Boston was 68 years old and was a man of the highest ideals and integrity. He is survived by his widow, several brothers and one sister.

CEFALU & WARREN

15-17 E. MITCHELL ST.

We Deliver. Main 3662

Let Us furnish you with your THANKSGIVING DINNER

Fresh Dressed HENS ..... 34¢

NORFOLK OYSTERS:
Stews ..... 60¢
Selects ..... 70¢

CELERY HEARTS, Bunch ..... 10¢

INDIAN RIVER ORANGES, Doz. ..... 30¢
These are sweet and fine.

RAISINS, lb. ..... 25¢

FRESH COUNTRY EGGS 78¢

We have a full line of fruits, vegetables and nuts

Fancy Dressed TURKEYS, Fat Hens, Friers, Ducks and Geese.

Sanitary MARKET CO.

RETAIL AT WHOLESALE

—TODAY'S SPECIALS—

Open Tonight Till 10 O'Clock

Ten thousand pounds Fresh Pig Hams....25c
Plenty Sugar-cured Skinned Hams 25c
No. 10 Pure Hog Lard, pail $2.70

Sanitary MARKET CO

Stewart D. Jones
118 & 120 Whitehall St.

Celery 5c
Lettuce 5c
Cranberries 17½c
Indian River Oranges, 25c, 35c and 40c
Sugar, Plenty of it.
Grapefruit 10c
Fresh Pig Hams ...28c
Large Friers 35c
Turkeys 47½c
Morning Glory Hams 37½c
White's Pure Pork Sausage 35c

Everytime you miss coming to Jones' we both lose.

Thanksgiving Day

Most everybody wants good things to eat.

How about some of our fine Home-Made Candy—our Darling Brand Hand - Dipped Chocolates are cheap at 60¢ Per Pound.

Our Peanut Brittle and Peanut Ball are fine and fresh— 40¢ Pound.

Our Salted Peanuts are sure good— 4 Oz. for 10¢ Take a pocketful home.

Coconut Syrup 40¢ qt. Take home a quart.

O'Connor's Candy Kitchen

40 Marietta St.

COAL PRICE REDUCED TO BRITISH CONSUMER

London, November 25.—No domestic event in a long time has so stirred the press as the 10-shilling reduction in the price of coal, announced in the house of commons yesterday by Sir Auckland Geddes, minister of national service and reconstruction.

The action, coming, as it did, shortly after a statement by the minister that even a 6-shilling decrease was impossible, caused general amazement and satisfaction, as the prospect of cheaper household coal has been tempered by mystification as to how it was done, on the one hand, and why it was not done sooner, on the other. In consequence, a deep political move is imagined in some quarters to be at the bottom of the matter, one editorial suggestion being that as several bye-elections are impending, the concession to householders is a vote-catching dodge.

While the coal owners, through some of their spokesmen, declare the reduction in price means ruin for them, as coal cannot be produced under such conditions except at a grave loss, the miners' leaders contend the reduction can and ought to be carried much farther. The latter and the section of the press which supports them point out the new reduction does not affect industrial coal, which remains at what is declared to be an unreasonable price and will have to be paid for by the public in high prices for commodities which depend on coal for production. They contend the increase of six shillings in July was utterly unnecessary and that the government made a huge profit from it.

The laborite members of the house of commons and their supporters intend, it is said, to carry on an agitation against the government until this alleged surplus has been applied to lowering the price all around and especially on all coal. The situation thus seems to contain the germ of a lively domestic political upheaval.

BOB'S Meat Market

428-430 Marietta St.

Main 1441

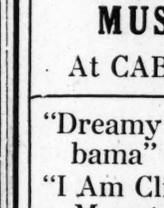

Fine, fat home dressed turkeys 43c

Live turkeys 40c

Fresh meats of all kinds.

Beautiful All-Kid 9-Inch Boots

In our unusual collection of stylish boots at $12.50 are thirty-six different models to choose from—

12.50

These are at least $2.50 less than you can buy a similar all-kid boot elsewhere, and only our immense buying facilities make this price possible. The one pictured comes in golden brown, Havana brown, beaver brown and black mat kid; has turn soles and full French covered heels.

Store Closed All Day Thursday

Mail Orders Filled Same day received.

Buck's

27-29 WHITEHALL ST.

All of the Latest POPULAR MUSIC At CABLE'S

"Dreamy Alabama"
"I Am Climbing Mountains"
"Patches"
"Tell Me Why"
"Vamp"
"Sand Dunes"
"Now I Know"
"Our Yesterday"
"It's You"
'Chinese Lullaby"
"Will You Remember?"
'Listen, Lester"
'Sometime"
"Tumble In"

CABLE PIANO CO.

82-84 North Broad Street

JOHN G. CATO

89 E. Tenth St
Hemlock 27.
Up-to-Date Market.
Home of Cato's Famous Pork Sausage.

We have the Best Store.
We have the Best Stock.
We have the Best Phone.
We have the Best Delivery.
We have the Cheapest Prices.

We are thankful for all of this because we know you are thankful, too.

Cato's Famous Pork Sausage 35c
Fresh Pig Hams.....28c
No. 10 Snowdrift.....$2.35

We have the Best Dressed Poultry that's ever been to town. You have heard of milk fed, chestnut fed and corn fed, but ours look like they were fed on fruitcake and watered on champagne, selling cheap.

THANK YOU, HURRY BACK!

GRACE IS DECLARED NOMINEE FOR MAYOR

Charleston, S. C., November 25.—The city democratic executive committee tonight declared John P. Grace the party's nominee for mayor of Charleston over Tristram T. Hyde, incumbent, by a partisan vote, the 12 Hyde supporters on the committee not voting. It was declared that Grace's majority in the primary election of August 19 was 14 votes.

In substance, the committee confirmed its action in declaring Grace the nominee when the results were canvassed August 22. Mayor Hyde then appealed to the state supreme court, which declared that Grace was not legally found to be the nominee, and instructing the committee to go about the nomination according to law. Hyde supporters assert that he supreme court's ruling was not fully complied with by the committee tonight.

Before challenged votes were considered August 23, Mayor Hyde had an apparent majority of one vote. The committee declared Grace the nominee with a majority of 14. It is very probable that the case will carried to the state supreme court again.

Window Glass

Cooledge Paint & Glass Co.
12 North Forsyth St.
"On the Bridge"

FOR THE FEAST OF THE YEAR

Thanksgiving Day is the occasion of feast. Particularly are we thankful for twelve months of peace and America is entitled to celebrate this glorious day. TURKEYS, Hens and other poultry, they are fine.

Also my old-fashioned farm sausage for breakfast. The kind mother used to make from fat young Tennessee pigs 35c

Pork Hams 28c
Pork Shoulders..... 25c

National MARKET

35 E. ALABAMA ST.
49 E. HUNTER ST.
166 LUCKIE ST.
234 COURTLAND ST.
73 W. PEACHTREE ST.
830 PEACHTREE ST.

Live or Dressed

1500 Fine Fat Turkeys

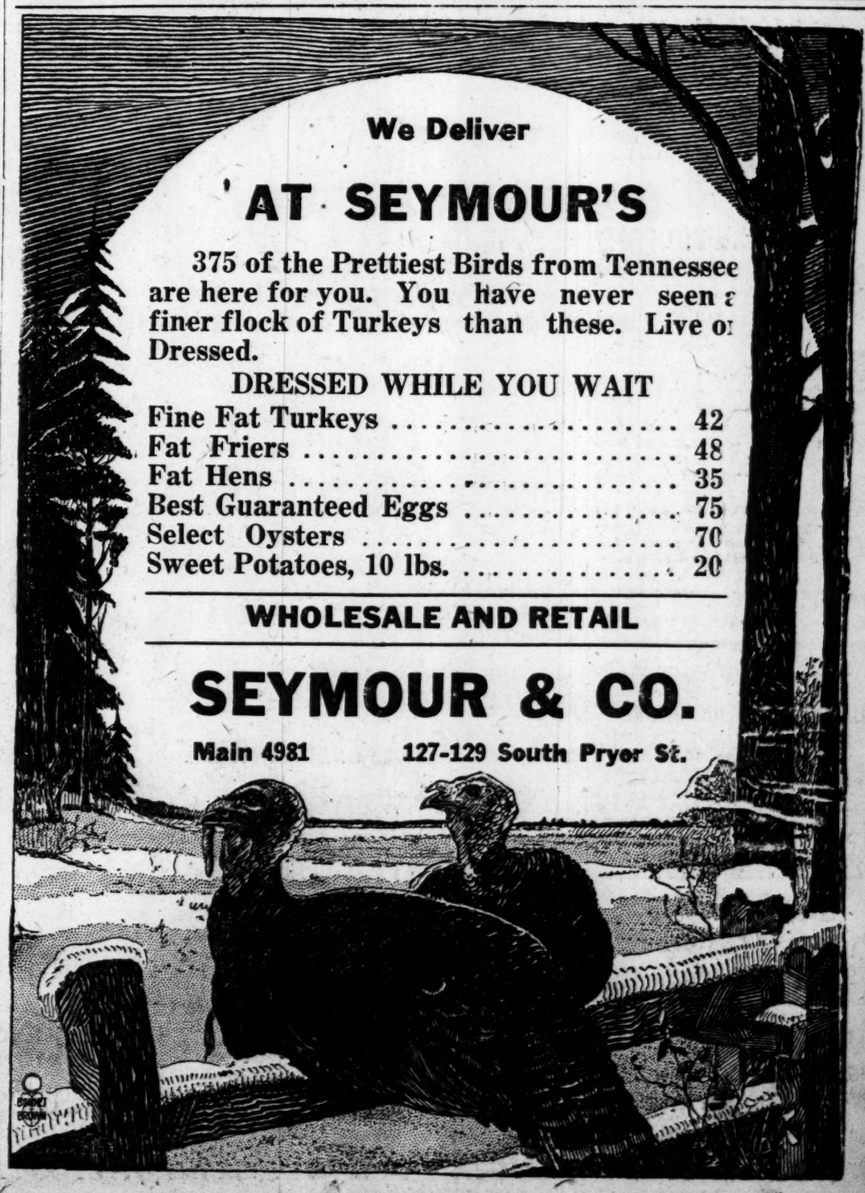

Turkeys at Retail

Turkeys at Wholesale

Get Your Turkeys at

J. A. KELLEY'S

176-178 Auburn Ave. Ivy 2016-2017

We Deliver

AT SEYMOUR'S

375 of the Prettiest Birds from Tennessee are here for you. You have never seen a finer flock of Turkeys than these. Live or Dressed.

DRESSED WHILE YOU WAIT

Fine Fat Turkeys 42
Fat Friers 48
Fat Hens 35
Best Guaranteed Eggs 75
Select Oysters 70
Sweet Potatoes, 10 lbs. 20

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

SEYMOUR & CO.

Main 4981 127-129 South Pryor St.

BIG VICTORY WON, DECLARES LENINE

Bolshevik Chief Says the Downfall of Kolchak Is Complete — Yudenitch Army No Longer in Existence.

London, November 25.—"Impudent attacks made by enemies of the revolution have brought about a miracle. We have gained a full victory over Kolchak which will be of historic importance for the peoples of the east."

This statement was made by Nikolai Lenine, the bolshevik premier, in the course of an addrss to the second all-Russian congress of the Mussulman communist organizations of eastern peoples, according to a wireless message from Moscow today. He continued:

"At the same time attacks from the west are weakening. The Versailles peace is the greatest blow the entente could inflict upon itself. The pepoles see clearly that President Wilson is not bringing liberty to democracy, even for the victorious nations, and are indebted to unmasked America."

WOMEN AND CHILDREN TAKEN BY BOLSHEVIKI.

Tiaga, Siberia, Tuesday, November 18.—(By the Associated Press.) Eight thousand wives and children of officers making an eleventh-hour flight from Omsk are reported to have been captued by the bolsheviki 10 miles east of Omsk. The retreat of the rearmost units of the Siberian army from the all-Russian capital became a stampede, the troops throwing away their guns and commandeering locomotives, trains and carts in which to escape. Fifteen trains, carrying officers and their families, besides scores of other trains, filled with refugees, ammunition and merchandise, which were blocked by wreckage and lack of motor power, fell into the hands of the bolsheviki, who followed up the cossacks by a cavalry pursuit.

Street fighting occurred in Omsk. Panic is reported to reign at Tartarskaya, 100 miles east of Omsk, which is overrun by fleeing soldiers. Polish troops who have been guarding the railway are leaving with the utmost haste.

Admiral Kolchak is reported to be approaching Nova Nikolaevsk. One year after assuming the supreme rulership, Admiral Kolchak today is on his way eastward, facing the necessity of re-establishing his seat of government on the shore of Lake Baikal, and reconstructing his army, which has been badly shattered.

YUDENITCH ARMY OUT OF EXISTENCE.

Reval, Esthonia, November 25.—The Russian northwest army, which attempted recently to capture Petrograd under General Yudenitch, has virtually gone out of existence, according to General Soots, chief of the general staff of the Esthonian army. He made this statement on the basis of a report brought in by Colonel Rink, of the general staff, who returned from the Narva front Sunday.

According to Colonel Rink's report, the Russian northwest army was in a bad condition during the retreat after the attempt on Petrograd. General Yudenitch and his staff lost all connection with the army, which was left to its fate, unable to resist the bolshevik attack. The Yudenitch troops retired in disorder and sought protection on Esthonian territory.

Part of the Russian troops, with 10,000 refugees, have settled south of Narva. Some of the soldiers have already been disarmed and the remainder will be deprived of their weapons soon.

"Four Russian divisions which retreated from Yamburg to Narva now are organized under General Tennison," said General Soots. "They willingly obey the orders of the Esthonian chief and are protecting the positions below Narva. General Yudenitch and his staff are unemployed. The present critical condition of the Russian troops was caused by the incompetence of the Russian chief command.

"The troops had to mix flour with snow, owing to the scarcity of bread. Many refugee children died of hunger and cold, but we made conditions better for the survivors."

General Soots expressed the opinion that the Russian northwest army no longer existed.

Merger Defeated.

Albany, Ala., November 25.—In a special election called by the legislature and held today, Albany and Decatur defeated the measure to consolidate the two cities, the law requiring that both cities must favor it. The vote was: Decatur, 214 for; 31 against. Albany, 277 for; 546 against.

Old Artist Paints Wonderful Picture Of Atlanta Today

Despite Long Fight for Rights, With Four Months in Jail, F. A. Lawrence Finally Wins Reward for His Effort.

A remarkable story of an artist's unswerving devotion to his masterpiece was brought to a fitting conclusion yesterday when in the town room of the chamber of commerce there was placed on display a beautiful black and white drawing of "Atlanta in 1919," completed by F. A. Laurence, who, although 60 years old, suffered four months' imprisonment in the Fulton county tower rather than yield the fruits of his labor to another.

The perspective, which pictures in minute details the many interesting points of the Gate City of the south, has been purchased from its creator by Foote & Davies, Atlanta printers, for a price of more than $5,000, and will be reproduced by them for the advantage of the city in advertising its assets, as well as by every Atlanta person needing a correct perspective of the city for any reason.

The picture was drawn by F. A. Laurence, well known to many Atlantans, and the work attracted a good deal of attention several months ago, when the aged artist, rather than surrender the completed work on bail trover proceedings issued by a former partner, spent four months in the Fulton county jail, finally defending himself, and not only being freed by the jury, but was awarded the picture by them.

Begun in 1917.

The picture was begun in the latter part of 1917. Many Atlantans remember seeing the old bearded artist standing on the street corners, sketching the situation of the many buildings of the city. It was a work which required much time and labor on his part, and, in the opinion of experts who have viewed his work, it is unexcelled by any in the most famous galleries of the day.

Laurence came to Atlanta in the summer of 1917 to begin his work. He had entered into a contract with a man named Jones, who agreed to finance the project, the profits to be divided between them. Where Jones came from no one knows, nor is it known where he is today.

Possessed of the true artistic temperament, the old artist went about his work quietly. His studio was a negro cabin near Rawson street and the work is supposed to be seen from this point of vantage.

After several months had been devoted to the work Jones discontinued putting up the funds for the work, following a disagreement between the two, and the old man continued the work alone, making his living in a way he has never divulged.

Goes to Jail.

Finally it was completed, and here Jones appeared upon the scene again by issuing bail trover proceedings against the artist. He was ordered to produce the drawing or make bond. He did neither, and was sent to jail. Asked where the picture was, he replied that he had sent it to a friend "in the west." And this was the sum total of information gained from him.

Laurence went to jail, where he languished for four months, without friends or influence. Jail officials took him for an obstinate old man, who was suspected of defrauding a philanthropic gentleman out of several hundred dollars. He did not ask for a trial, but played a waiting game for four months.

But then he began to liven up. He had friends and influence. A prominent United States senator from the west heard of the dilemma of his old friend. Without his knowledge he wrote to a prominent Atlanta attorney, asking him to look after the trial of Laurence and to see that he was fully protected.

Refuses Legal Aid,

But this lawyer, whom any criminal would have been rejoiced to secure for his defense, met with the cool statement from Laurence that he desired no lawyer; that he would defend his own case. But the attorney did have the case placed on the docket and it came to trial.

Jones was on hand with an imposing legal array. The old artist excited pity as he sat on his side of the courtroom alone. Any number of lawyers volunteered their assistance, but all were refused. The case went to trial. After Jones made his statement he was cross-examined by the defendant. From that moment those in the courtroom knew the outcome. The case was decided in favor of Laurence and the picture was ordered to remain in his custody.

And then comes in the part of the old ante-bellum negro. Some who saw them constantly together say it was master and old slave. At any rate, no story of greater negro devotion to his white master could be found in all the history of the ante-bellum southland. For a year the black man worked nights to buy food for the artist and himself, while by day he stood ready to assist his "marster" in the completion of the drawing.

Negro Hides Picture.

And then one day his "marster" failed to return. He received a message from him to come to the jail and see him. He went, and, after a few minutes' conference, slipped away unnoticed by those who were searching for the picture, carefully watching his way the negro took the paper on which the drawing was practically complete and stole away. Where no man was ever able to find it he hid it away, while court officials, as well as Jones and his attorneys, searched in vain, finally accepting the old man's story that it was sent "west to a friend."

When the trial had been completed the presiding judge ruled that the four months Laurence had spent in jail squared the debt for the money advanced by Jones and a clear title was given the old man.

In a few weeks the picture was completed. Showing every building in the city and the most correct outline of streets, the picture instantly impresses you with the certainty that you are looking at the city from the south side. You see the courthouse, but as you recognize it you see that it is marked by a name-plate, and, in turn, you pick out the city hall, jail, federal building and all of the buildings in the city.

All Streets Marked.

The slight changes of direction on all the streets of the city are plainly marked. The sight of Five Points is hidden from view by the buildings which stand between your point of vantage and the center of the city. All of the streets are plainly marked and a stranger in the city could not but find his sense of direction in the maze of crooked streets characteristic of Atlanta with the aid of this masterpiece.

Like many great men, Laurence now had a great idea, but had no money to develop it. As a work of art it was a masterpiece, though only drawn in black and white. The minutely correct elevations of the buildings, the exact location—all were highly valuable to thousands of people in the city, but with no funds with which to pay for transferring the original into thousands of maps, the genius was at a loss.

To Get Royalties.

It was then that he visited the office of W. O. Foote, president of Foote & Davies, well-known Atlanta printers, who immediately recognized the value of the drawing commercially, as well as a civic asset. Arrangements were made whereby the old artist received a handsome cash price, with provisions of royalties. The drawing is now copyrighted and within a short time it will be on sale throughout the city or from the Foote & Davies company.

In the meanwhile the original drawing is on display in the town room of the chamber of commerce and all who are passing will miss a sight if they fail to drop in.

WOOD ALCOHOL FEARED IN BALTIMORE CASES

Former Atlantan Held Pending Analysis of Mysterious Beverage—Girl Dead.

Baltimore, Md., November 25.—(Special.)—The sudden death here on Saturday of Miss Lucille Sharp, of Winston-Salem, N. C., and the mysterious illness of a friend, Miss Catherine Bristol, of Philadelphia, resulted today in the arrest of two men, John Keily, formerly of Atlanta, and Ali Osman, a Turk. They are technically charged with administering poison to the woman, and are held without bail.

Despite the sensational action of the police, there is no evidence of malicious action on the part of the men. Further action of the authorities depends upon the outcome of the analysis of a mysterious beverage of which the entire four had partaken in Keily's luxurious apartments, 1917 Eutaw place. The probability is that the beverage will show traces of wood alcohol, as it was purchased as brandy. Both men under arrest are said to be wealthy.

Men Are Wealthy.

Keily, according to the police, made considerable money through the manufacture of a cereal food, formerly having offices at 221 South Eutaw street, and Osman, the Turk, is said to have grown rich in the shoe business.

Keily and Miss Sharp, the police say, came to Baltimore from Atlanta six months ago and took an apartment at the Eutaw place address, where they lived as man and wife. The police say Keily admitted this. Last Friday night Miss Sharp was suddenly taken ill and was sent, unconscious, to the Union Protestant hospital, after Drs. John T. King and John T. King, Jr., had been called in.

Fifteen minutes after her arrival at the hospital she died. Coroner Lloyd Smith returned a verdict of death from Bright's disease and permission was given her mother to have the body sent to Winston-Salem.

Another Is Stricken.

Shortly after her death, say the police, Keily telegraphed Miss Bristol that "Lucille is dead. Come at once to Baltimore." Miss Bristol arrived in Baltimore Sunday and immediately wired to Osman, who came down from New York.

Yesterday, after drinking "something from a large bottle" as she told physicians at Johns Hopkins hospital, Miss Bristol also was taken suddenly ill, was sent to Johns Hopkins and became unconscious. Her condition is said to be so serious that grave fear for her recovery is felt. The symptoms in her case are said to be identical with those exhibited by Miss Sharp. Both Doctors King, who attended both women, testified today their suspicions were aroused and they caused the women to be taken to hospitals.

As soon as they learned of the admittance of Miss Bristol to the hospital, Round Sergeant Plantholt and Sergeant Gaffey, of the Northeastern district, and Sergeant Joseph Carroll, of the Northwestern district, went to the Eutaw place house and arrested the two men.

Keily was questioned closely and is said by the police to have confessed that he and the dead girl had lived together as man and wife in Atlanta after he had left Baltimore and had lived in such relations upon his return to this city.

KEILY ONCE IN BUSINESS HERE.

The man referred to in the dispatch from Baltimore is believed by friends here to be John Kieley, a former resident of Atlanta and a prominent business man of this city.

Mr. Kieley, who was a resident of Atlanta for several years, was the owner of the Kieley apartments on West Peachtree, and was later a well-known figure in the brick and tile business. His other interests were chiefly as a large dealer in coal.

It was declared yesterday by friends at Mr. Kieley has disposed of his many interests here before he left for his new home in Baltimore.

It was also stated that the Misses Bristol and Sharp referred to in the dispatch, were probably a Miss Bristol and a Miss Sharp who formerly lived in Atlanta and were very close friends.

Friends of Mr. Kieley refused to believe the charges against him, saying that if Miss Sharp was killed by drinking poison, it was probably wood alcohol, or some other poison contained in a beverage they had all been drinking as an intoxicant.

AMUSEMENTS

Alexander.

(At the Atlanta.)

But four days remain of the engagement of the season's greatest sensation, Alexander, at the Atlanta theater. There will be performances nightly, at 8:30, for the balance of the week, together with three matinee performances, one on Thursday (Thanksgiving day), one Friday (for ladies only), and a final one on Saturday. The remarkable exhibition of psychic powers presented by "The Man Who Knows" has created little short of a sensation here, and the first question to greet one on meeting a friend is certain to be, "Have you seen Alexander?" The lure of the mysterious is undoubtedly the power back of the success achieved by this remarkable man. Alexander denies control over power not resident in the least occult of his auditors, but his manner of denial and its frankness is believed my many to cloak a deeper knowledge than he would care to claim. The first part of the Show of Wonders is devoted to new and original magic, the second to Oriental dancing by Lillian Marion and the Nartell Twins, and the third to the famed Simla seance, or crystal gazing.

Lewis and Norton.

(At B. F. Keith's Lyric.)

Andru Lewis and Helen Norton in a clever bit of song, patter and dance assembled for them by Jean Havez, are featured on the bill at Keith's Lyric today only. Other Keith acts include Frank Mullane, comedian; Wilson Bros., in "The Lieutenant and the Cop;" Lillian McNeil and Shadow in dances past and present, and the Pettit troupe of clever acrobats.

Loew Vaudeville.

(At the Grand.)

One of the best vaudeville entertainments of the present season is offered for the last times today and tonight at Loew's Grand. The bill is headed by Frances Rice, famous as an impersonator of celebrated artists of the stage. Other offerings are Krayona and company, artists de luxe; Courtney and Barrett, in songs, steps and sayings; Taylor and Frances, "The Two Kokonuts," and the Morello Sisters company in versatile acrobatics. Heading the screen attractions is "The Open Door," with an all-star cast.

"Blind Husbands."

(At the Tudor.)

The bestial nature of a libertine who tampers with the affections of other men's wives is relentlessly exposed in "Blind Husbands," the sensational photodrama of the Tyrolean Alps, which is the attraction of the week at the Tudor. The principal role—you could hardly call it the hero's part—is played by Stroheim, known as "the Satan of the Screen." Atlanta knows him of old for his wonderful work in "Hearts of the World," D. W. Griffith's master production, and in "Blind Husbands" he reaches the height of his power to portray on the screen the supreme conceit and wickedness of the man without a soul. In "Blind Husbands" there is something sinister about him, that fascinates and repels at the same time. He has the part of a lieutenant in the Austrian army who goes to a fashionable resort in the Alps to pursue the only trade he knows—that of preying on womankind. There he meets Margaret Armstrong, wife of a famous American surgeon, who is a loved but sadly neglected "better half." The sinister courtship that follows, the tense love scenes, the smashing climax which shows the fate of Stroheim make "Blind Husbands" a picture that will have you breathing hard from start to finish. During the showing of "Blind Husbands," at the Tudor this week, there is a splendid program of special music by Vincent Kay's orchestra.

Mary Pickford.

(At the Criterion.)

Mary Pickford, in a characterization entirely different from anything she has been seen in in a long while, pleased crowded houses at the Criterion when the third big picture from her own studios was presented there Monday. "Heart o' the Hill" is a picturization of John Fox's famous story of Kentucky, and in it Miss Pickford plays the part of a mountain girl who can shoot to kill when she thinks the occasion warrants it. There are thrills a-plenty in this picture and a love story that is charming, to say the least. Other features are the Criterion orchestra, Dave Love, conductor; a Mutt and Jeff comedy; the pipe organ, Ben Potter, concert organist, and Fox News.

Dorothy Dalton.

(At the Forsyth.)

Today is the last chance to see Dorothy Dalton in her striking play of the Parisian underworld, "L'Apache," at the Forsyth. The pretty star, in a dual role, has scored one of the most remarkable successes of her career in this strange drama of twisted lives, in which, by means of the resemblance between Natalie and an American girl, the slave of the "King of the Underworld" escapes his clutches, only to find herself accused of murder. A startling turn in the play reveals a happy future for the hunted girl. Tomorrow and the rest of the week the ever-popular Charles Ray will be at the Forsyth in "The Egg-Crate Wallop," a hard-hitting play in which the innocent country boys teach some hard-boiled city scrappers a few things.

Wallace Reid.

(At the Rialto.)

The Rialto theater, with Wallace Reid in "The Lottery Man," a new Sunshine comedy, a brand-new and excellent orchestra; a new pipe organ, and Miss Katherine Stang, solo violinist, started doing business this week, and is to maintain the same impressive layout all week. Miss Stang, playing light favorites and semi-classical numbers, is to be heard twice in the afternoon and twice at night. The new orchestra also plays at the matinee and the night performances. In "The Lottery Man," Mr. Reid is scoring one of the biggest hits of the handsome star's career. It is a light, swift comedy with a pretty thread of romance running through it, and the large houses that greeted the play Monday and Tuesday attested the fact that nobody was "taking a chance" in going to see the new Paramount-Artcraft production.

William S. Hart.

(At the Strand.)

The admirers of Bill Hart are finding him at the Strand all this week in a new and different kind of play—and they seem to like it as well as any of them, in spite of the fact that not a gun is flashed and the hero lays violent hands upon the villain only once during the performance. He does muss him up a bit then, however. Big Bill runs a "petticoat shop" in New Orleans in this latest Paramount-Artcraft production, taking charge of it under the impression that a "modiste shop" is a kind of saloon. There is a misunderstanding and a romance—and Bill comes out on top, as usual. "A Rustic Romeo," a scandalously funny comedy, runs with the Hart picture.

"The Miracle Man."

(At the Vaudette.)

Today is your last chance to see the wonder picture, "The Miracle Man," at the Vaudette, to which theater it was brought in a special return engagement for three days only, at no advance in prices. The immense popularity of this truly great picture has packed the house steadily, and in addition there is Restivo, the "international accordionist," who plays at every performance all week. Tomorrow and the rest of the week Robert Warwick will be seen in a Paramount-Artcraft production, "Told in the Hills," with Town Topics and "A Screen Idol," and the festive Restivo.

"The Eyes of the World."

(Coming to Rialto.)

It is believed by many people that the greatest future usefulness of the motion picture will be in the reproduction of established works of literature. The double pleasure given to a reader after perusing a book and forming a mental picture of its characters and seeing them metamorphosed into moving pictures will always be greater than looking upon the ordinary film offering. Harold Bell Wright, whose novel, "The Winning of Barbara Worth," made internationally famous the wonders of the Imperial valley in California and whose "The Shepherd of the Hills" celebrated the charms of the Ozark valley in Missouri, promises to become supreme among authors in this new influence. His first book to be picturized is "The Eyes of the World," which will be shown in the south for the first time at the Rialto theater for six days, only, starting Monday.

Grimshaw Assistant.

Macon, Ga., November 25.—S. T. Grimshaw has been appointed assistant general manager of the Macon, Dublin and Savannah railroad, relieving John A. Streyer, who resigned several weeks ago. Mr. Grimshaw has been with the Seaboard Air Line at Monroe, N. C.

Plans for Canal To Be Submitted When Body Meets

Digging of Canal Between St. Mary's and St. Mark's to Be Urged Before Rivers and Harbors Congress.

By James A. Hollomon.

Washington, November 25.—Members of Georgia and Florida delegations in congress will go before the 15th convention of the national rivers and harbors congress next month and place before it the plan for the building of a barge or a ship canal between St. Mary's, Ga., and St. Mark's Fla., thus bringing by navigable water the mouth of the Mississippi river to the Atlantic ocean.

The purpose of such a canal and its advantages are thoroughly known to readers of the Constitution. There are bills pending in both houses of congress now, providing for an immediate survey by the government looking to the eventual consummation of this project.

The national rivers and harbors congress meets in Washington December 9, 10 and 11.

The enlargement of the Welland canal which connects Lake Erie with Lake Ontario, the dredging of a 30-foot channel down the St. Lawrence river to the tide-water at Montreal and the promotion of general water transportation will be among the subjects discussed at the conference.

Most of the speakers who have been invited to address the assembled delegates are men directly concerned with the enactment or the execution of waterways legislation.

Among the speakers will be Secretary Daniels of the navy department Secretary Baker of the war department, Senator Cummins of Iowa, Senator Smith of South Carolina, Senator Jones of Washington, Senator Fletcher of Florida, Representative Esch of Wisconsin, Representatives Sims of Tennessee, Representative Kennedy of Iowa and Representative Small of North Carolina.

Canada has again taken up the enlargement of the Welland canal. The locks in the present canal are fourteen feet deep, but the new locks will be 800 feet long, 80 feet wide and 30 feet deep. A strong movement is under way in the west and northwest to have the United States join Canada in building a channel down the St. Lawrence which would carry ocean navigation into the heart of the continent and make seaports of all the ports on the Great Lakes.

The projects will be the subject of much lively discussion, according to Senator Ransdell, of Louisiana, who is president of the national rivers and harbors congress.

U. S. PASSENGER LINES ON ALL OCEAN ROUTES

Washington, November 25.—Plans of the shipping board for establishment of passenger lines on all the important ocean routes call for a fleet of about 60 liners, officials said today. Half of them will be German ships, formerly army transports, now undergoing repairs, including the Leviathian.

About 25 of the ships will be vessels ordered as transports during the war. They average around 9,000 deadweight tons.

To enable board officials to study necessary fittings, a suite of two staterooms and bath is being built in the offices here, complete in every detail. It is planned to work out with this help standard specifications which will make every provision for the comfort of passengers.

BILLY SUNDAY CLUB OPENS HEADQUARTERS

The new headquarters of the Billy Sunday Business Men's club were opened Tuesday night with a turkey banquet, given the members by Marvin L. Thrower, president of the club.

About 100 members and their wives were present. The new headquarters, which are in the Gould building, were furnished by Mr. Thrower at a personal expenditure of about $1,000.

U. S. SOLDIERS SENT TO LOUISIANA TOWN

Mobile, Ala., November 25.—Colonel Shipton, with five officers and 100 men of the regular army stationed at Fort Morgan, left Mobile tonight on a special train for Bogalusa, La., to take charge of the situation there, as Governor Pleasants had asked the war department to send troops there because of the recent trouble in which three men were killed.

The special train carried three coaches and two baggage cars. All arrangements had been made in advance for the train and when the troops arrived from Fort Morgan they immediately got on the special train, which pulled out for New Orleans.

After reaching New Orleans the troops will go direct to Bogalusa. After arriving at Bogalusa, Colonel Shipton will take personal command of the situation, but will keep in close touch with the state officials.

Baton Rouge, La., November 25.—Governor Ruffin G. Pleasant announced tonight that the United States troopson the way rfom Mobile to Bogalusa, La., would be used under his direction for the maintenance of law and order.

The governor said he had telegraphed the southeastern department Monday for troops after a committee of citizens from Bogalusa had conferred with him. He declined to state whether they were union men or not. He also declined to state whether he would declare martial law.

Bogalusa, La., November 25.—News that United States troops would arrive here tomorrow was the only excitement today or tonight following the tragedy of Saturday in which three white labor leaders were killed and one wounded, and an officer of the posse shot in the arm in the battle over an alleged negro agitator.

Mayor W. H. Sullivan said that the city authorities would co-operate with the troops in maintaining peace, although he saw no evidence of immediate disorder.

The names of the citizens who requested Governor Pleasant to call for troops are not generally known here. It is rumored that they were opposed to the Loyalty legion, special policemen who serve without pay and who formed the majority of the posse which was engaged in the fight.

Figures Announced On "No Accident" Week of Railroads

A final report has been made on the standing of the various railroads at the close of the recent no-accident period, in which the steam lines of the country ,under the United States railroad administration, were in competition for first place. The reports, compiled from figures in all the regions, show that in actual number of casualties, the southern region, under General Director B. L. Winchell, repeated its performance of last year, and won first placeil but when considered on a basis of decreases from 1918, this region is in third place. The accident-prevention period lasted from October 18 to October 31.

"In the table of standings based on decrease in casualties per 100 employees," W. L. Winchell, regional director, said, "the southern region ranked third with .155. Our record during the same period last year, when no drive was in progress, was exceptionally low in the number of accidents occurring, and therefore our decrease is not as great in point of percetage as in two of the other regions."

Following is the final standing of all the regions during the drive:

REGION.	Employees.	Total Casualties.	Cas. Per 100 Employees.
Southern	277,038	214	.077
Central-Western	342,557	294	.086
Pocomontas	61,208	53	.087
Northwestern	289,764	283	.098
Allegheny	437,717	551	.125
Eastern	490,622	622	.135
Southwestern	186,295	437	.332

Study Diversification.

Americus, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—The farm at the Third District Agricultural and Mechanical school here will be devoted this year wholly to diversified farming with cotton wholly eliminated. Another progressive step just announced by Principal John M. Prance is that modern farming machinery will be used and students will be given opportunity to learn the operation of these motor machines.

DOCTORS USE CALOTABS FOR COLDS AND FLU

Influenza and Grippe, Like Ordinary Colds, Require Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Nauseless, Safe and Sure.

Physicians and druggists claim that the great epidemic of influenza has conclusively demonstrated that the quickest relief for a cold and the best preventive of influenza and pneumonia is to keep the liver active so that the digestive organs may be in perfect condition. For this purpose Calotabs, the new nauseless calomel tablets that are free from the sickening and weakening effects, is the most thorough and dependable, as well as the most agreeable laxative.

Calotabs have the special advantage of not making the patient sick and weak, as they do not upset the digestion and appetite. One Calotab at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea, nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure, or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast.

For your protection, Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Sold by all druggists and your money back if you are not delighted with them.—(adv.)

BREAKS A COLD IN A FEW HOURS

"Pape's Cold Compound" instantly relieves stuffiness and distress.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks up a severe cold and ends all grippe misery.

The very first dose opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—insist upon Pape's!—(adv.)

HOW TO GET RID OF YOUR COLD

The quick way is to use Dr. King's New Discovery.

DON'T put off until tonight what you can do today. Step into your druggist's and buy a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. Start taking it at once. By the time you reach home you'll be on the way to recovery.

This standard family friend has been breaking colds, coughs, grippe attacks, and croup for more than fifty years. It's used wherever sure-fire relief is appreciated. Children and grownups alike can use it—there is no disagreeable after-effect. Your druggist has it. 60c. and $1.20 bottles.

Bowels Begging for Help

Torpid liver pleading for assistance? How careless to neglect these things when Dr. King's New Life Pills so promptly, mildly, yet effectively come to their relief!

Leaving the system uncleaned, clogged bowels unmoved, results in health-destructive after-effects. Let stimulating, tonic-in-acion Dr. King's New Life Pills bring you the happiness of regular, normal bowel and liver functioning. Keep feeling fit, doing the work of a man or woman who finds relish in it. All druggists—25c.—(adv.)

Lumbago?
Lessen the pain
BAUME ANALGÉSIQUE BENGUÉ
will give you quick relief. Put it on your shopping list
Thos. Leeming & Co., N. Y.

Daniel Bros. Co.
45 to 49 Peachtree
Headquarters for Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes

We Close Tomorrow At One

Clothes for Thanksgiving

YOU want to be dressed right on this day; to appear at your best in stylish new clothes that do credit to yourself and your company.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes are real Thanksgiving clothes; quality is their keynote; style and value naturally follow; economy and satisfaction are the reward.

Daniel Bros. Company 45 to 49 Peachtree
Home of Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes

The High Price Of Coffee

never troubles the users of

POSTUM

Neither does the use of Postum trouble their nerves

No advance in Price

Made by The POSTUM CEREAL COMPANY Battle Creek, Michigan.

PERSHING TO GET ROUSING WELCOME

Plans for Monster Celebration to Greet "Black Jack" on Visit Here Made at Meeting Yesterday.

Met to prepare for a monster celebration in honor of General John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American Expeditionary forces, who will be the guest of Atlanta on December 10, more than a hundred of the city's most prominent men and women, representing every phase of industry and activity, assembled in the city hall yesterday afternoon at the call of Mayor Key, determined to give America's foremost soldier a welcome which he will never forget.

In view of the fact that it is not yet know what will be General Pershings' exact itinerary, nor the time of day at which he will arrive in Atlanta, the meeting was of an organization nature, the floor being open at all times for pertinent suggestions as to how the great soldier can best be entertained. And there was no dearth of suggestions!

To Decorate City.

On one thing, however, there was no variety of opinion and that was the hearty agreement with the suggestion of Mrs. Samuel M. Inman, who was instrumental in having the meeting called together, that the city be decorated as it has never been decorated before. Colonel F. J. Paxon indorsed this suggestion strongly and assured Mrs. Inman of the co-operation of the merchants in putting the city in gala attire.

When Mayor Key stepped down from the chair in favor of Mrs. Inman, she was greeted by a burst of applause, following which she outlined briefly the purposes of the meeting and urged the assistance of all those present in making the visit a success.

General Wilds P. Richardson, in command at Camp Gordon, was asked what suggestions he could make for the entertainment of General Pershing and he promptly placed himself and his troops at the command of the committte to do whatever possible towards making General Pershing's visit one never to be forgotten. He stated that he expected the general to make a trip to Camp Gordon, there to spend several hours in inspecting the post. Colonel G. S. Bratton, commanding General Hospital No. 6, at Fort McPherson, stated that he expected the general to visit the hospital also.

Professor K. G. Matheson, president of the Georgia School of Technology, cordially extended an invitation to General Pershing to visit the school and greet the Tech chapter of the American legion, many members of which served in the A. E. F.

Atlanta Escort Planned.

General J. Van Holt Nash, adjutant general of the state, suggested that the same general plan be followed as when General Leonard Wood visited the city several years ago. It will be remembered that a parade was held and General Wood reviewed it from a stand erected at Five Points. General Nash will go to Savannah on the 8th of December and be there to receive General Pershing when he arrives. It was suggested by Judge Hilyer that a committee be appointed to greet General Pershing when he first enters Georgia and that this committee escort him to Atlanta.

There was a strong sentiment among those present that General Pershing be asked to deliver a short talk while he is here so that the thousands of men, women and children who have never seen him may have an opportunity to view and hear the man who led the American forces to victory. Mrs. Sam D. Jones suggested a public reception for the distinguished soldier where the people of the city could personally shake hands with this war hero and express their appreciation of his great service.

Such a reception would give an opportunity to many of the younger men of the city who not so long ago served in "this man's army" to meet the general face to face for the first time without a tremor and sudden chill for fear that a coat button might be off, shoes unshined, or that they were guilty of some other such terrible military offense. For let it be known that in France "Black Jack," as General Pershing was generally called by the boys in khaki, never overlooked any dereliction of military duty, no matter how slight.

To Name Committees.

One of the members of the committee, who served in the Eighty-second division, stated that while he had the utmost respect for General Pershing when a soldier, he much preferred greeting him as a civilian, for however obvious his defects were the general had no authority to call attention to them. "And rest assured," said he, "that if there are any defects about you, and you're a soldier, 'Black Jack' won't fail to call attention to them in no uncertain tones."

Among those present yesterday afternoon were:

General Wilds P. Richardson, Colonel G. S. Bratton, General J. Van Holt Nash, B. L. Winchell, K. G. Matheson, Julian Boehm, Fred J. Paxon, Mrs. Sam D. Jones, Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore, Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, Colonel B. M. Bailey, Lieutenant Colonel J. G. Woodward, Colonel James G. Blythe, Colonel E. S. Wright, Harry L. Schlesinger, J. B. Nevin, Captain A. L. Willard, Basil Stockbridge, state commander of the American legion; W. F. Dykes, R. C. Little, E. R. Ragland, Charles J. Haden, Judge George Hilyer, Bishop Mikell and Dr. C. O. Jones.

When the meeting adjourned at the call of its chairman, Mrs. Inman, it had been decided that the chair should appoint all of the committees on arrangements and that the details of entertainment and reception should be left entirely in their hands.

More than 43,000 houses were destroyed in Belgium; in France 46,000 buildings and 331 churches were ruined during the war.

COMPENSATION LAW DECLARED INVALID

Nashville, Tenn., November 25.—Judge A. G. Rutherford, in the first circuit court today, held the workmen's compensation law, enacted by the last legislature, unconstitutional.

Among the objections urged by the court against the statute were that it was class legislation, not equally applicable to all members of the same class; that it did not give the employee adequate remedy, deprived the parties of the right to trial by jury and was compulsory and not elective, as it purported to be. The act provided for an injured employee or his dependents being paid half his salary weekly for a time depending upon the extent of his injury.

In times of financial difficulties the Loochooans, residents of the southwestern islands of Japan, sometimes pawn the graves of their relatives. They are always redeemed, however; failure to do so meaning family disgrace.

—Fifth Floor.

A Turkey Treat Wednesday

—WHAT DO YOU LIKE better than Turkey at this season of the year? NOTHING — Doesn't seem to be anything that has the holiday flavor except TURKEY.

—SINCE THE DAY when the Pilgrim Fathers observed the first Thanksgiving, down to the present time, Turkey, crisp brown and delicious, has been the Thanksgiving dish. We will not be open on Thanksgiving day, but Wednesday we offer you the best the south affords in the way of TURKEY and "FIXIN'S."

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

The Vogue of the Feather Fan

It dates back to the days when Knights were Bold and the first fan for a Ladye Faire was fashioned from the plume in the Helmet of her Knight.

From that time to the present the vogue has come and gone for fans of brilliant hues.

This season and next and for many seasons thereafter the feather fan will be a charming accessory to the evening gown, and, we have assembled here a selection of gorgeous creations in Ostrich which has no equal in the South.

There are fans priced from $15.50 to $175 here in every conceivable color and shade, almost.

There are fans with sticks of Mother of Pearl inlaid with gold and silver in filigree designs. And there are simpler things, too, in hand carved smoked pearl. There are Black fans with real tortoise shell sticks.

Just the most marvelously beautiful array of fans you ever saw. And another thing, when these fans are gone, and it won't be long, we will not be able to get any more this season.

And again, if any of you men read this particular ad, there is nothing which will so please "HER" this Christmas, whether she be wife, daughter or sweetheart, as one of these magnificent FEATHER FANS.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.
86-96 Whitehall

Nothing So Delights the Heart of Dainty Women as

Hand-Embroidered Lingerie

Hand made, hand embroidered Lingerie. Gowns and Envelope Chemise in many beautiful styles, all cunningly embroidered and scalloped by hand and carefully finished in the best materials.

While the prices asked are not exactly special prices or reductions from our regular prices, we will say that there are no better values to be found anywhere in the city than in this fine assortment of Hand Made, Hand Embroidered Lingerie.

Dainty and alluring, soft and pretty, it is doubtful if we will be able to offer the same value at the same price again after this stock is exhausted.

Hand Made, Hand Embroidered Gowns
$2.95 to $3.98

Hand Made, Hand Embroidered Envelope Chemise
$2.69 to $3.98

Crepe de Chine and Satin underapparel in the daintiest of modes and effects. Trimmed and tailored and wonderfully appealing. Excellent for Christmas presents and a really good buy for personal use.

SILK GOWNS $5.98
SILK TEDDIES ...$3.98
SILK CAMISOLES .98c up
BOUDOIR CAPS ..98c up
GARTERS $1.98
LINGERIE CLASPS 98c

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.
86-96 Whitehall

—Main Floor.

"I simply cannot keep that boy of mine in WHOLE clothes"

But You Can, Madame

Here for instance is the RUFF and TUMB-L suit for that boy of yours. A fine all wool suit with TWO PAIRS OF PANTS. And that is always where the rub is, isn't it, in the pants? They will wear them out quicker than the coat. We have these suits in sizes from 7 years to 18 years and if that boy of yours comes within this range we know he needs just this suit for both the sake of economy and that neat appearance which every mother prizes in her boy.

$18.50

There are extra pants here, too, to replace the ones he has worn out and possibly to nearly match the coat. Sizes are 4 years to 18 years and there are blue serges, mixtures and corduroys.

$4.00 and $4.50

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

—Second Floor.

La Vida Corsets

With a complete range of sizes for all figures we are glad to be able to call your attention to LA VIDA Corsets, the Aristocrats of the Corset World. In brocaded designs and in medium and low bust, there is the exact corset which will be the ideal foundation for the costume for any occasion.

Expert corsetieres will fit you and you will find an unusually complete line from which to select.

$5.00 and up

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

—Second Floor.

Middy Blouses

Slightly Soiled

$1.39 and $1.89

It is seldom Middy Blouses are offered at such special prices; these blouses are regular $2.00 and $2.50 values, and all they need is laundering.

There are plain white blouses and blouses with collars trimmed in navy, red or Copen.

In sizes there is a complete range from 6 to 22, and we suggest that you come early to take advantage of this offering, because everyone knows the sort of Middy Blouses we sell, and many people will be anxious to obtain such exceptional values.

On account of the values offered we must make the rule that none may be returned or exchanged.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

Second Floor.

The Charm of Modishness

It is apparent at once in all the street dresses we exhibit at radically reduced prices. It is that intangible thing called good taste which is the heritage of the Southern Woman and makes her the best dressed woman in the world. These dresses are representative of the very best things Fashion has offered for the season in street dresses. They are in Tricotines, most carefully and excellently finished and with braided and embroidered designs for trimming that are at once original and distinctive. There are regular sizes and the extra sizes for larger women which have the same identical smart lines as the smaller sizes. There are coat effects and straight lines and an air of individuality throughout the entire selection which will please you.

Very Great Reductions In Price Induce Us To Tell You Of These Offerings

Afternoon Dresses--Distinctive

In afternoon dresses we have made reductions in prices, too, reductions which will permit you to supplement the winter wardrobe at a tremendous saving to you. There are Georgette and Satins and Chinchilla Satins in this selection with combinations of material at once charming and striking. There are beaded and embroidered models in a number of the very best styles and the shades are all dark. Navys, Taupes and Blacks.

Evening Wraps-Fascinating

In Evening Wraps we present a gorgeous assemblage, many of which are luxuriously trimmed with fur or ostrich. These beautiful garments have been reduced to a very low price level and offer really exceptional value. They are in all the most wonderful colors and shades and some are made of the metallic cloths of silver and gold which develop into magnificent garments.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.
86-96 Whitehall

"FOR FORTY CENTS" the Home for the Friendless gives friendless boys and girls a home, an education, healthful recreation, expert medical, surgical and dental attention, and best of all, an ideal and a chance in life. It takes care of an average of eighty-five children a day at the cost of about forty cents per capita per day. Don't you think that an institution that does this deserves cordial co-operation and support? On Thanksgiving Eve they will make their only appeal to the public during the year, before the windows full of children on Whitehall and Peachtree streets. Tell your friends about it. Come yourself and see the little ones, and help to "give friendless children a friendly home."

ALLIED WARNING GIVEN GERMANY

If Treaty Is Not in Force by December 1, Blame Will Rest With Germany—Pledges Must Be Kept.

Paris, November 25.—Surprise at the departure of Dr. Simson, head of the plenipotentiaries sent by Germany to this city in connection with the armistice protocol, was expressed in a note delivered to Kurt von Lersner, head of the German delgation at Versailles, by the supreme council last night.

If the treaty of Versailles is not put into force by December 1, the note adds, the responsibility will lie with the German government, as the departure of Dr. Simson inevitably delays further conference which must be held. Dr. von Lersner is asked to state what are the intentions of the German government.

It was learned today Von Lersner sent a letter to Secretary Dutasta, of the peace conference, last Friday, to the effect that the head of the plenipotentiaries had become convinced, after the consultations he had had in Paris, that he must consult the government regarding the protocol, especially as the national assembly would have to approve the decisions reached.

The von Lersner letter protested against the question of the repatriation of prisoners again being bound up with that of putting the treaty into effect, it being pointed out that the allied governments had previously separated these issues. If the promise of France was not kept, the letter declared, German public opinion would not have confidence in any further promise France might make. The letter in this connection drew attention to an article published recently in The Press de Paris on the surrender of war criminals.

Premier Clemenceau, as president of the peace conference, replied Saturday, saying Von Lersner's letter made him question if the treaty could be put into force on December 1, owing to the German government's action, although that government had known the contents of the protocol since November 1.

The delay, said M. Clemenceau, would be regrettable, as it might raise doubts of the sincerity of Germany's intentions regarding the execution of the engagements made in the armistice and the peace treaty.

GERMANS FEEL LITTLE HOPE.

Berlin, November 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Privy Legation Councillors Simson and Grappert returned to this city this morning from Paris, and later held a conference with Dr. Haniel von Haimhausen, under-secretary of state. According to The Tageblatt it is reported the entente showed some small degree of leniency, but said the impression, on the whole, was unfavorable.

The entente is represented as seeming willing to accede to a request for verbal negotiations relative to peace terms as yet unfilled, but the demand that Germany make good the losses caused by the sinking of the German fleet in Skapa Flod stands virtually unchanged. Dr. Simson reported he had told entente representatives in Paris that his commission oculd not rule on questions which had been presented and that it must confer with officials here.

"Hopes here and there in Germany that America's failure to ratify the treaty might force France and England to a more favorable attitude toward Germany, may be considered false," says The Tageblatt. "Representatives of France and England in Paris probably will much sooner attempt to inflict their decisions upon Germany, independent of the American senate."

CONCERT AND MOVIES SUNDAY AFTERNOON

A musical concert and free movies will be staged at the Auditorium-Armory Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the War Camp Community service, A. Baumberger, executive secretary, stated yesterday. The entertainment will be provided without charge through the co-operation of Colonel W. L. Peel, president of the Atlanta Music Festival association, and Charles A. Sheldon, city organist, Mr. Baumberger announced.

Julian Boehm is in charge of the selection of the pictures and a committee headed by him will endeavor to secure only the best pictures obtainable in the city. H. F. Whittier, song leader for the W. C. C. S., will lead the mass singing and the boy scouts will act as ushers. The program will begin at 3 and continue until 6:30 o'clock.

MEXIC BANDIT KILLED IN FIGHT OVER RANSOM

Presidio, Texas, November 25.—Jesus Renteria, the bandit who obtained $15,000 for the return of the United States army aviators, Lieutenants Davis and Peterson, was killed by another bandit at Carrizos Springs, Mexico, in a fight over division of the ransom money, according to apparently reliable reports from Mexican sources received here today.

ITALIAN IS NAMED TO LEAGUE COUNCIL

Rome, November 25.—Senator Viterio Scialoia has been appointed Italian delegate to the council of the league of nations.

Signor Scialoia was reported Monday by The Epoca to have been named as the successor of Tomasso Tittoni as foreign minister.

POISON GAS TERMED MOST HUMANE WEAPON

Washington, November 25.—Poison gas is "one of the most humane weapons of war," according to a report by Surgeon General Ireland, based on analysis of American casualties in France, made public today. While 74,779 of the 274,217 battle casualties resulted from enemy gas, the report says, the number of deaths was "very small."

Gas caused 27.3 per cent of all casualties, it is found, "accomplishing the prime object of all weapons of war, which is to put men out of action," but there were only 1.87 per cent of deaths in gas cases as compared with 23.4 per cent from shell or bullet wounds.

"In other words, based on statistics," the report said, "the claim is advanced that a man gassed has 12 times as many chances of recovery as the man put out of action by other causes."

REGISTERED VOTERS LIST GIVEN TO MAYOR

An official list of the voters who are eligible to vote in the city general election to be held in Atlanta on Wednesday, December 3, 1919, was sent to the mayor and city council by Register Lucien Harris yesterday. Candidates nominated at the white primary last September will be named on democratic ticket.

A total of 16,452 have registered to vote. The registration is distributed to 11 wards as follows: First ward, 1,171; second ward, 2,068; third ward, 2,322; fourth ward, 1,364; fifth ward, 1,203; sixth ward, 1,803; seventh ward, 1,501; eighth ward, 1,862; ninth ward, 1,682; tenth ward, 969; eleventh ward, 517.

REPORTED CARLISLE RESIGNS FROM ROAD

Macon, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—According to a telegram received here tonight from Savannah, James G. Carlisle, assistant freight traffic manager of the Central of Georgia railway, has resigned his position and will return to Macon to take a position in the sales department of the Bibb Manufacturing company. For six years Mr. Carlisle has had headquarters at the general offices of the Central, in Savannah. No announcement of his resignation has yet been made.

SWEAT MACHINE INSTEAD OF MAN, SAYS LEVERHULME

New York, November 25.—Sweating the machine, not the man, is the economic principle on which Lord Leverhulme, the gerat British manufacturer, justifies the six-hour day for workmen and the twelve-hour day for machinery. This schedule his firm has determined to introduce in their factories in Great Britain, the United States, Canada and elsewhere, hoping thereby to profit their workmen and themselves.

Lord Leverhulme, who arrived today on the Mauretania, on one of his periodical visits to the United States, came, he said, to conduct a little missionary work in favor of the introduction in this country of the plan. He declared it will prove economically advantageous and profitable in any industry in which the overhead charges for plant and equipment equal or exceed the wage bill.

Describing the main features of the plan as well as of the long established system of "co-partnership" or profit-sharing in his several soap factories, Baron Leverhulme pointed out that the scheme for hours must not be confounded with a flat six-hour day, but consisted in employing his working forces, men and women, in two shifts, each working on a thirty-six hour week basis, while the machinery is kept going the full twelve hours a day.

"We want," he declared, "to wear put our machinery as rapidly as possible, but to conserve our human material. It is an economic benefit if a machine wears out under extreme production, an economic disadvantage if men and women are worn out by long hours." He said his hopes of introducing the plan last summer in his English factories had been defeated by the attitude of some labor unions, which feared the effects of increased production, and by existing factory laws of England, but he was confident that the plan would soon be in effect.

PROHI ENFORCEMENT SQUARELY TO STATES

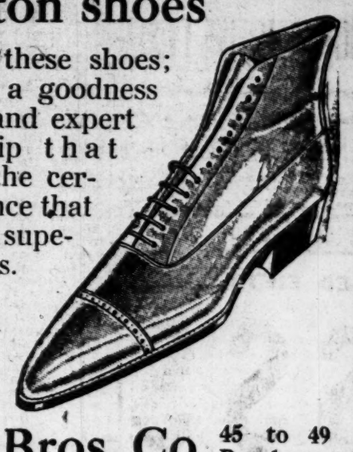

Washington, November 25.—Enforcement of constitutional prohibition will be placed squarely up to the state and municipal authorities and the federal government machinery will not intervene unless obvious inefficiency on the part of local officials makes such action necessary, the board of temperance of the Methodist Episcopal church was told here today by John F. Kibner, federal prohibition commissioner. It was Mr. Kramer's first pronouncement of policy since he assumed office a week ago.

Describing the machinery being set up for the enforcement of prohibition laws, Mr. Kramer said the first step would be with the various state inspectors. "They will keep themselves informed as to conditions in their states," he said, "and will report to the state federal director who will investigate and report to the district federal agent, who will use his forces to investigate and report to the district federal agent, who will use his forces to investigate and arrest if evidence warrants. One of the chief duties of the state federal director will be to enlist the aid of all state officers. He will also endeavor to secure the backing and support of all civic, moral and religious bodies."

PLOT IS DISCOVERED TO KILL VENIZELOS

Athens, November 25.—Plotters arrested following discovery of a conspiracy to assassinate Premier Venizelos, overthrow the present regime and re-establish King Constantine on the throne, have made full confessions, according to the authorities. They were said to be former officers under King Constantine. They will be tried before court-martial.

Nettleton shoes

MEN like these shoes; there's a goodness of leather and expert workmanship that give them the certain excellence that makes them superior to others.

We fit you —that's sure

We close tomorrow at one

Daniel Bros. Co. 45 to 49 Peachtree

Home of Nettleton fine shoes

Southern Tires

ARE THICK TIRES

"Southern" Tires are fully guaranteed and their mileage record shows ten, twelve, fifteen and as high as seventeen thousand miles of service over the rough streets and roads of the South.

Made in the Land of Cotton

Supplied in all sizes, plain and non-skid treads.

Southern Tire & Rubber Co.

AUGUSTA, GA

Distributed in Atlanta by

STANDARD TIRE & RUBBER CO.

40 Luckie St. Phone Ivy 566

CHAMPBLANC

EXTRA DRY

EXCLUSIVE DISTRIBUTING RIGHTS AVAILABLE

CHAMPBLANC has the golden, bubbling sparkle of CHAMPAGNE with the exquisite bouquet and the delightfully exhilarating flavor of the rarest vintage. Served ice-cold in champagne glasses, CHAMPBLANC makes an ideal drink for cabarets, banquets, weddings and other festive occasions and has won the enthusiastic approval of New York's leading establishments.

The Wonderful Sales Possibilities of Champblanc Insure Enormous Profits.

COLUMBIA BEVERAGE CO., Sole Agents

292 Fifth Avenue, New York

Agents also for

CHAMPROUGE

A worthy successor to Sparkling Burgundy

FOR PRETTY WALLS WITHOUT LAPS OR SPOTS, USE

Deco-Mura

SANITARY COLD-WATER WALL FINISH

TRIPOD PAINT COMPANY

66 and 68 N. Broad St. Phones: Ivy 516; Atlanta 406.

TWENTY GOOD POSITIONS WITH BIG FIRMS GIVEN SOUTHERN BUSINESS COLLEGE GRADUATES

Sixty Students Every Month Go Out Into Positions From the Class Rooms of The Southern.

"A tree is known by its fruit"—a Business School by the success of its students.

During the past few days, twenty pupils of the Southern Shorthand and Business University have been sent to desirable positions with leading firms, while twice that many openings have been turned down during the same period.

Every month an average of over sixty pupils of the Southern finish their course and accept positions as stenographers, bookkeepers, cashiers, secretaries, etc., with splendid firms in Atlanta and other cities throughout the counry.

A leter received this week from a former pupil, Mr. W. M. Mauck, Los Angeles, California, states that he has become the manager of a large corporation in that city.

Positions for 20 Students.

The following pupils have, during the last few days, accepted positions with the firms named:

Miss Mary J. Ragin, with the Cable Piano Co.

Miss Helen Thornton, with the United States Rubber Co.

Mr. Joe Gordon, with the N. K. Fairbanks Co.

Miss Louise Johnson, with the Huguley Oil Co.

Miss Frances Dodd, with the Williams Brick Co.

Mrs. Thomas Ford, with the American Appliance Co.

Miss Tincie Williams, with Hill, Huffman & Co.

N. V. JOHNSON,
Principal Bookkeeping Department of the S. S. & B. University.

CHAS. A. WATSON,
Auditor and Teacher Bookkeeping S. S. & B. University.

Miss Lucile Guthrie, with Wylie Real Estate Co.

Mr. Charles Dunn, with R. O. Campbell Coal Co.

Miss Florence Germany, with Royal Insurance Co.

Miss Maggie DeLoach, with National Biscuit Co.

Mr. Hubert Dodd, with Libby, McNeil & Libby.

Miss Lucy Bell, with The L. A. Wallace Co.

Miss Louise Ware, with The Georgian Publishing Co.

Miss Lois Parr, with the Hightower Hardware Co.

Miss Estelle Lassiter, with the Hammond Sales Co.

Miss Florence Devitt, with the All-Star Mfg. Co.

Miss Mary Perry, with the A. M. Conway Co.

Miss Annie Cross, with the Western Union Telegraph Co.

Miss Rae Miles, with Askin-Marine Company.

'Tis an easy matter to account for the large patronage of the Southern. Its pupils are in demand by the business world.

A Busy Department.

The new department of "Business Efficiency and Salesmanship," conducted by Col. W. H. Preston, is making the students more efficient stenographers and bookkeepers, hence is bringing them into greater demand by the business men.

Young men and young women, in large numbers, are flocking to the Southern because of the success of its pupils, as shown from time to time in the newspaper announcements of this wide-awake school of business training.

Unapproached Facilities.

Then, too, the big school's facilities are a drawing card. Nothing to compare with its quarters and equipment elsewhere in the South.

Go look through and be convinced, if you contemplate obtaining a Business Education, and most surely you are, because you can't afford to be a back number—everybody these days needs a business training—the times demand it.

Then, again, the people are flocking to the Southern Business College because it teaches the best systems in existence.

Great Systems Taught.

Graham-Pitmanic Phonography and Twentieth Century Bookkeeping.

Pitmanic Phonography, is eighty-one years old and it is the most up-to-date shorthand in the world today.

Pitmanic Phonography is written by more than 77 per cent of the short-hand clerks employed in the departments of the United States Government—see the report of the Commissioner of Education.

Pitmanic Phonography is written by more than 91 per cent of the official shorthand reporters in the law courts of America—see the official roster of the National Shorthand Reporters' Association.

Pitmanic Phonography is written by more than 98 per cent of the shorthand reporters in the law courts of the great State of New York—see the official roster of the New York State Shorthand Reporters' Association.

Pitmanic Phonography is written by all the shorthand reporters of the two houses of United States Congress.

Pitmanic Phonography is written by 29 of the 31 United States Court reporters in the State of Michigan.

It is written by 82 per cent of the official court reporters of the State of Indiana.

It is written by 20 of the 21 court reporters in the City of Atlanta.

Graham-Pitmanic Phonography is taught at the Southern Business College by two of Georgia's best known reporters, assisted by several other accomplished teachers.

Twentieth Century Bookkeeping is taught at the Southern by Profs. N. V. Johnson and Chas. A. Watson, a pair who know how to develop expert bookkeepers.

You want a position Then prepare for one and do so now at the Southern.

Great Demand for Help.

Never in the history of the world was there such a great demand for stenographers and bookkeepers as at the present time. Just glance over the "Want Help" columns of the daily papers for verification of this statement. One of the Atlanta papers the other day carried over forty advertisements for office help. Another paper in a larger city carried several hundred advertisements in one issue for stenographers, bookkeepers, cashiers and other office help.

There's plenty of work at good pay but the competent workers are few.

Reputation Counts.

Get busy, and get busy at the right place—the Southern Business College—where you can become an expert and then have the assistance of a long established and well known school in obtaining employment.

"I tried four from four different schools and every one failed. I then secured one of the Southern's graduates, who has done fine," said a business man from South Georgia to the managers of the Southern Business College the other day.

Call, phone or write for catalog.

A. C. Briscoe, pres.; L. W. Arnold, vice pres.; Col. W. H. Preston, business efficiency; W. H. Haddock, general representative.

11 Whitehall street, Atlanta, Ga.

Day and night classes.—(adv.)

Headquarters for Vassar Union Suits

Want comfortable underwear?

YOU surely get solid comfort in these fine Vassar Union Suits. Here's why! Instead of being cut to form, these good garments are knitted to conform to the outlines of the human body. Giving you perfect fit and that delightful partial snugness. Do you like silk and wool, all-wool, Mercerized lisle or cotton? We have them all.

$2.50 to $9

Closing at 12 Tomorrow

EISEMAN'S 51 YEARS IN ATLANTA

Government Sale

HORSES AND MULES

Remount Depot, Camp Gordon, Ga.

December 9, 1919, 9 A. M.

650--Artillery Horses--650

Heavy and Light

40-- Mules, Heavy and Light --40

These animals are sold for the reason that they are surplus and not needed by the Government.

In addition there will be sold the following I. C. animals:

3 Cavalry Horses
9 Artillery Horses
13 Mules

TERMS: Cash or Certified Checks Only Will Be Accepted.

A halter and shank with each animal and assistance will be given purchasers in loading their animals. Animals must be removed from the depot as fast as shipping facilities will permit. Railroad representative on the grounds.

Hot lunches can be obtained on the grounds at reasonable prices.

For further information apply to Remount Depot, Camp Gordon, Ga.

Phone, Camp Gordon, 40.

DWIGHT F. TINKHAM,
2nd Lieutenant, Q. M. C.,
Quartermaster

Auctioneer:
MR. J. HALL MILLER,
Miller Union Stock Yards, Atlanta, Ga.

Every One In the Family Circle

Is interested in the growth and welfare of the home community. Nothing can help a community more than to liberally

Patronize Home Industries

Keep your money at home by patronizing such firms as

J. K. Orr Shoe Co.
Manufacturers of
RED SEAL SHOES

White Provision Co.
Packers of
CORNFIELD HAMS, BACON AND WIENERS

Frank E. Block
Bakers of
KENNESAW BISCUITS

No better products are made than those made by these home manufacturers

Morris Fertilizer Co.
Manufacturers of
ALL-ANIMAL MATTER AMMONIATED GUANOS

A. M. Robinson Co.
Makers of
ARAGON SHIRTS, PANTS AND OVERALLS

EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY SHOWN IN FIVE CASES

Governor Issues Three Paroles, One Pardon and One Commutation.

Executive clemency in five cases was granted by Governor Dorsey yesterday, including three paroles, one straight pardon and one commutation of sentence. In practically every case the trial officials and the surviving members of the jury had recommended clemency.

Charlie Talmadge, a Butts county negro, convicted of murder at the August, 1909, term of court and given a life sentence, was paroled. The parole was recommended by the trial judge, solicitor general and nine surviving members of the jury.

Mattie Shorter, alias Powers, who shot her sweetheart in Stewart county and who was convicted of murder and given a life sentence at the fall term, 1905, of the superior court, was granted a parole. It was claimed that the man was about to draw a razor on her when she shot.

Jim Jenkins was granted a full pardon and restored to his full citizenship rights. He was convicted in 1912 and given a sentence of ten years from the superior court of Glynn county for assault with intent to murder. The governor based his action in the case mainly upon an affidavit from G. E. Deaver. The governor felt that, if the evidence therein presented had been used at the trial, the jury would never have convicted Jenkins.

Jesse Fortson, convicted of manslaughter in Elbert county and given a fifteen-year sentence in 1914, was also paroled.

W. W. Odum, convicted of seduction at the March term, 1917, of Bacon superior court, had his five-year sentence commuted to $200 fine and a probation of twelve months on the affidavit of the prosecutrix that she was not what she had been represented to be at the trial.

Odum was the only white man in the lot, the rest being negroes.

USED FIFTY YEARS

SSS

MAKES PURE BLOOD AT ALL DRUGGISTS

Negress Arrested After Altercation On Full Trolley

It took just $26 for Vorice Franklin, a negro maid, living at 321 Smith street, to obtain her release from the station house Tuesday night, after she had been arrested for slapping a young lady following an argument on an English avenue street car during the afternoon.

According to Miss Bonnie Stanford, of 32 Pelham street, who was struck by the negress, she and her companion, Miss Pauline Stroupe, of 493 Chestnut street, entered the car, and due to the crowded condition of the trolley, were forced to occupy seats in rear of the negro woman.

Later, the girls stated, a white couple, toward the front of the car, departed and the two young ladies started to take possession of the vacant seats. According to Miss Stroupe, the negress also moved to the front, and arrived at the seat first, but was forced to move to the rear by the conductor.

Then, Miss Stroupe declared, the negress wheeled about and began to attack Miss Stanford viciously. Other passengers intervened, and Patrolman Cartwright, called to the trolley by the excitement following the negress' assault, placed the negro woman under arrest.

At the station house, the maid admitted striking Miss Stanford.

CANTOR ROSENBLATT IN CONCERT TONIGHT

Unique Tenor Sings at Auditorium for Hebrew Orphans' Home Benefit.

Josef Rosenblatt, most interesting of all the great tenors, arrives in Atlanta Wednesday morning in preparation for his concert, which is to be held Wednesday evening at the Auditorium-Armory, under the auspices of the trustees of the Hebrew Orphans' home.

Known throughout the north for the past two years as one of the most phenomenal and most unique figures on the concert stage, this is Atlanta's first opportunity of hearing him.

No artist has attracted more public atttention through his personality than Mr. Rosenblatt. Possessed of a tenor voice which is ranked by critics with the very great ones of the day, and tempted with offers from the large opera companies at fabulous figures, he has confined his regular engagements to singing in one of New York's east side synagogues at a small salary, appearing only occasionally in concert, when he is greeted by wildly enthusiastic audiences.

No man, probably, has sung the great songs of the Jewish people as does Mr Rosenblatt, according to those who have heard him. There is something unusually fascinating about the music and the manner of his singing that has brought capacity audiences in New York's Hippodrome to their feet in the wildest excitement.

His Atlanta program will contain some of these songs and it will also contain songs more familiar to the concert stage, notably a popular air from "Aida" and some of the lighter songs of the present day.

The singer will be accompanied by Stuart Ross, well-known pianist, who will also play two big numbers during the program.

Seats are on sale all day Wednesday at the Cable Piano company, where popular prices prevail. The proceeds of the concert go toward the support of the Hebrew Orphans' home of this city.

Slacker Charges For Crawleys Today In Federal Court

Another chapter in the famous Crawley case will be written when Frank Crawley and Felix Crawley face trial in the district court at 10 o'clock this morning.

Frank Crawley is held charged with failing to register for military service on the last registration day. He claims that he was too old to come within the draft age. Felix Crawley is charged with harboring his brother, Frank, a deserter.

It is likely that Judge Sibley will preside over the court. In the event that he does not return from Athens, where he has been conducting court, the cases will be tried before Judge Newman.

FATHER SEEKS SON, MISSING FROM HOME

A lonely father calling for his absent son was the theme of a letter to The Constitution from the father, Rev. James W. Brown, rural route No. 3, Box 126, Monroe, Ga.

According to the letter the son left his home in Walton county Saturday afternoon and since that that has not been heard from.

He is described as being 18 years old, height five feet, weight 125 pounds, has light hair and blue eyes. When last seen he was wearing a brown suit and a brown check hat.

Any information of the whereabouts of the youth will be greatly appreciated by the father, who is very anxious for the return of his son.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR MRS. HALL MONDAY

The funeral services of Mrs. Margaret Scott Hall, well-known writer and dearly beloved woman, who died at her home in Kirkwood early Monday morning, were held at the chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son Tuesday afternoon. Interment was in Westview cemetery.

Through the beautiful poetry she has written, as well as by her charming and happy personality, the life of Mrs. Hall has been an inspiration to all those who knew her. A host of friends are deeply grieved at her death.

Mrs. Hall is survived by her husband, Mr. J. B. Hall; three daughters, Miss Ruby Hall, Mrs. T. J. Norman and Mrs. R. H. Wolcott; a sister, Mrs. J. R. Pearce; and a brother, G. T. Scott, of Palestine, Tex.

MILLIONS TO BE SPENT ON GERMAN VESSELS

New York, November 25.—More than $7,000,000 will be expended in alterations and special equipment for the seven former German passenger liners aggregating 67,639 tons recently allotted by the United States and South America. This was made known here today by Frank C. Munson, president of the Munson line which has been selected by the shipping board to operate and manage the ships. Mr. Munson has just returned from a conference with officials of the board in Washington.

All of the ships will go into service as soon as they can be made ready, Mr. Munson said. The steamer Moccasin will leave December 27 with about 300 passengers, but the formal opening of the line will be in May when the liner Huron, of 10,800 tons, will depart. For this ship applications for reservations are already pouring in and the applications already received indicate that most of the passengers will be men influential in the commercial development of the two Americas.

The vessels assigned to the South American service are:

Huron, ex-Frederich de Grosse, 10,771 tons; Aeolus, ex-Grosser Kurfurst, 13,102 tons; DeKalb, ex-Prinz Eitel Frederich, 10,771 tons; Callao, ex-Sierra Cordoba, 6,851 tons; Mocassin, ex-Prinz Joachim, 4,760 tons; Princess Matoika, ex-Princess Alice, 10,492 tons; Pocahontas, ex-Princess Irene, 10,892 tons.

W. C. C. S. TO GIVE NEGRO SOLDIERS BIG DINNER

The colored division of the War Camp Community Service announced Tuesday that colored soldiers and ex-soldiers will be entertained at a Thanksgiving celebration Thanksgiving night between 7 and 11 o'clock at the Knights of Columbus hall at Fort McPherson.

Admission will be by invitation only. Invitations can be secured by applying at the Colored Soldiers club, 197 Edgewood avenue.

It was also announced that a Thanksgiving dinner will be served to convalescent colored soldiers at the club at 2 o'clock Thursday.

BAKROMOFF EXECUTED FOR POCKETING FUNDS

Riazan, Russia, October 27.—M. Bakromoff, the president of the soviet here, who raised a "local fund for the purchase of entente imperialist statesmen," has been shot by the extraordinary commission for combatting counter-revolution, for misappropriating funds intended for spreading bolshevik ideas.

According to a newspaper report Bakromoff read a detailed report to the Riazan soviet declaring he had bought Premier Clemenceau of France, for 150,000 rubles, President Wilson for 200,000 rubles, and the Berlin foreign office for 50,000 rubles.

The commission against counter-revolution discovered the fund was a swindle and that Bakromoff and two local officials in the mobilization department had pocketed the money.

Bakromoff admitted he had printed private paper money to the amount of 5,300,000 rubles.

COURTS TO HAVE RECESS ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Courts in Fulton county will recess Thursday for Thanksgiving day. As yet no announcement has been made as to whether the various offices in the courthouse will be closed. It was regarded as certain, however, that all offices will be closed at least half a day.

SPECIAL SESSION FOR FULTON GRAND JURY

A special session of the Fulton county grand jury has been called for Friday when a large number of indictments will be presented by Assitant Solicitor E. A. Stephens. It is expected that a wholesale lot of true bills will be found.

Officials in the solicitor's office Tuesday had already prepared 25 felony charges for consideration.

MORE MONEY COMES IN FOR CHARITIES DRIVE

Subscriptions are still coming in for the Associated Charities campaign. So far a total of $7,500 has been reached. Among the larger contributions received yesterday were: E. H. Cone, $25; Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Bugg, $40; Joseph G. Blount, $40; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Cooper, $50; E. C. Callaway, $25; James H. Prichard, $40.

"The American is always a gentleman—"

Rich's

You can save 25% on your fox scarf. We have some of brown, black or taupe fox lined with shirred brown satin. Big, bushy tails. Priced only $44.95.

52-54-56 Whitehall St. News for Wednesday, Nov. 26. Phone Main 3132

Fur Coats

Every One We Own!

¼ Off!

PERHAPS you have an invitation out to Thanksgiving dinner. Or you're going to the Tech-Auburn football game. A day you'll want to look your best—finest kind of a time to initiate a new fur coat. Our entire stock of women's fur coats will be presented today at one-fourth off full prices. There are short and long coats, capes and coatees of fashionable fur.

All of these were carefully selected, one by one, from some of the foremost furriers in the land. Many came from Revillon Freres. Here's the list:

—Short sealine coat. Was $237.50. Marked down to $177

—Short sealine coat. Was $187.50. Marked down to $140.50

—Short sealine coat. Was $385. Marked down to $278.75

—Hudson seal coat trimmed with nutria. Was $575. Now..... $431

—Hudson seal coat trimmed with beaver. Was $575. Now.... $431

—Hudson seal coatee trimmed with nutria. Was $495. Now..... $371

—Long coat of Hudson seal. Formerly $695. Now..... $518.50

—Short coat of Hudson seal. Formerly $350. Now $262.50

—Hudson seal coat with beaver collar and cuffs. Was $595. Now... $446

—Hudson seal coat with beaver collar and cuffs. Was $495. Now.. $371

—Hudson seal coat trimmed with gray squirrel. Was $337.50. Now.. $253

—Hudson seal coat trimmed with gray squirrel. Was $675. Now.... $506

—Long Hudson seal coat. Formerly priced $575. Now..... $431

—Short flaring coat of Hudson seal. Formerly $495. Now..... $371

—Long coat of Hudson seal. Formerly priced $675. Now..... $506

—Short coat of Hudson seal formerly priced $325. Now..... $244.75

—Long coat of Hudson seal formerly priced $875. Now..... $656

—Short coat of Hudson seal formerly priced $375. Now..... $271

—Coat of Hudson seal formerly priced $465. Now $348.75

—Cape of Hudson seal formerly priced $475. Now $356

—Hudson seal coat with trimming of skunk. Was $725. Now... $543.50

—Kolinsky trimmed coatee of Hudson seal. Was $297.50. Now.... $222

—Hudson seal coat with large collar of mink. Was $1,500. Now... $1,125

—Squirrel trimmed coat of Hudson seal. Was $595. Now..... $446

—Cape of Hudson seal formerly priced $450. Now..... $337.50

—Short coat of Hudson seal formerly priced $325. Now..... $244.75

—Long coat of Hudson seal formerly priced $650. Now..... $487.50

—Flaring coat of Hudson seal formerly priced $495. Now..... $371

—Dolman style coat of Hudson seal. Was $595. Now..... $446

—Dolman style coat of Hudson seal. Was $695. Now..... $518.50

—Flaring coat of Hudson seal formerly priced $595. Now..... $446

—Beaver trimmed coat of Hudson seal. Was $595. Now..... $446

—Nutria trimmed coat of Hudson seal. Was $595. Now..... $446

—Short belted coat of nutria. Was $297.50. Now $222

—Flaring coat of nutria formerly priced $375. Now..... $271

—Short belted coat of nutria. Was $387.50. Now $290.50

—Cape coatee of nutria formerly priced $387.50. Now..... $290.50

—Cape of nutria with collar of beaver. Was $575. Now..... $431

—Coat of natural gray squirrel. Was $475. Now $356

—Natural gray squirrel coat formerly $550. Now $422.50

—Flaring short coat of mole formerly $650. Now $487.50

—Coat of Scotch mole formerly priced $595. Now $446

—Cape of Scotch mole formerly priced $495. Now $371

—Coatee of mink. This was originally $675. Now $506

—Coatee of mink. This was originally $725. Now $543.50

—Coat of caracul kid trimmed with fox. Was $625. Now.... $468.75

—Coatee of kolinsky. This was formerly $347.50. Now..... $260.50

—Coatee of kolinsky. Was originally priced $447.50. Now.... $335.50

Collegian clothes

Smart Styles for Every Man of 17 to 70

Buy Collegian Clothes at

BLACKSTOCK, HALE & MORGAN

HOW comforting to nestle snugly inside one of these warm Collegian overcoats! Whistle, north-wind—who cares? And how stylish they look!

Suits and overcoats in models, patterns, colors and sizes for everybody. Newest styles. Not expensive, either, as prices go today. Suits at $25 to $65.

OVERCOATS $25, $30, $35, $40 to $65

Blackstock, Hale & Morgan

Distinctive Clothiers and Furnishers

6 Marietta Street — Right at Five Points

To the Voters of Fulton County:

W. M. (BILL) POOLE

Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners

I herewith respectfully announce my candidacy for the office of Fulton County Tax Collector, subject to action of the primary to be held next year.

For several months I have had the matter of announcing for this office under advisement, and have intimated to a large number of friends who have asked about it, that I would be a candidate.

While the primary date is several months distant, and while I realize that there is plenty of time ahead in which to launch an aggressive campaign, still I feel that it is none too soon to let my friends---and voters generally---know that I am to be a candidate.

In this, my first and formal announcement, I respectfully solicit the influence and the votes of all classes of citizens of Fulton county. When elected, I shall go into the office, not as the successful candidate of any crowd or any faction, but as a free, unhampered office-holder, who recognizes his allegiance to all the people, and who will try to do his full duty by everyone.

Respectfully,

W. M. POOLE

Mr. Merchant:

Do You Seek the Farmers' Trade?

52 per cent of the Nation's sales are made to Rural Residents.

Only 5 per cent of all money spent for advertising goes to Farm Papers.

The average annual income of Farmers' families is $3,434 (1917 U. S. Statistics).

Average annual income of all families in United States, $1,494.

—Figures From Agricultural Publishers' Association

The Tri-Weekly Constitution

which has the largest circulation of any newspaper in the South, is a Farmers' newspaper, built especially for the Farmer and his family, and is the best advertising medium to reach the class which does 52 per cent of the buying with only 5 per cent of the urging.

Jacobs' Pharmacy Company, of Atlanta

Is going after the tremendous farm trade of the South. They have used The Tri-Weekly Constitution regularly for years. Read what they have to say about results:

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 19, 1919.

Advertising Department,
Tri-Weekly Constitution,
City.
Gentlemen:

It gives me pleasure to advise that our ad which appeared in your paper for the week of November 9 to 15 has brought us a remarkable number of responses from territory covering about 23 states.

Yours very truly,

JOS. JACOBS, President
Jacobs' Pharmacy Co.

IT PAYS OTHERS--IT WILL PAY YOU

The circulation of The Tri-Weekly Constitution is all paid in advance and nearly 100 per cent on rural routes and in small towns ---to people who have money to buy what they want when they want it.

500,000 COPIES

TOTAL OF THREE ISSUES

Guaranteed Week of December 2-4-6

Forms Close November 30. For Best Attention Get Your Copy in Early.

ADVERTISING RATES:

75 cents per agate line (six words to line) $10.50 per inch. $1,806 per page. Discounts: Full page, 20 per cent; half page, 15 per cent; quarter page, 10 per cent.

If you have a business message to the Farmers of the South route it via The Tri-Weekly Constitution. For further information, phone or call

Advertising Department,
The Tri-Weekly Constitution
Atlanta, Ga.

MANY PLEDGE AID FOR ASSOCIATION

Workers in Campaign for Anti-Tuberculosis Association Meet Encouraging Success From All Classes.

Enthusiastic support to the Anti-Tuberculosis campaign, now being conducted in the city in order to secure funds for the permanent support of the Anti-Tuberculosis association, was pledged by the Kiwanis club and others who attended the nooday luncheon given the workers by Dave W. Webb, director of the campaign.

Mr. Webb had asked the Kiwanians to attend in a body and as a result of several short talks made by himself and others, that organization to a man promised to aid their sister body, the Ad Men's club in their determined efforts to bring this campaign to an early success.

The Ad Men's club, backed by practically every civic organization and prominent man in the city, has sponsored this campaign. It is to take the place of the annual sale of Christmas seals, which were discontinued during the war and which previously had been conducted by the Ad Men as the sole source of revenue from the public for the association.

For Permanent Support.

The pledge cards, which are being signed in large numbers by practically all Atlanta called upon, are for the permanent support of the association in its fight against the great white plague, and it is anticipated that the amount asked, $30,000, given annually, will be sufficient to carry on the magnificent work now being done. That the work is entirely local and reaches all cases of tuberculosis, among all classes and ages, white and colored, makes the appeal impelling to all Atlantans, as they realize that it is a matter for their individual welfare as well as the physical, financial and moral welfare of the city.

Twenty teams of workers were hard at work in the city Tuesday. They are making a systematic canvass of the entire city and reporting results at a noonday luncheon which is held every day at the chamber of commerce. Incompleted reports received up to Tuesday night showed about $15,000, or half of the desired quota, already pledged. Leaders in the campaign are expecting to secure the entire amount by Saturday night at the latest, but it was announced Tuesday that having taken hold of the campaign, the Ad Men won't let up until the entire amount is raised, if it takes until Christmas.

Many touching incidents have come to the notice of the workers. One aged man, who met a worker on the street yesterday, stated that two of his children had been victims of the scourge, tuberculosis, and if it had not been for the help of the Anti-Tuberculosis association, their lives would have been shortened by many years and their sufferings vastly increased. He gave a sum, which, while small compared to some, when measured by his worldly wealth, stands near the top of all subscriptions received.

Gives Picture.

A local painter, who is himself a consumptive, stated that he could not give much money, but re wanted to give all he could to the organization that means so much to him. Therefore he gave his best work. This is a picture entitled "Hills of Georgia." It will be displayed in a downtown show window and placed on sale, the proceeds going to the campaign fund.

All branches of the campaign organization are meeting with success. As on prominent leader in the campaign stated Tuesday, "It is much easier to give to a cause like this, than it is to work for it. All we need is a larger supply of workers and everyone who can give any time is asked to report at the headquarters, 515 Chamber of Commerce building and offer their services."

A partial list of subscribers to date, is as follows:

List of Subscribers.

Mrs. George W. White, $5; Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Lockhart and son, $10; Sam C. Dobbs, $100; National Straw Hat works, $10; E. F. Munn, $20; John S. Candler, $25; Atlanta National bank, $200; Central Bank and Trust company, $100; Citizens and Southern bank, $100; Bean & Magill, $25; Oscar Elsas, $25; Fulton Bag mill, $50; G. C. Jones, $20; Lucien Harris, $50; Howard Muse, $50; Atlanta Stove works, $25; Atlanta Trust company, $100; Murphy Halloway, $5; W. D. Beatie, $5; J. E. Valkenburg, $5; Charles A. Davis, $5; Mrs. Emma S. Boyd, $5; J. M. Burckel, $5.

Anderson-Rountree Crenshaw, $20; Dolph Walker, J. M. Bell, $25; M. E. Young, $10; T. W. Moore, $10; W. C. Coles, $5; E. F. McLaughlin, $5; H. W. Key, $5; Travis Huff, $5; Miss Grace Donehoo, $5; Miss Elizabeth Edmundson, $5; Miss Mittie Cochran, $5; Miss Flossie Griffith, $5; H. E. Bussey, $10; A. P. Giles, $10; Alvin B. Cates, $20; Mrs. George Muse, $5; J. H. Franklin, $10; Dr. F. G. Hodgson, $25; Mr. Napier, $5; J. T. Barnett, $25; James H. Prichard, $25; W. L. Peel, $50; anonymous, $25; Chumley-Sharp Hardware company, $50. T. H. Daniel, $25; Robert L. Foreman, $5; R. E. Richards Co., $10; W. R. Prescott, $40; Milton Dargan, $20; Southern Ruralist, $100; Walter M. Richards, $10; Exposition Cotton mills, $200; Trio Laundry company, $25; Troy Laundry company, $25; Capital City laundry, $25; Piedmont laundry, $25; French Dry Cleaning company, $25; Guthman Laundry and Dry Cleaning company, $25; Excelsior Laundry company, $25; J. Frank Beck, $25; Ernest Woodruff, $100; N. Bodenheimer & Bro., $25; J. K. Orr Shoe company, $60; Hamilton-Carhartt Co., $50; John Silvey & Co., $50; Ragan-Malone Co., $50; Mr. Vaulabnson, $25; M. Kutz Co., $25; J. Regenstein, $50.

Nunnally & McCree Co., $50; Ridley Yates Co., $25; T. J. Avery Co., $25; McCord Stewart Co., $25; A. Montgomery, $25; Coca-Cola Bottling company, $25; Akers Skinner, $10; W. E. Hawkins, $5; George M. Hope, $10; W. D. Lemmond, $5; Southern States Life Insurance company, $25; Sloan Paper company, $25; Boiling Jones, $5; George Winship, $10; Guy Mitchell, $10; T. P. Riley, $5; J. R. Cheshire, $25; Seger Machine Tool Co., $100; J. M. Tull, $40; Mrs. J. M. Tull, $10; Bothwell-Bell Co., $20; Martin Bros., $10; Sheffield Bros., $10; C. N. Vaughn, $20; C. K. Vaughn, $10; The Perkins-Blackshear Co., $10; George H. Holliday, $25; C. D. White, $10; Van-Speer Co., $20; Eberhart-Conway Co., $25; J. W. Rowan, $5; R. D. Webb Dental Mfg. Co., $10.

Goldsmith Bros., $25; John B. Jackson, $5; John C. Crankshaw, Jr., $5; G. P. Armstrong, $5; James W. Newman, $5; Earl W. Cates, $5; H. M. Willet, $100; Beck & Gregg Hardware company, $100; Adair McCarty & Bros., $100; Atlanta Milling company, $100; George E. Watts, $10; William C. Wardlaw, $10; G. S. Prior, $20; David Woodward, $100; John K. Ottley, $12.50; Fourth National bank, $100; Williams-Thompson Co., $20; McCullough Bros., $20; W. H. Burkhalter, $10; Benson & Morris, $15; Bell Bros., $25; Mulin & Mazian, $5; A. H. Brandhorst, $5; McCord Bros., $10; Manhattan Fruit and Produce company, $10; J. T. Elder & Co., $10; Comley & Bunis, $10; A. Fugazzi & Co., $25; Green & Milam, $25; Loeb-Apte Co., $25; Fay Hall, $5; C. H. Morris, $12; L. N. Graves, $10.

J. J. Barnes-Fain Co., $50; Fidelity Fruit and Produce Co., $25; McMillan Produce company, $20; Charles I. Brannan, $5; T. G. Tritchler, $12; John I. Gossett, $12; A. Fugazzo, $5; E. B. Stewart & Co., $25; Savar Creets, $10; C. J. Baisden, $20; G. A. & C. R. DeWald, $5; Mrs. Rose Stauffacher, $5; R. D. Grove, $10; Mrs. Frank Adair, $10; Mrs. E. E. Dallas, $12; Mrs. M. C. King, $5; Miss Blanche Leveridge, $5; Mrs. William Rawhirg, $25; Mrs. L. H. Beck, $25; C. E. Harman, $30; W. E. Chapin, $50; Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Scales, $50; Frank Adair, $50; W. R. C. Smith, $50; Forrest & George Adair, $100; Forrest Adair, Jr., $25; V. D. Hunt, $6; T. W. Fulsom, $6.

Palestine Lodge No. 486, F. & A. M. Ry. Barrett society, $50; O. T. Fishback, $6; M. W. Anderson, $6; John B. Courtney, $6; Gorman, Wynston, $6; Harold D. Stonnason, $6; Charles Gavan, $20; Mrs. Charles D. Marshall, $12; Fielder & Allen Co., $30; W. H. Lacy, $6; Atlanta Table company, $50; James J. Wallace, $6; N. M. Wright, $6; C. A. Freemen, $6; Edgar Hart, $6; B. Walter Ballard, $25; Miss Mary E. Clarke, $5; R. A. DeVore, $5; E. Travis Douglas, $25; Louis J. Fechner, $5; George S. Foster, $12; H. O. Hughes, $10; Miss Frances West, $5; John M. Miller, $5; V. L. Jernigan, $25; Chesley Howard, $25; A. T. McNeley, $5.

Strickland & Jordan Co., $100; John Manget, $200; Anderson Clayton Co., $100; G. W. Bryan, $25; J. Epps Brown, $25; R. O. Campbell Coal company, $25; A. C. Newell, $10; A. M. Robinson, $50; M. C. Kiser Co., $50; Rice & Hutchins, $25; R. K. Rambo, $25; Ridley Yates Co., $25; Dick Haines, $5; P. R. Lamar, $10; E. P. Chivers, $10; J. J. Moore, $5; P. J. Hanck, $5; Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wooding, $10; Miss Bess Harrison, $5; Atlanta Cotton Oil company, $25; E. L. Hardy, $5; G. D. Holcumb, $5; Pearlie Johnson, $10; M. T. Farley, $5; Kurt Sahwarin, $5; Mrs. R. M. Blanchard, $10; S. A. Furr, $10.

George M. Ruddy, $10; Francis Cook, $5; J. T. Nalley, $5; William B. Beever, $5; Cliff McMillen, $3; W. Eiseman, $10; L. J. Neal, $10; Billy Kendrick, $10; Walter J. Hecht, $10; Robert Hecht, $10; C. L. C. Thomas, $10; W. D. Hall Co., $25; George A. Bland, $10; Walter C. Hill, $25; C. M. Frederick, $20; H. H. Nowell, $10; T. G. Woolford, $25; Louis Brock, $5; Miss M. E. McGruder, $5; R. D. Watkins, $25; J. L. Dickey, $25; William Burchel, $25.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co., $150; J. Froshin, $50; J. P. Allen, $50 H. G. Lewis, $50; Davison-Paxon-Stokes, $100; J. H. Bullock, $5; F. A. Harper, $5; Kathren Gresham, $5; J. C. Turner, $5; Y. M. Woodal, $5; E. R. Cochran, $5; J. Homer Cain, $10; Gladys Wans, $5; J. C. Cook, $5; R. L. Thurman, $12; Marion Smith, $10; M. A. Neven, $6; Miss Mary White, $5; W. E. Sims, $5; Joe R. Bracewell, $5; V. A. Batchelor, $5; Will J. J. Chase, $5; Hentz, Reid & Adler, $10; R. Kennon Berry, $5; Edwards & Sayward, $10; A. Ten Eyck Brown, $5; C. E. Frazier, $10; J. D. Barge, $5; S. D. Trowbridge, $5; J. T. Downing; Jo. J. W. Biggier, $10; T. D. Fay, $10; R. S. Priggle, $25; W. Sargent Hamilton, $5; Deford Smith, $5; Lodowick J. Hill, Jr., $5; Arthur Neal Robinson, $5.

THANKSGIVING PARTY AT SECOND BAPTIST

Colonel and Mrs. Fred J. Paxon, in the role of "Mr. and Mrs. Peter Pumpkin Eater," delighted a large number of their friends at the Second Baptist church last night as hosts at a Thanksgiving party for the members of the Women's Business league, of which Mrs. Paxon is president, and the Sunday school class of young ladies, of which Mr. Paxon is teacher.

The party proved an evening of social pleasures and ended with a number of liberal subscriptions for the Baptist 75 million campaign.

A number of the officials of the campaign in the Second church were present. Louie D. Newton, director of publicity for the state of Georgia, was also present. Dr. Henry Alford Porter, pastor of the church, spoke, among others, of the fine work which the members of the congregation are doing to make the drive a victory.

BIBLE CONFERENCES HELD THIS WEEK

The first of a series of Bible conferences, to be conducted by Dr. George E. Guille, of the extension department of Moody Bible institute, was held Tuesday night at the North Avenue Presbyterian church.

Similar conferences will be conducted by Dr. Guille twice daily, excepting Thanksgiving afternoon, at 3 o'clock and 7:30 o'clock, until next Sunday evening.

Dr. Guille is a Bible student of wide repute, and was formerly pastor of the Greene Street Presbyterian church, of Augusta.

Women Made Young

Bright eyes, a clear skin and a body full of youth and health may be yours if you will keep your system in order by taking

GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES

The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and uric acid troubles, the enemies of life and looks. In use since 1696. All druggists, three sizes.

Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation

Changes Mind About Going Away

"Five years ago doctors told me I would have to move my wife to another climate, as she suffered so with stomach and liver trouble and bloating. Also, that she would have to have an operation for gall stones. Our mail carrier told me of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and, on his advice, she has taken it and is now as well as ever in her life." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—(adv.)

Oscar Hilburn Appointed.

(By Constitution Leased Wire.)

Washington, November 25.—Oscar P. Hilburn, of Tampa, Fla., was today appointed federal prohibition director for the state of Florida. He is a lawyer, and, on August 1, 1919, was appointed judge of the juvenile court of Hillsborough county, Florida, which positions he resigns to accept that of prohibition director. He is a graduate of Southern college and Vanderbilt university.

Hilburn entered the military service as a first lieutenant August 25, 1917, and served overseas with the 124th infantry from April 7, 1918, to February 17, 1919.

Varnishes.

Cooledge Paint & Glass Co.
12 North Forsyth St.
"On the Bridge"

BAILEY, BANKS & BIDDLE CO

Jewelers
Silversmiths
Stationers

Important Notice

The GIFT BOOK

now ready for mailing

which illustrates and prices the newest productions and importations of this House - including Jewelry - Silver - Glass - China - Watches - Clocks - etc. Christmas Gifts of the better kind, many moderately priced.

The Gift Book will be mailed upon request.

BAILEY, BANKS & BIDDLE CO.
Philadelphia

The Dealer And the Truck

Your satisfaction with your motor truck equipment depends to a large extent upon the caliber of the dealer you buy it of and the kind of co-operation you secure from him.

GMC dealers are of the first rank and are selected for their ability to render high quality of service to their customers.

The GMC dealer is not only able to helpfully advise you in the handling of your haulage work and to furnish you with trucks of proper design and suitable capacity, but is also able to give you prompt and efficient service and to help you secure even more profitable results from your GMC equipment.

GMC TRUCKS

There's a Size To Fit Your Business

Southern Oakland Co.
Ivy. 1921
270 Peachtree St.

Final Reductions

—On—

Ready-Made Suits and Overcoats

We vacate Saturday Night. A few Suits and Overcoats left in all sizes, at PRICES YOU CAN'T RESIST.

Only Four More Days

My tailoring business will be continued at 142 1-2 Peachtree. Orders accepted now. Immediate delivery.

Jack Hayes

Corner Peachtree and Auburn

$51,366,297 Judgement.

St. Louis, November 25.—The United States court of appeals has affirmed a judgment of $51,366,297 against the Wabash Railroad company in favor of the Equitable Trust company of New York.

Tired, Weak, Dizzy Women with Headache, Pains---here and there---

Should find relief from their sufferings by taking the woman's temperance tonic and Nervine, which has helped so many women—some of them right in your neighborhood.

When the household cares and the worries of everyday life have dragged you down, made you unhappy and there is nothing in life but headache, backache and worry, turn to the right prescription, one gotten up by Doctor Pierce fifty years ago, which has helped many thousands of women of this country. It is called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and can be had in every drug store in the land, in tablet or liquid form.

A woman suffering from nervous prostration, excitability, or dizziness, derangement, or displacement of the special organs will find health regained after using Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

For women who are run-down and over-worked; at the critical periods in a woman's life, from girlhood to womanhood, and later, this is especially adapted to her needs, for it strengthens and regulates. Write the specialists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for free, confidential medical advice. Send ten cents for trial package of "Favorite Prescription tablets."

The System is something like a clock—it needs oil occasionally. Every one should take castor oil, or something better, like Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, made of May-apple, aloe, jalap—sugar coated. They regulate, cleanse and oil the human "clock work." Send Dr. Pierce ten cents for trial size. All druggists sell them in 25 cent vials.—(adv.)

WAR IS BREWING ALONG ADRIATIC

Only Interference by the Allies Can Prevent Clash Between the Italians and Jugo-Slavs.

Geneva, November 25.—Telegrams received by the Serbian bureau at Berne from Belgrade, Zara and Spalato, convey the impression that only prompt interference by the allies can prevent war over the Adriatic situation, as the Jugo-Slavs are said to have lost patience and to be ready to fight the Italians.

"We are astonished that the peace conference permits our people to endure constant Italian persecutions," says one Belgrade paper, received here. "Our peaceful attitude is praiseworthy when we might throw d'Annunzio and his filibusters into the sea."

Another newspaper accused Italy of desiring to blockade Jugo-Slavia's exports and imports, and thus "strangle her."

Paris, November 25.—Dispatches confirming reports from Geneva that the situation along the eastern shore of the Adriatic is critical, are issued by the Jugo-Slav bureau here. The bureau says the Jugo-Slav government has asked its ministers at Paris, London and Washington to draw the attention of those governments to the dangerous situation arising from d'Annunzio's raids and those he is reported about to make.

Belgrade, November 25.—A semi-official communication says that a significant movement has been noted among the Italians in the northern occupied zone. An Italian legion has been formed at Sebenico. It is composed of newly arrived troops equipped with ammunition and other supplies by the Italian army.

NO NEW INSTRUCTIONS BY THE UNITED STATES.

Washington, November 25.—No new instructions have been sent to Rear Admiral Andrews at Spalato regarding the attitude he is to take in the event of an effort by the d'Annunzio forces to expand their control over Dalmatian territory, Secretary Daneils said today.

Under-Secretary Frank L. Polk, of the state department, head of the American peace delegation at Paris, conferred yesterday in London with Rear Admiral Knapp, commanding all American naval forces in European waters, regarding the situation on the eastern shore of the Adriatic, where Admiral Andrews commands the American ships assigned to the patrol of a part of the Dalmatian coast under an agreement reached in Paris.

Reports that d'Annunzio contemplates a raid on Spalato, the American naval base, led to the London conference, but Mr. Daniels indicated the official on the spot had not recommended any action in anticipation of such a raid.

It was recalled that recently when Italian irregulars raided a port in the unoccupied zone established between Fiume and the Serbian lines, American bluejackets were landed and succeeded in preventing a serious clash between the Italians and the Serbians. That operation, however, was said at the time to have been at the request of the commander of the Italian naval forces patrolling a part of the coast adjacent to that guarded by the Americans.

Admiral Andrews has a fleet of twelve craft with a total personnel of 1,480 officers and men. His flagship is the second class cruiser Galveston and in the fleet are the gunboat Sacramento, eight destroyers and two submarine chasers.

Rome, Monday, November 24.—Peter A. Jay, American charge d'affaires, had a long interview with Premier Nitti today. Neither the premier nor the American embassy would make any statement relative to the subjects discussed, but it was indicated Mr. Jay received a favorable impression from the outline Premier Nitti gave of the Italian situation. After his talk with Mr. Jay, the premier had an ohur's audience with King Victor Emmanuel.

The election has proved to be a safety valve for discontent and political excitement and it now appears obvious that the faction urging an upheaval is an insignificant minority of the nation. Socialists who at first were so overcome with joy over their victory that they were uncertain what to do in order to utilize in the best way their numerical strength in the new chamber are listening to the advice of older and more moderate members of their party. It seems these older statesmen will succeed in serious trouble may occur. moderating the situation so that no

Organizer Blamed For Builders' Strike Now On at Savannah

Savannah, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—The "silk shirt" element of the union men is blamed by contractors and builders in Savannah for the strike of Savannah carpenters, which is entering its third day tomorrow, with more than 1,000 men out and more than $2,000,000 worth of construction tied up. Building operations are practically at a standstill. Apartment houses, hotels, business blocks and scores of residences are being erected, but little was done today save by brick masons, and in some cases painters and plasterers.

Contractors claim that the movement for the strike started with the arrival of a supposed organizer named "Urbanowitz," who worked for a day or two on each of a score of the jobs where many men are engaged. Carpenters demand a 20 per cent increase in wages and 90 cents minimum per hour. Contractors, who claim the wage here is higher than in most other cities, have mutually pledged to stick together in opposing the demands.

EGYPTIAN LEADERS PUT UNDER ARREST

Cairo, November 25.—Mahmoud Pasha Suliman, president of the Cairo nationalists, and Ibrapim Pasha, vice president of the same organization, have been placed under arrest for refusing to leave the city on order of Field Marshal Allenby, the British commander-in-chief.

Field Marshal Allenby recently "requested" four prominent Egyptians in the nationalist movement to withdraw from Cairo, and all of them decided to ignore the request.

Gainesville Sale.

Gainesville, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—J. C. Harrington, of Glade district, has bought from the heirs of the late Aaron Whelchel the storeroom on the south side of square now occupied by Barron's restaurant. The purchase price was $19,000. Before the late war this building, a one-story brick structure, on a lot 25 by 105, was rated at about $7,000.

Business Expands.

Gainesville, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—The Palmour Hardware company, of this city, has bought the new Shore warehouse from P. J. and R. F. Shore, paying $12,000 for same. It is located on West Broad street and the Palmours will use the building for storage of hardware.

New Savannah Pastor.

Savannah, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—Rev. J. Randall Farriss, pastor of the Christian church at Union City, Tenn., has formally accepted the call to the pastorate of the First Christian church, Savannah. He preached to that congregation Sunday and succeeds Rev. Dr. A. R. Moore, who went to Atlanta to be district superintendent of missions for the Christian churches in the southern group.

11 HENS IDLE; NOW LAY 221 EGGS A MONTH

Mrs. Young Almost Gave Up Raising Chickens. Then She Tried This Plan.

"When I accepted your offer and tried Don Sung, I had been getting 1 or 2 eggs every other day. The next month, using 50 cents worth of Don Sung, my 11 hens laid 221 eggs. I almost gave up raising chickens, but now I have decided to raise as many as 1 can."—Mrs. F. C. Young, Bellefonte, Pa.

Feed is too expensive to waste on idle hens. You can easily start your hens laying and keep them laying, even in coldest winter. To prove it, all you need do is accept our offer, as Mrs. Young did.

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) works directly on the egg-laying organs, and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her stronger and more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 50 cents for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 293 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.—(adv.)

GRAVE FEARS FELT FOR RUSS LEADER

Collapse of Kolchak's Army Leads Washington Officials to Believe His Situation Is Extremely Precarious.

(The Constitution—Philadelphia Public Ledger Service—Copyright, 1919.)

Washington, November 25.—Grave apprehension is felt here, in Russia and other official circles, concerning the future of the Kolchak government, which has been compelled by the bolshevik armies to retire to the outskirts of eastern Siberia, losing not only contact with European Russia, which that government maintained while its seat was at Omsk, but yielding up control also of western Siberia with the removal of the capital to Irkutsk, on the western shore of Lake Baikal.

Kolchak's situation is considered to be more precarious now than it has been at any moment since he took on the title of supreme ruler. The collapse of his army before the bolshevists justified, it is held, the extreme reserve with which Ambassador Morris, sent to Omsk by the state department, reported on Kolchak's military prospects.

May Lose Power.

It is now considered possible that Kolchak will directly find himself only nominally a dictator, and, according to the best-advised authorities here, his own downfall, which would involve also that of his government, is likely to be decided by thet attitude of the eastern Siberian municipalities, zemstvos, co-operative associations and semi-independent chieftains, such as the Buriat hetman Semenoff, who heretofore has given only nominal allegiance to Kolchak, while controlling the territories, in a large measure, beteen Irkutsk and the Manchurian frontier, with headquarters at Chita.

Whether Kolchak can maintain the semblance of a government is declared to depend upon the existing local organizations throughout eastern Siberia. If either the petty military leaders, or the zemstvos, municipalities and co-operative societies, should decide against him, it is said he would be obliged to abandon any attempt to restore the situation.

Semenoff Suspected.

Some of the concern felt relates to such chieftains as Semenoff, who has been suspected of being ambitious to set up a principality for himself, comprising, roughly, a great part of trans-Baikalia and Outer Mongolia.

Semenoff, who was one of the the original leaders against bolshevism in Siberia, for a considerable time refused to acknowledge the supremacy of Kolchak, and conduted his operations independently. When the question of American and Japanese co-peration with the Omsk government arose practically, however, he gave in his allegiance, but continued to direct his activities without either warrant or sanction, and constantly interfered with the transit between Vladivostok and Omsk.

There is question whether Japan would encourage the secession of trans-Baikalia and the maritime province from Russia, but in some quarters he prediction has been made that Japan, emulating Great Britain in other parts of Russia, and especially in trans-Caucasia and the Baltic, will encourage the separatist movement and give aid to the enterpise, if within a reasonable itme Russian authority is not re-established in the Far East Siberia.

Shortage of Food Supplies.

All of the Russian army which remains capable of fighting has passed under the command of the Esthonian general, Toenisson, commanding at Narva. The Russian staff practically ceased functioning when the army crossed the frontier. These troops are being disarmed while other bands are wandering in various places. The greatest difficulty is in obtaining food and supplies, especially for refugees who are dying of cold and starvation.

The busts are heavily attacking on the Narva front, and the situation is perilous.

Your correspondent's information that Maxim Litvinoff not only intends officially to discuss an exchange of prisoners at Copenhagen, but to offer terms to the allies, but the busts are ready to offer large concessions and anything but the essential condition of allowing the summons of a free constituent assembly, which they know would sweep them away.

Litvinoff Arrives.

Advices from Copenhagen are that Maxim Litvinoff has arrived there on the British hospital ship Princess Margaret, but no information is forthcoming as to whether he will leave the vessel, as demonstrations on the part of Russian refugees are feared.' A representative of the Swedish socialists arrived at Elsinore and wanted to go to Copenhagen to see Litvinoff and James O'Grady, M. P., the British emissary, concerning repatriation of Swedes from Russia and of Russians from Sweden. He explained that he had discussed the matter with the Swedish foreign office and was also in touch with British quakers. He was not, however, permitted to proceed, and then returned to Malmo, whence he dispatched a telegram to the Danish socialist Stauning, protesting against his treatment.

There is reason to believe that representatives of other countries are anxious to get in contact with Litvinoff respecting the position of the compatriots in Russia, but it is stated that the Danish government's view is that Litvinoff is the only person permitted to enter Denmark to negotiate with O'Grady.

STRIKING PRINTERS RETURN IN NEW YORK

New York, November 25.—Striking compositors were still returning from their "vacations" this morning, the rush for jobs being greater than ever when it was learned that many supposed vacancies did not exist owing to the large amount of work that has been sent out of the city.

This fact was expected to have its effect also on the vote to be taken today for the pressmen and feeders, still out, on reaffiliating with their international union and arbitrating their differences with the printers' league.

Several hundred "vacationists" met yesterday and appointed a committee to draw up a history of the two months' strike and to "place the blame where it belongs."

PAYMENT OF POLL TAX BY TENNESSEE WOMEN

Nashville, Tenn., November 25.—In an opinion given Governor Roberts today, Attorney General Frank M. Thompson sees no necessity for a legislative extra session to make provision for the payment of poll tax by women. He stated the supreme court had held that it was not necessary for women voters for presidential electors to display poll tax receipts.

ALEXANDER BERKMAN WILL BE DEPORTED

Washington, November 25.—The immigration bureau's recommendation that Alexander Berkman, by his own admission an anarchist, be deported was approved tonight by the department of labor.

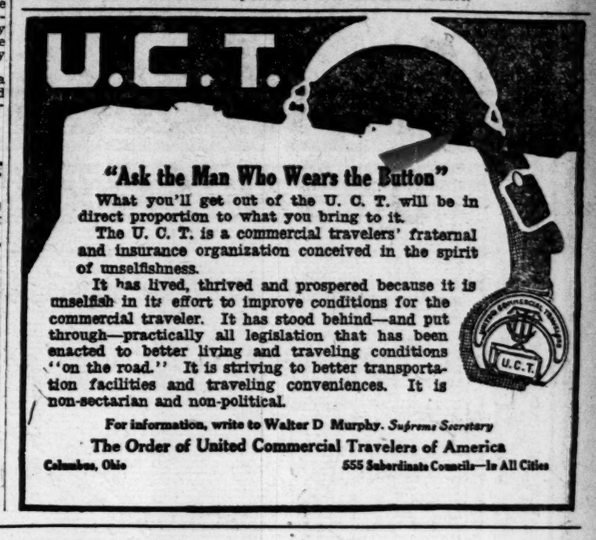

The record in the case of Emma Goldman, it was stated, has reached the bureau and is proceeding rapidly to a decision.

WOMAN WILL CONDUCT NEGRO REVIVAL HERE

The colored people of Atlanta and the adjacent territory are looking forward to the coming of Lena Mason, a noted negro evangelist, who will conduct a four weeks' religious campaign in Atlanta beginning December 16. She has held large revival meetings in New York, Chicago, Boston, San Francisco and other important cities of the United States, and it is stated that more than a half million people have been converted by her sermons. White citizens will be given an opportunity of hearing this noted woman preacher, and special accommodations will be arranged for them.

She comes under the auspices of the Holmes institute of Atlanta, of which Rev. B. R. Holmes is founder and president.

The revival will open in Big Bethel African Methodist Episcopal church, the largest colored church in the south, Rev. R. H. Singleton, pastor. One of the principal features of the meeting will be a religious and educational mass meeting on the third Sunday at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Speeches will be made by leading white and colored citizens. A chorus of more than five hundred members selected from colored churches of the city will furnish music.

"Ask the Man Who Wears the Button"

What you'll get out of the U. C. T. will be in direct proportion to what you bring to it.

The U. C. T. is a commercial travelers' fraternal and insurance organization conceived in the spirit of unselfishness.

It has lived, thrived and prospered because it is unselfish in its effort to improve conditions for the commercial traveler. It has stood behind—and put through—practically all legislation that has been enacted to better living and traveling conditions "on the road." It is striving to better transportation facilities and traveling conveniences. It is non-sectarian and non-political.

For information, write to Walter D Murphy. Supreme Secretary

The Order of United Commercial Travelers of America

Columbus, Ohio — 555 Subordinate Councils—In All Cities

EXCLUSIVE AGENTS
STEIN-BLOCH SMART CLOTHES
CLAPP CUSTOM SHOES
KNOX HATS

Thanksgiving Togs For Men

Whether you entertain or be entertained. Whether you attend the Football Game or play Golf. Whether you go Hunting or take a long Motor Ride. Whether you spend your evening at the Club or go to the Concert, we'll outfit you properly for the occasion.

Handsome Overcoats—$40 to $100; Beautiful Custom Suits—$35 to $80; Knox Fine Hats—$10; Clapp and other Smart Shoes up to—$16.50

Silk Shirts—$10 to $18; Attractive Neckwear—$1 to $7.

Golf Suits—Hunting Clothes—Raincoats.

Evening Clothes

We Close At Noon Tomorrow

Formal Accessories

Parks-Chambers-Hardwick Company
37-39 Peachtree — Ivy—7400, 7401-7402

Today—KING'S—Today

THANKSGIVING SPECIALS EVERYTHING

Needed to prepare and serve the Thanksgiving Dinner will be found in the big stocks of our many stores. Every article carries the lowest possible price—many below real value.

Special Prices on Turkey Roasters

$1.50 14-Inch Round Black Roasters With Enameled Pan— 69c

ALUMINUM ROASTERS
With One-Piece Pans
$7.00

$2.50 Round Gray Enameled Roasters— $1.69

ROASTERS OF EVERY KIND
Small Sizes and Shapes
Specially Priced

Carving Sets

$3.50
2-Piece Sets
$2.50
Other Sets $4.00 to $35.00

Every set an exceptional value.

You'll need one of these fine sets to carve the bird properly.

Casseroles

$3.50
Values
$1.98

Nickel plated frame. Guernsey insert.

Others $4 to $10

Nickel and silver plated frames—with Vitrus China and Pyrex glass inserts.

Every home should have one of these beautiful Casseroles. Be sure and see them.

Silverware for Thanksgiving

Silverware at 33⅓% Discount

$6.00 Silver Tea Pots	$4.00	$15.00 Silver Tea Pots	$10.00
6.00 Silver Tea Pots	4.00	12.00 Silver Tea Pots	8.00
6.00 Silver Sugar Holder	4.00	12.00 Silver Tea Pots	8.00
5.00 Silver Spoon Holder	3.34	8.50 Silver Tea Pots	5.67

Beautiful Community Plate

FLAT SILVER

Tea Spoons, 6 in Box.....$4.00
Table Spoons, 6 in Box....$8.00
H. H. Knives, 6 in Box....$12.00
F. H. Forks, 6 in Box.....$8.00
Sugar Shells, 1 in Box....$1.25
Butter Knives, 1 in Box...$1.25

MISCELLANEOUS

Orange Spoons, 6 in Box..$5.50
Salad Forks, 6 in Box.....$7.00
Pie or Cake Forks, 6 in Box $8.50
Fruit Knives, 6 in Box....$11.00
Butter Spreads, 6 in Box..$11.50
Iced Tea Spoons, 6 in Box.$6.00

Pyrex Transparent Oven Dishes

Every Practical Shape and Size for Baking

Never Discolors, Rusts Crazes, Dents or Chips

Oblong Bread Pan — 10 Inches Long, 5 Inches Wide $1.75

Casserole — 1 Quart Size $1.50

Pie Plate — 8-Inch Size 75c

SEE THE WONDERFUL 12-PIECE PYREX SETS AT $6.00

KING HARDWARE CO.

53 PEACHTREE — 87 WHITEHALL

That Film on Teeth

See How They Look Without It

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

Free

A Ten-Day Tube of Pepsodent is sent to any interested person. Send the coupon for it. See for yourself what it does.

Watch Them Whiten

As the film disappears. You will know then what clean teeth mean.

Your teeth are not clean. You can feel a slimy film. Probably the film has dimmed them—some tartar may have formed.

Your present methods of brushing do not end film, and that is the teeth's great enemy. Now we ask you to try a new method—try it at our cost—and compare results.

Film Can Be Ended Now

Most tooth troubles are due to that film.

It is film that discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

The film clings to the teeth, enters crevices and stays. Brushing does not end it. No ordinary tooth paste can dissolve it. Night and day it may do a ceaseless damage. And millions find, as a result, that ordinary brushing does not save the teeth.

Now dental science, after many years, has found a film combatant. The facts have been proved by convincing clinical and laboratory tests. The method is today approved by leading dentists everywhere.

For home use this method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. And we are mailing 10-Day Tubes to all who ask, to let everyone see its effects.

The Pepsin Method

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to day by day combat it.

Science has found a harmless method of activating pepsin. The usual method is an acid harmful to the teeth. So pepsin long seemed barred.

Now pepsin can be constantly applied—can be left to linger between the teeth. Now you can every day combat this film in a simple, dainty way.

Millions of teeth are being cleaned in this new way. You can see them everywhere—white, glistening teeth.

Send this coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how the teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears.

Learn what clean teeth mean—see how they look. Then decide for yourself between the old methods and the new. Cut out the coupon now.

PAT. OFF
Pepsodent
REG U S

The New-Day Dentifrice

A scientific film combatant, based on pepsin, now advised by leading dentists everywhere.

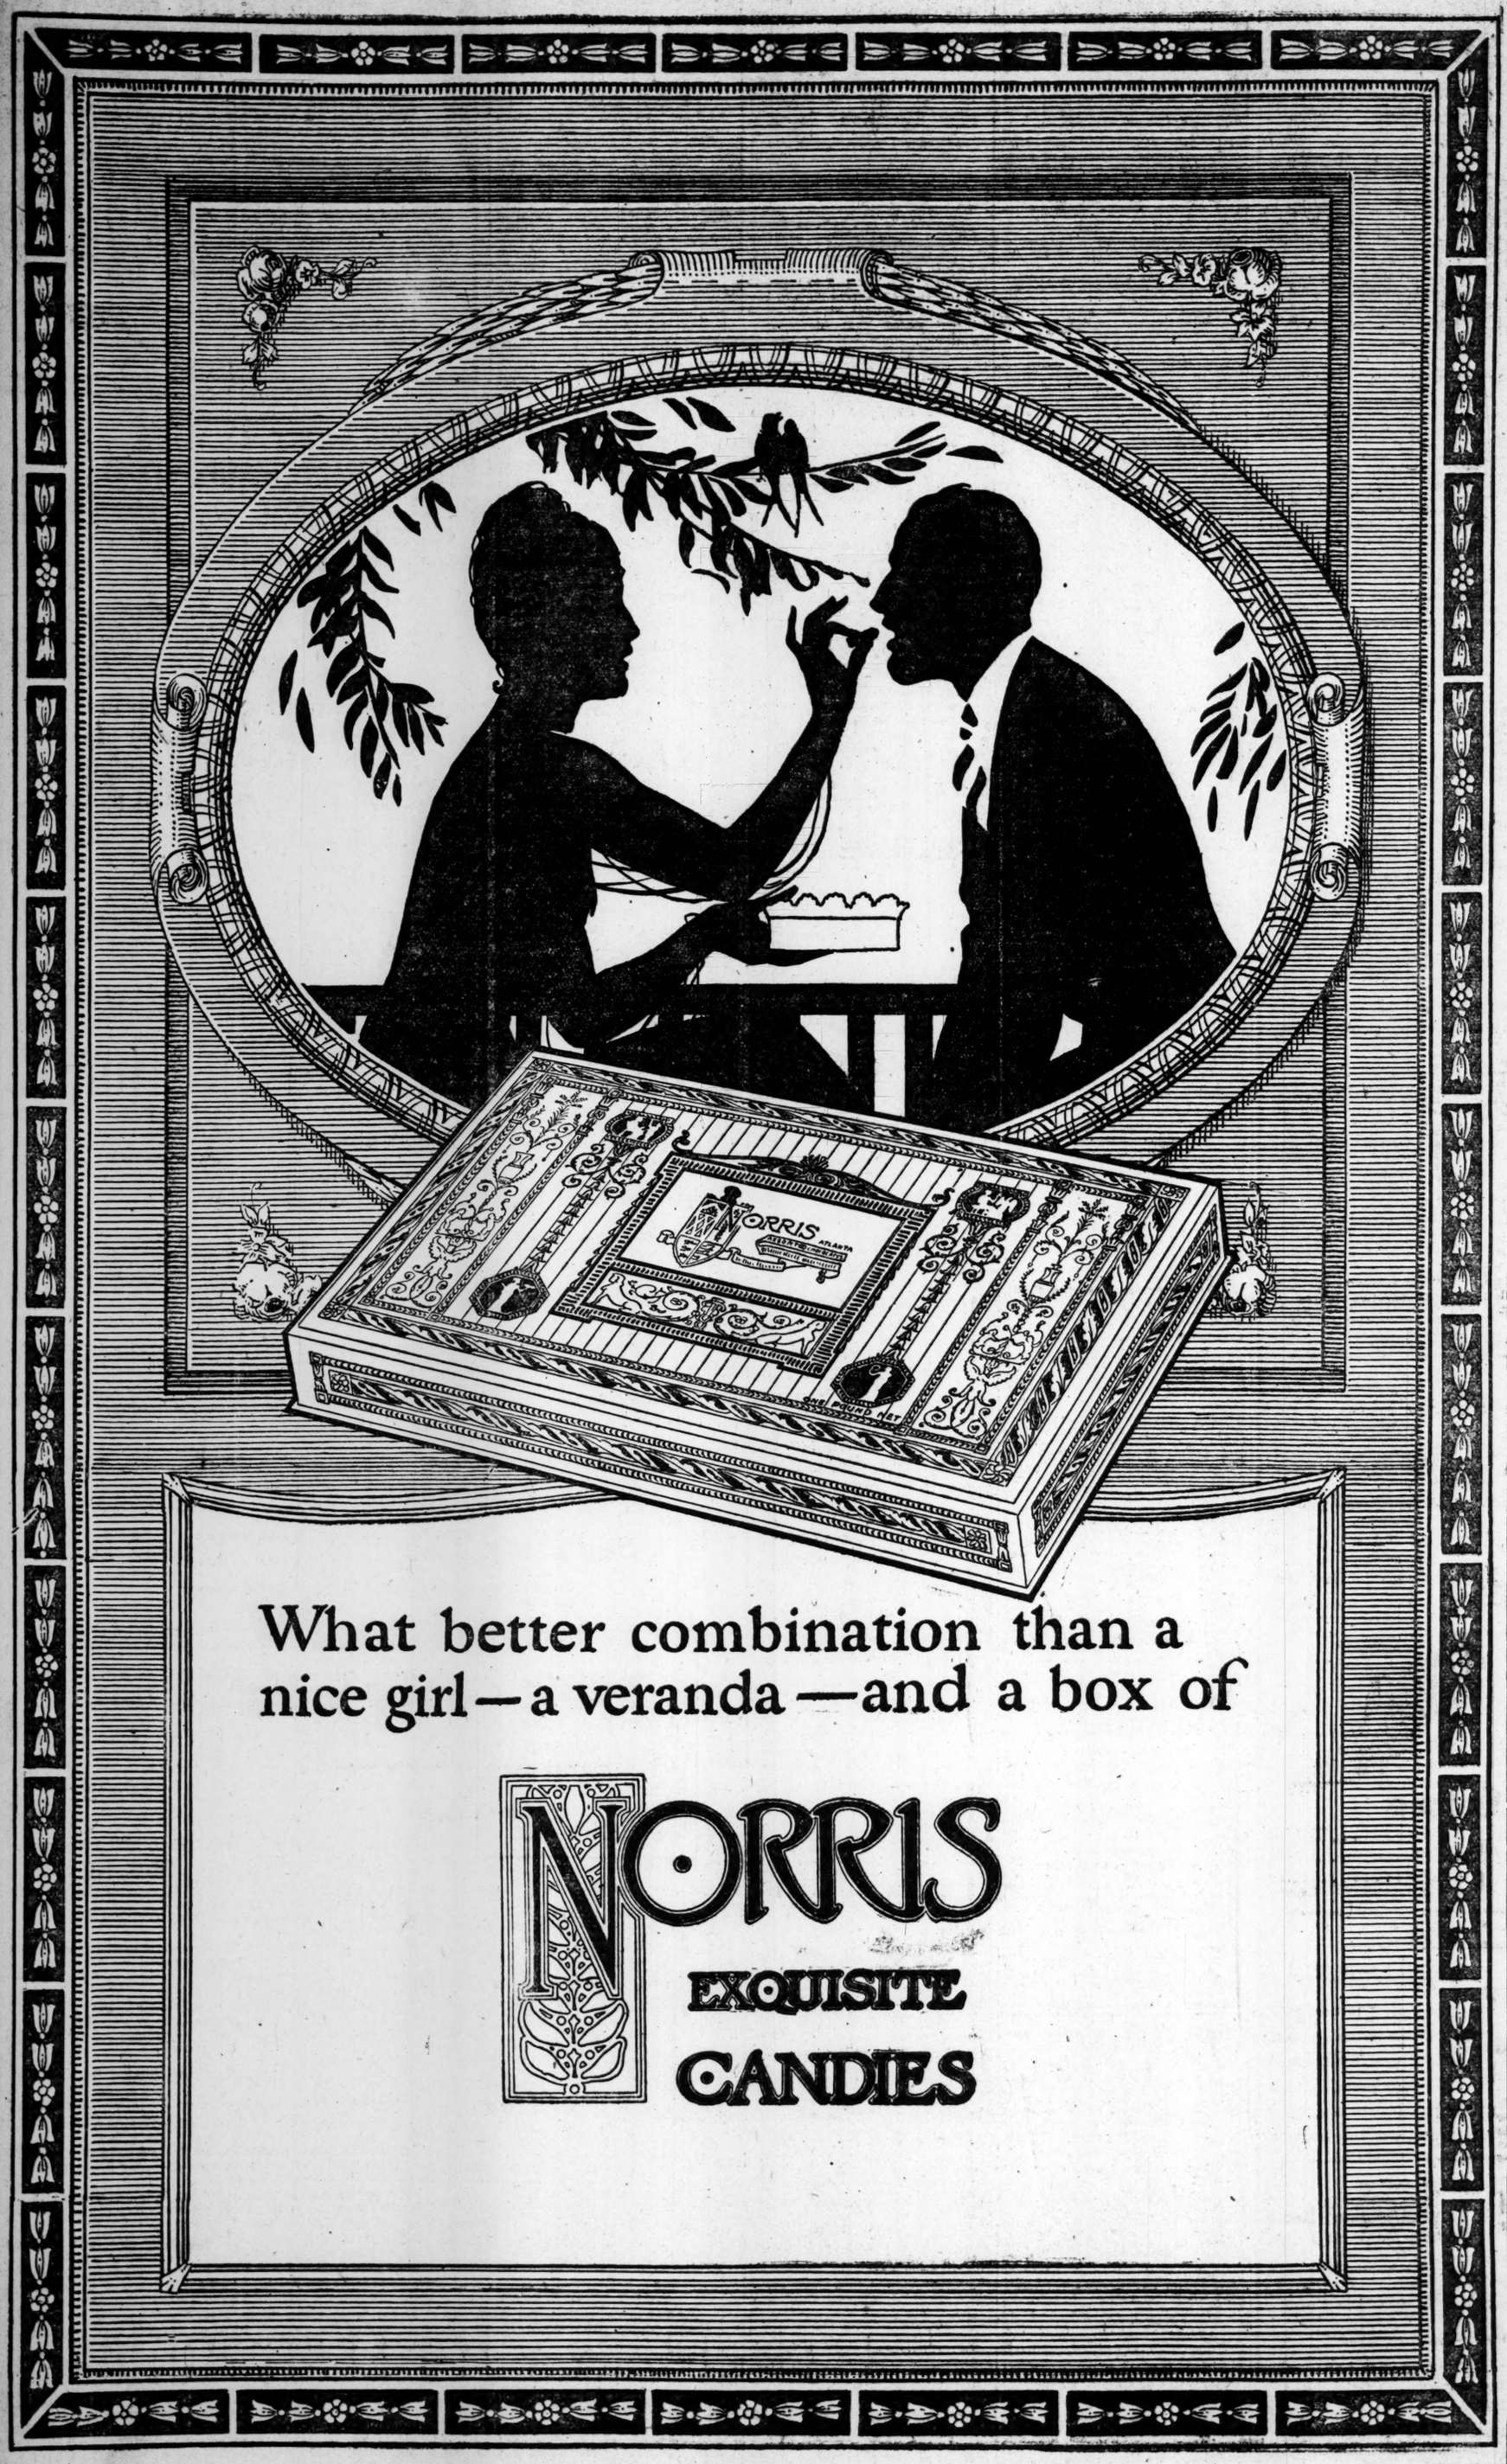

283

Ten-Day Tube Free

THE PEPSODENT CO.,
Dept. L-111. 1104 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.
Mail Ten-Day Tube of Pepsodent to

_____

_____

What better combination than a nice girl—a veranda—and a box of

NORRIS

EXQUISITE

CANDIES

YAARAB SHRINERS IN ATHENS TODAY

Big Ceremonial to Be Staged in Classic City. Preparations Complete for Record-Breaking Pilgrimage.

Shriners going to Athens today to attend the big ceremonial of Yaarab temple are requested to bear in mind two facts:

First—That the special train will leave at 10 o'clock, and not at 12, as announced sometime ago.

Second—That it will leave from the Terminal station, which is now being used by the Seaboard Air Line railroad, instead of the Union station.

Recently some Shriners having occasion to go to Athens went to the Union station to catch their Seaboard train. They had not made the trip since the Seaboard switched to the Terminal station. They were left and missed the trip. Colonel George M. Napier, potentate of Yaarab temple, is anxious that no Shriner make this mistake today.

Big Preparations.

Athens Shriners are making preparations to entertain the visiting nobility with a lavish display of the hospitality for which that city and Clarke county are famous. In the classic language of James D. Price:

"We are going to feed 'em turkey until their eyes pop out of their heads." This tells the story in a few words, so far as the eats are concerned.

Colonel Napier and the other Atlanta members of Yaarab, as well as members living adjacent to Atlanta, will go to Athens on the special train, leaving at 10 o'clock (as above stated) and will arrive in Athens at 1:30 eastern time. They will be joined on the way by a number of Shriners. Many ladies will be in the party. It will be one of the largest pilgrimages ever made by Yaarab.

Program of Day.

In the party will be the famous "million dollar" band of the temple, the celebrated chanters, the gorgeous patrol, the dashing cavalry brigade, known as the "light horse brigade;" the Yaarab degree team and scores of the nobility, as well as a very large cargo of camel's milk and the various paraphernalia of a ceremonial.

On arriving in Athens the Shriners will give a parade through the streets, then to the University of Georgia campus for a military drill and band concert, then to the auditorium to take the large class of novices on the journey across the burning sands, after which the Athens Shrine club will serve a dinner, for which all of the turkeys in Clarke and adjoining counties have been commandeered.

Judge Doubts Story Of "Poker for Fun" To Wee Sma' Hours

A quartette of poker players, participators in a game that lasted until the wee sma' hours Monday morning, were hailed before Judge Johnston at police court Tuesday morning.

The spokesman for the quartette pleaded to the judge that they were just playing for fun and that poker chips were added to make the game more interesting.

After giving the case deep thought Judge Johnston stated: "Men don't sit up until the wee sma' hours of morn' playing poker for fun, and the presence of poker chips represented real money."

The quartette—Edward Brown, 29 Lorraine apartments; W. W. Willis, 308 Myrtle street; S. L. Pooman, Lorraine apartments, and F. H. Lee, Lorraine apartments—were bound over to the city court under a $50 bond each. All made bond.

A cigar box full of poker chips and a deck of cards constituted the evidence furnished by Policeman Chaffin.

THIRTY-ONE VERDICTS IN DIVORCE COURT

The second day of "dvorce week" in the Fulton superior court proved as successful as Monday in the granting of verdicts. Thirty-one verdicts were given Tuesday by a jury before Judge John B. Hutcheson, of the Stone Mountain circuit, who is presiding for Judge W. D. Ellis, who is in North Carolina.

Every known domestic woe was related to the court. Mrs. C. E. R. Seward, who was awarded a first verdict, claimed that her husband, Charles M. Seward, a lieutenant in the army, whom she married here in January, had threatened to commit suicide in such a manner as to throw suspicion on her and cause her to be accused of the murder.

J. M. Solomon was granted a verdict from Mrs. Anna Marie Solomon, a German nurse, with whom he fell in love while she was nursing him in Atlanta, and who returned to Germany after they separated. He stated that his bride threatened to put poison in his coffee.

DRY ENFORCEMENT JOURNEY BY GANTT

D. J. Gantt, supervisory federal prohibition officer, in charge of the enforcement of the bone dry law in five states, left Atlanta Sunday night on a trip through the states under his jurisdiction.

The trip is being made by Mr. Gantt for the purpose of organizing his forces for the strict enforcement of the federal dry law in Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

The itinerary of Mr. Gantt will include Birmingham, Ala.; Jackson, Miss., thence to New Orleans, and points in Florida.

It is expected that the trip will take the greater part of the week, and that Mr. Gantt will not return to Atlanta before Sunday.

SACRED SONG CYCLE SUNDAY AT ALL SAINTS

On next Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, Mrs. Gertrude Holmgren Peterson, the contralto soloist in All Saints' choir, will sing "Mary," a sacred song cycle, by Paul Bliss.

Mrs. Peterson's beautiful voice has been a welcome addition to musical Atlanta, and it is regretted that she will soon return to New York. Her husband, who was a prominent amateur before the war, has been stationed at Camp Gordon as the director of the Liberty theater orchestra.

Seats in All Saints' church are free at all sacred recitals.

$50,000 BOND ASKED FOR CHAS. LIPSCHITZ

Savannah, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—Fifty thousand dollars was today named as the bond for Charles Lipschitz, alleged thief of $75,000 worth of jewelry by a clever method of exchanging a trunk for a jewelry drummer's sample case here some weeks ago. He was apprehended on the Pacific coast and brought here for trial. In temporary absence of Judge Meldrim, the solicitor general named this bond figure.

Held on Liquor Charges.

Two negroes, Henry Hearn and Fletcher Wright, of Heard county, were bound over to the federal grand jury Monday by United States Commissioner Carter on the charge of distilling whisky. They will face the grand jury at Columbus, Ga.

Stomach ills

permanently disappear after drinking the celebrated Shivar Mineral Water. Positively guaranteed by money-back offer. Tastes fine; costs a trifle. Delivered anywhere by our Atlanta Agents, Coursey & Munn Drugstore, Marietta and Broad Sts. Phone them.—(adv.)

EXCESSIVE ACIDITY

is at the bottom of most digestive ills.

KI-MOIDS

FOR INDIGESTION

afford pleasing and prompt relief from the distress of acid-dyspepsia.

MADE BY SCOTT & BOWNE MAKERS OF SCOTT'S EMULSION

19-8

GRAVE DANGER IN SUDDEN ATTACKS

So long as we can see our enemies we can prepare a counter attack and stand a fair chance to ward off their evil intentions. When terror walks at night and strikes a stealthy blow, its victim is an easy prey and has no defense. The only real measure of preparedness is to be ready for the danger at all times.

The thousands upon thousands of people who suffer day after day with disorders of the blood, stomach, liver and kidneys are fighting against an unseen enemy who may strike at any moment, without warning, and human life must be the forfeit. These disorders are but the beginning of serious illness and if neglected will lead to fatal results.

If you are suffering from indigestion, rundown condition, constipation, billiousness, impure blood, liver or kidney trouble, you may become an early victim.

According to the testimony of thousands who have taken El Vigor, it has no equal in the treatment of these disorders. Prepare yourself to resist the attack of disease by taking El Vigor.

El Vigor is sold in Atlanta by Charles A. Smith Drug company, Inman Park Pharmacy, McGahee's Pharmacy, Hammack Drug company, Timothy & Buchanan, Brown Drug company, Merritt's Drug Store, Irvin & Hill, Medlock's Pharmacy, Franklin Drug company, Marshall's Pharmacies and by leading druggists everywhere.—(adv.)

Refinement

FOR you people who require a more dressy spectacle and for you folks who want a specially designed eyeglass at no greater cost,

CONSULT

J. C. DUGGAN

Dependable Optometrist & Optician

53 W. Mitchell St.

A Source of Strength

Science reveals that cod-liver oil is a fruitful source of vitamins and that its use helps a child grow normally.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

made of the richest and purest Norwegian cod-liver oil, never fails in its mission to nourish and strengthen.

Let the children have a plenitude of Scott's.

Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J. 19-44b

ASPIRIN FOR COLDS

Name "Bayer" is on Genuine Aspirin—say Bayer

Insist on "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in a "Bayer package," containing proper directions for Colds, Pain, Headache, Neuralgia, Lumbago, and Rheumatism. Name "Bayer" means genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for nineteen years. Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost few cents. Aspirin is trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.—(adv.)

ARMISTICE!

Constipation, Headache, Colds, Biliousness, Surrender to "Cascarets"

Bring back peace! Enjoy life! Your system is filled with liver and bowel poison which keeps your skin sallow, your stomach upset, your head dull and aching. Your meals are turning into poison, gases and acids. You can not feel right. Don't stay bilious or constipated. Feel splendid always by taking Cascarets occasionally. They act without griping or inconvenience. They never sicken you like Calomel, Salts, Oil or nasty, harsh Pills. They cost so little too—Cascarets work while you sleep.—(adv.)

LOUIE, THE LAWYER : : : : : : : : : : : He's a Member of the Anti-Tipping League

CABINET LOCKED ON COAL STRIKE

Continued from First Page

made enormous profits during his incumbency came in for discussion at the cabinet meeting; it was learned, but no one would say what form the discussion took.

The Lever food control act was not mentioned at the meeting, it was said. Owing to the time consumed on other matters, it was not believed that the cabinet discussed methods of enforcing its decision in case the verdict should not be acceptable to workers or mine owners.

Director General Hines attended the session, but declined to say what took place.

Profits of Operators.

Before the meeting this morning, Attorney General Palmer said that if the figures as to operators' profits given yesterday by Mr. McAdoo were correct, it was not likely Dr. Garfield would permit an increased price for coal.

In a statement bearing on this issue, the operators said "that condition in 1917 were abnormal," but that as Mr. McAdoo was "ignorant" of conditions in 1918 and 1919, his message "carries no weight and requires no answer."

The operators said they welcomed an investigation of current tax returns, and that they had been urging a board of arbitration, or a tribunal of investigation, but that the miners refused to agree to it.

The scale committee held a perfunctory meeting today, at which Dr. Garfield's statement of principles was discussed. Pending word from the cabinet, adjournment was taken until tomorrow.

Neither operators nor miners were hopeful tonight of a settlement before next week. While the subscale committee plans to remain in session, adjourning from day to day, many operators have arranged to spend Thanksgiving day at their homes.

Malice Laid to McAdoo.

Charging that Secretary McAdoo had been "studiously malicious." George H. Cushing, managing director of the American Wholesale Coal association, in a statement tonight explained that the 2,000 per cent profit of which the former secretary complained was not figured on either volume of business or capital stock. This percentage, he said, was made in the case of abandoned mines worked on a co-operative basis, where the only capital consisted of tools and supplies.

In connection with Dr. Garfield's statement before the joint wage scale committees yesterday that the operators could not expect the profits allowed during the war, it was recalled tonight that Kembrandt Peale, operator, and John White, miner representative, coal experts of the fuel administration, in their final report to Dr. Garfield, concurred in a statement that it would have been possible for the operators to pay an increase in wages out of the established coal price without raising the price to the consumer.

Mr. Peale and Mr. White pointed out that operators generally had been paying bonuses and other forms of increased compensation above the established wage scale in order to get miners to turn out coal, to meet the big demand.

The operators of the central competitive field tonight announced that they were "in complete accord with the principles stated by Dr. Garfield as a fair and sound basis for a settlement of the present wage controversy."

Wilson's Figures Attacked

The comparative figures submitted by Secretary Wilson were characterized as "misrepresentative and misleading" in that he left out of consideration all machine miners and all day laborers. Machine miners now constitute 80 per cent of the miners employed in the central territory, according to the statement, and men not paid on a tonnage basis comprise 40 per cent of the total employees of the central field.

Dr. Garfield's statement that "the average total increase in pay over the 1913 base, which was the base considered in 1917, should not exceed the present average increase in the cost of living over the same base" was interpreted by the operators to mean that due weight should be given the day laborers as well as the men who mine the coal. On this basis "the present wage scale represents an average advance of 58 per cent over the scale in effect in 1913," the statement said. This average was computed from the 49 per cent increase to machine miners and the 76 per cent advance to other employees.

"The increase in the actual earnings of the men under this scale is of even greater interest than the increase in the wage scale," the statement set forth.

"Secretary Wilson's proposal means an average increase of 111.3 per cent, compared with an increase in the cost of living of only 77 per cent," the statement added. "The mere statement of these figures shows the unjustifiable character of the secretary's proposal."

McAdoo Demands Showdown.

New York, November 25.—A showdown on profits made by bituminous operators is needed for the American people to form a just opinion on the coal situation, William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury declared late today.

Mr. McAdoo's statement was made after he had been read an Associated Press despatch from Washington giving the substance of the open telegram addressed to him by the operators, criticising him for "injuring" himself into the wage controversy. Mr. McAdoo had not received the telegram itself.

"The question is whether or not the coal operators are making excessive profits" said his statement. "Their income tax returns filed under oath will give an understanding of the truth and the facts. If they are making excessive profits, as they were clearly making in 1917, then any increase of wages that may be made to the miners should not be passed on to the public in the form of increasing prices for bituminous coal. A showdown will enable the American people to form an opinion.

COAL OPERATORS ACCUSE M'ADOO OF BOLSHEVISM

Washington, November 25.—Investigation of the current tax returns of both the coal owners and miners was advocated today in an open telegram from operators to former Secretary McAdoo replying to his recent message saying the operators' income tax returns for 1917 indicated excessive profits.

Conditions in 1917 were "abnormal," the message said, but it asserted Mr. McAdoo was "ignorant of conditions in 1918 and 1919," adding that his message on present conditions "carries no weight and requires no answer."

The telegram said Mr. McAdoo's "misleading statements and insinuations are the kind of stuff which bolshevism breeds upon."

"Whatever your purpose," it adds, "it is in exceedingly bad taste for you, a former member of the cabinet of the present administration, to inject yourself into the present situation in a manner which can only embarrass and handicap those officers of the government who are now bending every effort to work out a solution of the mine wage controversy."

The telegram was signed "Bituminous Coal Operators, by T. T. Brewster, A. M. Ogle and T. W. Guthrie."

NATION IS FACING CRITICAL PERIOD REGARDING COAL

Washington, November 25.—With less than 40 per cent of the normal output of bituminous coal being produced, the nation is facing its most serious period since the strike of soft coal miners was ordered, according to reports received today by the railroad administration. In scores of cities the number of industries in operation is rapidly falling, while the nation's coal bin continues to diminish.

Officials hold out only a ray of hope for increased production. While last week's production showed an increase over the previous week and indications were for a production of about 50 per cent of normal this week, officials said they could not expect sufficient production to check the drain on the national supply until all differences between miners and operators are ironed out by the conference here.

Meanwhile temperatures in the northern half of the nation have dropped and the cry for coal for household purposes grows louder. So far, the supplies have been dealt out rather liberally to meet this demand, it was said, but further release of coal must be limited if the nation is not to face a tie-up of industry and transportation before a normal production is again reached.

Ranks of the soft coal miners, while showing some losses in men returning to work, generally still hold firm, reports showed. In some districts it was said men have gone back to their jobs in large numbers but in many mining areas the unions ties have continued to keep the mines closed.

Reviewing the coal supply the railroad administration reported that 22,000,000 tons were held under its distributing system on November 2, the second day of the walk-out. Since then, these stocks together with current production have been drawn on to supply fuel for the railroads, public utilities, essential industries and public welfare institutions as well as for household uses.

The railroad administration's central coal committee still is holding the thousands of cars of export coal assembled at Atlantic tidewater ports. Officials declared that, contrary to reports, conditions were normal at the ports where this reserve supply of coal is held and that no car congestion was being permitted.

Strike Menaces Liverpool.

Liverpool, November 25.—The dock workers predict a strike on December 8, unless non-union labor is eliminated.

Macon Federation Postpones Action On Its Withdrawal

Later Session to Decide If Indorsement of Suffrage Will Cause Macon Women to Bolt State Federation.

Macon, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—The Macon City Federation of Women's clubs, at its meeting today, decided to defer action on the question of withdrawal from the state federation because of the latter federation's endorsement of woman suffrage. The matter will come up at the next meeting in the early spring.

A heated discussion of the matter marked today's meeting, with Mrs. C. C. Harold, local suffrage worker, supporting the state federation's action. Mrs. Harold, declared that "whether or not the club women wish to admit they are in politics, the fact remains that they are in politics, and whether or not the city federation withdraws from the state federation is a matter of little importance to those who are working for good citizenship."

Mrs. Robert L. Berner said that while she opposes the Susan B. Anthony amendment, she does not favor the move to withdraw from the state federation. Mrs. Bruce Carr Jones, secretary of the state federation, who had sent her resignation to Mrs. J. E. Hays, state president, declared suffrage was outside the federation activities and the question could not legally be taken up one way or the other. Mrs. Charles Hilburn was elected president of the city federation for the ensuing year.

Italy's New Ambassador.

New York, November 25.—Baron Romano Avezzana, newly-appointed Italian ambassador to Washington, arrived here today from Southampton on the steamship Mauretania to take up his new duties. He was accompanied by his wife, who was Miss J. Taylor, of St. Louis, and his children.

143 PEACHTREE ARCADE

Business Announcements : Commercial Stationery : Club Announcements : Lodge or Emblem Cards

Webb & Vary Company Inc

Printers, Engravers, Stationers

You'll Feel Perfectly Satisfied

with your appearance in a pair of BYCK'S ASTORS, a shoe that is full of style and distinction. We have the shoe you want at the price you want.

Brown Kid $12 Cordo-Calf Gun Metal $11

Men's Dept. Main Floor

Byck's

27-29 WHITEHALL ST.

Paints

Ask for free Color Charts.

Cooledge Paint & Glass Co.
12 North Forsyth St.
"On the Bridge"

A FRIEND

in the kitchen. To avoid waste. To make tasteless dishes appetizing. To make warmed-overs absolutely enjoyable. To give cooking a delicious flavor. Use

LEA & PERRINS SAUCE

THE ONLY ORIGINAL WORCESTERSHIRE

It's a daily assistant.

I was there to make a sketch of her. Luncheon was just over, and she was talking to a little knot of women. The first words I heard, as I slid quietly into a nearby seat, were "National Biscuit," recalling pleasantly my own tasty Uneeda Luncheon. I liked her, and ... fortably as she spoke again, my pen ... and ears ... daylight,' ... me in ... no one ... Child ... and ... put ... to ... so ... liste ... too-re ... ten to ... pad of ... were waiting ... Hour.

"You see, even little ... went on, "are much like little animals. They are most lovable and most tractable after they've had something to eat. National Biscuit dainties always begin our Children's Hour like a feast. For the tiny toddlers there is a varied menu, sometimes Uneeda Biscuit and milk, sometimes Graham Crackers, Oatmeal Crackers or Lunch Biscuit. This is changed on special occasions to Old Time Sugar Cookies, Newtons and, rarest of all, there are days when we had ice cream and Nabisco, and those were our party days.

"Don't think my hour is just a much hour. It started us happily, is all, and made us sure they ... p coming every day—for both know we must feed ... children, as we must ... s, if we would ... d after their ... ways like ... eady to ... up in ... ent, ... em ... e hour ... it seem ... avy enough ... er, but always ... always dainty, appetizing as only National Biscuit Products can be. During the years when my babies were growing up we never missed the Children's Hour with its tasty feast not mentioned at the meeting, it was said. Owing to the time consumed on other matters, it was not believed that the cabinet discussed methods of enforcing its decision in case the verdict should not be acceptable to workers or mine owners.

Director General Hines attended the session, but declined to say what took place.

Profits of Operators.

Before the meeting this morning, Attorney General Palmer said that if the figures as to operators' profits given yesterday by Mr. McAdoo were correct, it was not likely Dr. Garfield would permit an increased price for coal.

In a statement bearing on this issue, the operators said "that condition in 1917 were abnormal," but that as Mr. McAdoo was "ignorant" of conditions in 1918 and 1919, his message "carries no weight and requires no answer."

The operators said they welcomed an investigation of current tax returns, and that they had been urging a board of arbitration, or a tribunal of investigation, but that the miners refused to agree to it.

The scale committee held a perfunctory meeting today, at which Dr. Garfield's statement of principles was discussed. Pending word from the cabinet, adjournment was taken until tomorrow.

Neither operators nor miners were hopeful tonight of a settlement before next week. While the subscale committee plans to remain in session, adjourning from day to day, many operators have arranged to spend Thanksgiving day at their homes.

Malice Laid to McAdoo.

Charging that Secretary McAdoo had been "studiously malicious." George H. Cushing, managing director of the American Wholesale Coal association, in a statement tonight explained that the 2,000 per cent profit of which the former secretary complained was not figured on either volume of business or capital stock. This percentage, he said, was made in the case of abandoned mines worked on a co-operative basis, where the only capital consisted of tools and supplies.

In connection with Dr. Garfield's statement before the joint wage scale committees yesterday that the operators could not expect the profits allowed during the war, it was recalled tonight that Kembrandt Peale, operator, and John White, miner representative, coal experts of the fuel administration, in their final report to Dr. Garfield, concurred in a statement that it would have been possible for the operators to pay an increase in wages out of the established coal price without raising the price to the consumer.

Mr. Peale and Mr. White pointed out that operators generally had been paying bonuses and other forms of increased compensation above the established wage scale in order to get miners to turn out coal, to meet the big demand.

The operators of the central competitive field tonight announced that they were "in complete accord with the principles stated by Dr. Garfield as a fair and sound basis for a settlement of the present wage controversy."

Wilson's Figures Attacked

The comparative figures submitted by Secretary Wilson were characterized as "misrepresentative and misleading" in that he left out of consideration all machine miners and all day laborers. Machine miners now constitute 80 per cent of the miners employed in the central territory, according to the statement, and men not paid on a tonnage basis comprise 40 per cent of the total employees of the central field.

Dr. Garfield's statement that "the average total increase in pay over the 1913 base, which was the base considered in 1917, should not exceed the present average increase in the cost of living over the same base" was interpreted by the operators to mean that due weight should be given the day laborers as well as the men who mine the coal. On this basis "the present wage scale represents an average advance of 58 per cent over the scale in effect in 1913," the statement said. This average was computed from the 49 per cent increase to machine miners and the 76 per cent advance to other employees.

"The increase in the actual earnings of the men under this scale is of even greater interest than the increase in the wage scale," the statement set forth.

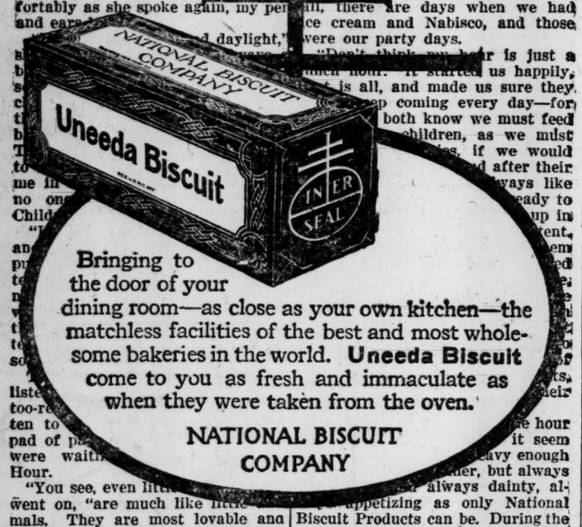

"Secretary Wilson's proposal means an average increase of 111.3 per cent, compared with an increase in the cost of living of only 77 per cent," the statement added. "The mere statement of these figures shows the unjustifiable character of the secretary's proposal."

McAdoo Demands Showdown.

New York, November 25.—A showdown on profits made by bituminous operators is needed for the American people to form a just opinion on the coal situation, William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury declared late today.

Mr. McAdoo's statement was made after he had been read an Associated Press despatch from Washington giving the substance of the open telegram addressed to him by the operators, criticising him for "injuring" himself into the wage controversy. Mr. McAdoo had not received the telegram itself.

"The question is whether or not the coal operators are making excessive profits" said his statement. "Their income tax returns filed under oath will give an understanding of the truth and the facts. If they are making excessive profits, as they were clearly making in 1917, then any increase of wages that may be made to the miners should not be passed on to the public in the form of increasing prices for bituminous coal. A showdown will enable the American people to form an opinion.

Bringing to the door of your dining room—as close as your own kitchen—the matchless facilities of the best and most wholesome bakeries in the world. Uneeda Biscuit come to you as fresh and immaculate as when they were taken from the oven.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Further Proof—That We Sell the Best For Less

TODAY ONLY

Special---

We Buy and Sell for Cash

Satin Oxfords

That You Pay $15 For Elsewhere For

$9.85

You Get the Discounts

This Oxford In AAA To D Black Satin

Just as pictured—Full Louis covered heel, turn soles, $9.85.

This Oxford In AAA To D Combination

Brown Kid Vamp, Brown Satin Quarter, as pictured, $9.85.

Exclusive Agent for "Lombardy" Fine Footwear.

This Boot —in— Beautiful Combination of Black Kid and Black Satin for $9.85

"Look for This Sign." One visit will convince you.

Brown Russia —The— newest thing in fine footwear. This boot carries a full Louis covered heel and sells for $9.85

"Educator" Shoes for Men, Women and Children.

"Look for This Sign."

SEE OUR WINDOWS

We Honestly Believe these are the best values offered in Atlanta for this season. These shoes are strictly hand-made and are far below wholesale cost today.

BRING THE CHILDREN

MAIL ORDERS FILLED

SIGNET SHOE SHOP

13 Peachtree St.

REFUNDS IF DESIRED

STATEMENT OF CONDITION

(CONDENSED)

Central Bank & Trust Corporation

OF ATLANTA

Called for by FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD

At Close of Business November 17, 1919

RESOURCES		LIABILITIES
Loans and Discounts	$10,101,983.02	Capital Stock	$ 1,000,000.00
U. S. Bonds and Treasury Certificates	1,326,950.00	Surplus and Undivided Profits	622,673.90
Other Bonds and Securities	437,535.03	Reserve for Interest and Taxes	42,732.22
Furniture and Fixtures	16,109.46	Acceptances for Customers	400,000.00
Customers' Liability Account our Acceptances	400,000.00	Bills Payable	305,000.00
Real Estate	5,578.68	Re-Discounts	78,500.00
Cash in Vault and with Banks	4,596,363.90	DEPOSITS	14,435,613.97
	$16,884,520.09		$16,884,520.09

Deposits November 17, 1919	$14,435,613.97
Deposits November 17, 1918	$ 7,959,820.73
INCREASE	$ 6,475,793.24

OFFICERS

ASA G. CANDLER, President
JOHN S. OWENS, Vice President
A. PICKENS COLES, Vice President
WALTER T. CANDLER, Cashier
HENRY C. HEINZ, Assistant to the Vice Pres.
CARL H. LEWIS, Asst. Cashier and Trust Officer
FONVILLE McWHORTER, Assistant Cashier
ARTHUR J. STITT, Assistant Cashier
L. H. PARRIS, Auditor

TRUSTEES

ASA G. CANDLER, President
JOHN S. OWENS, Vice President
W. M. NIXON, Pres. Atlanta Woolen Mills
GEO. E. KING, President King Hardware Co.
SAM D. JONES, President Atlanta Stove Works
NORMAN C. MILLER, Mgr. Atl. Branch Ginn & Co.
EUGENE R. BLACK, Attorney, McDaniel & Black
A. MONTGOMERY, Pres. Atl. Coca-Cola Bot. Co.
DR. W. B. HAMBY, Capitalist
W. C. HARPER, National Stock Yards
CHAS. HOWARD CANDLER, Chairman Board the Coca-Cola Company
DR. WILLIS B. JONES
A. P. COLES, Manget Bros. Co.
L. J. DANIEL, President Daniel Bros. Co.
R. A. McTYER, President McTyer & Co., Orlando, Fla.
C. B. HOWARD, Inman & Howard
B. F. COGGINS, President Coggins Marble Co.
WALTER T. CANDLER, Cashier

Central Bank & Trust Corporation

MAIN BANK Candler Bldg. — ATLANTA — BRANCH BANK Mitchell and Forsyth Sts.

THE CONSTITUTION
ESTABLISHED 1868.
The Standard Southern Newspaper.

Published Daily, Sunday, Tri-Weekly.
CLARK HOWELL
Editor and General Manager.

Directors: Clark Howell, Roby Robinson, Albert Howell, Jr., E. E. Black, H. W. Grady.

THE SOUTH'S STANDARD NEWSPAPER
CONSTITUTION
WISDOM JUSTICE MODERATION
ESTABLISHED 1868

Entered at the postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone Main 5000.

ATLANTA, GA., November 26, 1919

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

	1 Wk.	1 Mo.	3 Mos.	6 Mos.	1 Yr.
Sunday	.20c	90c	$2.50	$5.00	$9.50
Daily	.15c	70c	2.00	4.00	7.50
Sunday	7c	30c	.90	1.75	3.25

Single Copies .....Daily, 5c—Sunday, 7c

J. R. HOLLIDAY, Constitution Building, sole advertising Manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.

The Constitution's Washington office is at 813 Riggs Building. Mr. J. A. Hollomon, correspondent.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York city by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had: Hotaling's Newsstands, Broadway and Forty-second street (Times building corner); Thirty-eighth street and Broadway, and Twenty-ninth street and Broadway.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents.

Member of the Associated Press.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use of publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

THE SOUTH WINS.

Announcement of a readjustment of export freight rates, granting to south Atlantic and gulf ports tariffs identical with those enjoyed by New York and the other ports of the north Atlantic, issued from the general offices of the Southern railroad, at Louisville, Ky., last Monday, comes as a distinct commercial victory, not only for the southern ports, but for the shippers and the general public of the south, west and middle west.

The new rates are to become effective, as they apply to the south Atlantic ports, on December 1, and one month later they will be put into effect as applying to the ports of the gulf coast, which means that practically immediately there will be an end to a discriminatory policy that has had the effect of retarding the commercial expansion of the south and development of southern ports.

For years the business and commercial interests, and civic and industrial organizations throughout the south and middle west have been striving for this recognition of the commercial rights of those sections of the country. All they have asked for has been a square deal and simple justice that called only for the removal of those trade restrictions which necessitated the shipment through northern ports of practically all of the merchandise passing between those parts of the country and overseas nations. They objected to the freight differentials that favored the northern and discriminated against the southern ports; and against southern and western communities whose foreign shipments of merchandise might much more conveniently and economically be routed through the ports of the gulf and south Atlantic coasts.

Now that the Southern railroad, upon instructions by the railroad administration, has removed this trade barrier it is certain that the same course will be adopted by all of the other rail transportation lines serving the sections affected; and if the United States shipping board will abandon its reported intention of disposing of the ships under its jurisdiction and thus placing them in the hands of private ocean freight-carrying interests, the south will have won the greatest commercial victory in its history and one that will exert a wonderful influence upon the prosperity of its people and the growth of its trade and industrial interests.

THE BALKAN UNION.

Reports of the formation of a new alliance of Balkan states are anything but reassuring that an epoch of worldwide peace is even close at hand.

Owing to the temperament of the peoples of the Balkans, any union among them must have a precarious existence. This is abundantly proven by history. During the last quarter of a century there have been almost innumerable "alliances" formed by and among the various states of the Balkan peninsula, but without exception each one has "broken up in a row," and the disruption has Consequently, "war in the Balkans" has become a household phrase in every civilized country in the world.

In this instance the reported league of Balkan states, however lofty the purpose underlying it may be, is practically certain to prove to be only the forerunner of another of the long series of Balkan wars.

Impoverished, outraged and ground almost to dust as the Balkan nations were by the world conflict, it might be argued that those unhappy peoples have had a surfeit of war and may be relied upon now to maintain peace and cordial relations one with another; but history has proven that there is such a diversity of character, opinion and interests among those states that a union formed for their mutual protection and the maintenance of peaceful relationships between them invariably runs upon the rocks in the course of time and develops into a plurality of leagues to wage war.

A league of nations including the major powers of the world undoubtedly would have a stabilizing influence over the Balkan states and keep them at peace; but there is little upon which to base hope that any league among themselves exclusively ever will or can be successful.

"WORK AND SAVE."

In his monthly report on business and agricultural conditions in the Sixth Federal Reserve district for the month of October, a digest of which appears elsewhere in this issue of The Constitution, Joseph A. McCord, federal reserve agent, digresses somewhat to give the people of the south some very timely and highly appropriate advice on how not only to "keep ahead of the hounds" in this period of extreme high cost of living, but also how to hasten a change in present conditions that would be beneficial to the whole country and materially lessen the pressure upon the individual citizen.

His whole prescription is epitomized in three words: "Work and Save"—which Mr. McCord heartily commends as "the slogan of all."

There is no doubt about the fact that if, as Mr. McCord suggests, everybody would work to the end of increased production and at the same time curtail consumption to the minimum; and that if all who can afford to spend money freely would appreciate the necessity of conserving and would consume as little as possible, thereby setting an example for others to follow, it would go a long way toward bringing about a reduction in the cost of commodities all down the line of human necessities.

"The restlessness in the public mind," Mr. McCord very truthfully says—

"is principally due to the cost of living, and while the wage for individual labor has been climbing upward, the demands are for still further increases which are made as a result of the high cost of living. This condition could go on still further and no good result would be accomplished."

In other words, the never-ending cycle of higher wages, higher-living costs, etc., might be continued ad infinitum, and nobody would be the better off; but unless checked, such a policy would inevitably lead to disaster for the whole scheme of society.

Mr. McCord follows sound logic, however, when he goes on to say that—

"after all, the real question is not so much the cost of living, but the margin between the amount earned and the cost of living. It therefore seems imperative for every one to use all of his efforts and energies for increased production and decreased consumption, and especially those in position of leadership, for it is to them that the people look for example."

If that policy were generally invoked by the people, and "Work and Save" adopted as the motto to govern the daily habits of all, it goes without saying that the problem of the high cost of living would quickly solve itself.

"What to get her for Christmas" ought not to be a difficult problem to solve this year. When in doubt, try a ton of coal!

Anyhow, in this land of the free there is no law, thank God, against substituting corn beef and cabbage for turkey on Thanksgiving day.

Better pay, better teachers. That should be the motto of every American community, for better teachers means better citizenship.

As yet we haven't noticed where any organization of wives and mothers has sought an injunction against the enforcement of the prohibition laws.

Woolen underwear may have had nothing to do with bringing about the present nation-wide unrest, but certainly it is not conducive to a diminution of it.

Mr. Hoover has found it necessary to grant a thirty-days' extension to his prophecy of lower food costs. He erred in the first place by issuing his prophecy without safeguarding it by ample "reservations."

Holland takes a position of neutrality as between the ex-kaiser and his former subjects, holding that Mr. Hohenzollern is free to go back to Germany if he wants to. But that does not mean that he is even thinking seriously of going to Germany.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.
(Copyright, 1919, for The Constitution.)

Burning Out the Unessential.

In the end it is worth alone which survives.

The unessential in everything, sooner or later, has to give way for that which is to live, providing it is of sufficient value to live.

Thus it is that pure gold remains after its refining process is over.

In like manner does a life present its true values after the years have ridden their rough heels across its pathways. The unessential becomes the unnecessary—and soon disappears to give place to the solid things.

For it is during the selective period that men and women, in all their glory, show their tendencies, their gifts, their aptitude for independent action and their free exercise of the supreme power of will.

But each day, let us grow greater by gradually burning out the unessential—and eliminating the useless.

All this cannot be accomplished, however, by sitting around waiting for things to develop. It takes white heat energy, deep desire and great enthusiasm to burn out the unessential, just as it takes great heat to refine the gold.

Be glad of the chance to work—and to work hard—for by it alone is strength reserved for the days when dire distress may come to try your metal.

Steel and school yourself for battle in the front line trenches—where the fighting is hottest.

Think and strive for the things which mean most in terms of service to the world.

Senator Harris' Chance

(From The Americus Times-Recorder.)

Senator William J. Harris has at this time the opportunity of landing for Georgia one of the biggest judicial honors that it is possible to bestow in this country. There are at present two vacancies on the United States circuit bench, which is next in authority and honor to the United States supreme court itself, and it is within Senator Harris' possibilities to have one of these distinguished places go to a Georgia man—and at the same time honor another Georgian signally. According to information, Attorney General Palmer desires to place Judge Samuel H. Sibley, recently named to the district bench to succeed Judge Newman, on the circuit bench, and that Senator Hoke Smith has approved Mr. Palmer's choice. It is said to remain only for Senator Harris to approve Judge Sibley for the appointment to be assured. And it is also understood that unless he does agree to Judge Sibley's election the appointment will go to some other state.

With the elevation of Judge Sibley, and the consequent vacating of the district bench in Georgia, Attorney General Palmer is ready to and desirous of appointing Sheppard Bryan, of Atlanta, to the district judgeship. With the vacancy thus created, nothing would stand in the way of the appointment of Mr. Bryan, for he has already had the indorsement of both of Georgia's senators, given recently when his name and that of Judge Sibley, among others, were presented by them as agreeable for this appointment. Judge Bryan stands equally eminent with any lawyer or jurist in Georgia, and his appointment to this honorable position would give the people of this state as great satisfaction as would the further honoring of Judge Sibley.

Senator Harris is urged to lose no time in getting in line for Judge Sibley, and thereby insuring against losing this great recognition for Georgia. This is no time for the playing of politics or the letting of personal preference stand in the way. Judge Sibley is competent and commands the respect of the entire state, and in approving his elevation, Senator Harris would be doing his state a great service and honor. If the appointment is lost to Georgia through Senator Harris' failure to take the necessary and proper course, the facts will warrant the charge that he has played politics and sacrificed his state's interests in doing so.

The Times-Recorder believes in Senator Harris to the limit. It believes he will support Judge Sibley for the circuit bench and t'e naming of Sheppard Bryan to the district bench. But, as the leading supporter of Senator Harris among the newspapers of Georgia, it warns him of the future consequences should Georgia lose the United States circuit judgeship appointment.

Woodrow Wilson Lives

By Richard J. Broyles.

I.

The cry went round in tragic potency,
That filled the town with all-pervading sighs:
Like brewing ill to citizens most wise,
Like adder-sting it struck at loyalty—
The cry, that he, the president, was dead,
The cry that filled the town with surging dread.

II.

Most cruel hoax to strike the loyal heart!
Most damnable display of culprit play!
Surely it stings some consciousness today
To have unwisely played the villain's part.
But, thanks to God, the president still lives!
Thank God, the great, good president still lives!

Today's Events.

Norway today celebrates the 50th birthday anniversary of Queen Maud.

Today is the 30th anniversary of the great fire which destroyed nearly the entire business section of Lynn, Mass.

The annual meeting of the South Carolina conference of the M. E. church, south, will assemble today at McCall, S. C.

The wage question and reconstruction problems are to furnish the principal topics at the annual meeting of the North Carolina Teachers' assembly, which is to open today at Raleigh.

Today's Birthdays.

Queen Maud of Norway, sister of King George V of Great Britain, born in England 50 years ago today.

Vesta Victoria, celebrated English comedienne, born at Leeds, England, 45 years ago today.

Albert B. Fall, United States senator from New Mexico, born at Frankfort, Ky., 58 years ago today.

Rear Admiral Frank E. Beatty, U. S. N., retired, born at Azatlan, Wis., 66 years ago today.

Ora C. Morningstar, celebrated professional billiard player, born at Rochester, Ind., 45 years ago today.

Seen and Heard in Washington

Will the Republicans Benefit by the Failure to Ratify the Treaty at the Special Session? Hardly!—Senator Glass Will Go on the Select Budget Committee—Lieutenant Maynard Praises the American-Built Plane and Motor.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON

Washington, November 25.—(Special.)—Will the republican party benefit by the failure of the senate to ratify the peace treaty, after six months of expensive and nerve-wrecking wrangling?

Nay! Nay!!

It would be a super party that could find benefits in international commercial confusion and doubt, and domestic unrest and insecurity.

I know it to be a fact that the American business world has been clamoring for these six months for a ratification.

Some of the business interests preferred interpretative reservations and some did not; but all urged a prompt acceptance of the covenant.

Trade bodies all over this country, scarcely without exception, passed resolutions urging ratification. Intelligent students of finance and economics urged ratification.

Business and financial interests in America, including the producers of both raw and manufactured commodities, have been awaiting the ratification for the formulation of some basis of a fixed and firm schedule of business and industrial policies.

Ratification would mean certainty. Without ratification there is, of necessity, an element of doubt and indecision and incalculable sequences that naturally retard any firm and effective action.

Once the treaty ratified, even if with constructive reservations, business confidence would be immediately re-established, and the reintegration and reconstruction of business relations between the United States and foreign countries, including Germany, would begin.

The republicans in the senate, led by Lodge, and abetted by a few democrats, turned a deaf ear to all of these arguments, and scored all base questions of international commerce and trade.

Seeing that they could not kill the treaty directly, as had been their deepest hope, they turned to the equally deadly task of killing it by indirection; and permitted a six months' session to flitter away without the accomplishment of one iota for the nation except to stamp it as a traitor to her allies, and to perpetuate the condition of war and its attendant commercial unrest among our own people.

It is difficult for me to understand how any party can hope to win before the people with such a record.

* * * *

GLASS WILL HELP FRAME BUDGET SYSTEM.

When the senate reconvenes on the first of December, Secretary Glass will take his seat to succeed the late Senator Martin, of Virginia, and will be immediately assigned to the select committee on the budget system, of which Medill McCormick, of Illinois, is chairman. To offset the appointment of Glass, Kenyon, of Iowa, a republican, will also be added. The full committee, therefore, will be composed of McCormick, Smoot, Poindexter, Lenroot, Edge and Kenyon, republicans, and Simmons, Jones of New Mexico, Wolcott, King, Glass and Keyes, democrats.

* *

Since the house passed the Good bill, giving to the president a bureau of experts charged with the duty of preparing the annual financial work-plan of government, Senator McCormick has been conferring with Secretary Glass to determine the general provisions of the bill that he will offer to the senate budget committee. McCormick introduced a bill at the special session of congress calling for the proposed bureau of the budget in the "office of the secretary of the treasury."

It is believed that when Secretary Glass becomes a member of the select committee he will lend all his influence toward placing the responsibility of the formulation of the budget with the secretary of the treasury.

When he appeared before the house select committee on the budget at its recent hearings, Secretary Glass said:

"I am heartily in favor of a budget system. Without effective control over governmental expenditures and limitations of them to the government's income, we shall bring down upon our heads the splendid structure which our fathers have built, and which we have preserved.

"A budget to be effective must cover all appropriations and all increases of appropriations, whether initiated in the executive departments or in congress. The bureau of the budget should be in the office of the secretary of the treasury, the officer of the government charged with the heavy burden of finding the means to finance its requirements.

"The division of responsibility is the bane of our government. It is intolerable that the secretary of the treasury should have no voice in the determination of the expenditures of the government. It is intolerable to think that his function should be merely to go out and borrow money when some one else has spent it without consultation with him or consideration of the means to raise it.

"The preparation of the budget should be the principal duty of the finance minister. We all know that the president cannot do this thing. We all know that a bureau chief in the office of the president would be helpless to assert his opinion in opposition to the members of the president's cabinet.

"Projects of the government involving expenditures should be determined in conference between the members of the cabinet concerned, and the president's decision should be final.

"So far as concerns the question how much money can be raised in loans and taxes and to what amount, therefore, the total expenditures of the government should be limited, and for all budgetary work the president should obtain his advice from the secretary of the treasury and not from a bureau chief appointed for the purpose of paralleling the work of the secretary of the treasury."

By this statement which I quote literally it is assumed that Senator Glass will favor the vesting budget authority with the financial head of the government rather than with the president, and it is more than probable that the senate bill will so provide. In that event it is safe to say there will be no deadlock in conference. The house measure will yield to the senate construction.

* * * *

LIEUT. MAYNARD PRAISES AMERICAN BUILT PLANE.

It was my pleasure to have a chat with North Carolina's "flying parson." There are few men in America better versed in the science of aviation than Lieutenant Maynard, and it is refreshing to hear him declare the American-built De Haviland four-plane the equal of any flying machine of a similar type on the western front.

And Maynard ought to know!

He was the official tester of airplanes at Romorantin, France, the point from which all American-built planes were assembled and distributed, and where foreign-built planes owned by the United States were sent for major repairs. The aviation shops at this place employed 18,000 men.

Maynard flew seventeen types of machines in France, and delivered machines to the front via the air route. He delivered twenty-five American De Haviland 4s and found each all that could be asked for, he said.

The American model, Lieutenant Maynard said, was far superior to the British, and had the best speed of any similar machine at the front, and, in addition, carried from 500 to 800 pounds of bombs. The initial shipment of American De Havilands had a number of structural defects which were repaired in France and corrected in subsequent shipments at the American factories.

The "Flying Parson" had talked with most of the American flyers who had used the De Havilands, and said that those who had flown it long enough to become accustomed to it praised it highly, while those who had brief experience with it after training on some other machine, were inclined to be critical.

The Liberty engine was highly praised by Lieutenant Maynard, who said he had flown it 700 hours all told, and that it always had carried him safely and demonstrated its worth.

Last Night's Dreams; What They Mean

Did You Dream About Music?

To paraphrase slightly the poet:

When the night is filled with music
the cares which infest the day
Shall fold their tents like the Arabs and as silently steal away.

For dream-music, say the seers, portends good fortune to those who hear the phantom strains. When, through the world of the visions of night, wander harmonious melodies, happiness and money are hovering in the near future waiting for you. It doesn't matter whether you dream that you are producing the music yourself or that you simply hear it—the omen is good. Among other things it indicates that you are shortly to receive news of a cheerful sort from a friend whom, for a long time, you have neither seen nor heard from.

If you are as yet unmarried and in love it is a sign that your sweetheart is kind and true—there is a wedding and happiness ahead of you. To married people it indicates good-tempered children. If you hear some one running over the scales, either on a musical instrument or with the voice, something good will happen to you through pure luck.

As to a choice of musical instruments to play on, a dream-guitar singing at the same time, is especially favorable to lovers, though if you hear some one else playing the instrument watch out—you are too susceptible. Playing a dream-guitar is especially recommended to induce happiness in the family. A banjo is almost as good as a guitar, though if you simply hear the banjo instead of playing it yourself you may have some slight worries which will soon be over. A flute foretells a birth in the family, and an organ is an excellent omen unless it is a church-organ playing a dirge. In that case you may hear of something that will "make you tired," or of the death of a relative, say the pessimists. The optimists say a dream-dirge on a dream-organ in a dream-church only means a slight annoyance soon past.

The music from a dream-piano is an excellent omen—marriage for those in love, domestic happiness for the married and thrift and fortune for all. The worst that even the kill-joy oracles can say about dream-music is that if it is harsh and discordant some temporary vexations await you.

(Copyright, 1919, for The Constitution.)

No 78. The Fourth Dimension.

What is all this talk about a fourth dimension? Is it only a superstition after all?

Well, that depends upon the way you look at it.

Here is the way a well-known professor explained it to me:

"You are, let us suppose, sitting in a chair. Look up and take in your surroundings, the people in the room with you, the walls—their color, the pictures on them, etc., and the furniture in the room. Now think of the room next to the one you are in. In the same way call before you the people who are in it, the colors of the objects and their position. You see while in one room it is very simple to imagine yourself in a second. You do not even need to rise from your chair. You can both go and stay behind in so doing. You were in two rooms at the same time as it were."

This is a faithful demonstration of the powers of the fourth dimension. If you were a four-dimensioned being you could do in fact what you did in fancy. You could pass from one room to another without traveling, and to any room at any distance.

To a one-dimensioned person that thought of a second dimension would be impossible. If you asked him to imagine a new dimension at right angles to his line he could not. Again a two-dimensioned person knowing only two surfaces could never imagine height.

So it is no wonder that we three-dimension people stare and rub our eyes and ask where the new dimension can possibly be. That if we consider it hard enough some of us come to see faint glimmerings of a new idea. Although our limitations of space make it impossible for us to enter upon this new dimension, we cannot but feel that perhaps after all there is something in it.

(Copyright, 1919, for The Constitution.)

When the Self-Starter Won't Work, What Else Can You Do?

HEALTH TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D

Lead Poisoning in Printers.

An illuminating study of 109 union printers made under the direction of Dr. L. I. Harris, director of the Bureau of Preventive Diseases, New York city health department, showed that forty-nine of the printers, that is 45 per cent, had lead poisoning. And these union printers, of more than the average intelligence, with few exceptions were ignorant of the fact that their health was seriously affected. Here is an illustration of the curious state of affairs which I have so constantly emphasized, namely, that the majority of people are so healthignorant that they do not know enough to realize when they need medical care. Health is to such people a thing to be trifled with, a thing to be gambled with, a thing to experiment upon, much as a little child might play with a priceless book or some other perishable thing.

Of the 109 printers examined, 42 gave a history of obstinate constipation, 22 had abdominal pains or cramps at irregular intervals, 7 had recurring attacks of diarrhoea, 19 had been annoyed by a metallic taste in the mouth, 62 had pains or weakness or both in arms or legs. These symptoms are suggestive, though not diagnostic of lead poisoning. Chronic mild lead poisoning, by the way, can produce the most varied line of symptoms of any disease we know, unless it is syphilis or hysteria.

Thirty-eight of the 109 printers had tremors. No case of actual paralysis was noted. Nor was the famous blue line at the edge of the gums observed in a single instance. The urine of 89 of these printers was tested for lead and traces of lead were found present in 49 of them.

Another suggestive observation made by Dr. Harris is that practically all of these printers had been examined by physicians at different times for the treatment of various complaints, but the physician's interest and attention in such cases was usualy confined to the patient's present complaint. This experience, Dr. Harris concludes, confirms one in the belief that there are many thousands of persons in the city of New York, and in other industrial communities, who are suffering from physical defects or diseases of a more or less serious character, who have no intimation of the state of their health, and who, when they consult their physicians, are studied from a narrow point of view, that is, merely treated for the present complaint.

Well, I'll say there are.

But the physicians can't help it. The majority of patients do not thank a physician for side excursions in the interest of their health and longevity when they drop in to get something for just this "indigestion" or whatever the present complaint may be.

The only solution for this is a careful general physical examination made at least annually, and this plan is particularly applicable to those engaged in industrial service involving health hazards.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Alligator Arms.

Can you tell me anything to relieve my alligator arms? The skin is dry and forms a fine scaly condition about the elbows. I have tried many kinds of cold cream and powders without noticing any improvement. I can scarcely expose my arms when they look so. (E.)

ANSWER—Apply some of the following lotion once a day after washing the arms and before the skin is quite dry:

Resorcin	40 grains
Glycerite of boroglycerin	1 ounce
Cologne water, enough to make	4 ounces.

Bran Muffins for Constipation.

Kindly publish your recipe for bran muffins which you recommend for constipation. I crave oranges. Are two or three a day too much? (Mrs. G. R. J.)

ANSWER—One egg well beaten, a pinch of salt, butter the size of a walnut, melted, one cupful each of sweet milk, wheat flour, wheat bran, one teaspoonful baking powder. Bake in gem tins. You can scarcely take too many oranges.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is inclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

Bits of New York Life

BY O. O. M'INTYRE

New York, November 25.—

I do not know any more.

About ordering food.

From a New York menu.

Than the man who wrote it.

And every time I see one.

I go into a blind rage.

And I'll kill a waiter.

Or a maitre d'hotel.

Or a poor little bus boy.

If something doesn't happen.

Imagine a hick like me.

Trying to decide among:

"Cromesquis of sweetbread."

"Omelette Fermiere."

"Fricandeau of veal."

And "Lamb Nissarde."

When where I came from.

Lizzi, who chewed gum.

And waited on customers.

At the Depot Short Order House.

Would slip up behind you.

And say: "Fish or squirrels."

And you took your choice.

And did it in a hurry.

Or Lizzie would bean you.

With a thick china cup.

Here they take a sliver of meat.

Hide it under a green pea.

Put a fern leaf on the side.

Place a big silver cover.

Over it to hide its shame.

And you'll find it.

On any of the hotel menus.

As: "Beef, aux petits pois."

And when you don't know.

Just how to order.

The waiters look bored.

And you get excited.

And order seven dishes.

And find that each one.

Is sweet potatoes.

And just the other day.

I thought I'd act uppity.

And I told a waiter.

To bring me a cut of pie.

With some a la mode.

On the top of it.

And he burst out laughing.

And I said: "Is that so?"

And he called the manager.

And told him.

And he laughed too.

So there was nothing.

Left for me to do.

But order: "Consomme Paysanne."

And By the Sacred Codfish.

It was nothing but soup.

Santo Domingo Is Favored Nation

In connection with the petition sent to Washington by a group of Spaniards, suggesting that this would be an opportune time for the United States to withdraw its troops from Santo Domingo, the National Geographic society has issued the following bulletin concerning the island republic:

"Geographically, the Island of Haiti, including within its limits the two republics of Santo Domingo and Haiti, is in the class of the most favored of nations, situated on the western continent about midway between its two grand divisions of North and South America and abounding in natural resources," says the bulletin, which is based on a communication from Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, U. S. N.

"The name Haiti, or 'High Island,' is significant of the character of its topography. 'Sire' once said a British admiral to his king, George III., when asked about the island, 'Haiti looks like that,' and he crumpled up a piece of paper and placed it upon the table. A brief description though this may be, it well fitted the case. The island is about 400 miles long, 150 miles wide and is about the size of the state of New York. It is irregular in shape and is intersected by three chains of mountains.

"Historically, Haiti, or Santo Domingo, is the senior of our own country, if we leave out of consideration the legendary reports concerning the visits of the Norsemen to our northern coasts 800 years ago and we are somewhat indebted to this beautiful island for our own development.

"On St. Nicholas day, December 6, 1492, Columbus entered a port at the extreme west end of the island of Santo Domingo or, as the whole island was then called by the abrogines, Haiti. The natives themselves called the port Bohoi, but Columbus christened it, in honor of the day he was celebrating, Port St. Nicholas, the name still existing as St. Nicholas Mole. This date will ever be memorable in the annals of the Haitiens as marking the beginning of the history of the island.

"Columbus now called the island Hispaniola in honor of the country which had sent him forth to discover it, and it is to be regretted that this name given by the immortal discovered has been lost, for its present two names are conflicting and confusing.

"Columbus then determined to build a permanent settlement, and after reconnoitering he selected for this purpose a site on an elevated plain near a spacious bay on the north coast of the island. Here was established the first town in the new world, which was dignified by the name of his queen and patron, Isabella.

"But the course of empire was still south and soon Santo Domingo city became the center of the colonial activities.

"A little love affair connected with the growth of this city is interesting. One of the Spanish party, Miguel Dias, having gotten into difficulty with an officer, severely wounding him in combat, fled to escape punishment. Finding shelter in an Indian village and being received with much cordiality and hospitality, he in return gave his heart to the young woman who was then governing the tribe. His protestations met with favor and the young Spaniard found himself the consort of a queen of no mean accomplishments. But he soon wearied of his environment and sighed for his old companions. The queen, seeing his discontent and fearing to lose him, gave him the secret of her vast wealth and, loading him with the precious metal, sent him back to the Spaniards to induce them to return with him and settle in her country. Dias delivered this message to Columbus, who immediately ordered an exploration of that part of the island to ascertain the truth of the Spaniard's report.

"The sequel to this little love affair is also interesting, but most pathetic. Zamacaca, after giving her all to her lover, who was thereby promoted to high honors in the colony, being the first alcalde of the new city, was so disheartened by the cruel treatment accorded her people that she fled from civilization and affluence to the wilds of the forests, leaving her two children and still faithful husband to mourn her loss and was never heard from again.

"From this origin, so casual and domestic, arose the first permanent city of the new world."

NO INTEREST PAID TO U. S. BY ALLIES

Plan Considered to Defer Interest Payments for Several Years—Arrangement Sought by the Allies.

Washington, November 25.—Interest payments on American loans to the allies may be deferred "until the war reaction passes," it was said today at the treasury. Negotiations to this end are now being conducted at the request of the allies but officials explained that the latest advices from the treasury's representatives at Paris did not indicate an early conclusion.

American loans to its associates in the war aggregte $9,647,000,000 and the interest rate average five per cent. All of the obligations are in the form of term notes, but it has been proposed by the allies that they be converted into long term paper which should fall due on dates corresponding to those on which liberty loans mature.

Might Better Conditions.

Officials said the American government was not seeking the new arrangement. They explained, however, they felt that "the present chaotic conditions in Europe" might be bettered if the interest payments were funded. Tentative plans would defer these payments from three to five years which, it was stated, "would allow European conditions to readjust themselves and place the foreign governments' reconstruction programs well under way."

Albert Rathbone, assistant secretary of the treasury, is representing the United States in the negotiations at Paris. Treasury officials said the only instruction given him was that in reaching an agreement the "interest of the whole world's financial sructure" be given thorough considertion.

Commons Told of Plan.

London, November 25.—A plan is under discussion by the British and American governments under which the payment of interest on advances by Great Britain and the United States to the allies in the course of the war and also on advances by the United States to Great Britain would be postponed for three years, it was announced in the house of commons today by Austen Chamberlan, the chancellor of the exchequer.

Republican Congress Blamed for Hostility To Labor Conference

Labor Delegates to International Congress Threaten to Withdraw If Proposals Continue to Be Met by Hostile Attitude.

By James A. Hollomon.
(By Constitution Leased Wire.)

Washington, November 25.—The way the United States, as a unit, has treated the international labor conference, the delegates to which are its offical guests, is one of the most remarkable government scandals in the history of this nation.

Day after day the conferences, in which America has no part, meets in a half-hearted manner, fully cognizant of the hostility shown it by the republican control of congress, and time after time it has been pounding upon the rocks, only saving itself from wreck for th. same principle that alienated parents r - main together for appearances and to save humiliation to their offsprings. Only today the labor delegates threatened to withdraw if their proposals continued to be met by a hostile attitude.

An immediate rupture was prevented when a compromise plan, offered by Leon Jouhaux, French labor delegate, was accepted.

Baldesi, the Swiss delegate, sought to have the proposed international convention providing for an eight-hour day so framed as to guarantee that wages would not be decreased because of a decrease in hours. He anticipated trouble in this regard, he said, in countries where labor was not strongly organized. The proposal, under the compromise plan, adopted, will be taken up by the conference for separate discussion.

Proposals Meet Objection.

When his suggestion was ruled out Baldesi declared that labor proposals to the conference had been repeatedly met with objection on questions of form or procedure.

"I think," he declared, "that those who passed the treaty of peace left this conference and this international labor organization to be a means toward social peace and for myself I have put my intelligence at the service of the cause. But if we must go back to the workers without any result, then I am afraid, indeed, that great social turmoil will ensue.

"Therefore, Mr. President, if my proposal is accepted, the conference will give its first proof of good will toward the working classes."

This kind of clashing is going on all the time because the delegates realize they are meeting in hostile territory, are discouraged and thoroughly disorganized on account of the treatment accorded them that cannot be appraised other than scandalous in the extreme.

Attempt to Snub Nations.

Not content with carrying partisan politics to the limit in every phase and activity of its special session, the republican congress went outside the fold of strictly domestic relations to embarrass the United States abroad by a deliberate attempt to snub the nations represented in the conference. It must be understood this conference is held under the auspices of the league of nations. After authorizing the president to call the conference and placing the United States in the position of host to the civilized nations of the world congress then proceeded to show every possible sign of caddishness.

In the first place the United States was not officially represented in the conference, as a member of the league, to which it was the official host, and it was made apparent to the conference that not only was it not the desire of the republican majority that the United States should participate, but that same majority looked with contempt on the league of nations, the parent of the conference, and had set out to "knife it" in the interest of partisanship.

But this was not enough. Probably the most caddish act of the past session was when the republican partisans permitted Great Britain to buy even the small American flag that decorated the table assigned to the United States at the conference.

Half-Hearted Co-operation.

Early in October, when it was decided that the labor conference should be invited to hold its meeting in Washington, congress was asked to advance funds. It was then definftely promised by the representatives of the league that this government would be reimbursed by the league for funds so advanced —the funds to be used in fitting out quarters and providing the necessary machinery for the conference.

That this agreement was acceptable to congress is apparent from the fact that at the last moment an inadequate appropriation was made, but not until after funds had been advanced by the British treasury. The American appropriation did not become available until three and a half weeks after the start of the conference and just about one week before the conferees had determined to adjourn.

Congress was asked to advance $200,000 to carry the conference for sixty days, all funds unused to revert to the United States treasury and the government to be reimbursed for all funds used. Congress eventually appropriated $65,000 which became available so late that Great Britain in the meantime had to advance funds in order that this country might entertain. From these funds the aforementioned American flag was bought. The conference to date has cost approximately $125,000 to be paid out of the league of nations' treasury. Several days ago the advance by the United States congress of $65,000 became available and it is doubtful whether any of it will be used. The story of American penury has gone broadcast through the necessity of appealing to Great Britain to supply funds. The delegates to the labor conference from all parts of the world are acquainted with it. It is the sorriest page that has ever been written in the story of a great nation.

GOVERNING BOARD FOR WORLD LABOR

Conference at Washington Moves for Permanent Organization—The 8-Hour Day Is Adopted.

Washington, November 25.—The international labor conference took steps toward perfecting permanent organization as contemplated in the treaty of Versailles today with announcement of the creation of the governing body, composed of twelve government representatives, six labor representatives and six representing capital. Through this body will be established the international labor office provided for in the treaty and which forms the agency through which all labor clauses are to be worked out.

Representatives Nominated.

The government representatives on the board of governors will be named, according to the plan provided by the conference, by Belgium, France, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Germany, Switzerland, Spain, Argentina, Canada, Poland and, pending ratification of the treaty by the United States and its formal participation, Denmark.

Employers' representatives nominated by the conference were Sir Allen Smith, Great Britain; M. Guierin, France; M. Pirelli, Jr., Italy; Jules Carlier, Belgium; Mr. Hodacz, Czecho-Slovakia, and, pending American participation, Mr. Schindler, Switzerland.

The workers' representatives nominated were Leon Jouhaux, France; Jan Oudegeest, The Netherlands; Stuart Bunning, Great Britain; Mr. Lindquist, Sweden, and, pending American participation, Mr. Draper, Canada.

Brought Quick Protest.

Announcement of this program brought an immediate protest from the Latin-American delegates against the fact that only one member of the board, a government representative from Argentine, would come from those countries. Submitting a formal objection to this phase of the plan, in which all Latin-American delegates joined, Francisco Carrera Justiz, of Cuba, declared that "no matter what motive or procedure brought about the distribution, it evidently is against the spirit of equity which has always prevailed where international interests are concerned."

The governing body is described as the controlling organization of labor in the league of nations, directing the affairs of the international labor office through which all questions growing out of international labor programs will be considered. The function of the office will be to keep in constant communication with governments and labor, or employers' organizations throughout the world; to collect information, give advice and, if need be, to pass disputed matters on to the council of the league of nations.

In addition to reservations made for United States representatives on each of three groups in the governing body, places also were held for Germany in the government workers' groups.

Bolt Threatened by Labor.

Labor delegates to the international labor conference threatened to withdraw today if their proposals continued to be met by a "hostile attitude." The threat was uttered by Conrad Ilg, of the Swiss delegation, during discussion of the proposed eight-hour day convention, when Chairman Jules Carlier, of the Belgian delegation, ruled out consideration of wage guarantees, proposed by Gino Baldesi, Italian delegate.

"If, by a hostile attitude," Ilg declared, "discussion of proposals of workmen is to be made impossible, the workmen will leave the conference."

An immediate rupture was prevented when a compromise plan offered by Leon Jouhaux, French labor delegate, was accepted.

The eight-hour day proposal was approved and was sent to the drafting committee.

Adoption of the proposal was marked by heated arguments, but it went through without further amendment. An effort by Mr. Ilg to provide that workers should be paid for holidays was defeated.

MRS. W. C. LAWRENCE PASSED AWAY TUESDAY

Mrs. W. C. Lawrence, of 695 Edgewood, wife of W. C. Lawrence, local florist, died Tuesday afternoon at the home at 5:15 o'clock, after a short illness. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Mrs. Lawrence was before her marriage Miss Annie Wells, youngest daughter of L. C. Wells, one of the pioneers of Atlanta. She was born on the site of the old Wells homestead, corner of Whitehall and McDaniel streets.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three daughters, Misses Eleanor, Margaret and Frances Lawrence.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF MRS. BUCKALEW THIS AFTERNOON

The funeral services of Mrs. J. P. Buckalew, who died Monday afternoon at her home, 344 South Pryor street, will be conducted from the home this afternoon. Rev. Robert Lambkin and Rev. S. R. Belk will officiate. Interment will be at West View cemetery with H. M. Patterson & Son in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Buckalew had made Atlanta her home for many years, and was widely known in the south. She was before her marriage Miss Mattie Cowan, and a member of one of the oldest families in the south. She was the daughter of the late Dr. J. J. Cowan.

Mrs. Buckalew had twice been married. Her first husband was George Martin, member of an old South Carolina family. Her second husband was the late J. P. Buckalew.

Surviving her are a daughter, Miss Mary Willie Martin, and a brother, Joseph L. Cowan.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF CAPT. MITCHELL

The funeral services of Captain Samuel Dalton Mitchell, who died Monday morning at the home, 41a Piedmont avenue, were held Tuesday afternoon.

Rev. Richard Orme Flynn, pastor of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, and the Rev. Thomas P. Cleveland conducted the services. Interment was in West View cemetery.

At the time of his death Captain Mitchell was color bearer for the Atlanta chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and members of this chapter were in attendance at the funeral in a body to pay their last respects to their departed comrade and friend.

Captain Mitchell was a former commander of Camp 159, United Confederate Veterans. Veterans and county commissioners acted as an honorary escort.

The following were pallbearers: Dr. J. B. Baird, Sr., A. J. Shropshire, W. H. Gibbons, R. A. Hemphill, John W. Lindsay, Frank Eaves and A. B. Reaves. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Barclay & Brandon.

MANY EARLY ENTRIES FOR WORK-HORSE DAY

The work horse parade for Monday afternoon, December 2, promises to be a red-letter event in the history of the reorganized Atlanta Humane society.

So far there are forty-seven entries of single teams, and twenty-six double teams. In addition, Captain Pinkham, of the remount station at Camp Gordon, will enter two line teams of six each, beside which there will be a number of ponies and donkies entered by the children of Atlanta.

Among those entering are Reliable Laundry company, Atlantic Ice and Coal company, Morrow Transfer company, S. Tutt, Carolina Portland Cement company, Acme Coal company, Will Hill, Ed Jackson, Meinert Coal company, American Railway Express company, S. T. Tigney, Troy Laundry company, Creety Brothers, Atlanta Baggage and Cab company, Piedmont Coal company, McCord & Stewart, Atlanta Linen company, Piedmont laundry, W. L. Fain company, Randall Coal company, McCullough Brothers, Manhattan Fruit company, McDonald Furniture company, Bell laundry, Standard Oil, West Lumber company, American laundry, Loose-Wiles Biscuit company, Smith-Simpson Lumber company, Guthman laundry, and city of Atlanta.

The committee in charge is composed of Lucien York, chairman; Oscar Mills, A. A. Jamison, Mrs. E. P. McBurney, Miss Bessie Kempton, C. D. Knight, Mrs. Gertrude V. Kelly, Mrs. Katherine Weathersbee, Meyer Regenstein, W. J. Rudland, Mrs. Joseph N. Moody and Frank T. Reynolds.

The judges, who will meet at the governor's mansion, are Forrest Adair, Frank Stewart, Ben Treadwell, Dr. Floyd McRae, Chief W. B. Cody, N. M. McCullough, Captain James W. Tnglish, Julius DeGive, Mrs. John Marshall Slaton, Mrs. John Hill, Mrs. Cobb Caldwell, Mrs. Phinizy Calhoun and Mrs. Edwin F. Johnson. The prizes will be $100 in cash and $100 in merchandise.

We Tell You In Advance
The Price You Pay

Our FREE Examination System enables you to know exactly what your work will cost before it is begun.

PLATES Made and Delivered 3ame Day.

Palace Dental Rooms
5 W. Alabama St.
Phone M. 1946.
Open Daily 8 to 6.

Set of Teeth $5 — Crown or Bridge $3
Silver Filling $1 — Gold Filling $2
OLD PLATES made like new $1 to $3
All other work low in proportion and all work GUARANTEED.

G. L. LEMON AND COMPANY
CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS
901 Healey Bldg. Phone Ivy 4754. Atlanta, Ga.

Write for a Copy of Our Christmas Catalogue

Our twenty-fifth annual catalogue is ready for distribution.

This illustrated catalogue will solve your gift problems by suggesting new, seasonable, useful, appropriate and durable gifts. It will bring your shopping to you, save time, money and trouble.

Mail orders shipped prepaid.

Special attention paid to orders for gift goods.

This catalogue and booklet, "Facts About Diamonds," sent complimentary anywhere upon request.

Shop early.

Make this a jewelry Christmas.

MAIER & BERKELE, Inc.
Gold and Silversmiths
31 Whitehall Street
Established 1887

Thanksgiving--

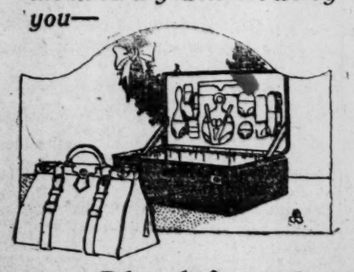

—is ever the coming—or the going time—one feels the natural bent to desert the Rut—to seek "free air"—on the open road—Get a warm rug—a lunch kit—a thermos bottle and—a fine crunchy real leather bag—

These are nearly all that are necessary to a real Thanksgiving—eh, what?

This store closes Thursday—12—noon—Thanksgiving

Get the first and last named at Muse's—and the rest of the ittinerary will not worry you—

Geo. Muse Clothing Co.
3-5-7 Whitehall

Cuticura Soap Will Help You Clear Your Skin
Soap, Ointment, Talcum, 25c. everywhere. Samples free of Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. X, Malden, Mass.

Keep away "Flu"

By sterilizing your throat and nostrils at night with

HODGES' CROUP RUB

The best preventative of this dread disease.

HODGES' CROUP RUB is the old-reliable family remedy for colds, catarrh, hay-fever, whooping cough, and for use in the prevention of influenza and pneumonia.

A bottle in your medicine chest is an insurance policy against the ravages of winter ills.

At your druggists'. 30c

Hodges Chemical Co.
MARIETTA, GA.

Five Points
—and—
The Citizens and Southern Bank

Member Federal Reserve System---

As a member of the Federal Reserve System and operating under the same proven plan, The Citizens and Southern Bank is governed by the same regulations and restrictions as those imposed on all members of the system under national laws.

Largest capital in southeast---

With $4,500,000 capital and surplus, The Citizens and Southern Bank is the largest southeastern stockholder in the Federal Reserve Bank. This means that it is able, under the regulations imposed by the system, to extend larger accommodation to big industry, where occasion requires it, than any other bank in this section.

Ready for big development---

The Citizens and Southern Bank is thus ready to take care of and co-operate with the big and new enterprises which are so rapidly coming to Atlanta and the South. It is able and ready to supply them with needed financial facilities for which many of them have, heretofore, been compelled to seek eastern connections. IT IS BRINGING THEM BACK HOME.

A valuable Atlanta asset---

Through this institution there has already come Atlanta's opportunity to finance BIG Atlanta projects. BANKING FACILITIES FOR BIGGER ATLANTA BUSINESS, which once were lacking, are now supplied through The Citizens and Southern Bank; and Atlanta is thus afforded a new and valuable factor in bringing new enterprises unto herself.

No account too large, none too small---

The slogan of The Citizens and Southern Bank means just what it says: Ready to meet and co-operate with the largest of Atlanta's industries and afford every needed facility for their legitimate development. The Citizens and Southern Bank also welcomes the small account and takes keen pleasure in assisting its substantial growth.

Think over these "Five Points" and come in and test the welcome that awaits you here

Officers Atlanta Bank:

FRANK HAWKINS.....Chairman of Board
THOMAS C. ERWIN.....Vice President
W. W. BANKS.....Vice President
A. M. BERGSTROM.....Vice President
JOHN W. GRANT.....Vice President
J. N. GODDARD.....Vice President
W. V. CROWLEY.....Cashier
MILLS B. LANE.....President
W. B. SYMMERS.....Assistant Cashier
A. J. HANSELL.....Assistant Cashier
HENRY COHEN.....Assistant Cashier
JNO. E. WALLACE.....Auditor
W. H. FITZPATRICK....Manager Savings Dept.
PAYNE & JONES.....Attorneys

The Citizens and Southern Bank
Atlanta---Marietta Street at Broad
Resources $67,000,000.00

Savannah Macon Augusta

IN THE REALM OF WOMAN'S AFFAIRS

Society

Miss Walker's Dancing Party.

Miss Ruby Walker will be hostess, at an informal dancing party this evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Walker, on Springdale road in Druid Hills.

The apartments where dancing will be enjoyed by the members of the college set, will be decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, and the lights shaded by orange colored silk shades. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock and continue until 1 o'clock.

Atlanta Music Study Chorus.

The chorus of the Atlanta Music Study club, Mrs. Armond Carroll, director, meets promptly at 10 o'clock this morning at Egleston Memorial hall, corner of West Peachtree street and North avenue.

All wanting to work with the chorus are cordially welcome, and are asked to be on time, that no one may lose any of the instruction or practice of the rehearsal.

Made to Measure Corsets

There are no two trees exactly alike; no two faces absolutely similar and no two figures having identical lines.

The creative artist in corsets comprehends the natural lines of the figure and enhances them so that the individuality of the wearer becomes pronounced.

Our Artistic Corsetiere, Mrs. Johnstone, was associated with Mme. Irene for six years.

The Tailor Made Corset Company

94 North Forsyth Street
Phone Ivy 4817

"Um-m-m"

Judges of good coffee can tell its grade by one whiff or taste, and are satisfied only with

St. Regis COFFEE

Blended from the very cream of the coffee crop and roasted to make it

"The coffee with few equals and no superiors"

Sold in air-tight, sanitary tins only.

Mutual Coffee Co.
Montgomery, Ala.
(1)

St. Regis

Women's Fine Shoes Reduced to $7.85

Clearance of Broken Lots
Values Up to $12.50

We have about 150 pairs of women's black, brown and gray boots—all-over leather or fabric tops—that are broken in size ranges and must be cleared out at once.

These shoes go on sale this morning at 8:30, for today only, and the values as well as the styles are exceptional.

Practically all sizes and widths are to be had in the collection, but not of any one style or color. Early choosing will be most satisfactory.

No exchanges, refunds, mail orders or C. O. D.'s—Each sale must be final.

Carlton Shoe & Clothing Co.
36 Whitehall Street

Today's Calendar.

The Home for Incurables will have a Thanksgiving shower at the residence of Mrs. A. W. Calhoun, on Peachtree street, all day.

Mrs. Rogers Winter will be hostess at a bridge party at the Capital City club, in compliment to Mrs. Gordon Mitchell, whose marriage was a recent interesting event.

Mrs. Thomas Addison will compliment Miss Laura Wyatt with a bridge tea at her home in West End.

Mrs. John S. Clarke will entertain this afternoon with a bridge party in honor of Mrs. Augustus Milton Anderson, who has recently returned from New York to reside in Atlanta.

At an elaborate reception to be given at her home on Piedmont avenue, Mrs. S. S. Dudley will introduce her debutante daughter, Miss Frances Dudley.

The Paramount club will entertain at an informal dance in the club rooms, Masonic hall, West End, this evening.

The Standard club announces the opening event of the winter season, the Thanksgiving ball for this evening at 9 o'clock.

Miss Ruby Walker will give an informal dance at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Walker, in Druid Hills.

The "Nine O'Clocks" will give the first dance of the season at Piedmont club.

The Co-Op club of Georgia Tech will entertain their members and the members of the course with an informal dance at Segadlo's this evening.

Miss Field, Talented Visitor.

Miss Medora Field, of Rome, arrives in Atlanta today to spend the Thanksgiving season with her aunt, Mrs. George J. Hansen, at her home on Angier avenue.

Miss Field has a very original and interesting story in the December number of The Woman's Home Companion, which is captioned, "The Christmas Spirit Speaks." It is an article of about two pages in length, and treats the subject in a manner most attractive, and is very unusually presented.

For Mrs. Brady.

Mrs. Lindsey Hopkins will entertain at luncheon Friday, at the Piedmont Driving club, in honor of her sister, Mrs. F. H. Brady, of Reno, Nev., who is visiting her.

Covers will be laid for 12 guests.

For Mrs. Mitchell.

Mrs. Willis Timmons will entertain at a luncheon Friday at the Capital City club in compliment to her sister, Mrs. Gordon Mitchell, a recent bride of October.

Dinner-Dance At East Lake.

The Atlanta Athletic club announces their annual Thanksgiving dinner-dance for Saturday evening at the East Lake Country club. The halls will be beautifully decorated with smilax and cut flowers and there will be an added feature which will be announced later. The tables will be arranged in the large living room and dining room and dinner will be served at 7:30 until 9 o'clock. The following have made reservations for tables for dinner, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Willingham will entertain a party, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Watkins will entertain a party of eight. Mr. Alfred Tompson will entertain. Mr. and Mrs. Haslett will also entertain.

O. E. S. Musical.

The following will take part in the Martha chapter, O. E. S., musical this evening: Misses Elizabeth and Mary Roswell, Dorothy Foster, Virginia Whitehead, Mary Holcombe, Mr. Paul Landon, Miss Earle Carter, Miss Mattie Ellis, Miss Miriam Broach, Mr. Harry Manley, Mr. Proger, Mr. Wooten, Miss Dorothy Collier, Mrs. Charles J. Foster and Mrs. Elizabeth Fielder.

The admission is 15 cents, and the program begins at 8 o'clock.

K. A. Dance.

The Alpha Sigma chapter of Georgia Tech, will entertain with an informal dance Friday evening at the Druid Hills Golf club. All of the active chapters will attend, as well as out-of-town chapters and alumni.

It will be a brilliant occasion and 300 guests will be entertained.

:: Makes Debut Today ::

Photo by Thurston Hatcher.

Miss Frances Dudley, the debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Dudley, who will be presented to society this afternoon at a reception given by Mrs. Dudley at her home on Piedmont avenue.

Standard Club Will Give Brilliant Ball Tonight

The opening ball at the Standard club this evening will be one of the most brilliant society events of the week. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock in the handsome ballroom of the club, and at 12 o'clock supper will be served.

The ballroom of the Standard club has recently been decorated and will be opened for the first time this season for this ball and for the pleasure of the members. The following men compose the officers and directors: Mr. C. S. Selig, Mr. Louis Regenstein, Mr. Nathan Bodenheimer, Mr. Julian Boehm, Mr. Herbert Haas, Mr. Charles Adler, Mr. Sig Samuels, Mr. S. Titlebaum, Mr. S. M. Rosenfeld, Mr. Al Fox, Mr. O. F. Sterne, Mr. Leo Strauss, Mr. Harold Montag and Mr. Harry I. Davis.

Those who have made reservations include: Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Apt, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Jacobus, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Stern, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Metzger, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Katz, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Freitag, Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Horwitz, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schlesinger, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Waser, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Revson, Colonel and Mrs. Harry Schlesinger, Mr. and Mrs. Sig Samuels, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Selig, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Oppenheim, Mr. and Mrs. William Kindgon, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Simon, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Metzger, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Dittler, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Haas, Mr. and Mrs. George Kohn, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Rosenfeld, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shulhafer, Mr. and Mrs. Max Samuels, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gershon, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rosenbaum, Mr. and Mrs. George Gershon, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Strauss, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Oberdorfer, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Schoen, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Haas, Mr. Leopold Heyn, Mr. Alex Schlesinger, Mr. Morris Brlar, Mr. Harold Montag, Mr. Clyde Fox, Mr. Ed Zacharias, Mr. Lester Einstein, Mr. Henry Jacobus, Mr. Morris Clark, Mr. Albert Selig, Mr. Leon Frohsin, Mr. Sidney Metzger, Mr. Dan Michalove, Mr. Joe Goss, Mr. Julian Steinau, Mr. Lawrence Fox, Mr. Eddie Cohen, Mr. Allen Summerfield, Mrs. Jake Bigler, Mrs. Louis Steinau, Mr. Leonard Jacobus and Mr. Harold Rice.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Mrs. H. L. Twiggs and children, of Elberton, are the guests of Mrs. William Hutchinson for the Thanksgiving season.

***

Mrs. Arthur Montgomery, who has been quite ill for several weeks at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue, is convalescing rapidly and will soon be sufficiently recovered to see her many friends.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Boswell, of New Orleans, announce the birth of a son, who has been named Robert Cooney Boswell for Mrs. Boswell's father, Mr. Robert L. Cooney, of Atlanta. Mrs. Boswell was formerly Miss Laura Lee Cooney. Mrs. Robert L. Cooney is expected to return from New Orleans on Friday, after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Boswell.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Beaumont Davison are in Florida. During their absence Mrs. Maude Maduox Henderson, the sister of Mrs. Davison, is at their home in Druid Hills.

***

Mrs. Lennie Heifner Hardwick and Mrs. Adeline Hopkins, and Master Robert Hopkins, are spending the winter in Florida.

***

Mr. Robert Gregg and Mr. Frank Adair are on a hunting trip in Florida.

***

Mrs. Frank Witter is in Hartford, Conn., and en route to Atlanta will visit relatives in Greenwood, S. C.

***

Mr. Robin Adair has returned to New York, after spending a week in Atlanta.

***

Little Miss Jeannette Branch entertained a group of friends at an informal party last Friday in celebration of her twelfth birthday.

***

Mrs. Isaac Schoen will return Wednesday from French Lick, Ind., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wenar and daughter, of New Orleans.

***

Miss Erskine Jarnagin, Miss Virginia Burum, of Augusta; Miss Elia Ellis, of Quincy, Fla., students of Agnes Scott college, were members of the week-end house party entertained by Miss Margaretta Womelsdorf, at her home in Cartersville.

***

Mr. E. Rivers continues quite ill at his home on Roxboro road.

***

Mrs. L. B. Sullivan and daughter, Mrs. W. W. Kirkpatrick, and Miss Virginia Sullivan left yesterday for Cincinnati, where they will spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. H. M. Ellis.

***

Miss Mamye Massengale, an attractive student of Wesleyan college, spent the week-end with Miss Lucile Warren.

***

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Warren and their attractive daughter, Miss Annie Lucia, arrived in the city last week and will make Atlanta their future home. Mrs. Warren is an accomplished musician and active in patriotic and U. D. C. work.

***

Miss Margaret Lawton, of Lena, S. C., is the guest of Mrs. Irving Meyers, and will be with Mrs. Thomas H. Daniel at her home on Spring street, after tomorrow.

***

Mr. Henry Grady, Jr., is convalescing from an illness of tonsilitis in New York. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grady are in New York at present.

***

Mrs. Harry Stearns and Miss Marion Stearns are in New York for a stay of two weeks.

***

Mrs. Charles C. McGehee has returned from New York.

ADENOIDS AND ENLARGED TONSILS DUE TO NEGLECT

Timely Attention Would Avoid Much Trouble and Danger.

If mothers and nurses would only learn that children's colds and sore throats are "acute catarrh" and lead to chronic catarrh, which in turn leads to adenoids and enlarged tonsils, many surgical operations would be spared their children.

Mothers should know, if they would only think, that infants and young children do not and cannot clear the phlegm from their air passages. The secretions accumulate, harden, become impure, unsanitary and irritating. Chronic inflammation (catarrh), ensues and produces adenoids, enlarged tonsils, pigeon chest (weak lungs) and predisposes to pneumonia and tuberculosis.

With a little attention all of this may be avoided, for the mother's problem of keeping the child's nose and throat in a sanitary condition and free from germs is now perfectly solved. Simply telephone the drug store for a family jar of Eucapine Salve, costing fifty cents, enough for a winter's supply. Eucapine is a mild and most agreeable salve especially prepared to keep the child's nose and throat in a sanitary condition and free from germs and secretions. Your druggist is familiar with the prescription, which consists of eucalyptus, wintergreen, menthol, camphor and pinus sylvestris, made into a soothing, cleansing, healing, and antiseptic salve which even the babies find most agreeable.

Rub Eucapine Salve up the nostrils for colds, and if the throat and tonsils are inflamed put a little of it on the back of the tongue from which it will spread to the tonsils and throat. Eucapine relieves croup in a few moments and is an indispensable aid to every intelligent mother. Even the little tots soon learn to use it for themselves and to ask for it when their air passages are irritated. The grown ups find it equally agreeable and effective in all catarrhal troubles of the nose and throat. Eucapine Salve may be had at any drug store.—(adv.)

A Campaign for Common Sense

BY ISMA DOOLY

In the drives for various things for the good of the nation and in the campaigns being waged for one good thing and another, it is a noticeable fact that common sense is the basic principle of most of them. For example, the thrift and savings movement the government is putting on is really just a plea for people to observe common sense, to protect themselves, and save rather than waste what they have.

Necessarily, the general observance of such a habit will react upon the nation and assure a kind of prosperity we have never had before—not just a prosperity in spots, and here and there among certain elements of people, but a general and extensive, prosperity, which reaches a greater number of people than have ever been reached before, and through a perfectly practical habit of saving.

Lack of knowing how to save has necessitated the building of thousands of institutions to take care of people who have not known how to look out for themselves.

Millions of dollars are given to the maintenance of these institutions, and because two-thirds of the people in them are the victims of spendthrift habits; or the children of spendthrift parents who have not known the way to provide for themselves and the inevitable "rainy day" which is apt to come to any individual, rich or poor. Haphazard, wasteful living is one of the weaknesses of our nation.

If people could only stop and face the situation of the Christmas season, for instance, and the chactic conditions which precede and follow Christmas, they would see how just a little common sense would help out wonderfully, especially in the matter of their shopping.

Not only for themselves would this mean much, but for the trades people who are so unnecessarily "ridden" at Christmas time.

The other day the postmaster here issued his appeal that people send Christmas packages ahead of time, not wait until the week before Christmas to mail them. He urges they send them far ahead to avoid the useless congestion, which causes disappointments and losses, not only to people individually, but to the government department of the postoffices.

There are hundreds of people who can just as well make their Christmas purchases now, as at any other time, but for some inexplicable reason they prefer waiting until later, when they know the inconvenience and confusion they will encounter, and the actual losses they will sustain in hurried purchases, in miscarried articles, and in the soiled condition they will find the Christmas stock by waiting until later.

Common sense, aside from the waste of it, suggests this early Christmas shopping which the government is agitating in the cause of thrift and the effort to reduce the high cost of living. Common sense, too, in many things would aid in the general adjustment of the world in its every relation, at the present moment.

There is no law to govern it, but what a wonderfully helpful and common sense thing it would be if people entering stores and going up or down the street in these crowded times would keep to the right!

People can just as easily walk to the right as any other way, and it is obvious if people walking in would walk to the right, and people walking out would walk to the right, there would be little or no necessity for the congestion which is already beginning on the streets and in the stores.

And why, oh! why do people entering a street car stop right inside the door?

Why do they not, if the car is crowded, proceed toward the front of the car and avoid the conductor having to call out: "Please go to the front and let the people in and let them pass!"

In this day of world progress and mental accomplishment one has only to enter the cars on the principal streets to note the fact that people will not advance to the front of the car as common sense would suggest, until almost forced to do it, by the conductor and the few common sense people who ask: "Please move on!"

If the observance of these few little common sense things could be put into general usage it would mean a great deal in adjusting the confusion which attends the business world at Christmas time, and makes the season in many ways a burden rather than a time of pleasure.

The Pageant Play Put on by Negro Students.

There will be a pageant play given by the Atlanta university Friday evening at the Auditorium-Armory. The occasion will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the Atlanta university.

Tickets will be on sale at the Cable Piano company and the prices will be: Box seats, $1.25; arena, $1; dress circle, 50 cents; balcony, 25 cents.

The musical program will be most attractive as well as the pageant. A part of the program will include: Melodies, Atlanta University chorus.

The Pageant—Smybolic characters in order of appearance, with music: Prelude—D minor (Nathaniel Dett).

History, Canon (Greig).

"Wild Men and King Ignorance"—Torch Dance (German); Juba Dance (Dett).

Gift Bearers—"Take Nabanji" (Coleridge-Taylor).

Slaves and Greed—(1) "Nobody Knows the Trouble I See," (2) "Couldn't Hear Nobody Pray," (3) "Now Is the Needy Time," (4) "Free at Last," (5) "Christian, Hold Your Light."

"Hate and Prejudice"—Prelude, C sharp minor (Rahmanioff).

Education—Hymn, "God of Our Fathers."

Indolence, Barcarolle (Offenbach).

Smattering, Pizzicati (Delibes).

Philander, "Melody of Love" (Englemann).

"Host of Shining Lives," Shepherd dance (German).

"Truth, Beauty and Love," Dance Caprice (Greig).

Mr. Warde Speaks Before Drama League.

Mr. Frederick Warde, the eminent actor, scholar and lecturer, spoke yesterday at 3:30 o'clock before a large audience, at the regular meeting of the Drama league, at Egleston Memorial hall. Rev. W. W. Memminger introduced the distinguished speaker, and the subject chosen for the afternoon was "The Wit and Wisdom of Shakespeare."

A number of different phases and changes have come and gone in the school of drama, but the Shakespearean drama continues to stand pre-eminent in the history of the theater and the minds and hearts of the public. Mr. Warde speaks in a highly interesting and wonderfully voiced manner, he told of numbers of incidents connected with the life of Shakespeare, noting the fact that his first play was "Love's Labor Lost," while his last was "The Tempest." He also pointed out to the audience that the reverence and belief in God was manifested by Shakespeare in all of his books, as this holy name appears 857 times in his works, this count being made and verified by a convict known by Mr. Warde, now serving a life sentence in a Connecticut prison, who has made a study of his books. Mr. Warde gave several dramatic passages from "Henry The Eighth," and entertained the audience with his art and gift of talent of portraying the noted Shakespeare.

THE ALERT PEN

For the Alert Scholar Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen with the desired point, can be had at Jno. L. Moore & Sons, the Opticians, 42 No. Broad St., Grant Bldg.—(adv.)

Randolph Beauty Parlors
58½ Whitehall St.

Marinello Massage, Hair Coloring, Foot Treatments, Electro Therapy, Electrolysis, Scalp and Facial Massage, Body Massage, Manicuring, Hairdressing, Hair-Work.

Horlick's the Original Malted Milk. Avoid Imitations and Substitutes

Wall Board
Ask for free Descriptive Booklet
Cooledge Paint & Glass Co.
12 North Forsyth St.
"On the Bridge"

Anniversary Party.

Mr. W. H. White entertained Monday evening at his home, "Whitehurst," with a surprise party in honor of his wife, the occasion celebrating their marriage anniversary.

The house was decorated in crysanthemums and autumn leaves, and dancing was the feature of the evening. A delicious hot supper was served to the guests who were Mr. and Mrs. Willis Timmons, Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Cone, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bridges, Mr. and Mrs. Elfred S. Popy, Mr. and Mrs. Frank [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. R. C. [illegible] D. Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. Casper Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Flynt, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic J. Paxon, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. D. Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Wardlaw, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. R. Ellis.

Logan-Keaney.

Mrs. Alice Staley Logan announces the marriage of her daughter, Blakely Cuyler, to Lieutenant Felix P. Keaney, medical corps, U. S. army, November 15, in New York city.

Special Thanksgiving Dinner, $1.50 per plate, served 11:30 to 8:30 p. m. Music, 12 to 2 and 5:30 to 7:30 p. m. Ruse & Cason, Kimball Cafe.

Gifts for the Wedding and for the Anniversary at the Studio of Mrs. William Lycett
159 Peachtree Street

Lamps and Shades.

16 Open Stock Dinnerware Patterns in Lenox, Wedgewood, Royal Doulton and Haviland China.

Hand-carved Floor and Table Lamps, Parchment and Silk Shades, Book Ends.

Artificial Flowers, Lace Paper Doilies.

Enameled Brass Candlesticks, Tiffany Glass,

Historic Door Knockers.

Newcomb Pottery.

Hand Illuminated Parchment Christmas Cards.

"The Store of Quality"

This Store is ready to serve you with the best of everything for your Thanksgiving Dinner.

If you prefer, you may do your shopping by phone, but we suggest that you come and see our splendid displays. You may find something that you have forgotten or that you did not know we had.

Early shopping is decidedly best, as selections are more complete in all stocks.

Richards & Smith
822 PEACHTREE ST.,
All Kinds of Fancy Western Meats, Fancy Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables.

©B

Society

Miss Stringfellow's Luncheon.

Miss Marjorie Stringfellow entertained at a beautiful buffet luncheon Tuesday at her home on Sixth street. The living room was decorated in pink chrysanthemums and Killarney roses, and a color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in the living room.

A silver basket of yellow and white chrysanthemums formed the central decoration of the luncheon table and tall silver candlesticks held yellow unshaded candles. The silver compotes and bonbon dishes were filled with yellow and white mints and crystallized fruit.

Miss Stringfellow, who was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. S. P. Stringfellow, and Mrs. Jack Pearse received her guests, wearing an afternoon toilet of French blue georgette crepe.

Mrs. Stringfellow was gowned in heavy black satin with lace collar and cuffs.

Thirty guests were entertained.

In Honor of Miss Wyatt.

Miss Laura Wyatt, a bride-elect of December, was the central figure at a tea and sachet shower given Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Robert Strickland, at her home on Juniper street.

Tea was served in the dining room, which was decorated in pink chrysanthemums and ferns.

The center decoration of the prettily appointed tea table was a silver basket filled with pink and white chrysanthemums. Silver compotes held pink and white mints.

Those present were: Miss Wyatt, Mrs. Laura Wyatt, Mrs. Burton Wyatt, Miss Marjorie Thomas, Miss Hazel Kirk, Miss Adelaide Setz, Miss Mary Graves, Miss Margaret Rosser, Miss Mary Louise Heinking, Miss Claire Dickey, Mrs. Fred Thomas, Mrs. George Wight, Mrs. Ott Alston, Mrs. Palmer Blackburn, Mrs. Julia Downman, Mrs. Charles E. Downman, Mrs. C. E. Boyd and Mrs. James E. Dickey.

For Mrs. Cook.

Mrs. Arthur Flowers was hostess at a pretty bridge-luncheon Tuesday at her home in Ansley Park, in compliment to Mrs. George Lindsey Cook, of Virginia, who is the guest of her mother, Mrs. J. W. Fielder. Lavender chrysanthemums were used in profusion in the living room, and the color scheme of yellow was carried out in the dining room by the use of golden chrysanthemums.

Kewpies, dressed in lavender, were the score cards. At the conclusion of the game a hot luncheon was served. The honor guest was presented wth a pair of lace hose, and the first and consolation prizes were a piece of georgette crepe lingerie and a deck of cards.

Those present were Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Spencer Struble, Mrs. Morris Ewing, Mrs. Perry Blackshear, Mrs Lucius McConnell, Mrs. Henry Troutman, Mrs. Graham Williams, Mrs. Carson Sewell, Mrs. Vernon Hall, Mrs. F. J. Fuller and Miss Anna Watson.

DANCING

Mon.-Wed.-Sat., 9 to 12. Special dance Thanksgiving, 8 to 12. Refreshments. Prizes, novelties. Regular admission price. Private lessons day or night. Ivy. 5786.
LANE'S

AIRY FAIRY FLOUR

Imparts a new goodness to bread and cakes.

Ask your grocer for it.
A. McD. WILSON CO.
41 E. Alabama St.
Atlanta, Ga.

The Flavor Lasts

GUARANTEE
If, after using the entire contents of can according to directions, you are not satisfied in every respect, your grocer will refund the money you paid for it.

Nothing will lose its flavor more quickly than coffee when exposed to air. Luzianne is sold only in individual air-tight tin cans—never in bulk.

LUZIANNE coffee
The Reily-Taylor Company
New Orleans

The Further Adventures of Jimmie Dale

BY FRANK L. PACKARD

Author of "The Miracle Man," "The Wire Devils," "The Adventures of Jimmie Dale," Etc.

Copyright, 1919, for The Constitution.

(CHAPTER II.—CONTINUED.)

He had returned then, like a man dazed, to his home on Riverside drive, and had locked himself in his den to think it over. She had covered her tracks well—and had done it in a masterly way because she had done it simply. It was possible that she had actually gone away for a trip; but it was more probable that she had not. He had had, of course, no means of knowing; but the sort of peril that threatened her, his intuition told him, was not such as to be diverted by the mere expedient of absenting himself from New York temporarily; and, besides, she had said that she would fight it out. She could hardly do that in the person of Marie LaSalle, or away from New York. She was clever, resourceful, resolute and fearless—and those very traits opened a vista of possibilities that left his mind staggering blindly as in a maze. She was gone—and alone in the face of deadly menace. He remembered then the curious, unnatural calmness underlying the mad whirling of his brain at the thought that that was not literally true, that she was not, nor would she ever be alone—while he liked it was only a question of how he could help her. It had seemed almost certain that the danger threatening her came from one of two sources—either from those who were left of the Crime club, relentless, savage for vengeance on account of the ruin and disaster that had overtaken them; or else from the Magpie, and behind the Magpie, massed like some Satanic phalanx, every denizen of the underworld, for Silver Mag had disappeared coincidently with Larry the Bat, coincident with the Magpie's attempted robbery of the supposed Henry LaSalle's safe, to which plot she was held by the underworld to be a party, coincidently with the dispersion of the Crime club, and coincidently with the reappearance of the hiress Marie LaSalle—and, further, Silver Mag stood condemned to death in the Bad Lands as the accomplice of the Gray Seal. But Silver Mag had disappeared. Had the underworld, prompted by the Magpie, solved the riddle—did it know, or guess, or suspect that Silver Mag was Marie LaSalle?

Which was it? The Crime club, or the Magpie? Here again he could not know, though he inclined to the belief that it was the latter; but here, in either case, the means of knowing, of helping her, the way, the road, was clearly defined—and the road was the road to the underworld. But Larry the Bat was dead and the road was barred. And then a half finished painting standing on an easel at the rear of his den had brought him inspiration. It was one of his hobbies—and it swung wide again for him the door of the underworld. None, in a broken-down, disappointed, drug-shattered artist, would recognize Larry the Bat! The only similarity between the two—the one thing that must of necessity be the same in order to explain plausibly his intimacy with the dens and lairs of Crimeland, the one thing that would, if nothing more, assure an unsuspicious, tolerant acceptance of his presence there, was that, like Larry the Bat, he would assume the role of a confirmed dope fiend; but as there were many dope fiends, thousands of them in the Bad Lands, that point of similarity, even if Larry the Bat were not believed to be dead, held little, if any, risk. For the rest, it was easy enough; and so there had come into being these wretched quarters here, the New Sanctuary—and Smarlinghue.

But the mere assumption of a new role was not all—it was not there that the difficulty lay; it was in gaining for Smarlinghue the confidence of the underworld that Larry the Bat had once held. And that had taken time—was not even yet an accomplished fact. The intimate, personal acquaintance of Larry the Bat with every crook and dive in Gangland had aided him, as Smarlinghue, to gain an initial foothold, but his complete establishment there had necessarily had to be of Smarlinghue's own making. And it had taken time. Six months had gone now, six months that, as far as the Tocsin was concerned, had been barren of results mainly, he encouraged himself to believe, because his efforts had been always limited and held in check; six months of anxious, careful building, and now, just as he was regaining the old-time confidence that Larry the Bat had enjoyed, just as he was reaching that point where the whispered secrets of the underworld once more reached his ears and there was a promise of success if, indeed, she were still alive, had come this thing tonight that spelt ruin to his hopes and ultimate disaster to himself.

If she were still alive! The thought came flashing back; and with a low, involuntary moan, mingling anguish of mind with a bitter, merciless fury, he turned restlessly upon the cot. If she were still alive! No sign, no word had come from her; he had found no clue, no trace of her as yet through the channels of the underworld; his surveillance of the Magpie, whose friendship he had begun to cultivate, had, so far, proved fruitless.

It came upon him now again, the fear, the dread, which he had known so often in the past few months, that seemed to try to undermine his resolution to go forward, that whispered speciously that it was useless—that she was dead. And misery came. And he lay there staring unseeingly into the moonrays as they streamed in through the top light.

Time passed. Then a smile played over Jimmie Dale's lips, half grim, half wistful; and the strong, square jaw was suddenly outflung. If she was alive, he would find her; if she was dead—his clenched hand lifted above his head as though to register a vow—the man or men, her murderer or murderers, whether tomorrow or in the years to come, would know a day of reckoning when they should pay the debt!

But that was for the future. Tonight there was this vital, imminent danger that he had to face, this decision to make whose pros and cons seemed each to hold an equal measure of dismay. What was he to do?

He laughed shortly, ironically after a moment. It was as though some malignant ingeunity had conspired to trap him. He was caught either way. What was he to do? The question kept pounding at his brain, growing more sinister with each repetition. What was he to do? Defy the police—and be branded as a stool-pigeon, a snitch, an informer in every nook and cranny of the underworld! He could not do that. Everything, all that meant anything in life to him now would be swept from his peach at even the first breath of suspicion. Nor was it an idle threat that his unwelcome visitor had made. He was not fool enough to blind himself on that score—it could be only too easily accomplished. And on the other hand—but what was the use of torturing his brain with a never-ending rehearsal of details? Was there a middle course? That was his only chance. Was there a way to safeguard Smarlinghue and, yes, this miserable hovel of a place, priceless now as his new Sanctuary.

He followed the moonpath's slant with his eyes to where it touched the floor and disclosed the greasy, threadbare, pitiful carpet. A grim whimsicality fell upon him. It would be too bad to lose it! It was luxury to what Larry the Bat had known! There had not even been a carpet in the old Sanctuary, and—he sat suddenly bolt upright on the cot, his eyes, that had mechancally traveled on along the moon path, strained now upon where the light fell upon the threshold of the door. There was a little white patch there, a most curious little white patch—that had not been there when he had thrown himself on the cot. Came a sudden, incredulous thought that sent the blood whipping fiercely through his veins; and with a low cry, in mad, feverish haste now, he leaped from the cot and across the room.

(CONTINUED TOMORROW.)

Citizenship School.

The citizenship school will meet Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the McClure building, 11 Whitehall street.

Mrs. Rose M. Ashby will give the fourth of a series of lectures on parliamentary law.

The French class will meet at 3 o'clock. An interesting feature will be questions and answers by the class.

Lessons are free and all interested are cordially invited to attend.

KWIZ

Reg. Pdg. U. S. Pat.Off.

Answers to Yesterday's KWIZ.

1. Charles Dickens wrote "The Pickwick Papers."
2. There are 32 quarts to a bushel in dry measure.
3. Kentucky is called the "Blue Grass" state.
4. The kangaroo is the peculiar animal native to Australia.
5. A cofferdam is any water-tight compartment.
6. A codicil is the added proviso of a will made by the individual as an afterthought of revision.
7. It was Moses who descended from a mountain bearing the tablets of the Ten Commandments.
8. The abbreviation "Mss" stands for "manuscripts."
9. A diadem is a crown worn by royalty.
10. The Mayo brothers are celebrated American surgeons, who live in Rochester, Minn.

New Questions.

1. Who was the first born, Cain or Abel?
2. What is mesquite?
3. What is the highest tribunal in the United States?
4. What ruler financed Christopher Columbus on his voyage of discovery?
5. What is the principal city of Egypt?
6. What is a chronometer?
7. What is the meaning of the sign "¢?"
8. Who was James Fennimore Cooper?
9. In legal parlance, what is the meaning of a waiver of examination in a criminal action?
10. What is a prelate?

Y. W. C. A. GIRLS TO ENTERTAIN MILL CHILDREN

The Wide Awake club of the Young Woman's Christian association will entertain 25 or more children from the Fulton Bag and Cotton mill section with a Thanksgiving party and supper at the Y. W. C. A., 4th floor Arcade building, Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. Miss Evelyn Moore, president of the Wide Awake club, will have her class at Crew Street school entertain the children with a Cinderella play. The school children are filling bags of fruit for the little guests to take home. Games will be played during the evening, after which automobiles will take the children home, having brought them to the party. The Wide Awake club, in December, will put on a black-face minstrel to make a fund for a Christmas tree for poor children.

On Wednesday evening, the S. I. S. P. club of the Y. W. C. A., will make a contribution of food to a family through the Associated Charities. This club has a membership of 80 girls and young women and their offering will be a generous one.

HURST Dancing School, Lee & Gordon Sts., West End.

We Teach You Correct Ball Room Dancing
"WE KNOW HOW"
Private lessons daily 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.
Class lessons daily 8 to 10 p. m
Member American National Association Masters of Dancing.
For appointment phone West 9119.

For Your Personal Inspection---
At
134 Peachtree Arcade

we have on display an original and distinctive line of Christmas Greeting Cards, inculding handsome hand-tinted cards of the latest design; numerous new and attractive styles in ribbon-tied folders, steel died in attractive colors and designs with individual sentiments.

Place orders now for December delivery.

Webb & Vary Co., Inc.
Printers, Engravers and Stationers

Meeting Notices

The Atlanta section, Council of Jewish Women, will meet Wednesday, November 26, at 3 o'clock in the Sunday school auditorium of the temple. Members and friends are cordially invited.

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher association of the W. F. Slaton school will be held Wednesday afternoon, November 26, at 2:30 o'clock. All patrons of the school are urged to attend.

Georgia chapter, No. 127, O. E. S., will hold its regular meeting in Lebanon temple, corner Georgia avenue and South Pryor street, Thursday evening, November 27, at 7:30 o'clock. All members of the order cordially invited. Work in the degrees.

"The Reviewers" will meet Wednesday afternoon, November 26, at Carnegie library. The subject for the afternoon will be "Problems in Materia Medica and Surgery." Mrs. M. J. Dauer will be leader and Mrs. E. C. Cartledge will speak on "The Geography of Medicine" (war's effect upon the world's source of supply). The excellent program of the "Reviewers" is being greatly enjoyed this winter.

Honoring Bride-Elect.

A pretty event of Saturday afternoon was the bridge party at which Mrs. J. M. Hewitt entertained in compliment to Miss Helen Grigolite, whose marriage to Mr. Jack Elliott will take place on Thursday.

Mrs. J. B. Boatenreiter won the first prize, and the consolation was cut by Mrs. Phil G. Keeney. Miss Grigolite was presented with a dainty piece of lingerie. After the game a delicious salad course was served.

The guests included Mrs. Asmon Lewis, Mrs. Milas, Mrs. Edgar Alexander, Mrs. R. W. Statham, Mrs. Phil Keeney, Mrs. G. W. Clayton, Mrs. James Callaway, Mrs. Allen Young, Mrs. H. G. Grigolite, Mrs. Callaway, Mrs. Cox, Miss Marie Elrod, Miss Olga Wallace, Miss Grace Hopper, Miss Eva Grigolite, Mrs. J. B. Boatenreiter.

ASK YOUR NEIGHBOR

It has been said that there is now hardly a city, town or village in this country wherein some woman does not reside who has found health in that good, old-fashioned remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Therefore, if you are suffering from some ailment, and hardly know what to do for it, and have tried other remedies without help, ask your neighbor if she has ever usd Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If she herself has never had the need for it, undoubtedly she knows others who were just in your condition and who have been restored to health by its use.—(adv.)

ANNOUNCEMENT

For the benefit of those who have planned to purchase a phonograph for Christmas we feel it our duty to announce an advance in price on December 1st of the

NEW EDISON
"The Phonograph With a Soul"

We have a limited number of the various styles and finishes, and anyone placing their order now may avail themselves of the present prices.

PHONOGRAPHS INC.
Edison Concert Hall 182 Peachtree St.

Forget Sugar Worries with Karo

THERE'S lots of sweetness in Karo. In millions of homes it is used instead of sugar for cooking, baking and candy-making.

Karo now, as it has done for years, supplies the sweets for the daily menu.

For successful preserving use Karo half and half with sugar or straight Karo if you prefer.

Buy in Quantities—Save Money

There are Three Kinds of Karo
"Crystal White"-in the Red Can, "Golden Brown"-in the Blue Can, "Maple Flavor" the new Karo with plenty of substance and a rich Maple Taste-in the Green Can.

VERY IMPORTANT TO MOTHERS

Prepare for Xmas Candy-making at Home this year. Sugar shortage means a Candy shortage and Higher prices for candy. Karo candies are easily and economically made at home. FREE—Write us today for beautifully illustrated book of recipes. Shows how to make Xmas Candies at home. Corn Products Refining Company, P. O. Box 161, New York City.

"A Little Powder, A Little Paint---"

What every woman wants to know—the art of make-up.

For the street, for home, and for social affairs.

Proper facial make-up is as essential today to the woman who would not appear freakish, as is proper costuming. The art of applying the lipstick, of using the rouge pot, the cold cream jar and the rabbit's foot cannot be properly learnt without study.

THE DOLLY SISTERS, famous beauties of the American stage, will tell the women readers of The Constitution just how to secure the best results from the equipment of their toilet tables.

In a series which will appear daily on the Woman's Page, every woman will be told how she may make the most of the beauty which Nature has supplied, by enhancing its allurement by the touch of art.

IN THE CONSTITUTION

Use Constitution Want Ads for Results

Society

Capital City Club.

The regular Tuesday evening dance was given last night at the Capital City club which included a number of congenial parties.

Mr. Thomas Colby entertained in honor of Mr. Dudley Golding, of Wichita Falls, Texas.

His guests were Miss Emmie Dunden, of Jackson, Ga., Miss Georgia Rice, Mr. Dudley Golding and Mr. John M. Heath.

For Mrs. Botchford.

Mrs. Henry Botchford, of Moosic, Pa., is visiting Mrs. Lee Jordan at her home on Peachtree road, and was the guest of honor at an informal luncheon yesterday given by Mrs. Jordan at the Druid Hills Golf club. The guests invited to meet the honor guest were the members of the Sewing club, of which the hostess is a member. Mrs. Botchford formerly resided in Atlanta, and has a circle of friends who will be interested in learning of her visit here at this season.

Music for the Nine O'Clock Club.

For the musical feature of the 9 o'clock ball at the Piedmont Driving club Wednesday evening, the "Shell Shock" jazz band will be combined with the "Syncopated Six," the new novelty orchestra now appearing at the Capital City club.

For some time past the leader of these two orchestras, Dick Tope, has been securing exclusive dance numbers for this occasion.

A routine will be presented, including the feature numbers of leaders in the various northern clubs, and the rag-time which the south has made famous.

BEAUTY CHATS

BY EDNA KENT FORBES

Copyright, 1919, for The Constitution

The Merely Perfect Girl

It seems to me sometimes that of the letters I receive from girls at least half of them run like this: "If it weren't for my nose, my face would be perfect;" "I am considered very beautiful except for my mouth, which is too large;" "I know I am a second Venus de Milo, but my chin recedes too much." These girls seem to think that the ideal of beauty is a matter of perfect features, whereas the truth is, the merely perfect girl is apt to be very uninteresting.

Most young girls seem to agree that it is necessary to have large eyes and a straight nose, a Cupid's bow mouth and a pointed chin, with a complexion as pink and white as a bisque doll's, in order to be beautiful. This, of course, is a youthful idea. Older women have found out from experience that the most beautiful people of their acquaintance fall far below the perfection of feature of a Greek statue. To be really beautiful there must be a soul behind the eyes; if this exists, the eyes themselves may be large or small and any color from the palest blue to the deepest brown or black. The nose must show refinement; if it has this quality, its irregularity will not detract from its beauty. The mouth must show sympathy; the so-called Cupid's bow rarely shows any character at all.

So, if you have various flaws in your features, do not spend your time worrying over them. Improve yourself as much as you can. The world needs all the pretty women it can produce. Make the best of your good points and try to see whether, after all, there may not be some virtue in a feature which you have always considered imperfect.

One needs more than perfect features.

Questions and Answers.

Mrs. J. E. W.—Crude oil is thick and dark and has a decided odor. It is nothing but oil before it has passed through the various stages of refining. If you cannot get ice, rinse the face with water as cold as you can procure and add a few drops of tincture of benzoin to the basin. This makes a slightly milky water and is an excellent astringent.

Bessie—Try massaging the nose every day with a piece of ice. This will help overcome the appearance of fleshiness. A daily warm bath and strict attention to your diet will clear your complexion.

SEEK READING MATTER FOR WOUNDED BOYS

If you have any old magazines, books or periodicals they can be utilized by the 1,700 wounded soldiers at Fort McPherson, A. Baumberger, executive secretary of the War Camp Community service, announced yesterday. He urges all Atlantans to assist the boys in passing the time in the hospital wards by bringing all reading matter they have no further use for to either the information booth on the plaza at Five Points or else to the Soldiers' and Sailors' club, 190 Peachtree street.

The Rotary club, the Kiwanis, Ad Men and other civic associations have recently entered into a campaign to have all their members bring down old magazines and books and now the effort will be extended throughout the city. It is hoped that enough magazines will be obtained to provide all of the boys with reading matter at all times.

The Testing Of Julia Grant

A Friend in Need.
READ THE FIRST.

A woman who hesitates for a moment between love and duty can certainly be said to have character, no matter what she eventually decides to do. Julia Grant had promised Dan Carson to marry him, but she discovered suddenly her love for another man, John Norville, a hospital surgeon. Even though Dan has jilted Julia for another woman and this was her second promise to him, Julia felt that in honor she had to go through with it. The thought never occurred to her to pay Dan back in his own coin. Then Julia discovered that Lucy, her younger sister, was miserably unhappy because she, too, was in love with Dan.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XLVII.

Julia, cold with her usual calm frigidity, was one thing, and Julia, icy with the calm of despair, was quite another. It was one thing continually to excuse Julia's manner to oneself by saying that she would be different once she was married; in fact, it was easy to comfort oneself with such ideas when one did not know the truth. But after Julia had openly confessed to Dan that she loved another man and Dan knew that he was holding Julia to him because she was too honorable to break a promise, things seemed different. Of course, he did not admit this, even to himself, but it was there just the same, and for the first time Dan's ability to make Julia happy was a thing he was not quite sure of. He did not say to himself as he once had that of course Julia loved him and that everything would come out all right. Instead he caught himself watching her with a little catch in his heart and a misgiving in his mind. He was unusually tender with her, too, and she was very grateful to him when he spared her his usual caresses. They were closer these days than they had been in a long time, and Dan for the first time in his life was being unselfish, denying himself something that he wanted. And that he did want Julia, want her more than anything else in life was certain. His new love for her made him want to touch her, but he denied himself that. One moment his self-assurance would return and in a burst of confidence he would draw her to him, but there was something about her submission that hurt him worse than her repulsion would have done. It was in those moments that Dan, sick at heart, would confess to himself that it was too late, that he could not make Julia love him, that although she would become his wife, he could never have anything but the lovely shell, and that her heart would always belong to another man.

The old Grant house took on a festive air, and various wedding presents began to arrive. Each one brought a fresh stab to Julia, a realization of what she had before her, but the trips to the dressmaker's were even worse. Julia was to be married in the traditional white satin and lace, and her dress was being fashioned by the dressmaker who did all the fashionable clothes in the neighborhood. It was quite the thing to be able to say to one's friends that Madame Chapelle was finishing a new gown, or that Madame Chapelle "was really getting too exorbitant in her prices, my dear." It placed the social climber immediately in the desirable class, and Mrs. Grant made the most of the fact that the great madame was actually making Julia's wedding gown.

Madame Chapelle, a thin little woman with a tired face and unusually sharp, colorless eyes would make Julia stand on a raised platform before a mirror when the dress was fitted. The light poured through the thinly-curtained windows and Julia was acutely conscious of madame's foolish questions that were hard to answer. Once Julia cried bitterly when she went into the little room next to the fitting room to dress. She hadn't slept any the night before, and madame's badgering had been unusually keen. She spoke about it to her mother that day when she got home, and Mrs. Grant laughed at her.

"Oh, my dear, madame always does that, it's just her way. You ought to laugh her off; you're foolishly sensitive, Julia."

"I don't think any woman ought to talk to a girl like that," Julia persisted. "It takes the romance of life away."

"Oh, nonsense, you'll get over those ideas after you're married. Girls always think things and dream dreams beforehand. Madame didn't mean anything."

But Julia was hurt at her mother's attitude. It just seemed that there was no one at all who understood her these days, no one she could go to for sympathy or advice, and the time was growing so short, and everything ahead looked so more than dark. And then quite suddenly one afternoon about a week before her wedding, just as she had met her long ago when she needed some one sorely, Julia met Martha Blake. The sight of her fresh, healthy face brought the tears to Julia's eyes and a tiny ray of happiness into her heart. Martha took Julia home with her, and over hot tea and little spice cakes Martha told Julia that she was making a mistake of her life.

Wales Sails for Home.

Halifax, N. S., November 25.—The prince of Wales sailed for home this afternoon on the battle cruiser Renown.

NEW BUILDINGS TO COST $200,000 WILL BE ERECTED

Announcement of the beginning of construction work on a number of new buildings was made Tuesday morning by the Massell Construction company. The new buildings that will be erected in various parts of the city are expected to cost in the neighborhood of $200,000.

The Massell Construction company will begin within a short time the erection of a building of three stories at 129 South Forsyth street. This building will be occupied by the Goldin Harness company, and will cost about $75,000.

The same concern will begin shortly the construction of three new stores at the corner of Ponce de Leon and Boulevard. These buildings will also cost about $75,000.

A new garage for Colonel Lee Douglas will also be erected by the same company. This building, which will contain 4,000 feet of floor space, will be built at 124 Piedmont avenue.

It will be leased to W. J. Milam. A building at the corner of Bartow and Luckie streets, which is to be erected by the Massell Construction company, will be on a lot 43 by 135 feet. It will also have a basement. This building will be leased to the Munn Sign company.

134 PEACHTREE ARCADE

Christmas Greeting Cards
Dance Programs Party Invitations
Wedding Announcements

Webb & Vary Company Inc.
Printers, Engravers, Stationers

A skilled tea-taster tests each blend of Tetley's.

A steaming fragrant cup of Tetley's Orange Pekoe Tea—deep colored and full flavored—is refreshing and stimulating. You'll like it!

Tetley's Tea

Gathered from the world's finest gardens—blended from 15 or more different teas. It's the skilful blending that gives Tetley's Tea that delicious flavor. Try some with dinner tonight.

Beautiful Luxurious Furs

At One-Third Less Than the Regular Values

Closed All Day Thursday, Thanksgiving

—Secured from one of the leading furriers of the East who sold at a price in order to unload his surplus stock before the holidays.

An opportunity to secure one of these handsome pieces to wear Thanksgiving Day at an unusual saving. Too, there are splendid possibilities for Christmas gifts in this offering.

Too much cannot be said about them. The big window display tells the story. Those who came in response to our ad Monday know that we are not exaggerating.

Every piece—every garment—represents the very highest grade of peltries, in Fashion's most approved styles.

From the tiny cravat to the more royally sumptuous coat there is an air of distinction—an exclusiveness—that places them above the ordinary. No two pieces alike except in excellency of quality.

Here are a few taken at random—we can't mention all—but these will give you some idea of the assortment, and the values:

Blended Squirrel Cape	$ 69.75	Hudson Bay Sable	$175.00
Nutria Cape	75.00	Scotch Mole Coatee	195.00
Baumarten Scarf	89.75	Hudson Seal Scarf	212.75
Gray Squirrel Cape	112.75	Lynx Stole	275.00
Stone Marten Scarf	115.00	Kolinsky Scarf	299.75
Georgette Fox	124.75	Eastern Mink	325.75
Beaver Cape	145.00	Hudson Seal Coat	425.00
Taupe Fox Scarf	139.75	Nutria Coatee	375.00
Scotch Mole Stole	150.00	Hudson Seal Coat	450.00

—All charge purchases made during the remainder of this month will appear on December statements, not due until January.

KEELY'S

Store Opens 9:00 O'Clock — REGENSTEIN'S — Closes 5:30 P. M.

A "Regenstein's" Hat Sale

One Day Only---Today

250 Trimmed Hats — 250 Trimmed Hats

HALF PRICE

Another collection of smart trimmed Hats—from our regular stock—goes on sale this morning—9 o'clock. This is a fine Thanksgiving Bargain.

$10.00 Trimmed Hats Now	$ 5.00
$12.50 Trimmed Hats Now	6.25
$15.00 Trimmed Hats Now	7.50
$18.00 Trimmed Hats Now	9.00
$20.00 Trimmed Hats Now	10.00
$22.50 Trimmed Hats Now	11.25
$25.00 Trimmed Hats Now	12.50
$30.00 Trimmed Hats Now	15.00
$35.00 Trimmed Hats Now	17.50

SALE ONE DAY---TODAY ONLY

All charge purchases made now and balance of November will show on your December statement—due in January

REGENSTEIN'S

Society

Mr. Warde to Be Guest of Honor.

Mr. Frederick Warde will be the guest of honor at the meeting of the Drama and Pageant committee of the Atlanta Woman's club this morning at 10:30 o'clock, at the Capital City club. The co-chairmen of this committee are: Mrs. Ulric S. Atkinson and Mrs. Earl Sherwood Jackson.

This pageant, "The Vision," will be presented on December 27 and 28 at the Auditorium, as a community gift to Atlanta.

"A Modern Cinderella" This Afternoon.

A gratifying interest has been manifested in the play "A Modern Cinderella," which will be presented at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday at the Marist college by the senior class of the Sacred Heart Parochial school. Besides the play, which is in two acts, the following specialties will be introduced:

1. Solo dance—Little Miss Thelma Chalmon.
2. Piano solo—Miss Mary Stephens.
3. Solo dance—Miss Nellie Sullivan.
4. Vocal solo—Miss Genevieve Croantes.

The personnel of the above incidental program needs no commendation as the public has enjoyed the exceptional talent on many occasions. Miss Nellie Sullivan who is graceful and has remarkable technical talent is cast as "The Modern Cinderella." She is supported by a cast of 14 pretty girls each of whom has been thoroughly coached in her respective role. Those taking part are: Misses Nellie Sullivan, Elizabeth Maurer, Eloise Hunley, Nanitta Antilotti, Mary Bell, Annie Ruth Perry, Dorothy Jernigan, Margaret Keeling, Nellie Hartley, Alma Bean, Leslie Belliveau, Mary Hammond, Margaret Bacon, Mary Stephens and Agnes Maile.

Barber Gives Recipe for Gray Hair

Mr. A. E. O'Brien, who has been a barber in New York city for many years, made the following statement: "Gray, streaked or faded hair can be immediately made black, brown or light brown, whichever shade you desire, by the use of the following remedy that you can make at home:

"Merely get a box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extras to buy. Dissolve it in 4 oz. of distilled or rain water and comb it through the hair. Full directions for use and a gold bond guarantee come in each box. One box will last you for months.

"It is safe, does not rub off, is not sticky or gummy and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger."—(adv.)

CRIMM'S

Crimm's prices on Eyeglasses, Spectacles, Lenses and Mountings are the very lowest, consistent with our high standard quality.

69 Whitehall, next to McClure's.

Davis & Freeman Diamonds

"The Store of Dependability"

There is a distinct charm about our diamond jewelry, created by the most skilled designers, platinum and goldsmiths.

Beautiful and extremely stylish are the bar pins, brooches and rings.

The advice of our diamond experts is valuable to you and costs you nothing. Why not use it?

DAVIS & FREEMAN

DIAMONDS

47 Whitehall

Thanksgiving Dinner at The Daffodil

Grapefruit—Maraschino
Queen olives Celery hearts
Young turkey—Oyster dressing—Cranberry sauce
Candied yams Sweet violet peas
Combination salad—French dressing
DAFFODIL PUMPKIN PIE
Coffee Tea Milk

Dinner $1.50 Also Usual Menu

111 NORTH PRYOR STREET

Your Home and You

BY HELEN KENDALL

(Copyright, 1919, for The Constitution)

A Screen Before the Fire

One of the nicest things about an open fireplace is the number of picturesque "fixin's" that go with it. Andirons alone are worth their weight in gold, instead of iron or brass, because of the atmosphere they lend to the glowing fire behind them. The fire irons—poker, shovel and tongs—some small and shiny, others in tall lengths of wrought iron, for handling big logs, furnish the fireplace pleasantly, and so do the old hobs, trivets, spits, bellows and toasting forks, and the Cape Cod lighter which we are sure to get for Chirstmas.

But one of the handiest and most decorative pieces of fireside furnishings, that oddly enough is not very often seen, is the screen that shuts the blaze away from the face when the fire is a trifle too hot, or stands between the dancing flames and one's eyes when one is reading.

These fire screens may be small, like that shown in the sketch—where an adjustable clamp permits the screen to slide up or down—or they may be low, square affairs, arranged to shut the heat away from the whole body at times. Both kinds are convenient to have within easy reach when the family life centers about the chimney. The small screen, mounted on a standard of iron, may have its barrier shield-shaped, as here, or oval, or oblong. Some antique ones have the screen made of a piece of copper or brass, with a design pierced on in small holes. Decorated leather makes a good screen and a light protection is given by a piece of silk in close folds. In fact, almost any fabric or material is suitable, and the more novel and unusual it is the more interesting it will be. A piece of heavy vellum, with a design in color painted on it, becomes transformed when the firelight shines through it.

Almost any of these screens, made and decorated by hand (even including the pierced copper) and fitted into a narrow frame, may be made by the lady who sits by the fire.

(Copyright, 1919, for The Constitution.)

Home Economics Department Meets.

The first meeting of the Home Economics department, Mrs. Wing, chairman, held in the Woman's club Tuesday morning at 10:30, was well attended by an enthusiastic body of representative Atlanta women.

The committee consists at present of Mesdames T. Brogdon, Harry Hermance, R. M. Striplin, Phil Townsend, M. L. Thrower, King, Albert Akers, S. R. Dull, C. E. Robertson, George McCutcheon, John Carlson, Walter Hill, I. C. Smullyan, Joseph Moody, W. Daub, Arthur Lucas, Irving Thomas, C. L. Loridans and others.

Some were prevented from attending the first meeting by the proximity of Thanksgiving, but the Thanksgiving dinner menus presented by Miss Estelle Bozeman, representing the home economics department of the State College of Agriculture, proved very helpful to the members attending.

Plans for the year to be followed by Mrs. Wing's committee include a cooking school, lectures, "discovery" meetings, study of time-saving appliances, the allowance and budget systems, co-operative buying, the use of food substitutes, and many other things contributing to a better home life.

Among the special speakers were Mr. Albert Baumberger, who offered the co-operation of the War Camp Community club, which is intended to be a community service in teaching better methods of living; Mrs. R. H. Dull, who will conduct the cooking school for the home economics committee of the Woman's club; Mrs. Irving Thomas, who spoke of the contemplated club restaurant, and of the proposed new Woman's club, and Miss Bozeman, who offered her assistance in all home economics work.

Mrs. Carable, employed by the Red Cross home service work, described feelingly her work among Atlanta's poor. This proved to be especially timely, as the home economics department voted to take as its special work the organization of a community demonstration kitchen in some district where the need is greatest.

The next meeting will be two weeks from today in the committee room unless otherwise announced in the newspapers. Any other club members desiring to join the committee will be cordially welcomed.

MRS. NEWTON WING,
Chairman.

NO GENERAL STRIKE ON THE RAILROADS

Continued from First Page

Louis were declared to have been among the cities whose locals were particularly insistent that a strike be called in view of recent governmental statements to the effect that general advances in the pay of railway workers could not be considered at this time. The fourteen locals of Chicago railway men, it was said, had voted unanimously in favor of the strike and in favor of sending a resolution asking for a strike decision to W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

In some union quarters it was stated that the real reason why the national officials in Cleveland hesitated to make an announcement of the strike, or to be placed in the position of directing the proposed strike call, was their fear of strike injunctions and that it was their purpose to await the crisis which was expected from the action of the rank and file of railway union men.

Lee Issues Statement.

Cleveland, November 25.—When told of the Chicago story regarding a possible strike by the four railroad brotherhoods, William G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, tonight issued the following statement:

"No motion or resolution pertaining to a quick strike has come before the conference of general chairmen of the four railroad brotherhoods, in session here for action, and I do not know whether any such motion or resolution will be presented.

"I received messages today from Kansas City, saying that trainmen and yardmen had decided to strike on the 26th (tomorrow) unless a favorable reply to their request for increased pay to overcome the high cost of living is granted.

"I have said to all of them, in reply, that if they think they are bigger than the United States government, which is operating the railroads at present, I have no advice to give them."

Not Considering Strike.

Timothy Shea, acting president of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen, commenting tonight on reports of a threatened railroad strike, declared that it is "neither the purpose nor the spirit of the Cleveland conference to discuss a strike."

"All we will consider here," asserted Mr. Shea, "is Mr. Hines' time and a half proposal for overtime. I know that discussion or action on a general strike to force general wage increases is not on the program here. I believe I can say safely that it will not be possible, if indeed, it is attempted, for any faction or group to stampede this conference into a vote on a general strike."

Kansas City Local to Wait.

Kansas City, Mo., November 25.—Information obtained tonight was that the local trainmen's union had decided to await the action of the Cleveland convention before striking. It was intimated that in the event a natitonal railroad strike was called the walkout would begin in Kansas City and spread to other railroad centers.

RAILWAY UNIONS ACCEPT A PART OF HINES' PLAN

Cleveland, November 25.—The 500 general chairmen of the four great railroad brotherhoods voted today to accept the offer of Director General of Railroads Hines granting a uniform sixteen-hour rule for crews held away from home terminals, but did not reach a vote on the offer of time and a half for overtime in slow freight service.

Discussion of the overtime proposition occupied most of today's two sessions, many delegates bitterly opposing it, and from an authoritative source tonight it was learned that in all probability the delegates will reject the offer at tomorrow's meeting.

The director general's offer is in response to the brotherhoods' request for a general wage increase of approximately 50 per cent and grants time and one-half for overtime in slow freight service, provided arbitrary allowances now given in many of the schedules in effect, which create double or more payment for the same hours, are eliminated.

It was said tonight that the pending demands of the firemen and trainmen for a general wage increase was informally discussed at today's sessions.

Outside of the overtime offer the request for a general increase in wages made by the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen and the Brotherhood of Trainmen, several months ago, to meet the high cost of living, has not been answered by the director general.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors, it is understood, supports the wage demands presented by the firemen and trainmen.

The Brotherhood of Engineers has no wage demands before the director general.

Director General Hines' offer of payment of time and one-half for service over eight hours on trains making less than 12½ miles an hour would give the men $30,000,000 a year overtime if schedules remain as at present, according to W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen.

At the same time, about $15,000,000 in special pay for extra work would be eliminated.

Kiwanians to Aid Anti-Tuberculosis Campaign in City

After hearing an appeal by Dave W. Webb, president of the Ad Men's club, the Kiwanis club of Atlanta, in its weekly meeting at the Kimball house Tuesday, unanimously voted to offer its hearty support to the Anti-Tuberculosis campaign.

The plea of Mr. Webb for aid in the campaign was quickly answered. Many Kiwanians subscribed amounts to the fund, while others volunteered to give a half day's work to the drive, soliciting pledges. Captains were appointed and territory, mostly in the downtown district, was allotted fast.

Mr. Webb thanked the Kiwanians for attending the luncheon of the Ad Men's club, who are sponsoring the drive, held Monday in the interest of the campaign, and for the enthusiasm shown.

Mrs. E. P. McBurney, president of the Home for the Friendless, presented to the club an outline of the work of that institution, and told of the evident good results accomplished. She told of instances where friendless waifs had been adopted by the home, and developed into useful and home-loving citizens.

Dr. Robert Wessels, vice president of the club, and Kiwanis governor of Georgia, reported on Kiwanis organization work throughout the state.

A purchaser of an old Arab musket in an antique shop in Paris discovered in the barrel of it 240 valuable turquoises, all of beautiful color.

Mrs. W. C. Cain Dead.

Nashville, Tenn., November 25.—Mrs. Walter C. Cain, wife of the associate editor of The Banner, died here today after a brief illness.

WHY DON'T YOU

Wear Kryptoks? The double vision lens without seams or cements. Your eyesight will be better and never conscious that you have on double vision glasses. Jno. L. Moore & Sons, the Opticians, make these Kryptoks in Atlanta. 42 North Broad St., Grant Bldg.—(adv.)

MANAGERS NAMED FOR FOUR ROADS

Three Officials Named as Federal Managers of Railroads Formerly Directed by Late E. T. Lamb.

Jurisdiction over the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, the Georgia, the Charleston and Western Carolina and the West Point route, the group of railroads that were under the federal management of the late E. T. Lamb, has been divided, according to an announcement made by Regional Director B. L. Winchell Tuesday.

The Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad will be under the jurisdiction of General Manager B. L. Bugg, who has been with that line for several years in various capacities.

The West Point route, consisting of the Atlanta and West Point and the Western of Alabama, will be placed under the jurisdiction of W. L. Mapother, federal manager of the Louisville and Nashville and the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway.

The Charleston and Western Carolina and the Georgia railroads will be under Lyman DeLano, federal manager of the Winston-Salem southbound and Atlantic Coast Line.

The above appointments, it is understood, will become effective at once, and will remain in force during the administration of the railroads by the government.

MISS MORGAN TO TOUR SOUTH EARLY IN 1920

Announcement of the reappointment of E. Y. Clarke as director of the southern division of the American committee for devastated France was made at the southern headquarters of the committee here yesterday.

Mr. Clarke has just returned from New York, where he conferred with Miss Anne Morgan, who is first vice president in active charge of the work in France. Myron T. Herrick, former ambassador to France, is president.

Division Enlarged.

Maryland, West Virginia and Kentucky have been added to the southern division, which formerly comprised Georgia, Florida, Virginia, the Carolinas, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Tennessee.

It has been decided that Miss Morgan will make a tour of the south in February, speaking in connection with the first showing of the remarkable film, "The Heritage of France," made in France by D. W. Griffith for the committee.

The southern tour is the only trip Miss Morgan will make for the million dollar campaign, and she is postponing her return to France for it. Miss Morgan and the committee have been asked by the French government to continue their work for another year.

Miss Morgan has been recehtly decorated by the French government for her services, a special deputation coming to the United States for the purpose. Her tour of the south will include Atlanta, Richmond, Knoxville, Nashville, Chattanooga, Memphis, Birmingham, New Orleans, Mobile, Montgomery, Jacksonville, Tampa, Miami and Charleston.

Negro Prisoner Recaptured.

Roy Thomas, a negro who escaped from the Fulton county tower about three months ago, was captured in Toledo Sunday by police officials there and was returned to the tower here Tuesday night, where he will complete his sentence.

Kiddies in Windows Will Appeal Today For Worthy Cause

Among the most appealing window displays ever seen in Atlanta will be those which will be shown in four downtown stores this morning, when children from the Home for the Friendless will be seen at play and at work, as a feature of the one-day campaign being conducted by the board of that institution to secure funds for the coming year.

Mrs. R. M. Wilkinson will present a group of the babies of the home at Chamberlain-Johnson-DuBose's windows. Older children will be shown in displays at Rich's in charge of Mrs. Linton Starr; Allen's, under the direction of Mrs. E. M. Veatch; and the King Hardware company, on Peachtree street, in charge of Mrs. W. G. Mills and Mrs. W. H. Beers.

A baby thrown upon the world, friendless and alone.

An Arm to Save.

An arm stretched out to save it and all little children, to take care of them until a permanent family or home is found for their adoption. Such an arm is the Home for the Friendless—an institution with a great heart. Can you imagine what would become of these children if there were not such a place for them?

Its work is not duplicated by any other institution. It is essential that it continue to do what it has been doing, but in order to continue it must have the support of the Atlanta people. Food prices have greatly increased, and although the greatest economy is maintained, there can be no stinting, for children must have nourishing food. It will cost $15,000 to take care of the 100 children of the home for the coming year. To help the men and women connected with it finance it, it is necessary that they make a public appeal. The day before Thanksgiving has been chosen, and today is the only day during the year when appeal will be made.

An Irresistible Appeal.

Come downtown this morning prepared to give. You will regret it if you do not have the money with you, for children from the home will be shown in the windows of four of the centrally located stores, and you will be the exception if you can resist their mute, unconscious appeal.

It takes so little to make a child happy. One can even do without toys, for an ingenious little tot can make toys of his own out of nothing. Food, however, and a place to sleep, children must have. It is little to ask of the public. It is but little for the public to do. But it means a great deal to the child. It means a real Thanksgiving day.

Street Cars Blamed For Paving Decay On Fifty Streets

Fifty streets, the paving of which, Mayor Key charged in a message to city council, were being ruined by street cars, were inspected Tuesday morning by the mayor, members of the street committee of council, officials of the power company and engineers.

Upon the investigation will be based a report which it is probable will be presented to the street committee at its meeting Friday, or, if it should not be completed at that time, it will go to the next meeting of council.

DRIVERS OF OX TEAMS STRIKE FOR MORE PAY

Louisville, Miss., November 25.—Drivers of ox teams employed to haul logs by a lumber company operating near here, struck today for higher wages. This is believed to be the first strike of ox drivers in the country.

On the Main Floor

Today, the Last Day of these Special Offerings

$5.75

Patent Leather, Black Satin, Dull Calf and Kid Opera or Spat Pumps. Values up to $11.00, at... $5.75

$8.85

Field Mouse Kid Boots with welted soles and leather Louis heels, Grey Kid lace Boots with light turn soles and wood covered heels, Brown Kid and Brown Calf lace Boots with Military and leather Louis heels, Black Kid Boots with leather Louis, Military and wood-covered heels, and Patent Leather lace Boots with Mat Kid tops, at..... $8.85

Better take Advantage of this Sale Today

Bargains that you cannot afford to miss in high-grade, stylish footwear for Women and Misses Come Today!

$6.85

Patent Leather 9-in. Lace Boots with Grey Kid tops, welt soles and leather Louis heels, Brown Kid lace Boots with plain vamps, medium soles and leather Louis heels, Black Kid lace Boots with imitation tips, light soles and leather heels, Patent Leather lace Boots with Mat Kid tops, Brown Kid lace Boots with Military walking heels. Values up to $13.50, at..... $6.85

$11.85

Brown Kid 9-inch Lace Boots with light turned soles, plain vamps and full Louis covered heels, Black Satin lace Boots, Pearl Grey Kid lace Boots with light turned soles and wood-covered heels, Field Mouse lace Boots with turned soles and wood heels and Pat. Leather Boots with Grey tops, at.. $11.85

Mail Orders Filled Promptly.

TODAY the last day of this Special Shoe Sale

Stewart SHOES FOR EVERYBODY

TODAY the last day of this Special Shoe Sale

TO FIGHT ILLITERACY OF ADULT ATLANTANS

School Board Authorizes Eight Special Night Classes in Schools.

Immmediate establishment of eight special classes in which adult illiterates will be taught in the Atlanta public schools was authorized by the board of education Tuesday. Four classes will be formed for white pupils and four for negroes. The sessions will be held at night and instructors will be chosen from the public school teaching force.

The Fulton county illiteracy commission will join with the board of education and furnish financial aid to help maintain the classes. Permission was given the commission to establish additional classes if it were found necessary, the board agreeing to permit the use of school buildings and equipment, if the members of the commission would bear the expense of employing instructors. This they readily consented to do.

Classes to reduce adult illiteracy have already been formed in the county system, and a committee composed of C. J. Haden, vice president of the Georgia Illiteracy commission; John A. Manget, chairman of the Fulton county commission, and Ivan E. Allen, David Woodward and Joseph A. McCord, appeared before the board to urge that similar steps be taken in the city schools.

Data Presented.

Mr. Haden, Mr. Allen, and other members of the delegation spoke of the great good which eductational aid to the illiterates of mature age in the city would accomplish, and presented data to show that there is a startlingly large number resident in Atlanta who can neither read nor write.

Fifty counties of the state have been organized and instrucion of their illiterates begun, said Mr. Haden. It has been shown in these counties, he stated, that surprisingly rapid progress is made by the adults and they have been taught to read and write in a very short time. He exhibited a letter written by one of these pupils in Pickens county, done in a legible hand aftre less than three weeks' instruction. He had a number of other letters, while less remarkable, all telling the story of transformation in the briefest time from the plane of the illiterate.

Many Illiterates in City.

Mr. Allen said that there are approximately 800 illiterate voters in the city. Their names, he said, could be obtained through the registration lists, and the names of hundreds of others could be procured from the payrolls of various manufacturing and industrial plants. It is realized by the committee that in the main these persons will have to be sought out and asked personally to enroll. This will be done wherever possible.

Voluntary contributions amounting to several hundred dollars have been sent to the Fulton county commission since it was organized to fight illiteracy. Two individual donations of $500 each and a number of smaller ones have been received. It is with these funds that they will furnish teachers for the classes as organized in addition to the eight which will be established by the board of education.

The schools at which these classes will be located will be decided by the superintendent.

AUBURN'S DOORS SHUT TO EXPELLED BOYS

Auburn, Ala., November 25.—Declaring that so many erroneous reports had been published and conspicuously displayed in newspapers of the country, the Alabama Polytechnic Institute has issued a lengthy statement. The statement denies the report that the expelled students guilty of hazing are to be re-admitted (after Christmas) or at any other time.

The statement continues: "The discipline committee of the faculty has not resigned as reported and has no intention of doing so. They will continue to exercise final authority in all matters of discipline just as they always have, and expulsion from the college will continue as punishment for any hazing."

Thirteen members of the sophomore class were expelled for hazing.

YOU CAN MAKE YOUR SKIN WHITE, SOFT AND CLEAR

With the Lovely Tint of Youth.

By the Use of the Popular Black and White Beauty Treatment.

If you are dissatisfied with your complexion because of unsightly skin blemishes such as liver spots, freckles, rough or pimply skin, do this today—go to your nearest drug store, get a package of BLACK and WHITE Ointment and a bar of BLACK and WHITE Soap. Before retiring, wash the face, neck, arms or hands with warm water and Soap and dry thoroughly. Then mix and apply the creamy Ointment, according to directions. The next morning wash off the Ointment, using Black and White Soap. You can see a difference almost after the first night's treatment. Repeat the applications and you will be happy with the results.

If you cannot find the Black and White Beauty Treatment—Ointment and Soap, the manufacturers will send both to you postpaid on receipt of 50c.

A sample, literature and a Black and White Birthday and Dream Book free if you will clip this advertisement and mail to BLACK and WHITE, Box 913, Memphis, Tenn.—(adv.)

BLACK AND WHITE OINTMENT

Clears the complexion

AGED NEGRO UNEARTHS SECRET

Old Ditch-Digger Finds Curative Power in Mississippi Mud — Cured of Rheumatism While on Job.

In our minds, all of us can recall some old negro whose usefulness seems gone and whose steps seem uncertain save for their steady progress toward the grave.

Such was the condition of an old man who was hired to dig a small irrigating ditch out near the village of Hickory, Miss. His steps were uncertain, his joints swollen and his body was infested with a plague of sores.

But on the third day his steps grew quicker, his sores were healing and the gleam in his eye showed that he had again taken a new interest in life.

Right then and there it was learned that the mud in which this negro had been working was possessed of some wonderful medicinal virtue.

Investigation resulted in the development of Sul-Ferro-Sol, a blood remedy of wonderful capacity.

It so happened that where this ditch was begun, nature had placed a rare combination of Iron, Sulphur and Potash—correctly proportioned and correctly combined.

And thus it's ever back to nature.

Sul-Ferro-Sol is highly recommended for all troubles arising from an impure blood: Rheumatism, Pellagra, Eczema, Tetter, etc.

At all drug stores, everywhere. Liberal bottles for one dollar.

Interesting booklet, "Road to Health," upon request. The Sul-Ferro-Sol Co., Montgomery, Alabama. Desk B.—(adv.)

Mr. Snapshot Says:

"Useful gifts are best to receive—best to give. You will find them here—plenty of them—something suitable for everyone on your gift list."

SOUTHERN PHOTO MATERIAL CO.

"Gifts of Art and Utility."

72 N. Broad St.

STOP NEURALGIA AVOID THE PAIN

Famous for many years in relieving all forms of Rheumatism, Gout, Sciatica, Neuralgia and Lumbago. One trial proves its fame for stopping pain. All druggists. E. FOUGERA & CO., Inc. 90 Beekman St., N. Y.

EADE'S PILLS

Try Making Your Own Cough Remedy

You can save about $2, and have a better remedy than the ready-made kind. Easily done.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Times Are Getting Better

If not for you it is because you are still neglecting to embrace the opportunities offered you.

These better times are coming to your neighbors and to your friends—the men who are practicing self-denial and thrift.

We see them every day in our

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT

4% Interest Paid

Georgia Savings Bank & Trust Co.

Members Federal Reserve System

Sports — CONDENSING THE DOPE — EDITED BY LES RAWLINGS

Abel Easily Outpointed Vic Moran

Slashing Fight Fest Returns Atlanta Boy Southern Champion

Greatest Card of Year Was Seen in 26-Round Show at the Auditorium. Abel Meets Benny Leonard on December 22.

By Les Rawlings.

Outpointing and outfighting Vic Moran, of New Orleans, in their ten-round bout at the Auditorium Tuesday night, Jake Abel, of this city, won the southern welterweight championship and the right to meet Benny Leonard here on December 22, in one of the most vicious and savage ring festivals which has ever been staged in Atlanta.

When Larry Avera and Eddie Buras fought ten hair-raising rounds at the Auditorium several weeks ago Atlanta fight fans thought they had seen the classic of the year, and they had until the Moran-Abel bout Tuesday night.

With the tactics of a bulldog and the punch of a piledriver Moran fought Abel and fought as hard as he could, but the cleverness of the Atlanta boy easily won the majority of rounds for him and made the decision of Referee J. Hume McDonald and exact one.

Blood Flowed Freely.

With both principals bleeding from the eyes, lips and mouth, the bout started with a rush and ended in a whirlwind. Only on one or two occasions did Moran or Abel either one slow up and that was when they had punched, jabbed and slugged until there was nothing left in their categories.

Opening with a rush, Abel was content to take a draw for the first round, but began rushing and carrying the fight to his opponent to such an extent that Moran was on the ropes nearly all the time.

It was then the New Orleans boy would show his ability to take punishment and as Abel rushed in his arms working like the piston rings of a perfectly timed engine, Moran covered and took most of them without any marked effects until the end began to draw near.

The fight card on a whole was the Abel mill was the engagements behere, for second only to the Moran-best which has ever been staged tween "Kid" Yorke and "Battling" Barnett, which was also a ripping, tearing event with the decision being a draw and a good one at that.

Hard Fought Wind-up.

Barnett found Yorke too hard a nut to crack and Yorke, in spite of his hard hitting ability and further ability to take a punch just as hard as anybody can give it to him, had to be content to get an even break with the cleverness of the boy from Walk Miller's stable.

The show opened with a six-round bout between Lanky Joe Carter and Eddie Wallace and went the way of a good bout with Wallace outfighting Lanky Joe.

In the Yorke-Barnett fight the first there rounds were even with Yorke taking the next two, then Barnett the sixth and seventh, Yorke the eighth, the ninth even and Barnett the tenth.

In the Abel-Moran fight the first round could be called even, as it was just as even as a round could be, but Abel either decidedly or else by a shade, won the rest of them in straight order.

Hugh Mauck refereed the first event with Captain Kaliska the second and McDonald the third.

Before the end of the evening McDonald received a wire from Benny Leonard's manager cinching the fight here on December 22 between Jake Abel and Benny Leonard.

OLD-TIME RIVALS PREPARE TO MEET IN FINAL CONTST

Blacksburg, Va., November 25.—(Special.)—Virginia Poly closes her 1919 football season in Roanoke Thursday, when they go up against the fighting cadets from Lexington.

The battle will be the eighteenth that has been staged by the two institutions. Virginia Tech has won 13 and V. M. I. 3. Only one tie game has been played. V. M. I. won her last game from Tech in Roanoke in 1900, 5 to 0. The last two contests have been won by a single touchdown in the closing stages of the game.

The record of former contests follows:

Year	Tech.	V. M. I.
1894	6	10
1895	6	4
1896	24	0
1897	4	18
1900	0	5
1901	21	0
1902	50	5
1904	17	5
1905	34	0
1907	22	0
1908	10	0
1913	6	6
1914	3	0
1915	27	9
1916	23	14
1917	6	0
1918	6	0

FARMERS' CONFERENCE HELD AT GRANTVILLE

Grantville, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—The first colored farmers' conference of the fourth congressional district was held at Mrs. M. E. Hall's school here November 21 and 22, with the most prominent white farmers of this section in the role of boosters.

Speakers from Tuskegee institute, Athens, Milner, Atlanta, Grantville, and Newnan delivered addresses, and state, county and city educational and agricultural officials were on the program.

Before the end of the two-day session it was decided to make the conference a permanent annual affair, and it is universally felt that much good will result from them.

Search for Body.

Savannah, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—The river near the Churchill slip was being dragged all yesterday for the body of an unidentified sailor, who late Sunday night fell from the deck of a vessel in the slip. Another sailor had just called to the man in the dark to be careful and heard the splash a moment later as the sailor walked off into the river.

RICKARD TO OFFER PURSE OF $200,000

Friends of Tex Say He Is Going to Put Up That Much for the Dempsey-Carpentier or Beckett Match.

New York, November 25.—(Special.)—Tex Rickard, who still holds the record for the greatest purses offered for pugilistic championship contests, is planning to top all offers for the next bout in which Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, appears with Georges Carpentier or Joe Beckett, as his opponent, awaiting only the outcome of the Carpentier-Beckett bout in London next month and favorable action, which is already promised, by the New York state legislature, legalizing ten-round bouts to a decision in New York.

Rickard's friends insist that he will offer a purse of $200,000 for the bout to be held before the new International Sporting club in this city, and that the offer will be made just as soon as the Beckett-Carpentier battle is decided, the contest to be held here some time next spring.

Incidentally, Rickard and Cochrane, the English promoter, are so friendly, that if Beckett fights for any one in America it will be for Rickard, and Cochrane's consent will have to be obtained, as Beckett and his manager are tied up with Cochrane for Beckett's next three fights.

SPORTOGRAPHY

By "Gravy."

MAY I NOT . . . hope that all profiteers, especially the food gougers, will not live to see another such prosperous Thanksgiving day as they are enjoying this season.

Ruth's Bat Broken.

Grief reigns in the Ruth family. Bobby Meusel, a mere Coast league player, has busted one of Ruth's "stock" of bats—the "stock" consisting of two specially made clubs.

"Babe" Ruth, the super-batsman, was playing in an exhibition game and had his bats ready in case of emergency. It was Meusel's turn at bat and the sturdy Coast leaguer, wishing to have the privilege of batting with one of the clubs that has sent many a horsehide over the big league fences, picked out one of Ruth's "private stock."

The ball came straight down the groove and Meusel let go. A sound of splitting wood filled the air as the ball rolled down the field and Ruth's bat busted right at the handle. The question now has arisen as to who is the best batsman—Ruth or Meusel? Many believe that Bobby takes the honors, inasmuch as he busted the champion's bat, while others maintain that the Vernon player failed to hold the bat correctly.

Football Crowds.

Were any testimonial on the popularity of football necessary the crowds that turned out to attend recent games gave it. More than 40,000 were in the Palmer stadium at Princeton; 30,000 were at the Polo grounds in New York to witness the meeting of Penn and Dartmouth, while in the Yale bowl there were 35,000 fans on hand to see Old Eli drive the Brown bear to cover. Throughout the country, indeed, extended to the distant reaches of Portland, Ore., where Washington State college turned back Oregon, hundreds of thousands of football enthusiasts sat in the seats of the mighty and passed judgment on the play that developed before them.

Boxing Boom in England.

Boxing is going big in England this winter, according to reports from the other side. In Joe Beckett English sporting men believe they have a real champion at last—one that will be able to cope with the best of the Americans. That has aroused a tremendous amount of interest in the sport.

With the increase of interest in the sport new promoters are springing up and the number of arenas is increasing rapidly. A call has been sent out for more talent from America and both Gunboat Smith and Sam Langford are going across.

The arrival of those ancient battlers will be welcomed by Joe Beckett, not because he is anxious to face them in the ring, but because they will be able to keep big Fred Fulton busy or put a check to his annoying challenges. Beckett's excuse for not meeting Fulton sounds rather laughable on this side of the water. Only three English heavies could be induced to face big Fred, and he flattened them with ridiculous ease, yet Beckett tells him to go and get a reputation, or something to that effect.

Beckett entirely overlooks the only logical excuse for dodging Fulton—that the latter is a self-confessed nigger and was forced to leave his own country on that account.

Georges Carpentier, who meets Beckett on December 4, already has gone into training for the battle which will determine whether the noted Frenchman is to be a factor in future ring affairs. Carpentier has engaged Eddie McGoortie as his chief sparring partner, which looks like a shrewd move on his part. McGoorty has a wise head on his shoulders and no doubt he learned all about Beckett's strong and weak points during the seventeen rounds he faced the English champion. Good sparring partners are scarce in Europe, naturally, so Carpentier can count himself decidedly lucky to get a man of McGoorty's ability to help fit him for his comeback. Georges has been out of the game so long that it will take plenty of hard work to toughen his muscles and quicken his eye.

Class in Sportography.

ANSWER—The catcher or first baseman may wear a glove of any size, shape or weight. Every other player is restricted to the use of a glove or mitt weighing not over 10 ounces and measuring not over 14 inches around the palm.

What baseball club was the first to take a trip out of its own country?

Look for the answer tomorrow.

THAT GUILTIEST FEELING : : : : : : : : By Briggs

BIG SWIMMING MEET AT "Y" FRIDAY NIGHT

First of Series of Three Events Will Have Record Entry List.

The first of a series of three swimming meets will be held at the big "Y" on Luckie street, Friday night, in what promises to be an unusually popular stunt and a large number of entries and spectators are expected.

Some of the best men in the aquatic game in the city, including boys from Georgia Tech and from the prep schools of the city, are already signed up and spirited competition is looked forward to.

The sixty-foot pool at the "Y" is one of the best in the south, and is marked carefully and it having side lines and balcony for many spectators, ladies are welcome at this meet, which starts at 7:45 o'clock. George F. Barber and R. Lester Thomas, of the physical staff, have arranged all details for officials and will have everything in smooth running order for the big doings on the night after turkey day.

The novelty events arranged by the competing members themselves promises to be of great interest, and one, the human double oarlock swim, originated by the Hawaiian, is something new and is worth going a long way to see.

A special event, a life-saving demonstration, will be given by D. J. Yaaes, who is associate director of the life-saving and first aid for the southern division of the American Red Cross.

Medals will be awarded the winners, gold for first; silver for second, and bronze for third.

The events are 20-yard swim, 40-yard swim, 100-yard swim, team relay, 20-yard back relay stroke, plunge for distance, 20-yard under water swim, and the fancy diving.

Sarcasm Caused "Bob" Fitzsimmons World of Trouble

Chicago, November 25.—(Special.) A chance remark spoken in a sarcastic vein and at the psychological moment may cause a lot of trouble before it is finally explained and things "set right" between all concerned. This is shown in a little story told by Frank Erne, former lightweight champion. Erne got the story from "Bob" Fitzsimmons just a few months before the Cornishman passed away.

It will be recalled Fitzsimmons was booked to battle Jim Hall, the famous Australian plasterer at Minneapolis back in 1891. Governor Merriam, of Minnesota, did not like the boxing game, and he ordered out the state militia to prevent the show. The men were to fight for a purse of $12,000.

The fans were keenly disappointed when it came to a show-down and the battle was called off, and as a result there were quite a few impromptu battles on the night the glove match was to have been held. Fitzsimmons and Hall were both provoked, but the Australian bore his disappointment with much more grace than did "Lanky Robert," who stormed about his training quarters.

After unburdening himself of his idea of Governor Merriam, the state of Minnesota and everything connected with the cancellation of the fight, Fitz was taunted into near madness upon hearing that Hall was actually laughing over the matter. Without a pause, Fitzsimmons charged Hall had some of his supporters to get the governor to stop the fight and thus save him from a licking. The remark was carried back to Hall, and later thrown in Hall's face by the irate Fitz.

The result was a murderous feeling between the men. The trouble between Hall and Fitz was given plenty of publicity, and when they met in New Orleans in 1893, both were intent upon the most vicious fight of their respective careers. Fitz stopped Hall in four rounds. After that battle Fitz and Hall were brought face to face and the whole fuss was settled. Fitz admitted to Hall he had made the remark while angered, and big-hearted Jim extended his hand for a hearty handshake.

When the Pilgrim fathers sneaked up on Brother Turk in the wilds of North America some several years back and attempted to administer the loads from a blunderbuss for the purpose of eating a square meal and giving thanks for being alive and happy, they had to be mighty careful for fear of getting scalped by the savages.

Things haven't changed much, as Madam Housewife finds when she attempts to slip up on the descendants of that same turkey at the present writing. She's in for a frisking just the same.

Ten years ago Thanksgiving used to mean something.

It means a lot now, but the trouble is the meaning transcribes to the debit side of the ledger instead of the credit.

If you want to stage a Thanksgiving feed the thing to do in advance is sneak up on some bank night watchman first, then, armed with the contents of the vault, approach the grocer.

Lots of things go to make up the big meal. At least they used to. Outside of the turkey they used to have cranberry sauce, dressing, celery, olives, and every vegetable in the category.

When we say "They" we mean most every respectable American home.

Nowadays the average family might have turkey but it takes the millionaire to have the rest.

It's a wealthy hombre who can pick his teeth with satisfaction Thursday. The rest of us can pick our teeth.

The eagle is supposed to be uor national bird, but suggestions are in order to replace him with the turk. The turk is symbolic of a lot more dignity and certainly typifies wealth.

The guest of honor used to get the wish bone. Giving the guest of honor the wishbone now is like donating a few Packards to your wife. It's the thing to do and you like to do it, but it's too much like "Giving till it hurts."

If one respectable turkey costs $15.00, it should be apportioned as follows, and the price marked plainly on each piece so folks can know just how much to be thankful for:

The neck is worth $1.50; back, $2.00; wings, $1.00 per each; legs, $3.00 (counting second joints); breast, $3.00; wishbone, 3.00 and giblets the balance. (We leave out the rest because chances are the cook gets those as a part of her divine right.)

Second helpings are gonna be forbidden by federal' law. There'll be lots of disappointments among the rising generation, but all children should be trained to make the most out of bones and even a few dentist bills can be countenanced rather than break the federal law.

Taking it all the way around, it's going to be a great Thanksgiving, but chances are the guy who does most of the giving of thanks will be he who decides to forego the pleasure of sinking his tusks into the great bird and is content to feed on chicken or just plain "ham and."

Things sure have changed, but experts figure the next 30 years will be the worst. Many are thankful that they won't be here to witness the next fifteen.

Johnson Will Emerge By Scoring Victory In Big League Fight

Supporters of "Ban" Are Looking for Him to Spring Surprise on "Big Four" at Meeting in Chicago Next Month.

Cincinnati, Ohio, November 25.—(Special.)—That Ban Johnson will again emerge victorious from the fight which will be made upon him by Charles Comiskey, of Chicago, Jacob Ruppert and T. L. Huston, of New York, and Harry Frazee, of Boston, self-styled "Big Four" at the coming meeting of the American league to be held next month at Chicago, by the production of indisputable evidence showing that he has the goods on those who would oust him from leadership and which will drive to cover his detractors, is the opinion of a local baseball authority close to the national commission.

Principal among the grievances which the Comiskey Ruppert-Huston-Frazee crowd have against Johnson, according to their assertion, he is a stockholder in the Cleveland team. But they forgot to set forth the facts in the case, which in short, are, that Johnson loaned the Cleveland club $50,000 and took stock in the club as collateral security for the loan. Charles Comiskey, so the story goes, did the same thing.

The New York Yankees' owners could have saved themselves a lot of trouble had they inquired of their bosom pal, Comiskey, if he had been paid any dividends on the Cleveland stock which he held. His reply would have been in the negative. And what goes for Comiskey is also the case with Ban Johnson.

It was simply a case of a "helping hand" which Johnson held out to Cleveland when that good baseball town seemed to be on the rocks and the bankers' committee, which handled the affairs of Charles Somers, insisted that the club would have to be sold.

Johnson did no more for Cleveland than he would have done for any other club that was in distress. Truth be told, he has assisted others in the past, and if you can go way back at the start of the American league's history you'll find that Johnson was a real "ace in the hole" in helping Charley Comiskey get by the rough spots.

That old saying that "he who lives in glass houses should not throw stones," appears to be particularly appropriate in the case of the owners of the New York club. For several years they have been talking of erecting a new ball park in the metropolis that would make even the wonderful plant of the New York Giants pale into insignificance. But they did not like the idea of "carrying the hod" by themselves.

Each and every American league club owner is said to have been approached to lend a helping hand by taking a certain amount of stock. And, so the story goes, Ban Johnson was "down" for $50,000, and what's more, he would have been sport enough to have helped to his very limit.

Johnson has maintained a discreet silence ever since the "Big Four" started gunning for his scalp. He has been conserving his ammunition until he could "see the white of their eyes" and he will unload his artillery next month. A certain document relating to the dealing of the Boston owner in a certain championship boxing bout and the investigations anent the exposure of the White Sox after the recent world's series are other matters that the American league head is said to have in good shape to uncover if it's really a "fight to the death" that the "insurgents" are looking for.

TIFTON MEETS NORMAN FOR S. GEORGIA TITLE

Norman Park Will See Hot Contest Thursday.

Tifton, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—The football championship of south Georgia will be settled at Norman Park Thanksgiving day, when the Tifton Aggies and Norman institute meet in their annual Thanksgiving game. This will be the football classic of the year in South Georgia, as it is every year, and football fans from all over south Georgia will be there for the battle.

The rivalry between Tech and Georgia was never as great as the rivalry between these two south Georgia schools, and every former student who isn't dead or sick, will be at the game in Norman Park. It is an annual affair and all school events are dated from the annual Norman-Aggie football encounter.

The schools have been meeting every Thanksgiving now for about ten years and this game has become an established Thanksgiving observance in south Georgia.

The game promises to be one of the hottest on record, and the N. I.-Aggie games are always hot. The teams have met once this season. It was the first game of the season for both teams and the score was 0 to 0.

Both teams have developed greatly since that time and are now in the best possible condition. Neither team has played since November 17, in order that every man might be right for the big game.

Tifton has not been scored on this season, and Norman has been scored on only once, G. M. C. defeating them 2 to 0. If either team has an advantage, it would seem to be Tifton's, but you can't tell. Both teams are in the best condition of the season, and it will be a game that can't be beat in the state.

Football fans who miss the annual contest between Georgia and Tech are invited to visit Norman Park Thanksgiving and see something better.

Today's Calendar of Sports

Racing — Continuation of fall meeting of Maryland association, at Bowie.

Bench Show — Annual show of Bulldog Club of Canada, at Montreal.

Bowling—Continuation of Mid-West tournament, at Omaha.

Boxing—Charlie White vs. Johnnie Dundee, 10 rounds, at Milwaukee; Frank Moran, vs. Tom Cowler, 10 rounds, at Detroit; Bob Roper vs. Jack Burke, 10 rounds, at Rock Island.

Ford Trial Postponed.

Savannah, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—The trial of Shorty Ford, Brooks county negro, charged with murder, which precipitated the Valdosta riots that called out national guardsmen, which was scheduled for this week in Chatham superior court, has been continued to December 1, Witnesses from Valdosta could not be present this week.

Contest Will Prevent Georgia Game Here During Next Season

CAROLINA DRIVES FOR FINAL GAME

Record Crowd Is Expected to Witness Contest Between the Virginia and Tarheel Elevens on Thanksgiving.

Chapel Hill, N. C., November 25. Head Coach Campbell, of the Carolina football squad, has begun his final drove for the Virginia game at Chapel Hill Thanksgiving day. Behind closed gates, against a scrub team armed with the Virginia formations, and dubbed the "Virginia" team, the varsity is perfecting its dfense and strengthening and polishing its offense.

Coaches Graham Ramey and Charlie Daniel, who saw the Virginia-Vanderbilt game, are in charge of the "Virginia" team, though nearly all the Carolina coaches have seen Virginia play at one time or another this season. "Yank" Tandy, captain in 1916, who spent the week before the A. and E. game assisting Campbell, is back again and will work with the centers and other linemen until after the game. Another interested Carolina veteran who has been here is Dave Tayloe, captain in 1914 and 1915, who, however, will not be able to assist in coaching.

With one doubtful exception, Campbell should have all his injured men in shape Thanksgiving. Tenney dislocated his shoulder in making a tackle against Davidson, and may not be able to play. He is spending a lot of time drop-kicking, as is also Lowe, whose drop-kick against Davidson showed the possibilities of his work. Blount and Sims received minor injuries, but should be in shape in a few days. The rest of the squad is ready now.

Applications for seats are pouring in from alumni and other out-of-town persons. In the first three days after the application forms had been sent out, more than 1,000 requests were received outside of Chapel Hill and the student body. Indications point to the largest crowd that ever attended a football game in North Carolina, Graduate Manager Woollen said today, and he is confident that all of the 5,000 reserved seats will be taken before Thanksgiving.

SPORT PICK-UPS

An advocate of light harness racing says racing officials would be saved a lot of trouble if records were given to all horses that win second money or better by winning heats. Classes would fill better and racing improve, he claims.

It is figured it will require an expenditure of $15,000 for the Canadian soccer promoters to bring over the famous Newcastle United team from England next summer. Some enthusiasts favor bringing two of the crack England elevens over for tours of Canada and the United States.

University of Pennsylvania, in addition to having a crack 'varsity basketball quintet this year, will also form a junior 'varsity and two freshmen teams. This is a fruit of athletics for all development.

Rhode Island Yacht club committee recently appointed to interest boys of Providence and adjacent towns in model yacht building and sailing reports that they have nearly perfected arrangements to present this new and fascinating sport to the youngsters, the probable age limits being 13 to 17 years.

Ernest Barry, former world's single sculls champion, who lost to Alfred Fetlon a short time ago in a race over the Thames championship course, is to engage his conqueror in a return race on the Parramatta, Australia, in July.

The polo season is already under way in California. An invitation tourney is going on at San Mateo and Burlingame, with the Del Monte players participating in a series of games. The teams will return to Del Monte and practice for the games, which the regular season starting February at Del Monte will draw from the east, Canada, Honolulu, Mexico and perhaps England.

Miss Helen Baker, who has shown pre-eminence as a lawn tennis player in San Francisco, is likely to be sent east next season to try for the championship crown. She holds the Pacific Coast, bay counties and San Francisco city titles. Miss Baker's progress to the top has been slow but steady. Her game is consistently aggressive. She relies mostly on a chop stroke when playing in the back court, but she also has command of a good drive, which carries considerable pace and is well placed. It is at the net Miss Baker far outclasses opponents, her vollying and overhead work being on a par with some of the men experts.

Jimmy Connolly, the junior national one-mile champion, will carry the colors of Georgetown university hereafter.

Frik Pallin, of Stockholm, is visiting this country studying public school playground system and sports in general for the improvement of his native land, where the people are athletically inclined to a marked degree.

Northwestern Curling association will hold its twenty-seventh annual bonspiel at Duluth, January 19, 1920. It promises to excel pre-war competitions.

Cordele Election.

Cordele, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—W. S. Murray, Wayne Fant and Barney T. Ware were today elected members of the city council to succeed John S. Sheppard, J. Monroe Hunt and M. Wakefield. There were five candidates. The defeated men were M. Wakefield and J. M. Cox. Wakefield was the only member of council asking re-election.

Understood That Agreement Exists Which Prevents Other Teams From Playing at Ponce on Day for Which Tech Has Local Game Scheduled.

By Les Rawlings.

Announcement was made yesterday by Dr. J. B .Crenshaw, director of athletics at the Georgia School of Technology, that Oglethorpe university and Tech will play a football game on Grant field the Saturday preceding Thanksgiving next season. This will mean that plans of the University of Georgia for an annual game in this city on that day will either have to be abandoned or some other steps inaugurated.

It is understood that an agreement exists by which no outside teams may play in Atlanta at Ponce de Leon park if the Georgia School of Technology has a game scheduled for that date.

When the alumni of Georgia planned for an annual Georgia game in this city, they did so with the understanding that there was no game to be played by the Jackets on the Saturday before the Thanksgiving contest.

Dr. Crenshaw, when called by The Constitution last night in reference to a report given out by the Oglethorpe students that the Petrels were to play the Jackets in 1920, stated that although positive arrangements have not been made and would not be until next year's schedule had been arranged, it is certain that necessary steps to insure the Oglethorpe-Tech game will be taken.

As soon as Oglethorpe officials realized that they were to be given a major Atlanta engagement for 1920, it was announced to the student body and naturally the Oglethorpe students were highly elated over the prospective event.

This game means a lot to the Silver lake institution, and means that the larger colleges in the south are recognizing the uphill fight made by the game little university. It is quite a feather in the Petrels' cap to land this contest. Oglethorpe has not won every game this year, but has given every opponent a hard fight and has established itself in the hearts of southern football fans.

With the discontinuance of scrimmage Monday at Grant field, the Jackets are putting the finishing touches to their offense by long signal drills. And the Jackets should present the most brilliant and baffling offensive ever displayed by a team in the south.

The rain Tuesday—if it does not continue the rest of the week—will put Grant field in wonderful shape and tend to add to the brilliancy of the contest, as both teams possess a set of great broken field runners.

Professional End Of Gridiron Game Interests Pilots

New York, November 25.—(Special.)—The professional football craze has again struck the major league magnates, and there is a movement under way to place professional gridiron outfits in each of the major league cities of the west. About a week ago Jim Thorpe, famous Indian, took his Canton (Ohio) world's champion professional gridiron team to Chicago and staged a 3-3 draw with the great professional team which this season represents the city of Hammond, Ind. Approximately 12,000 people paid from one to three dollars each to see the game which was staged in the Chicago Cubs' park, and now Chicago is wild about professional football.

Thorpe's team is made up of about twenty of the best-known footballers in the country. They are nearly all former college men, who gained fame while playing college ball. The Hammond team was also made up of college stars, and boasts of a $2,000 per game payroll. The names of the stars and the fabulous salaries they received for chasing the pigskin were given plenty of prominence in Chicago before the game, and hundreds were thus attracted and later won over to the professional game by the excellence of the play of the two elevens.

In Cleveland the experiment is getting its second year's trial. It has been an exceedingly profitable proposition there, even in spite of the fact that Cleveland's team was early defeated in the race for the national title, and thus lost prestige with those who can only manifest interest in a champion.

If the major league baseball magnates can introduce football and bring it to a profitable stage it will mean revenue from their ball yards at a season when ordinarily they bring nothing to the treasury.

The professional grid game was going to be tried in New York this year by the owners of the Giants, but that fell through when the owners were informed that New York authorities would not permit Sunday football.

The professional game seems to draw best where it is played on the first day of the week. The matter is going to be discussed informally, at least, at the next meeting of the moguls.

ROCKMART NOMINATES THREE CITY OFFICIALS

Rockmart, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—At an enthusiastic and spirited mass meeting held tonight for the purpose of nominating a mayor and two aldermen, J. A. Pambro was nominated for mayor, his nomination being unanimous, and James F. Dever and S. O. Jones were nominated as aldermen. Final election is slated for December 6.

:: SPORTS ::

Floto and 'Uncle Ed' Bruffey Meet After Lapse of 30 Years

Dixie's Human Sport Encyclopedia Reminisces With Scribe On Events That Have Transpired Since Sullivan-Kilrain Battle, Which Both Attended.

BY OTTO FLOTO

During our recent visit to the southland we met one of those rare gems of humanity linked to mankind by the strands of good fellowship. In Atlanta we came up with "Uncle Ed" Bruffey, for years the encyclopedia of sport, so far as his section of the land is concerned. What a splendid exhibition of memory he displayed when we walked into the office of The Constitution at Atlanta. He immediately recognized the writer, although a lapse of thirty years spans the date we first met. "I know you, Otto, how are you?" he shouted. "Last time we met we both sat together at the Sullivan-Kilrain battle at Richburg. Will you ever forget that day?" he queried. Then all the old scenes came back to mind and we both lived a lot of the incidents over and over again.

'Recall Harry Weldon?" he shouted. "Great writer, wasn't he? My, how the sport world misses his colossal figure at the ball games and at the ringside. And say, do you know?" and here he paused, "that Weldon was great in describing a fight or ball game, but he seemed lost when writing about the ponies?" Then he hesitated again. "Remember John McCormick, better known as Macon' of The New York Sun? Great writer, and so were Howard Hackett, Bill Naughton and many others. All have taken the final count and I'm still here," he went on.

And "Uncle Ed" Bruffey, of Atlanta, was still there, after a service of some 52 years on The Constitution, "the Bible of the South." We wondered at the vast amount of life crowded into that small frame as he stood before us. Here he was still among the mortals, one of the rare exceptions who has witnessed the battles between McCool and Allen, also between Jem Mace and Allen, and all the old-time battles on the turf of fifty and sixty years ago. His unfailing memory is still able to give vivid descriptions of the same.

When Blondin astounded the world by walking over Niagara Falls on a tight rope he carried on his back this same 'Uncle Ed" Bruffey, and it's well worth an afternoon's time to listen to the latter tell of the experience and the sensations he enjoyed as he gazed below into the whirling waters, which meant death to both himself and Blondin of a fatal misstep entered into the feat. None occurred, however, and "Uncle Ed" still lives to tell the story and to nibble at the creole pralines which he so dearly relishes. Furthermore, he says he is going to be present at the circus again next year when it comes to Atlanta and bring his priceless scrapbook, so that all may peruse its pages and learn of events which have become history.

Law of Compensation Has Brought Defeat After Each Victory

This Season Has Shown That No Team Has Played Consistent Enough Game to Steadily Improve While Winning.

By Walter Camp.
(Copyright by Otis F. Wood for The Atlanta Constitution.)

Is it possible that a team which has won a great victory must pay the penalty for that victory by a following defeat and vice versa? In the good old days the development seemed to go on steadily and continuously for a good team. But this season of 1919 has been full of evidence that a team cannot play twice in succession its best game.

The notable instances of this this season are startling. Pennsylvania came on swimmingly and defeated a strong Lafayette team no less than 23 to 0, only to be beaten the next week by Penn State and the following week by Dartmouth. Colgate defeated Princeton and were then tied by Dartmouth 7 to 7 and beaten by Syracuse 13 to 7.

Princeton was beaten by Colgate 7 to 0 and overwhelmed by West Virginia 25 to 0, only to rise in their might and very nearly win a game from Harvard, the score being tied by Harvard in the last few minutes and to win decisively from Yale. West Virginia, who had been defeated by Pittsburg 26 to 0, came up and defeated Princeton 25 to 0, and then were beaten by Center college 14 to 6.

Syracuse Beat Pitt.

Pittsburg, who had beaten West Virginia 26 to 0, were overwhelmingly defeated the next Saturday by Syracuse, 24 to 3, and after defeating Washington and Jefferson were tied by Penn. Washington and Jefferson defeated Syracuse 13 to 0 and in the following week were beaten by Pittsburg 7 to 6. The Army, who had beaten the conquerors of Yale —Boston—13 to 0, were defeated two weeks later by Notre Dame 12 to 9.

Rutgers, who had been defeated by Lehigh 19 to 0, and Syracuse 14 to 0, then proceeded to beat Boston 13 to 7, but were then overwhelmed by West Virginia 30 to 7. Such kaleidoscopic shiftings have never been seen before on the gridiron.

There was a time in Yale football when that team was always taken to the old gym or an armory upon the occasion of a rainy day preceding the big contest and an hour's work put in upon what was called "making every play safe from behind." This practice consisted in going through every single play that was to be used in the match and having the man who received the ball on the final pass fumble it intentionally and see if the man detailed to "make the play safe" was in a position to insure that result. And more than once in the big games did this result in saving disaster.

Had there been a man doing this upon the lateral pass of the Princeton game the two teams would have finished in a tie at 6 to 6.

Last Saturday brought defeat to Colgate and to Dartmouth, the two teams that could they have come through with victories might have laid claim to the eastern championship. Syracuse defeated Colgate 13 to 7 and Brown beat Dartmouth 7 to 6. Now as Syracuse had been beaten by Washington and Jefferson and Washington and Jefferson had been defeated by Pittsburg and as Brown has been beaten by several teams, the situation is completely tied up.

Other Important Results.

The other important results of Saturday were Princeton's victory over Yale, 13 to 6; Penn's tie with Pitt at 3 to 3, Georgia Tech's defeat of Georgetown, conquerors of the navy, 27 to 0, West Virginia's triumph over Rutgers 30 to 7; Ohio State's win over Wisconsin 3 to 0, Chicago's defeat of Iowa 9 to 6, Illinois' victory over Michigan 29 to 7, Nebraska's win over Kansas 19 to 7 and Vanderbilt's success over Virginia, 10 to 6.

Still another one of those games of wild excitement in which first one side then the other leads and the crowd is on its toes and fits of alternate despair was the Yale-Princeton game. This time, however, the game finished in abysm of despair for the Yale cohorts. Princeton scored first with a pretty field goal, only to be tied shortly after by Yale. Then for a time Yale seemed much the stronger, forcing Princeton continuously and finally putting over another field goal, thus going into the lead at 6-3.

Yale had the better of the running play for a long period of time, so that the Yale stands began to settle down into a comfortable condition of confidence that there would be no more scoring by either side, but they were counting without the desperate spirit which Princeton had developed through those hard struggles first with Colgate, then with West Virginia, and finally with Harvard. It is an unconquerable spirit and it rose in its might and began the never despairing struggle to overcome this lead. But even then matters were breaking evenly and neither side were getting near enough to the other's goal to make scoring possible.

Yale, instead of taking no chances on the interception of a wide long pass, threw a forward well down the field to the left side which was intercepted and the run resulting put Princeton in Yale's territory. But even then things might not have become desperate for the Bulldogs had they not taken another risky chance, this time with a lateral pass, Neville to Kempton, which was thrown badly, rolled along the ground, was seized upon by an alert Tiger who ran unmolested over the goal line and the game to all intents and purposes ended right there.

RIVERSIDE TEAM MEETS TECH HIGH

Game to Be Played at Grant Field on December 6 Provided Tech High Beats Boys' High.

By Roy E. White.

At last the controversy between Tech High and Riverside Military academy concerning the state football championship for this year, has come to a head. Tech High accepted the challenge from Riverside several days ago but the date of the game was the only thing in the way, and that obstacle has been removed. Captain Jordan, of Tech High, received a letter from Mr. Beaver, of Riverside, stating that Riverside had accepted the date of December 6, as the one suggested by Jordan.

We are glad to announce that the game is to be played at Grant field, on December 6, at 2 o'clock. This game should be the hardest fought of all prep games, as the winner will be the state champions for 1919.

Riverside has played most all of the best teams in the state and therefore has a claim to the championship. They have defeated every team they have met with the exception of Tech High, who was tied.

They are always in for the title and have a better chance this year than they have ever had.

Riverside Players.

Riverside's players are bona fide students of the institution and are among the best in the state. Their showing this year has been wonderful. They have in Captain Neal one of the best centers in the state. T. B. Lewis, quarter, is also a splendid man. Lewis once was with Tech High, but forsook it to go to Riverside.

Tech High this year can boast of the best team that they have ever had not only from a players' standpoint, but also from a patriotic one. Jack Sartain and Saunders, in the line, are the ones who fought for this country in the army in France. Sartain has a D. S. C. for bravery in action.

Alexander is another one of the veterans of France. Stone, guard, is the man that went from Tech High to the marines and came back to his alma mater when discharged.

Tech High team has been coached by Mr. Champion and Mr. Turner this year. Mr. Turner wanted to see the Junior Smithies go to the top of the ladder, and he volunteered to help them out. He has given much of his time to coaching the team and his efforts have been accounted for in the recent games. Charlie Thompson has also been out to help in the practice for several days.

Riverside has been coached by two very prominent men this year—Lieutenant Colonel Ray C. Hill, who graduated from West Point in 1906, and was captain of the varsity football squad that year, has been working with the cadets all season, Mr. Beaver, who once played with Georgia university, has also been helping in the work.

Tech High-Boys' High Game.

The Tech High-Boys' High at Grant field Saturday should be of state-wide interest, for if Tech High wins they will have a chance at the state title, but if they lose they will lose their all. Should Boys' High win they will have the city title and Riverside will have the state.

One of the interesting events of Thanksgiving morning will be the football game between Lanier High of Macon and G. M. A., at College Park, at 10 o'clock. The Lanier team comes to Atlanta with a string of victories attached to their belts and are going after G. M. A.'s scalp. They beat Boys' High last Saturday and Boys' High in turn beat G. M. A. by 13 points.

The G. M. A. team is on the bum now with several of their best players on the injured list. Coach Tolbert expects, however, to send in a good team against the light Orange and Green eleven.

"BILL" POOLE IN RACE FOR TAX COLLECTOR

Chairman of Board of County Commissioners for This Office.

Though the primary for state and county officers will not be held until some time in the early months of next year, candidates for various offices are beginning to make their announcements to the voters.

The latest to announce as a candidate for Fulton county tax collector is W. M. Poole, at present chairman of the board of county commissioners. Mr. Poole has had the matter of entering the race for tax collector under advisement for some time, and it has generally been understood in political circles that he would be a candidate. He is now serving his last year of a four year term as county commissioner, and has been one of the active members of that body since his election to it. Many will remember the unique and whirlwind campaign of "Red-headed Bill Poole," as he is known to so many of his friends, in the county commissioner's race, and how, though one of the last entrants, he led the ticket over a large field.

W. M. POOLE.

Mr. Poole states that a little later in the campaign he will name a list of deputies to serve with him in the event of his election.

Mr. Poole was born and reared in Fulton county, and those who know him declare he will unquestionably have the enthusiastic support of a large following of friends in his coming race.

Rumanes, Thinking Relatives Are Dead, Receives Good News

After believing for the past four years that his aunt, uncle and their five children had been killed by the Turks, Anthony D. Rumanes, Peachtree printer, has received word that they have all survived the massacres of the war.

When the war broke out the uncle and aunt, and their children, were living in Galata, Turkey. Greeks have always been the enemies of the Turks, and especially were their lives in danger during the disturbances of the war. It had been reported to Rumanes that his kinspeople had been executed by the Turks. He had not heard from them, and did not hear from them, since the war started, and so in his own mind he confirmed the report. However, he appealed to the director of civilian relief of the southern division of the Red Cross, for definite information. The director wrote to the foreign division, and a few days ago a cable in regard to Rumanes' relatives was received, which said: "All well and happy."

The aunt and uncle and the children are now operating a little restaurant, the Cafe de la Marine, in Richtrim, Galata, and Anthony Rumanes is happy again.

GOVERNOR DECLINES TO HONOR REQUISITION

Governor [illegible]ley yesterday declined to honor a requisition from the governor of Alabama for Emory Anderson, charged with abandonment of his wife in that state. Attorney Branch at the hearing on the requisition presented evidence to show that the wife of Anderson had been seen going out with other men and had been known to get drunk.

The governor wrote Joseph R. Tate, the prosecuting attorney in Alabama, informing him of the reason for declining the requisition.

CHAMBER ELECTS EIGHT DIRECTORS

Members of Civic Organization Cast Ballots and Choose New Officials for 1920.

Despite inclement weather several hundred members of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce turned out yesterday to take part in the annual election of eight new members of the board of directors. Those elected were: W. W. Banks, Julian V. Boehm, E. P. McBurney, George D. McCutcheon, Haynes McFadden, G. T. Nunnaly, J. E. Raley and R. B. Troutman.

The doors connecting the town room and the assembly hall were thrown open and the many members who dropped in during the afternoon lounged about the building, discussing various phases of the work of the chamber during the coming year.

The new members will take their seat on the board on January 1 and early next year will begin the work of conducting a campaign for a new charter for the city government, according to Charles E. Robertson, secretary.

MOOSE HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTELL BUILDING

Colonel Frank P. Morton, district supervisor for the Loyal Order of Moose, who was instrumental in bringing Vice President Marshall to the city to talk about the Moose order, has opened offices at 608 Austell building, from which place he is forming a Moose order in Atlanta.

Colonel Morton has been an active Moose worker for several years, being very successful in organizing lodges in many states of the south. He declares he is going to make Atlanta his headquarters until he sees a strong order here housed in a building of its own. The Atlanta charter is now open, and quite a number of good business men and public officials of the city have enrolled their names.

Assisting Colonel Morton is C. T. Patrick, a former Atlantan, but for the past few years a resident of Charleston. Mr. Patrick is a deputy organizer, and with his family has moved from South Carolina to this city, where he expects to help Colonel Morton institute a big Moose order within a short time.

SERVICE FOR BAPTISTS ON THANKSGIVING DAY

It has been arranged and agreed that the congregations of all the Baptist churches of Atlanta will join in Thanksgiving services on Thursday, November 27, at 11 a. m., at the First Baptist church, 211 Peachtree street. Members of other congregations will be welcomed and the Baptist congregations, by special agreement, are all to be present.

Dr. Henry Alford Porter will speak and there will be appropriate songs by the congregations and the choirs. The hour is 11 a. m., Thursday, November 27, at the First Baptist church.

Weather Forecast For Thanksgiving Sounds Inviting

"Fine weather for Thanksgiving," predicted the weather expert Tuesday.

"The rain, which began to fall about noon Tuesday, will continue Wednesday morning and probably until Wednesday afternoon, but clear, cool weather is looked forward to for Thanksgiving."

The weather forecaster says that it will turn a little cooler after Wednesday, but not much, just enough to make a crisp game of football more enjoyable.

HAPEVILLE ELECTION TO BE DECEMBER 2

The city of Hapeville will hold its municipal election on December 2. Much interest is being aroused over this election and a large vote is anticipated.

There are two aspirants for the office of mayor. They are W. F. Wells and A. S. Clyatt. On the councilmanic board there are two vacancies to be filled. W. T. Akin is seeking the office now held by A. T. Scoggins and J. R. Barron will fill the vacancy left by A. S. Clyatt.

SUGAR PROFITEERING BY TRICK IS CHARGED

"Swapping" of Louisiana and Cuban Sugars Alleged by Federal Official.

A warning to grocers and wholesalers selling sugar that the government is conducting an investigation of alleged "swapping" of Louisiana and Cuban sugars, is contained in a statement issued Tuesday at the office of the district attorney.

It is declared that Cuban granulated sugars are being sold in this market at prices exceeding those permitted by the government, but that these sugars are being sent here from Louisiana under the brand of Louisiana plantation granulated, for which a larger price is allowed by the government.

It is the belief that these sugars were bought up from government stocks at 9 cents. The evidence to prove this fact is now being gathered.

Methodists to Hold Thanksgiving Service At Wesley Memorial

A big Thanksgiving service will be held Thursday morning at Wesley Memorial church at 11 o'clock, and Bishop Warren Candler will preach the Thanksgiving sermon. Every southern Methodist church in the city will take part in the joint service, and it is expected that an immense crowd will be present on this special occasion. Wesley Memorial is located at the corner of Ivy and Auburn avenue, and was chosen for the service because of its central location.

According to the announcement given out yesterday by Rev. B. F. Fraser, pastor of the church, a special program will be given in which the choirs of all the churches will take part.

The sermon of Bishop Candler will be special for the occasion, and the entire service is expected to be of deep interest.

INCREASE GIVEN TROLLEY EXPRESS

Thirty Per Cent Raise in Freight Rates Granted Power Company by Railroad Comissiomn.

An increase of about 30 per cent in tariff charges for the suburban freight and express service of the Georgia Railway and Power company was authorized by the railroad commission. The company represented that it was confronted with the issue of either increasing rates or discontinuing the service.

It was first decided to ask to be allowed to discontinue the service altogether, the business being largely done already by motor trucks, but later a petition for an increase of rates was substituted. The railroad commission did not make the rates as high, however, as the petitioners sought.

The petition of the Rome municipal Gas company to be allowed to make a surcharge of 50 cents per meter per month was denied.

The Statesboro Telephone company was authorized to increase rates as follows: Business telephones, from $3 to $3.50 per month; residence telephones, $2 to $2.50; farmers' lines, 50 to 75 cents. The Brooklet Telephone company, a subsidiary corporation to the one just named, also located in Bulloch county, was allowed to increase from $2.50 to $3 for business phones, $1.50 to $2 for residence phones and 50 to 75 cents for farmers' lines.

The Valdosta Gas company was authorized to issue $50,000 first moregage bonds in order to enlarge and make additions to its plant, and to increase gas rates from $1.50 per thousand cubic feet to $1.75 per thousand net. The rate asked for was $1.80.

Schedules of the Washington branch of the Georgia railroad were revised in accordance with an agreement between the railroad authorities and the chamber of commerce of Washington. The revision involves the taking off of two mixed trains and the substitution therefor of passenger carrying only trains.

Special Thanksgiving Dinner, $1.50 per plate, served 11:30 to 8:30 p. m. Music, 12 to 2 and 5:30 to 7:30 p. m. Ruse & Cason, Kimball Cafe.

BARRACKS
New in proportions and design.
2½ inch points
With the reinforced Oblong Cable-Cord Buttonhole.
Always ask for Arrow Collars
OLDEST BRAND IN AMERICA
UNITED SHIRT & COLLAR CO. TROY, N. Y.

ORIGINATORS OF FREE ROAD SERVICE

Ready to Jump

Our Tire Service Is For Your Fleet of Cars

You may obtain our complete and effective tire service on your pneumatic tires by merely signifying your intention of making your future purchases United States Tires.

The tires which are guaranteed free from imperfection of material and workmanship with no limitation of mileage.

On this firm foundation, our service builds up for you efficient and scrupulously saving tire usage.

Remember: you need not discard your present equipment, you merely make renewals of your equipment, as they are needed, of United States Tires.

And our service, preventing and relieving tire trouble, and taking charge of routine tire operation, is yours, without charge, every hour in the year.

Quick Tire Service, Inc.

Atlanta 700
Bell-Ivy 65
Note telephone number

2-6 W. Peachtree Street
Read address again

Can you pick a good one when you see it?

20 for 20 cents

Get right up there where Spur Cigarettes are galloping in the lead.

Judge Spurs by that good old tobacco taste—American and Imported tobacco, blended in a new way.

Judge 'em by their good-breeding, emphasized by their smart package of brown and silver.

They're crimped, not pasted. So they burn slower and draw easier. Rolled in satiny, imported paper.

Something about that package and that cigarette just naturally fills the bill.

You know Spurs for a winner the minute the dealer trots 'em out.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Spur Cigarettes

HERCULES
FORD
COMMERCIAL BODIES
for Delivery Purposes

Immediate Deliveries

Distributed in North Georgia by
BEAUDRY MOTOR CO.
Authorized Ford Dealers
169 Marietta St. Phone Main 2245

When Men Congregate

Some stand out from among the others as individuals. These are the well-dressed men, the men who give thought and care to their appearance. Such men find in our Store For Men the very accessories to dress which assure in every sense of the word that feeling of well-being which can only be induced by garments in the best of taste.

Every article in the selections we offer has been obtained because it is representative of the very best to be had in that particular line, and yet, quality considered, the prices we ask of you are very low, lower, in fact, than you could possibly expect.

In shirts and socks, in collars and ties, in pajamas and night shirts, in bath and lounging robes, in gloves and sticks and in belts and buckles, you will find only those things which carry the hall-mark of specialization.

In underwear only those lines are presented for your approval which assure the maximum in comfort and durability.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

Wherever Gentlemen Are

EL Roi Tan
—Perfect Cigars
Sold Everywhere Good Anywhere
Capital City Tobacco Co.
DISTRIBUTORS
Augusta Atlanta Jobbers

The Constitution's Markets, Business and Financial News and Reviews

Cotton Very Unsettled Over World Financing

Sharp Recovery Early Was Followed by Reaction—Net Result Was Gain on Present Crop and Decline on October.

RANGE IN NEW YORK COTTON.

	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev. Close.
Dec.	37.15	37.60	37.05	37.43	36.98
Jan.	35.95	36.56	35.90	36.18	35.73
Mar.	34.30	34.60	34.03	34.25	33.93
May	32.95	33.17	32.65	32.82	32.62
July	31.85	32.00	31.55	31.68	31.50

Closed steady.

RANGE IN NEW ORLEANS COTTON

	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev. Close.
Dec.	38.10	38.50	37.95	38.39	37.84
Jan.	36.36	36.70	36.15	36.55	35.98
Mar.	34.75	35.14	34.50	34.81	34.50
May	33.33	33.65	33.03	33.39	32.98
July	32.39	32.65	32.03	32.28	31.98

Closed steady.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE.

New York, November 25.—(Special.)—Following were ruling prices on the American Cotton and Grain Exchange, Inc., today:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Dec.	37.60	37.93	37.53	37.78	37.50
Jan.	36.38	36.75	36.30	36.48	35.94
Mar.	34.56	34.92	34.53	34.58	34.19
May	33.40	33.40	33.05	33.20	33.00
July	32.21	32.35	31.96	32.01	31.85

New York, November 25.—A further sharp recovery during today's early trading in the cotton market was followed by reactions and sentiment seemed to be unsettled late in the afternoon by renewed nervousness over international finances.

This evidently resulted from a London cable reporting that the American and British governments were planning to accept extensions of time for the repayment of loans by the allies. After advancing from 35.90 to 36.56, January closed at 36.18, with the general market closing steady at a net advance of 18 to 45 points on the present crop, but 10 points lower on next October.

The market was very firm during the early trading. Liverpool again made a strong showing and prices opened at an advance of 22 to 38 points. There was considerable southern selling and realizing, or held over liquidation, which caused moderate reactions right after the call, but the market soon firmed up again on continued trade buying and covering promoted by the steadier ruling on foreign exchange, and increasing optimism over the labor situation.

December advanced to 37.60 and March to 34.60, with old crop months generally showing net gains of 50 to 83 points, and with January showing a recovery of over 3½ cents per pound from the low levels of last Wednesday. The covering movement then subsided, however, and the market weakened during the afternoon under realizing and renewed southern selling.

Some of the early buyers seemed to be disappointed over the failure of Washington news to indicate an immediate settlement of the coal controversy and there were reactions of about half a cent in the late trading.

SPOTS IN NEW YORK.

New York, November 25.—Spot cotton steady; middling 39.45.

NEW ORLEANS GAINS; AFTERNOON REACTION

New Orleans, November 25.—While the cotton market opened at the advance, remained at a net advance all day and finally closed at net gains of 31 to 55 points, there was a period in the early afternoon when fairly wide reactions occurred and threatened to send the market below the level of yesterday's close.

This was due to heavy realizing of profits by bullish traders on a market which acted as if it held a considerable long interest.

The opening was higher on a better Liverpool market than due and the advance was widened, first by a favorable interpretation of coal strike news and later by the somewhat higher quotations on foreign exchange. Wet weather in the central and western sections of the belt with prospects of much lower temperatures also caused some buying. At the highest the market stood at net gains of 65 to 72 points.

ANNUAL ESTIMATE.

The announcement from Washington that the annual estimate of the crop by the department of agriculture would be made at 1 o'clock, New Orleans time, on December 11, caused a revival of interest in small crop estimates and gave prominence to a spot firm estimate of 10,130,000 bales, not counting linters.

Spots here were quoted firm, but unchanged at 38.75 for middling, which compared with the closing price on December of 38.39.

SPOTS IN NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, November 25.—Spot cotton firm and unchanged. Sales on the spot, 2,100; to arrive, 3,189. Low middling, 32.75; middling, 38.75; good middling, 40.50. Receipts, 8,800; stock, 446,167.

Liverpool Cotton.

Liverpool, November 25.—Cotton spot, in fair inquiry; prices, firm; good middling, 26.51; fully middling, 25.61; middling, 24.71; low middling, 22.46; good ordinary, 20.31; ordinary, 19.31. Sales, 8,000 bales, including, 7,000 American; receipts, 16,000 bales, including 2,700 American. Futures closed steady; November, 24.25; December, 23.82; January, 23.32; March, 22.22; May, 21.22; July, 20.42.

Money Market.

New York, November 25.—Mercantile paper, 5½@5¾; sterling 60-day bills, 4.01; commercial 60-day bills on banks, $4.00¾; commercial 60-day bills, 4.00½; demand, 4.05¾; cables, 4.06.

Francs, demand, 9.67; cables, 9.59. Guilders, demand, 37 13-16; cables, 37 15-16. Lire, demand, 11.97; cables, 11.95. Marks, demand, 2.50; cables, 2.52.

Government bonds heavy; railroad bonds heavy.

Time loans, strong; 60 and 90 days and six months, 7½ bid.

Call money easy; ruling rate, 7; bank acceptances, 4¾.

Bar silver, 1.37½. Mexican dollars, 1.05½.

Metals.

New York, November 25.—Copper, quiet; electrolytic, spot and nearby, 19; futures, 19@19½.

Iron, firm; No. 1 northern, 36.00@37.00; No. 2 northern, 35.00@36.00; No. 2 southern, 32.00.

Antimony, 9.25@9.50.

Metal exchange quotes lead firm; spot and December, 6.70 bid, 6.80 asked.

Zinc, firm; East St. Louis delivery, spot, 7.85 bid, 7.95 asked.

At London, spot copper, £97, 7s, 6d.; futures, £98, 17s, 6d; electrolytic, spot, £109; futures, £113.

Linseed, spot, £292, 12s, 6d; futures, £294, 2s, 6d.

Lead, spot, £36, 12s, 6d; futures £36, 15s.

Zinc, £48; futures, £48, 10s.

White Potatoes.

Chicago, [illegible] weak; arrivals, [illegible] sacked, $2.75@2.85; [illegible]

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, November 25.—Cotton oil, quiet, cotton seed oil was firm on local buying inspired by higher cotton and tallow. Offerings of both crude and refined oil were light. Final bids were 16 to 19 points net higher. Sales, 7,500 barrels.

Prime crude, 18.50@19; prime summer yellow, nominal; December, 21.05; March, 21.58; May, 21.68; prime winter yellow and summer white, nominal.

The market closed dull. November, 21; December, 21.05; January, 21.49; February, 21.40; March, 21.58; April, 21.50; May, 21.68; June, 21.60. Sales, 7,500.

ATLANTA QUOTATIONS SPOT COTTON MARKET

ATLANTA SPOT COTTON	40.20c
Same day last year	29.20c
Receipts, bales	1,880
Shipments, bales	903
Stock, bales	39,023

COTTON MOVEMENT

Port Movement.

New Orleans: Middling, 38.75; receipts, 8,809; exports, 14,500; sales, 5,289; stock, 446,157.

Galveston: Middling, 41.25; receipts, 19,375; sales, 375; stock, 329,657.

Mobile: Middling, 37.75; receipts, 1,958; stock, 42,040.

Savannah: Middling, 39.25; receipts, 11,135; exports, 23,576; sales, 2,448; stock, 364,438.

Charleston: Receipts, 1,009; stock, 84,494.

Wilmington: Receipts, 2,153; stock, 55,784.

Texas City: Receipts, 5,651; stock, 73,683.

Norfolk: Middling, 37.75; receipts, 2,658; sales, 1,311; stock, 101,927.

Baltimore: Stock, 16,035.

Boston: Middling, 39.05; receipts, 14; stock, 3,900.

Philadelphia: Middling, 39.70; receipts, 302; stock, 9,651.

New York: Middling, 39.45; receipts, 849; exports, 500; stock, 78,258.

Minor ports: Stock, 32,531.

Total today: Receipts, 53,913; exports, 38,576; stock, 1,638,575.

Total for week: Receipts, 135,990; exports, 99,179.

Total for season: Receipts, 2,570,491; exports, 1,725,548.

Interior Movement.

Houston: Middling, 41.25; receipts, 17,353; shipments, 14,930; sales, 3,691; stock, 211,559.

Memphis: Middling, 40.00; receipts, 11,064; shipments, 6,760; sales, 4,400; stock, 232,843.

Augusta: Middling, 38.25; receipts, 4,605; shipments, 2,820; sales, 418; stock, 205,061.

St. Louis: Middling, 40.50; receipts, 3,202; shipments, 3,202; sales, 115; stock, 5,110.

Atlanta: Middling, 39.10; receipts, 1,800; shipments, 903; stock, 39,023.

Little Rock: Middling, 40.00; receipts, 1,404; shipments, 1,315; sales, 1,315; stock, 40,382.

Dallas: Middling, 40.70; sales, 10,616.

Montgomery: Middling, 38.00.

Total today: Receipts, 39,518; shipments, 29,930; stock, 753,878.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, November 25.—(Special.)—Today's cotton market was higher under the influence of continued demand by trade interests early in the session. Wall street was the chief seller, although Liverpool sold some. Liquidation and hedge seling later in the day broke prices back close to the previous night's final. The latter decline was influenced somewhat by reports from Washington of no decision today on the coal controversy. ORVIS BROS. & CO.

NEW ORLEANS LETTER.

New Orleans, November 25.—(Special.)—A fresh display of bullish sentiment carried the cotton market up for fairly wide gains in the early trading today, but the eagerness of longs for their profits caused reactions later. The market acted as if it was carrying a considerable long interest. The better tone of foreign exchange helped values and there was the usual favorable talk concerning the coal strike. Liverpool was very much better than due and sent over extremely bullish accounts concerning the state of trade in Manchester. The market finally closed at moderate net gains. The department of agriculture announces that the annual estimate of the crop will be issued at 1 o'clock, New Orleans time, on Thursday, December 11.

DUGGAN & BOUDEN.

New York, November 25.—(Special.)—The feature of the market today was the buying for Liverpool account on the opening and at the close there was also considerable buying of the bear positions on the theory that so long as the stock in this market was small the premiums of these months would continue to widen. Over the more distant deliveries sentiment as a whole was generally mixed, for the trade sees little new outside business appearing and feels that if recent buyers should attempt to liquidate for any reason the market would not take the cotton. On the other hand, the offerings from the south are rather small, so that any concentrated buying quickly advances prices. It is generally felt that there will be no great change in values until the government report is issued on December 11. HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

New York, November 25.—(Special.)—In response to better cables from abroad and increased covering and trade demand centered in near positions, prices advanced about 80 points, and while a moderate reaction occurred, the undertone was firm. The market was partly influenced by bullish interior spot advices, with exports increasing. We anticipate active movements in both directions, and on any further substantial rally suggest taking profits on purchases made recently.

J. W. JAY & CO.

New York, November 25.—(Special.)—Renewed firmness in the Liverpool market and improved condition in the American and foreign money market caused a decidedly better feeling, and values again advanced 50 points. Around 34.50 for March, the country districts began taking profits and the market stumped. The bull ring is becoming crowded again, so we once more advise our friends not to overstay the market, but to take profits on all favorable opportunities. CLARKE & CO.

New York, November 25.—(Special.)—In a comparatively quiet market, today's feature was the very pronounced strength in the near months, somewhat at the expense of the distant months. The continued heavy exports, totalling 38,576 bales today, with optimistic spot advices from the south, hold out little hope for those who may be short of the near months, when the smallness of the New York certified stock is taken into consideration. The burden of the sales, therefore, both hedge and speculative, that are coming into the market, will be made in the distant months, causing an unnatural discount. This discount is undoubtedly due in a large measure to the unsettled conditions and the belief that when the immediate spot demand is filled, an easier tendency will prevail in the spot markets of the world. Just so long as conditions continue upset this position may be fully justified, but if the coal strike difficulties are definitely settled and if the peace treaty should be promptly ratified at the forthcoming session of congress, this heavy discount would appear illogical. It seems, therefore, that the immediate future depends upon the settlement of the various critical issues and as these become definitely settled, purchases of distant months will be advisable. JOHNSTON BROS.

Dry Goods.

New York, November 25.—Dress ginghams opened today for fall cutting trade. Flannelettes were ordered freely for fall. Yarns were firm, cotton goods of a staple character and steadier. Large accumulations of raw silk are reported in warehouses in this country.

Naval Stores.

Savannah, Ga., November 25.—Turpentine, firm, 1.56⅝@1.57½; sales, 445; receipts, 410; shipments, 7,49; stock, 12,704.

Rosin, firm; sales, 476; receipts, 1,950; shipments, 2,140; stock, 52,311. Quote: B, $16.15; D, $16.25@35; E, $16.40@50; F, $16.45@50; G, $16.50@55; H, $16.55@60; I, $17.60; K, $18.35; M, 19.00@20.00; N, WG, WW, nothing doing.

Jacksonville, Fla., November 25.—Turpentine firm, $1.57½; sales, 37; receipts, 32; shipments, 188; stock, 10,726.

Rosin steady; sales, 1,105; receipts, 502; shipments, 531; stock, 98,886.

Quote: B, $16.10; D, $16.20; E, $16.45; F, $16.45; G, $16.50; H, $16.55; I, $17.20; K, $18.25; M, $19; N, $19.75; window glass, $22; water white, $22.50.

Rice.

New Orleans, November 25.—Rough rice strong; sales, Honduras, 105 sacks, 10.75; receipts, 7,732; millers, 7,700.

Clean rice, strong; sales, Honduras, 1,980 pockets, 7⅛@13; Japan, 232 pockets, 9@10¾; Blue Rose, 6,361 pockets, 7@11⅝. Receipts, 15,328.

Bran, $38 per ton; polish, $65.

London Money.

London, November 25.—Bar silver, 76d per ounce.

Money, 4¾ per cent; discount rates, short bills, 5⅞@6 per cent; three-month bills, 5⅞@6 per cent.

STOCKS SESSION DULL ON TUESDAY

Trend of Aimless, Professional Market Was Mainly Upward, However—Recent Losers the Greatest Gainers.

New York, November 25.—Trading on the stock exchange today was again relatively dull and professional, there being little evidence of the public participation which succeeded the recent reaction.

The market drifted aimlessly, but mainly upward, especially among those issues which experienced the greatest shrinkage in the several liquidating movements of the past fortnight.

There were exceptions to the advance, of which rails, coppers and local utilities were the most conspicuous examples. Reasons for the backwardness of these groups were so obvious as to excite little comment.

Easy money, reduced tension in the foreign exchange situation and other factors which served in the price readjustment of the last few days were again operative, but in more moderate degree.

Advices touching upon the coal conference in Washington were less hopeful in character, but the various coal carrying shares reflected this only in minor measure. Pools seemed to have little difficulty in advancing the motors and their subsidiaries, also steels, equipments, oils, tobaccos and leathers. General Motors were the outstanding feature at an extreme rise of 29 points, gains elsewhere ranging from 3 to 10 points.

Several ordinarily obscure, or dormant industrials in the steel division displayed unusual activity and strength, but many gains suffered partial or entire cancellation on relaizing for profits in the later dealings.

The entire bond market was reactionary, several low records being made by Liberty issues, with extreme weakness in local tractions. Total sales, par value, aggregated $22,500,000, an unusually heavy turn-over. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

NEW YORK STOCKS

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Am. Beet Sugar	97⅞	95¼	95½	96⅞
Am. Can	56	54½	55½	54⅝
Am. Car & Fdry	137⅞	136¼	136½	137
Am. Hide & Leather pfd.	125⅛	124½	125	125
Am. Int. Corp.	114¼	113	113	113
Am. Loco.	97⅜	95¼	95⅝	96⅜
Am. Linseed	72½	70⅜	70⅜	70
Am. Smelt. & Rfg.	65⅝	64⅜	65	66
Am. Sugar	140¼	137¼	137¼	140
Am. Sumatra Tob.	92	90	92	90
Am. Tel. & Tel.	100	99½	100	100
Am. Tob.	262	257	260	252
Anaconda Cop.	60½	59⅜	60⅜	61⅝
Atchison	88¼	88	88	88½
A. C. L.	94⅛	94¼	94¼	95
Atl., G. & W. I.	175	169⅜	172½	168¼
Baldwin Loco.	114	110¾	111¼	112
B. & O.	37⅜	37½	37½	38¼
Beth. Steel "B"	98⅛	96	96½	95⅜
Canadian Pacific	146	145¼	145¼	146½
Central Leather	99½	96⅞	97⅝	97⅛
C. & O.	57½	57½	57½	58
Chi., M. & St. P.	42½	41½	41½	41⅞
Chi., R. I. & Pac.	27⅞	27⅜	27⅝	27⅝
Chino Cop.	36⅜	35⅞	36½	36⅝
Colo. Fuel & I.	43¼	43	43	42⅝
Corn Prod.	84⅝	83½	83½	83⅝
Crucible Steel	220½	215	215½	217
Cuba Cane Sugar	48⅝	47½	48¼	47½
Erie	15⅝	14⅞	15	15⅛
Gen. Elec.	171½	169½	169¾	165½
Gen. Motors	366	338⅜	364½	337
Grt. North. pfd.	84	82⅞	83	83⅝
do. Ore Ctfs.	40	39⅞	40	40
Gulf States Steel	66	66	66	65
Illinois Central	92¼	91⅛	91½	92
Inspiration Cop.	54⅛	53	53½	54¼
Int. Mer. Marine pfd.	106⅝	105⅜	106	52
Int. Nickel	25	24⅜	24⅜	71
Int. Paper	72⅛	71½	71½	25
Kennecott Cop.	29⅞	29½	29⅝	29⅜
L. & N.			112	112
Maxwell Motors	43	41⅜	41⅜	41
Mex. Petro.	205½	202⅜	203	202⅜
Miami Cop.	23⅝	23½	23⅝	24
Midvale Steel	52¼	51⅜	51⅝	51⅝
Missouri Pacific	27½	27	27	27½
N. Y. Central	72⅝	72	72	72½
N. Y., N. H. & H.	32	31¼	31½	32
N. & W.	100⅜	100¼	100⅜	100¼
North. Pacific	85	84⅝	84⅝	85
Ohio Cities Gas	50½	50⅛	50⅜	50⅛
Okla. Prod. & Rfg.	10	9⅝	9⅝	9½
Pan-Am. Pet.	109½	107½	108	108⅝
Pennsylvania	42½	42¼	42¼	42⅜
Pittsburg & W. Va.	29⅝	29⅜	29⅜	30
Ray Cons. Cop.	21	20⅝	20⅞	20⅞
Reading	79¼	78¼	78½	79
Rep. Iron & S.	110	107½	108	107½
Royal Dutch	103	101½	102	101⅝
S. A. L.				8⅜
do. pfd.			17	17
Sinclair Oil & Rfg.	50	49½	49¾	49½
Sloss-Shef. S. & I.	74	73	73½	72
Sou. Pacific	98⅝	96⅞	97¼	98⅛
Sou. Railway	24⅞	24¼	24⅞	24½
do. pfd.	60⅞	60⅜	60⅞	62
Studebaker Corp.	122¾	118¾	121½	118⅛
Tenn. Cop.	11⅝	11⅜	11⅜	11⅝
Texas Co.	301¼	296½	299	296
Tob. Prod.	85⅞	84⅜	85⅞	84½
Union Pacific	129½	127½	128	129⅜
U. S. Retail Stores	94¼	91⅜	94¼	90½
United Fruit	213⅜	205¼	205¾	210¼
U. S. Food Prod.	76⅜	75	76	76¼
U. S. Ind. Alcohol	106⅜	105¼	105½	105¼
U. S. Rubber	125⅞	122½	124⅜	122⅛
U. S. Steel	105⅞	104⅜	104⅜	105
do. pfd.	114	113¼	114	114
Utah Cop.	75⅝	75	75⅝	75
Va.-Car. Chem.	69	69	69	68⅞
Western Union	87¼	87⅝	87⅝	88
Westinghouse Elec.	54¼	53⅞	54	53⅞
Willys-Overland	31⅜	31	31⅜	31¼

Total sales for the day, 1,060,000 shares.

OTHER STOCKS Quotations Supplied by Securities Sales Co., Grant Building.

	High.	Low.	Close.
Allis	43⅛	42⅞	43¼
American Cotton Oil	52	52	52
Am. Hide and Leather pfd.	125⅛	124½	125
Am. Ship & Com.	31⅜	30⅜	30⅞
Am. Steel Fdry.	42¼	41⅝	41⅝
Am. Wool	129¼	126	127
Chandler Motor	121⅝	118¼	120
COCA-COLA	40	40	40
Good. Rubber	82⅞	81½	82⅛
Kelly-Springfield	139⅜	137	138
Keystone T. & R.	51	49⅜	50⅛
Lackawanna Steel	90	87	87
Max. Motor 1st pfd.	68½	67	67
Northern Pacific	85	84⅝	84⅜
Pierce-Arrow	88⅞	70¼	88⅞
Pierre Marquette	24⅜	24	24
Pfd. Steel Car	104½	101⅜	102
Stutz	117⅜	116⅜	116⅝
Texas & Pacific	47⅝	46	46¼
Uni. Rt. & S.	94¼	91⅜	94¼
White Motor	70⅜	67¼	69⅞
Worthington Pump	96½	89	90
Transcontinental Oil	53⅛	52	52⅝
Marine	53⅝	52	52½
do. pfd.	108⅝	105¾	106
Chile Copper	19⅞	19⅝	19⅝

Liberty Bonds.

New York, November 25.—Closing prices of Liberty bonds today were:

3½s	100.04
First 4s	94.20
Second 4s	91.98
First 4¼s	94.32
Second 4¼s	92.24
Third 4¼s	94.30
Fourth 4¼s	92.28
Victory 3¾s	99.14
Victory 4¾s	99.20

Country Produce.

New York, November 25.—Butter, firm; receipts, 9,938; firsts, 63@72c.

Eggs, firm; receipts, 6,498; firsts, 76@79c.

Cheese, easy; receipts, 3,488; average run, 31@32c.

Live and dressed poultry steady; prices unchanged.

Chicago, November 25.—Butter unsettled; creamery, 58@71c.

Eggs higher; firsts, 70@71c.

Poultry, alive, higher; springs, 22c; fowls, 13½@21½c; turkeys, 35c.

St. Louis, November 25.—Poultry—Turkeys, 35c; others unchanged.

Butter and eggs unchanged.

Local Market Quotations

ATLANTA BANK CLEARINGS.

BANK CLEARINGS TUESDAY	$10,332,073.70
Sae day last week	12,576,781.47
Same day last year	9,613,095.67
Increase over same day last year	718,978.03
Total clearings so far this week	27,614,884.55

Atlanta Securities.

	Bid.	Asked.
Atlanta National Bank	290	310
Atlantic Ice & Coal Corp.	82	83
Atl. Ice & Coal Corp., pfd.	82½	84
A. & W. P. Railroad	148	150
Atlantic Steel	90	92
xAtlantic Steel, pfd.	92	95
Bibb Mfg. Co. (Macon)	200	210
Cen. Bank & Trust Corp.	152	1.55
Augusta & Savannah Ry.	90
Fulton National Bank	135
Exposition Cotton Mills	290
Eagle & Phoenix Cot. Mills	204	209
Empire Cotton Oil Co.	80
Fourth National Bank	325
Ga. Ry. & Elec. 5 per cent pfd.	77	79
Ga. Ry. & Elec. stamped	106¼	108
Ga. Ry. & Power Co. 1st pfd.	70	75
Ga. Ry. & Power Co. 2d pfd.	14	16
Ga. Ry. & Power Co. com.	10	13
Ga. R. R. & Banking Co.	228	232
Hillside Cotton Mills	220	225
Mandeville Mills	235	250
Southwestern Railroad	93	95
Trust Company of Georgia	350
Citizens' & Southern Bank	250
Lowry National Bank	235	240
Atlantic Steel 6s	97½	100
Atlantic Ice & Coal Corp. 6s	94	95
Ga. R. R. & Banking Co. 4s	78	83
Cen. R. R. & Bank Co. Col. Trust 5s	89	91

FISH AND OYSTERS.

(Wholesalers' prices to retailers. Quotations supplied by Bell Brothers, Produce Row, Atlanta.)

Mackerel, per lb.	$ 0.20
Trout, per lb.	.20
Mullet, per bbl.	20.00
Bottom fish, per bbl.	18.00
Pompanos, per lb.	.30
Snappers (none on market).
Grouper (none on market).
Select oysters, per gallon	2.50
Stews, per gallon	2.25

ATLANTA PROVISION MARKET.

(Corrected by the White Provision Co.)

Cornfield hams, 10-12 average	$ .32
Cornfield hams, 12-14 average	.32
Cornfield skinned hams, 16-18 av.	.32
Cornfield picnic hams, 6-8 average	.22
Cornfield breakfast bacon, wide or narrow	.43½
Cornfield sliced bacon, 1-lb. packages, 12 to case	.33
Grocers' bacon, wide or narrow	.33
Cornfield pork sausage, fresh link or bulk	.24
Cornfield wieners in 10-lb. cartons	.22
Cornfield wieners in 12-lb. kits in pickle	3.00
Cornfield bologna sausage in 25-lb. boxes	.18
Cornfield smoked link sausage in 25-lb. boxes	.18
Grandmother's pure lard, tierce basis	.32
Country style lard, tierce basis	.31
Compound lard, tierce basis	.27
D. S. extra ribs	.22½
D. S. bellies, light average	.22½
D. S. bellies, medium average	.22½

ATLANTA QUOTATIONS COTTON SEED PRODUCTS

Crude oil, basis prime	$19.00
C. S. meal, 7 per cent ammonia	73.00
C. S. meal, Ga. Com. R. Pt.	72.00
C. S. hulls, loose	14.00
C. S. hulls, sacked	18.00
Linters, first cut, high grade	.08½
Linters, clean mill run	.03

ATLANTA MARKETS

(Prices quoted by wholesale dealers to retailers. Corrected daily by the State Bureau of Markets, State Capitol, Atlanta.)

EGGS, POULTRY AND BUTTER.

Eggs, per dozen, No. 1, candled	$0.72
Eggs, storage, No. 1 candled April, per dozen	.55
Friers, live, per pound	.40
Hens' live, per pound	.26
Roosters, live, per pound	.17
Ducks, live, per pound	.27
Geese, per pound	.20
Turkeys, live, per pound	.37
Butter, creamery, quarters	.73
Butter, choice table, per pound	.60
Butter, cooking, per pound	.45

PRODUCE.

Cabbage, per cwt.	$3.50
Irish potatoes, cwt.	3.75
Onions (red), cwt.	6.00
Snap beans, hampers	3.50
Oranges, Florida, crate	4.00
Grapefruit	$3.50@ 4.10
Tomatoes, six-crate baskets	4.50
Sweet potatoes, cwt.	2.00

FEED STUFFS.

Mixed stock feed, ton	$48.00@$68.00
Corn, No. 2, bushel	1.98
Oats, No. 3, bushel	.95
Hay, No. 1 timothy, per ton	42.00
Hay, alfalfa, per ton	48.00
Shorts, gray, ton	68.00
Shorts, brown, ton	62.00
Bran, per ton	52.00
Chicken feed, cwt., sacked	$3.60@ 4.00
Alfalfa meal, ton	51.00
Cotton seed meal, 7 per cent, per ton	77.00
Chicken feed, cwt., sacked	$3.60@ 4.10
Cotton seed hulls, ton	20.00

GROCERIES.

Corn meal, cwt.	$ 4.15
Flour, 24-lb. sacks (per bbl.)	11.90
Flour, 48-lb. sacks (per bbl.)	11.70
Flour, self-rising	add. .25
Cheese	.35

ATLANTA LIVE STOCK MARKET.

(Corrected by the White Provision Co.)

Good to choice steers, 850-1,000, $9@9.50.

Good steers, 750-850, $8.50@8.75.

Medium to good steers, 750-850, $7.50@8.50.

Good to choice beef cows, 750-850, $6.75@7.50.

Medium to good cows, 650-750, $5.25@6.75.

Good to choice heifers, 550-650, $6@7.

The above represents the ruling prices for good quality fed cattle.

Inferior grades and dairy types quoted below:

Medium to good steers, 700-800, $7@8.

Medium to good cows, 600-700, $5.50@6.50.

Mixed common cows, $4.50@5.50.

Good fat oxen, $7@7.50.

Good butcher bulls, $6@7.

Choice veal calves, $5.50@8.00.

Yearlings, $4.50@6.

Prime hogs, 165-225, $13.00@13.25.

Light hogs, 135-165, $12.00@12.25.

Heavy pigs, 100-135, $11.00@11.25.

Light pigs, 60-100, $10.00@10.25.

The above applies to good quality mixed fed hogs.

Monthly Business Report Sixth Reserve District

Following is the monthly report on business and agricultural conditions in the sixth federal reserve district for the month ending November 25, issued by Joseph A. McCord, federal reserve agent:

There has never been a time when the economic situation in the United States requires so much thought and consideration by every influential citizen. The general restlessness and high prices make it necessary for increased production and decreased consumption by every one, regardless of his position, and it is believed that the thoughtful men and women have realized the conditions and are resolved to find a solution for the problems which are now before them, and to bring about better social and economic conditions.

The restlessness in the public mind is principally due to the cost of living, and while the wage for individual labor has been climbing upward, the demands are for still further increases which are made as a result of the high cost of living. This condition could go on still further and no good result would be accomplished. After all, the real question is not so much the cost of living, but the margin between the amount earned and the cost of living. It therefore seems imperative for everyone to use all their efforts and energies toward increased production and decreased consumption, and especially those in position of leadership, for it is to them that the people look for example. Let this be the slogan of all: "Work and Save."

Commercial.

The volume of fall trade as reported by both wholesale and retail dealers is active; merchants generally, while not carrying large stocks, seem to have sufficient to meet all demands of their trade. The wholesale houses are buying as needed, replenishing their stocks from time to time and meeting any depletions that may take place caused by heavy purchases in any line in excess of what they anticipated. This frequent buying is partly caused by inability of many merchants to receive shipments of purchased goods.

The warm weather has caused delay in purchasing by consumers, such lines as dry goods, shoes and clothing, but this trade has taken on considerable activity during the past two or three weeks of cooler weather. The volume of trade as reported by one large wholesale house is about 15 per cent better than that of last October.

There has been no reduction in the demand for money throughout the district. Interest rates are reported steady, and collections are satisfactory for the season of the year.

Many reports indicate increases in deposits, due in some cases to sales of cotton, which many have held for 40 cents a pound.

Statistics just published by the department of commerce covering the foreign commerce of the United States for the first eight months of 1919, ending with August, show that the port of Savannah has gained more than 100 per cent in exports as compared with the same period last year, and very nearly 100 per cent in the total of import and export trde combined. The imports port trade combined. The imports months of 1919 were $11.740,334. ccompared to $9.638,042 for the same period 1918. The exports for the first eight months of 1919 were $143.482,497, compared to $71,-051,191 for the same period 1918.

Agricultural.

Crops have practically all matured with the exception of velvet beans and sugar cane, which in some sections is still in splendid growing condition. All hay crops have been harvested. Peanuts are being picked from the vines and marketed, and practically all corn has been housed. The yield of hay has been exceptionally good. Peanuts are giving fair yield, though poorly cultivated on account of excessive rains during the growing and cultivating period.

The cotton crop is the shortest on record in this territory. The damage caused by the boll weevil has been very great, and the infested area is still spreading. It is estimated the crop in Alabama will be about 50 per cent of a normal crop, produced last year. The total corn crop of Alabama is estimated to be 67,375,000 bushels which is slightly under last year's production.

The average yield of peanuts in Alabama is estimated at 21 bushels per acre. The acreage planted this year to peanuts was about 530,000, which is more than 200,000 less than that of last year. This will mean a total crop for this seaon of over 11,000,000 bushels, compared to 14,-470,000 bushels gathered last year.

The sweet potato crop is not equal to earlier forecasts, although it is more than 5,000,000 bushels larger than the cro p of last seaon. The crop this year is etsimated at 19,-928,000 bushels.

It is estimated the total cotton produced in Alabama will be 696,000 bales. Other farm products estimated as follows.

Hay, tons	1,500,000
Irish potatoes, buashels	5,100,000
Wheat, buhsels	1,520,000
Oats, threshed, bushel	2,620,000
Sorghum syrup, gallons	13,923,000

The production of apples in Alabama is estimated at 35 per cent of normal, and the average quality is only 60 per cent of a high medium grade.

The following figures show the estimated production of the crops indicated in Mississippi:

Corn, bushels	60,528,000
Sweet potatoes, bushels	9,400,000
Sugar cane (syrup), gal.	6,630,000

The fall crop of Irish potatoes in Mississippi consists largely of patches for home consumption. The yield is estimated at eighty-five bushels to the acre. The crop of cowpeas is very short in both acreage and yield; the fall rains have rotted or severely damaged a very large proportion of the actual production.

Production Figures.

The following figures show the estimated average yield per acre of the crop shown in Georgia, the information being taken from the November crop sketch issued by the Co-operative Crop Reporting Service for Georgia:

Corn, bushels	15.1
Irish potatoes, bushels	68.8
Sweet potatoes, bushels	95.2
Tobacco, pounds	613.6
Peanuts, bushels	29.2
Sorghum, gallons

The Constitution's Markets, Business and Financial News

Sugar.

New York, November 25.—There was no change in old crop sugar, which is quoted at 7.28 for centrifugal to the refiner. Latest advices from Cuba said that the weather continues favorable for the growing crop and that two centrals are now grinding, against one a week ago. Receipts for the entire island of Cuba this week were longer than the previous week, while exports were smaller. There were no purchases reported by the board. In new crops no purchases were reported and while the market continues firm, offerings were more liberal than for some time past. Nothing new has developed in connection with government control of sugar, although it seems to be the impression in the trade that the regulation will by no means be as complete as last season.

The market for refined was unchanged, with no relief in sight. Prices were unchanged at 9 cents for fine granulated.

Provisions.

Chicago, November 26.—Cash: Pork, nominal.
Lard, $25.15.
Ribs, $19.50@20.50.

A college will be established in China to teach the natives scientific tea cultivation, special attention being paid to sanitary conditions.

THE NATIONAL CITY COMPANY
NATIONAL CITY BANK BUILDING NEW YORK

Japanese Government
Second 4½s
Due July 10, 1925
Foreign Stamped
At Market To Yield About
8 1-4%
Circular on request for AC-265
The National City Company
Correspondent Offices in Over 50 Cities
Atlanta—40 Edgewood Ave.
Telephone 7541 Ivy

TEXCALOKAN OIL & GAS CO.

Dividends at the rate of 1 (one) per cent per month (TWELVE per cent basis) are declared by this Company. The first of these dividends is payable December 30th to stockholders of record December 15th. Subsequent monthly dividends of 1 (one) per cent are payable the 30th of each month to stockholders of record the 15th of that month.

An extra stock devidend of 4 (four) per cent is declared, payable January 30, 1920, to stockholders of record January 15, 1920.

F. L. SAWYER, Treas.
Independence, Kans.

Stock Market Heavy During the Last Hour

BY R. L. BARNUM

(The Constitution-Philadelphia Public Ledger Service. Copyright, 1919.)

New York, November 25.—There was a strong undertone early today in the market for the industrial stocks, especially the motor shares. Railroad shares were soft. In the last hour, however, the market as a whole turned heavy.

It looks very much like the buying power now behind the industrial shares is for the account of those who sold short. It is possible that the pools are taking advantage of this buying power to sell out at the present high prices. There has been no short interest in the railroad stocks.

Certainly the market has grown into a purely traders' affair, although the million-share mark was passed today. But the public is not buying stocks. Hence the question arises: What will happen stock marketwise when the short interest has been wiped out?

The answer to this question hangs on the plans that are to be made by the newly-formed committees of the Bankers' association and the United States Chamber of Commerce for financing foreign trade. If suitable credits can be arranged it is possible that the stock market will again become active on a rising scale of prices as soon as the money market situation becomes settled. On the other hand, unless foreign credits are arranged, the industrial situation as well as the stock market, will face uncertainties.

Foreign Trade Much Discussed.

Until only a few days ago the money market was the key to the whole stock market situation. Today the subject uppermost in all Wall street discussion is the foreign trade situation.

So far a number of plans have been devised for meeting the foreign trade situation. All of these plans in one way or another provided for support from the government from the investigating public and from manufacturers and others with goods for sale to Europe.

Up to the present time the government, backed up by the treasury department, the administration and congress, has shown no inclination to depart from its original stand taken when the war ended to have the government keep its hands off in continuing to extend foreign credits. That the investing public has turned a deaf ear to offers of foreign bonds is an open secret. It is also true that with one or two exceptions manufacturers have not come forward with support. Just what can be done to awaken the various business interests involved remains to be seen. From all signs it appears that something is going to happen in this situation one way or another in the very near future.

Wall Street Gossip.

President Franklin, of the International Mercantile Marine, confirmed today's brief dispatches from London to the effect that a new agreement had been made whereby all directors were to be citizens of Great Britain, and that all officers of ships were to be Englishmen. That, however, only applies to the subsidiary companies of mercantile marine which fly the British flag. It is possible that the new agreement in other respects is more favorable to Great Britain.

It was only a few months ago that Mercantile Marine directors were negotiating for the sale of its British steamships to an English syndicate. Then the United States shipping board interfered and the deal was dropped. Negotiations were then started whereby the United States government was to take over the Mercantile Marine company, but that deal, too, was dropped. It now looks like England got what she was after in the first place. Wall street believes that in the future Great Britain will exercise stricter control in the affairs of the Mercantile Marine.

To Call Bonds.

American Sumatra announced today that on April 1, 1920, all outstanding ten-year debenture bonds will be called at 105. During the month of December corporations will call bonds and notes not yet due to the amount of $23,560,000. There was heavy selling of bonds today, the turnover footing up $23,000,000. At today's low prices two Liberty issues, the third 4¼ and the Victory 4¾s, were selling at prices where the income return was 5 per cent or more. This means that all of the gain that started last September has been lost.

In view of the further decline in the copper stocks, it is only natural that much importance is attached to the coming dividend meetings of the porphyry copper companies, which will take place during the early part of December. The meetings are generally held on December 6, but as that date falls on a Saturday this year, it is likely that the meeting will be postponed until the following Monday or held on Friday, the 5th. Earnings of the copper companies have been unfavorable, and under present conditions there is very little sign of improvement. In view of the quarterly deficit reported by many of the producing companies, it is now being predicted that there will be further dividend reductions.

Statement Causes Decline.

Further decline in the local tractor issues today was due to the statement issued by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit bondholders' committee to the effect that the company on the first of new year will not have sufficient funds from current earnings to pay the interest on $60,000,000 bonds and notes which fall due on that day. Funds for payment of interest on the receivers' certificates and on about $22,000,000 underlying Elevated bonds, however, will be in hand. As a result of this statement, Brooklyn Rapid Transit issues declined to a new low record. Interborough Metropolitan 4½s and Interboro Rapid Transit 5s made new records. Interboro Consolidated common and preferred also were weak. This statement follows one yesterday by J. P. Morgan & Co., stating that the Interboro Rapid Transit was facing a deficit of $5,000,000 on January 1.

Purchase of approximately $15,000,000 of acceptances by J. P. Morgan & Co., as announced this morning, proved a boon to dealers in this sort of paper, who have seen their market grow stagnant under the influence of high call loan rates. Inasmuch as the banks are the chief buyers of acceptances (though the Federal Reserve bank is often a heavy taker), there was inevitably a sharp falling off in demand as the call loan market grew more attractive. Even the Reserve bank, which has recently been trying to improve its cash position, could not be counted on to buy liberally of late.

Use Growing Steadily.

Yet, the use of acceptances is steadily growing. Bankers who are not in position to make heavy loans to their clients often get around the difficulty by putting their indorsement on a customer's bill and letting him sell it in the open market. Yet the day still seems to be far off when trading in acceptances will supersede call loans based upon stocks, as is the case in London.

Appointment of committees by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the American Bankers' association to consider ways of maintaining foreign trade and supporting the exchanges was taken in the financial district as an indication that this problem is becomng a live ssue among the bankers. Dispatches from London state that the British government, which has remained largely indifferent to the break in sterling, is also thinking of calling an international conference, which would be in line with recent reports that the federal reserve board and other United States government agencies were considering plans for an international conference. With so many bodies at work, Wall street is coming to believe that the question of the foreign exchanges will be the next great influence on security crises.

CURB SECURITIES

(The Constitution—Philadelphia Public Ledger Service—Copyright, 1919.)

	High.	Low.	Close.
Industrials.
Aetna Exp.	9	8⅝	8⅝
Allied Packers	38½	37	38½
American Marconi	6⅞	6⅝	6⅞
Brit Am. Tob.	26	25⅞	25⅞
Carlight	3⅜	3¼	3⅜
Colonial Tire	12	10	12
Gen. Asphalt	126	124	125
Grapeola	1⅜	1¼	1⅜
Hupp Motors	14⅞	14⅜	14½
Nor. Am. Pulp	4¼	4⅛	4⅛
Overland Tire	29½	29½	29½
Tob. Prod. Exp.	28½	28	28½
Wayne Coal	5⅛	5	5⅛
Standard Oils.
Anglo American	33½	33¼	33¼
Illinois Pipe	185	181	185
S. O. California	295	295	295
Independent Oils.
Amalg. Royalty	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Circle	4¼	4¼	4¼
Cosden	10¼	10¼	10¼
Elk Basin	8⅞	8½	8¾
Esmeralda Oil (new)	¼	¼	¼
Federal Oil	3⅞	3⅝	3⅞
Glenrock	3⅝	3½	3⅝
Guffey Gillespie	34⅜	33¼	34½
Indianhoma Ref.	11⅞	11⅞	11⅞
Inter. Pet	58½	55⅝	58
Island Oil	7¼	7	7⅛
Morritt	22	21⅞	22
Metro. Pet.	3½	3¼	3⅜
Midwest Ref.	166	164	165
North Am. Oil	5½	5¼	5½
Ohio Ranger	1	⅞	1
Prod. & Ref.	11⅜	11⅜	11⅜
Salt Creek Prod.	49¼	48½	49
Shell Trade & Trans.	82½	80¼	81
Simms Pet.	50	48	49¼
Trinity	1¼	1⅛	1¼
Bonds.
Allied Packers 6s	86	85	85
Am. T. & T. 6s	96⅞	96⅝	96⅝
Can. Govt 5½s, 1920	96⅜	96⅛	96⅜
Swedish Govt. 6s	94	93	93
Swiss Govt. 5½s	90¼	90	90¼
I. R. T. 7s	65⅜	61	62

NEGRO ASSIGNMENTS ARE READ IN SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., November 25.—(Special).—The Georgia annual conference A. M. E. church has closed a very successful session here. Presiding Elder C. C. Cargile was pensioned by the conference for a year with the hope of improving his health. Rev. W. G. Alexander is returned to West Savannah district and his report on education is said to be one of the ablest ever prepared in the state. Rev. R. V. Branch, who read the report on state of the country, is returned to the $75,000 church at West Broad street, Savannah.

Rev. I. D. Davis is appointed presiding elder, Hawkinsville district, and Rev. W. O. P. Sherman, Sr., is appointed presiding elder of the Savannah district. The sum of $65,000 has been collected for all purposes during the year. Twenty-four deacons and 15 elders were ordained to orders. Dr. A. J. Carey, presding elder Chicago district, was indorsed for election to the espiscopacy, which takes place in May, 1920 at St. Louis, Mo. Strong sermons were preached by Bishop Flipper and Dr. L. A. Townsley.

Bishop Flipper read assignments as follows:

West Savannah District.

W. G. Alexander, presiding elder; St. Philip, R. V. Branch; Gaines chapel, R. L. Heard; Bethel, H. H. Williamson; Summitt, R. Pierce; Trinity, W. G. Fleming; Miller, C. A. Moore; Statesboro, D. W. Stephens; Metter, A. B. Scurdy; Rockyford, S. C. McMillan; Portal, A. D. Scrutchin; Mt. Zion, R. Brady; Graymount, R. Leed; Blichton, W. J. Sherrod; Arcola, J. F. H. Bailey; Tarboro, William Rawls; Hogan, R. Gross; Herrington, J. H. Williams; Dover, S. G. Andrews; Register, Horace Coney; Rockyford mission, John Harmon; Woodcliff, P. E. Johnson; Mt. Zion mission, to be supplied; evangelists, D. L. Walker, S. E. Garbutt, G. W. Williamson.

Hawkinsville District.

I. D. Davis, presiding elder; St. Thomas and Poplar Springs, J. T. Thomas; Lumber City, G. W. Jenkins; Rochelle, J. W. Hall; Abbeville, B. J. Phillip; Rhines, Thomas Jefferson; Helena, C. W. Nicholson; Chancey, J. W. Moultrie; Eastman, H. S. Johnson; Dodge county, R. D. Shivers; Cochran, R. O. Freeman; Empire, E. W. Johnson; Seville, C. H. Walden; Erice and Flipper, William Bryant; Jeffersonville, J. J. Keywin; Calvin, W. H. Breedlove; Aulto and Scotland, Z. A. Lucas; Hilliard Grove, N. W. Whaley; Tempto, O. D. Bridges; Chester, M. J. Smith; evangelists, N. A. Berry, A. Reeves, H. R. Reeves, C. A. Green.

Savannah District.

W. O. P. Sherman, presiding elder; St. Philip Monumental, N. Bembry; St. James' Tabernacle, A. L. Sampson; Mobley Pound, L. P. Taylor; Sylvania, J. E. Brown; Springfield, L. B. Harris; Clyo, J. W. Maxwell; Halcyondale, William Dickens; Bogsley, D. Felder; Effingham, J. S. Bailey; Townsley chapel, G. W. Bullock; Hannah chapel, J. H. Murphy; Guyton, G. H. Green; Pooler, S. E. Scott; St. Paul and West End, F. Lanier; Rice Hope, P. L. Ballinger; Flipper chapel, A. W. Batey; Tuscalum and Pinora, A. P. Atkins; Minhardt and Ebenezer, B. J. Johnson; Cargille mission, J. S. Daniels.

Waycross District.

A. Parker, presiding elder; Gaines chapel, G. P. Prescott; Mt. Zion, J. F. Duhart; Bethel, J. W. Johnson; Stockton, J. R. Gay; Coffee county, J. W. Davis; Pearson, Scott Dinkins; Homerville, W. S. Geter; Nicholls, J. H. Howard; Willacoochee, W. W. Lyons; Brockston, H. M. Crittendon; Lex, L. B. Shellman; Shadybottom, R. H. Robinson; Ambrose, B. F. Thomas; Douglas, S. M. Cooper; Axom, B. J. Sherrard; Barn Hill, D. S. Snowden; Green Level, W. C. Hannah; Kirland, R. M. Gordon; evangelist, S. B. Randolph; Sunday school organizer B. F. Seabrooks.

Blackshear District.

B. J. Ross, presiding elder; Blackshear, A. Pickett; Hutchinson, L. P. Taylor; Jesup, William Gilliard; Offerman, S. G. Caln; Hinesville, H. E. McQueen; Walthourville, N. C. Welch; Baxley, M. N. McQueen; Fleming, James E. Grant; Alma, J. S. Purdy; St. Thomas, W. O. P. Sherman, Jr.; St. Andrews, W. A. Wright; St. Peters, H. M. Parker; Taylor, G. W. Williams; Allen chapel, William Saxon; Eddie mission, A. L. Ellis; Odum, A. W. Williamson; Bolder, H. C. Coachman; Coffee, J. W. Blakely; Bryon Neck, F. S. Frazier; Fort Wentworth, W. H. Roberson; Allenhurst, A. Hooks; St. Luke, A. J. Jenkins; Smith chapel, G. H. Stokes; conference evangelists, G. H. Stokes, Black and Taylor.

Brunswick District.

S. W. Wood, presiding elder; St. Paul, B. J. Jackson; St. Andrews, G. B. Davis; Paine's chapel, B. W. Jones; St. James, L. L. Martin; St. Luke, B. W. Ward; Glennville, C. F. Duhart; Tarboro, P. J. Vine; Taylor Creek, J. A. Hawkins; Eulonia, William Salmon; Gardi, Solomon Grant; St. Marys, G. W. Robinson; Silco, E. J. Moore; Everitt City, A. B. Berry; Glennmore, E. A. Blow; Zirkle, R. Streeter; Folkstown, John W. Davis; Jones, E. H. Groover; Sapsville, M. L. Welch; St. George, S. W. Golden; Meuse, F. F. Dixon; Fendig, J. L. Crawford; Gum Branch, A. C. Frazier; Thalman, to be supplied; Waverly, J. E. Davis; state evangelist, O. G. Harris.

Valdosta Meet Opens.

Valdosta, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—South Georgia conference A. M. E. church, convenes here Wednesday. Rev. J. D. Davis is pastor of the church in which the conference convenes. Bishop J. S. Flipper, of Atlanta, will preside. The colored people of this section are making every preparation for the coming of delegates. It is said that many of the leaders of the colored race will be present and will speak or preach on the helpful condition of the negroes in the south and the progress which they have made in fifty years.

ASK CO-OPERATION OF ALL INTERESTS

Continued from First Page

at that time was $1,800. Mr. Hilley is now teaching at a college in North Carolina.

He was considered one of the most valuable members of the educational system in Atlanta, and the board is anxious to have him back again.

To Negotiate Loan.

Formal action necessary was taken by the board approving final steps to be taken in the negotiation by the city of a loan from the Atlanta National bank anticipating the state school fund in order to maintain the schools in session through the year. In doing so, however, they waived no lcaim which the board holds to the entire amount of the state school fund. Mayor Key declared that during the remainder of his term of office he would not raise the point of ownership of the money.

A communication from the negro teachers was read protesting against double sessions in the negro schools and asking that the teachers in the schools having double sessions be paid time and half-time. They also protested at the action of the Atlanta Public School Teachers' association in fixing a proposed salary increase to be paid them. The communication was referred to council.

Higher Pay Movement.

The Moreland Parent-Teacher association on Tuesday afternoon, and the Atlanta Baptist Ministers' association Tuesday morning, adopted resolutions indorsing the movement of the Atlanta public school teachers to obtain better salaries. The Moreland association commenced council for its action taken two weeks ago in referring the petition of the teachers to the finance committee for early consideration.

The resolution of the Atlanta Baptist Ministers' association is as follows:

Resolved, That the Atlanta Baptist Ministers' association heartily indorses the movement to secure a worthy increase in the salaries of the city public school teachers, both white and colored. We believe that the welfare of the child in our midst, civic righteousness and material advancement alike depend on our teachers receiving such remuneration that the best may be secured for the great task.

J. H. CAIN,
President Atlanta Baptist Ministers' Association.

G. D. FEAGAN,
Secretary Atlanta Baptist Ministers' Association.

NORTH FLORIDA TOWN IS SWEPT BY FLAMES

Valdosta, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—The business section of Pinetta, Fla., 20 miles southwest of Valdosta, on the Georgia and Florida railroad, was practically wiped out by fire today. The town has no fire-fighting apparatus, and early advices indicated that the entire town was in danger of being destroyed.

Efforts were made to get dynamite with which to blow up buildings standing in the path of the flames. Wire communication with the place was soon cut off and it is not known what the damage was. The last messages received stated that three or four stores and a grist mill had been burned.

Ask Salary Change.

Savannah, Ga., November 25.—(Special.) — The Chatham county grand jury, in its presentments published today, recommended very earnestly that action be properly taken to place county fee-taking officers on salaries. The recommendation follows the claim made by filed reports of Chatham county officers that some of these officers are getting monster salaries.

Bonner in Americus.

Americus, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—H. M. Bonner, grand master of Georgia Odd Fellows, visited Americus tonight as the guest of Cooper lodge, No. 41. This is the first official visit of Grand Master Bonner to Americus, and local Odd Fellows prepared an interesting program for the occasion. The Georgia champion degree team came over from Columbus and exemplified the second and third degrees before Cooper lodge and visiting Odd Fellows.

Carey ASPHALT and genuine ASBESTOS make Carey FIBRE COATING

the best roof preserver

Carey Fibre Coating is a roof coating made of two durable minerals—Asphalt and Asbestos Fibre.

The Carey Refined Asphalt in fibre coating is cut back with preservative oils. It penetrates the old dried-out roofing material, giving it new sap, new life, changing it from a brittle crust to a tough elastic new roofing.

It is a resaturant for the old material, a filler for old pores, and cracks, and on top of that, a heavy air-tight coating.

The Asbestos Fibre in Carey Fibre Coating acts like hair in plaster. It binds down the scales and sews together the tattered fabric of the old roof. Thus the pores do not draw the coating and the scales cannot raise it.

The fibre cannot rot, burn or evaporate. It helps to make Carey Fibre Coating the most effective protection an old wood, metal or composition roof can have.

Easily applied with a brush, just as it comes from can or barrel. Prevent damage to buildings and contents by making your roof safe now. Phone us.

Built-Up Roofs
Asphaltalate Shingles
Roll Roofings
ASPHALT ASBESTOS MAGNESIA
Wall Board
Pipe Coverings
Roof Paints

A Roof for Every Building

The R. O. Campbell Coal Co.
DISTRIBUTORS
GENERAL BUILDING SUPPLIES AND COAL
Pee Gee House Paints, Stains, Enamels, Varnishes, Etc.
228-232 Marietta Street ATLANTA, GA.

CITY TO BENEFIT BY EXPORT RATES

New Schedule of Rates to Divert Much Business From Eastern Ports to South Atlantic and Gulf.

That the new export rates that have eben granted from the central states to the south Atlantic and gulf ports will be to the distinct and timely advantage of Atlanta, is the general opinion expressed by the railroad men of this city.

The new rates, which will go into effect on December 1, remove the advantage that New York city has held for some time by giving manufacturers and exporters in territory north of the Ohio river the same rates to Charleston, Wilmington, Savannah, Brunswick and Jacksonville as now apply to New York and other eastern ports.

Indirect Advantage.

The advantage, however, that will come to Atlanta will be of an indirect nature, arising from the fact that great volumes of export shipments coming to the south Atlantic and gulf ports from the middle west will greatly enlarge the activities of these southern ports, and stimulate the addition of many ships to the fleets that will serve the manufacturers and exporters trading between the south Atlantic and gulf ports and the lower American countries. This will increase the business of the southern ports, and add many employees and railroad men to the service.

The new rates, according to authorities in the city, will not place the shippers of the middle west on a parity with southern manufacturers and shippers, who will continue to have the advantage in rates to the southern ports.

Experts Give Views.

W. A. Wimbish, one of the most noted rate lawyers in the country, said Tuesday that the new rate ruling would be of distinct advantage to the southern ports, and would greatly increase the volume of business that would pass through Atlanta.

Harry T. Moore, of the Atlanta freight bureau, also said that the new rates would prove of immense advantage to the southern ports as well as to Atlanta, which is the gateway between the middle west and the principle southern ports.

The fight for the new rates has been waged for many years by the manufacturers and shippers of the middle west, who wished to have rates to the south Atlantic and gulf ports that would place them on the delphia, Baltimore and eastern cities same basis with New York, Philathrough which most of the goods from the middle west states were forced to pass.

The new ruling will also have the effect of relieving the great congestion that now obtains in the eastern cities, where immense piles of export stuff is held for shipment.

MOTION PICTURES

FORSYTH
LAST DAY OF
DOROTHY DALTON
IN "L'APACHE"
COMING TOMORROW
THE BIG PUNCH
CHARLES RAY IN
"THE EGG CRATE WALLOP"
WITH A COMEDY

VAUDETTE
LAST DAY
"THE MIRACLE MAN"
NO ADVANCE IN PRICES
COMING TOMORROW
ROBERT WARWICK
THE SOLDIER ACTOR
IN
"TOLD IN THE HILLS"
WITH TOWN TOPICS AND A COMEDY
ALL WEEK—RESTIVO

CRITERION
TODAY
SIG SAMUELS Presents
MARY PICKFORD
—IN—
'Heart o' the Hills'
Adapted from the famous story by John Fox, Jr.
Fox News—Mutt & Jeff Comedy
Criterion Orchestra
Dave Love, Conductor

WHITE WAY PLANNED FOR WEST PEACHTREE

Meeting on Tuesday Reports Funds Practically on Hand. To Start Work Soon.

At a meeting of a special committee on the widening of West Peachtree street and the extension of the white way lights to North avenue, which was held Tuesday at the Kimball house, it was announced that $14,299 of the $16,009 needed for the improvement has already been secured. It was also announced that work on the white way will begin as soon as details of construction have been worked out by electricians.

The committee was called together by Chairman J. R. Smith, and many of the members were present.

Several subcommittees were named. A subcommittee composed of J. R. Smith, chairman, and Frank P. Rice and C. H. Black, were named on the white way. On widening the street, the following subcommittee was named: J. R. Smith, chairman; Walter Candler, A. D. Greenfield, C. H. Black, Arthur Tufts and Dr. M. C. Hardin.

The white way light posts will be erected about 85 feet apart and will extend from the junction of Peachtree street northward to North avenue.

A resolution was adopted thanking Mrs. M. C. Hardin for her work in raising the greater portion of the money necessary for the erection of the white way posts.

According to the announcement made by Chairman J. R. Smith, of the special committee, the work on the West Peachtree widening will begin within a short time, and it will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

Theatrical Amusements.

ATLANTA THEATER
TONIGHT AND ALL WEEK
Mats. Thurs., Fri., Sat.
Souvenir Matinee FRIDAY For Ladies Only
ALL SEATS (RESERVED) $1.00
THE TALK OF THE TOWN
ALEXANDER
AND HIS SHOW OF WONDERS

B. F. KEITH'S LYRIC
Today—2:30-7:30-9:15.
FRANK MULLANE, musical scales and humorous tales. LEWIS & NORTON, promoters of cheerfulness. WILSON BROS., the lieutenant and the cop.
Other Keith Hits.
EXTRA MAT. THURSDAY, 2 P. M.

LOEW'S GRAND
CONTINUOUS 1 TO 11 P.M.
Vaudeville, 3:30, 7, 9 P. M.
FRANCES RICE
5—BIG ACTS LOEW VAUDEVILLE—5
Feature Picture—"The Open Door."

MOTION PICTURES

TUDOR TEMPLE OF MOTION PICTURES
ALL THIS WEEK
Stroheim's Wonder-Play

BLIND HUSBANDS
Directed by Stroheim himself
"Stop!" she flamed, "you must not enter this room. I love my husband—" "But he does not love you," was the tempter's reply—and she knew it was true.
Special Music by Tudor Orchestra

10 and 20 CENTS STRAND Today and All Week
BILL HART as "JOHN PETTICOATS"
CONTINUES TO SELL LINGERIE
---Heaven Help Us!---
NEW COMEDY "RUSTIC ROMEO" ALSO IS GOOD

RIALTO Today and All Week
WALLACE REID CONTINUES TO TAKE CHANCES in "THE LOTTERY MAN" but
YOU TAKE NO CHANCES IN SEEING HIM
New Orchestra | MISS STRANG VIOLINISTE | Sunshine Comedy

RIALTO
6 DAYS STARTING
M-O-N-D-A-Y
SPECIAL ORCHESTRA MUSIC

HAROLD BELL WRIGHT'S
THE EYES OF THE WORLD

PUBLISHERS TO CUT SIZE OF NEWSPAPERS

Birmingham, Ala., November 25.—The Southern Newspaper Publishers' association, assembled in extraordinary session here, adjourned this afternoon, after adopting unanimously resolutions urging southern publishers during the coming year to make a cut of 10 per cent in the amount of white paper used, the average for the months of July, August, September ad October of this year being taken as a basis.

The resolutions adopted by the publishers are, in part, as follows:

"Whereas, members of the S. N. P. A., having met in extraordinary session to consider the report of its committee on the shortage of newsprint paper—a shortage which menacingly and imminently threatens the life of some southern newspapers and which vitally affects the publication of every newspaper in America—finding:

"That newsprint is being used largely in excess of production; that the reserve supply has diminished below the acute danger level; that no sizeable increase in production upon a commercial basis in less than from one to two years is possible; that the price of newsprint paper since the pre-war period has advanced from about 105 per cent to about 400 per cent; that publishers of newspapers in their zeal to issue their newspapers regularly in such size as lavishly to print the news of the world, with comment upon and interpretation of it, and also to publish instructive and entertaining matter dealing with every human interest, have brought about an auction market for newsprint paper which has carried its price above the level sanitary—do, therefore,

"Resolve, that the Southern Newspaper Publishers' association, in special convention assembled, urges its membership to make an earnest effort to reduce newsprint consumption, beginning at once and continuing through 1920 at a rate of at least 10 per cent as compared with the consumption for July, August, September and October of this year. The association earnestly recommends that all of the publishers of the south, in each competitive area, co-operate to the fullest possible extent to the end that every practical method of conservation of newsprint and all other papers made from wood pulp may be employed."

The resolutions urged that curtailment of paper was a matter to be worked out in each competitive community by agreement. No schedule of advances in advertising rates or subscription prices was made. While setting out the need for such advances, each publisher is to be guided in making them by the conditions in his own territory.

MILLS RE-ELECTED HEAD OF FARMERS

Continued from First Page

of Charles S. Barrett, national president of the Farmers' union. Mr. Barrett has recently returned from the national convention at Memphis, and the expressions of opinion on the events that transpired during the gathering there were received with enthusiasm.

Mr. Barrett spoke of the great need for co-operation among the farmers of the state and of the nation, saying that success could only be achieved by strict attention to this important factor. He also urged attention to the matter of a perfect organization among the members of the Farmers' union, both as a state and as a national organization, showing that co-operation was needed here to achieve the co-operation that is needed in the actual marketing and producing of the products of the state.

He also impressed upon his audience their responsibility in holding so important a position in the national plan. The need that all the nation had for their products and the great, if not realized, importance that their share in the nation's life meant, were also emphasized by the national president.

Washington Conference.

Mr. Barrett also told the convention of the proceedings at the recent industrial conference in Washington, where he represented the American farmer. The farmer had been overlooked, he said, in this conference, until the attention of hte president was drawn to the fact that there was no move the conference between capital and labor could make which would not effect the farmers of the nation.

The farmers, declared Mr. Barrett, are responsible for more than 60 per cent of the nation's freight, and are effected by changes in freight rates to a greater extent than any other clas sof people in the country.

He said that the fact developed at the recent national convention in Memphis that more than $400,000,000 in co-operative business had been done as a result of the attention paid to that plan by the farmers of the country.

Among the principal features that will procure the attention of the body is the temple of agriculture to be ereced in Washington as a central headquarters for the various farmers' unions of the country. Before the close of the session, plans will be laid for the raising of Georgia's quota for the erection of the building.

J. J. Brown Speaks.

J. J. Brown, commissioner of agriculture, closed the morning session with an eloquent address on many matters of vital interest to the farmers, emphasizing in particular the fight that has been waged for the past several years for the maintanance of open markets for cotton and the upholding of its price. He predicted that the high price mark has not yet been reached in the cotton market, and that a surprisingly high figure would be divulged in final reports on the 1919 cotton crop.

The afternoon session was mainly consumed by the reports of the various committees, begun by J. E. Bodenhamer, of DeKalb county, who reported for the committee on order of business.

As chairman of the committee on credentials, W. T. Taylor, of Laurens county, requested that all members of the Farmers' union in good standing be allowed to attend the convention as delegates, and his suggestion was unanimously adopted.

Report Offered.

Report for the committee on resolutions was offered by Martin F. Amorous, chairman, of Cobb county, and later proceedings of the session made the ruling that all resolutions must be presented to this committee before presentation to the convention.

F. E. Land, chairman of the committee on education; W. W. Clarke, of McDuffie county, chairman of the committee on constitution and by-laws; E. J. Wells, of Clayton county, chairman of the committee on fertilizers; C. H. Kittrell, of Laurens county, chairman of the committee on co-operation and co-operative enterprises; Will M. Beck, of Habersham county, chairman of the committee for the good of the order; J. D. Weaver, of Terrell county, chairman of the committee on legislation, and W. Hill Hurst, chairman of the committee on live stock, were other chairmen appointed.

The executive session of the organization, that began Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, continued through the afternoon, and was resumed Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

The afternoon session also heard interesting reports from the local unions over the state, one of the most interesting being the report by Dr. C. H. Kittrell, of Dublin, on the great success that is being found in the operation of the co-operative warehouse and grain elevator in the Laurens county seat.

Locals Report.

R. M. Kimmel, of Thomson, told the convention of a federal bonded warehouse owned by the Farmers' union of the community that was drawing patronage from several surrounding counties, as well as serving to a great advantage the people of the immediate vicinity.

The reports from the various locals were of particular interest since they served to show the financial benefits derived from the co-operative plan as well as the educational benefits.

An interesting talk was made at the evening session by Mr. Fleming, the state secretary and treasurer, who told of the work that the organization has already done, and outlined many methods that should be followed in efficient pursuance of the co-operative plan among the farmers.

Today's Session.

Interesting addresses will be delivered at today's session by Harry W. Willaims, cotton specialist of the Georgia board of entomology, on the boll weevil, and R. L. Nixon, of the federal bureau of markets, on the subject of bonded warehouses.

An interesting point in connection with the bureau of markets is that Mr. Barrett, national president, was chairman of the committee that framed the bill creating the department as it was passed by congress.

Another interesting talk will be delivered by L. R. Tillman, former state organizer for the Georgia Chamber of Commerce.

RELATIONS STRAINED ALMOST TO SNAPPING

Continued from First Page

at Vanderbilt back in the 90's, according to the congressman.

"Jenkins comes from pioneer stock in Tennessee," said Mr. Davis. "His ancestors were among the first settlers in the state. They have always been prominent among the progressive and public spirited citizens of Tennessee, and a member of the family never has been charged with a single instance of wrongdoing. Such a thing is absolutely foreign to the Jenkins family."

It was Jenkins' fearlessness and devotion to duty which resulted in his being lined up before a firing squad in 1914, according to Congressman Davis. When the Mexican soldiers raided the American consular offices and seized the firearms that the American citizens in the Puebla district had been ordered to turn over to Jenkins, he offered a vigorous protest.

His resistance became so strenuous that the raiders seized him and their commander ordered him shot.

When he was led to a brick wall and a firing squad lined up ready to shoot him, Jenkins looked them squarely in the eye, said Mr. Davis, and dared them to shoot him.

"I am an official representative of the American government," he declared defiantly. "If you shoot me you know what the result will be. You dare not do it."

There was a delay and about that time along came a major in the Mexican army, who ordered Jenkins released.

RELEASE OF JENKINS MAY COME VERY SOON.

Laredo, Texas, November 25.—Release of William O. Jenkins, American consular agent at Puebla, Mexico, "was expected momentarily," according to a dispatch from Puebla to Excelsior, a Mexico City newspaper, under date of Sunday, November 23.

Jenkins has been in prison on charges of collusion with the bandits who held him for $150,000 ransom.

The Puebla dispatch said the district judge had ordered the immediate release of Licud Mestre, counsel for Jenkins, as he held Mestre was not implicated in any way by acting as a go-between in obtaining Jenkins' release from the bandits.

The court investogating Jenkins' case is now examining employees of the Cahvarria, Chihuahua, electric plant, where Jenkins was set free by the bandits.

A Look Ahead.

"Can you really tell anything about the future?"

"Oh, yes," said the fortune teller. "I know, for instance, that my landlord ain't going to get his rent next month."—Kansas City Journal.

From the Chestnut Tree.

"I want some pills, please."

"Antibilious?"

"No, sir; but uncle is."

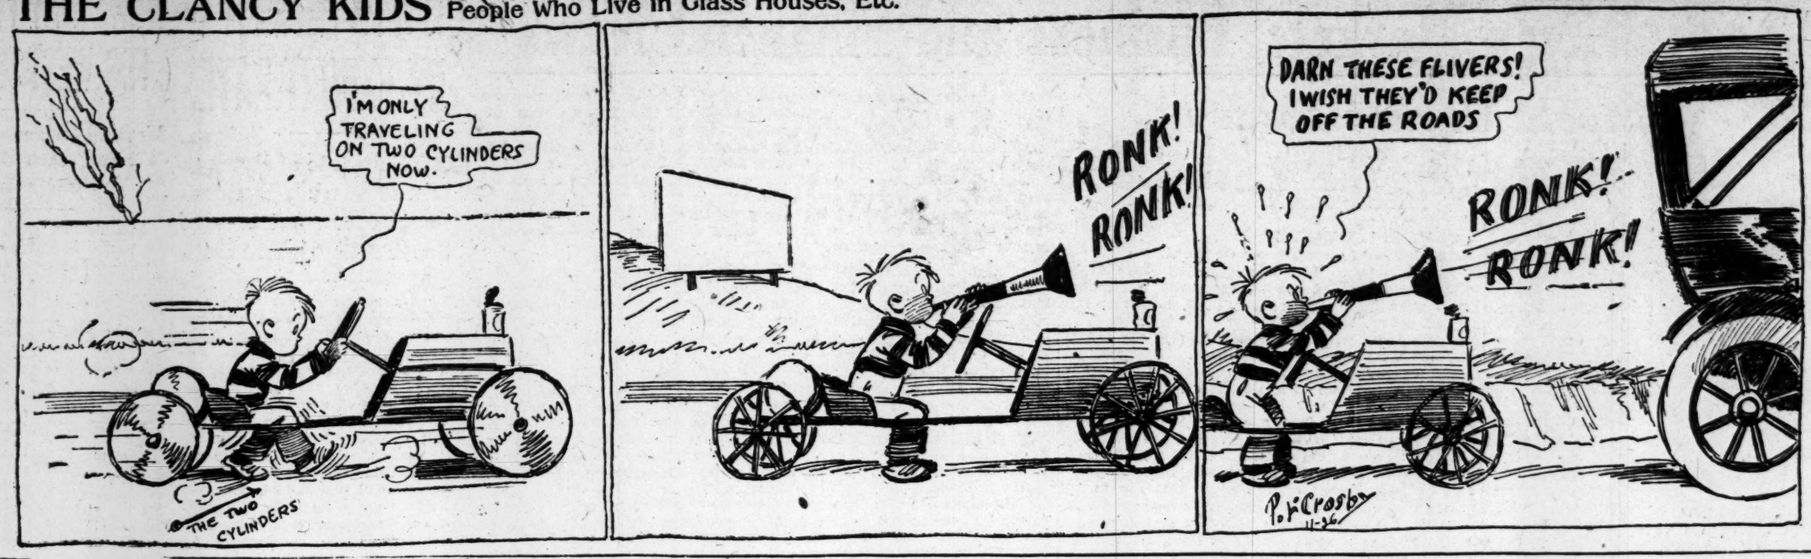

know, means loss of beauty.

Maud.—Indeed! How long have you been troubled with insomnia?—Boston Transcript.

THE CLANCY KIDS People Who Live in Glass Houses, Etc.

By PERCY L. CROSBY

Living "Uncle Sam," Touring Continent, Visits Constitution

The original "Uncle Sam" arrived in Atlanta yesterday morning on his way across the continent writing the name "Uncle Sam." Atlanta marks the end of the letter "S."

Frank S. Colburn, for more than a score of years recognized as the premier impersonator of the revered relative of all good Americans; recognized by all "good fellows" as one of their number, and a top-liner in entertainment, is winding out his road of travel with a final tour of the country, writing the name of him who for so long he has attempted to impersonate. He called by The Constitution yesterday, and at the apparition in the characteristic dress of "Uncle" the office boy yelled "murder," the police reporter evidenced fear of d. t's, while the lady reporter aroused the attention of the others in the office with a scream usually heard on the approach of rats.

FRANK S. COLBURN.

Mr. Colburn will be seen during the week at a local theater. Besides being able to impersonate his subject almost perfectly, he is adept in the art of entertainment generally and a good show to those seeing him is assured. He will be in Atlanta all of this week, after which he will start for the west to complete the circuit.

GRAND JURY BRANDS ALL THE NEW DANCES

Jackson, Miss., November 25.—The "shimmy," the "camel walk," the "cheek dance" and similar dances today were branded by the Hinds county grand jury as "vulgar, immoral and indecent."

The grand jurors vigorously denounced these dances in their report to Judge Potter, declaring that they are prevalent in Jackson. The inquisitors urged fathers and mothers of Jackson to take steps for the suppression of the dances.

CHANGE IN RATES OF WANT ADS IN THE CONSTITUTION, NOV. 1, 1919.

One time.....15c a line
Three times.....12c a line Each Issue
Seven times.....10c a line Each Issue
Thirty times or more....9c

Advertisements under the following classifications will only be inserted when cash accompanies the order.

For Rent—Rooms, Furnished or Unfurnished.
Wanted—Boarders.
Wanted—Board.
For Rent—Rooms Furnished.
For Rent—Rooms Unfurnished.
Wanted—To Rent Rooms Furnished.
Situation Wanted—Female.
Situation Wanted—Male.
Wanted—To Rent Rooms Unfurnished.

No phone orders accepted for advertisements that are to appear under "cash in advance" classifications.

Above rates for consecutive insertions only.
Count six ordinary words to each line.
No advertisement accepted for less than two lines.

The Constitution will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Discontinuance of advertising must be in writing. It will not be accepted by phone. This protects your interests as well as ours.

Courteous operators, thoroughly familiar with rates, rules and classification, will give you complete information. And if you wish, they will assist you in wording your want ad to make it most effective.

Accounts opened for ads (excepting those classifications that are cash with order) by telephone to accommodate you if your name is in the telephone directory. Want ads taken by telephone are to be paid for immediately upon application, bill to be presented by mail or collector the same day.

TELEPHONE 5000 MAIN.

PERSONAL

LaFRANCE HOUSE
129 SPRING; big turkey dinner, 75c; 1 to 2 P. M.

MATERNITY Sanitarium, private, refined, homelike. Homes provided for infants. Mrs. Mitchell, 22 Windsor street.

LOST AND FOUND

$50—REWARD—$50

FOR ARREST and conviction of thieves who stole 1919 Ford touring car, motor No. 2939229, from front Ponce de Leon apartments November 20. Notify AUTOMOBILE UNDERWRITERS DETECTIVE BUREAU. 1317 Hurt Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

LOST—Two small Berkshire pigs weighing about 40 lbs. each; strayed from 1334 Peachtree. Finder notify H. B. Sawtell, 1334 Peachtree.

LOST—White enameled violet brooch; diamond center. Call Ivy 5264. Reward.

LOST—Collie dog, five months old; answers to Laddie. Reward. Phone Calhoun, Ivy 4771 or Ivy 8321-J.

LOST—Small gold Swiss watch on black ribbon, enameled pansies on back; reward. No. 221 Peachtree Circle. Tel. Hem. 1044-J.

LOST—Red male collie, white in face and around neck; round collar. Call Hemlock 881 and get reward.

LOST—One sorrel Shetland pony. Phone Ivy 7280 and receive reward.

FOUND—Cow. Owner may have same by describing and paying for ad. 208 Decatur street.

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Lemon and white pointer bitch, 8 years old; answers to name of Bell; had on collar when left home. Reward. I. 1292-J.

LOST—Black handbag containing $6 or $7, keys and glasses, downtown. 105 W. Cain. Ivy 3604-J. Reward. Mrs. Carroll.

LOST — Black velvet handbag in front of Majestic hotel, containing $8.50. Reward. Mrs. H. O. Jones, Majestic Hotel.

STRAYED—White hound dog, brown left shoulder and ears, brown spot on back. Reward. Roy T. Greer, Hampton, Ga.

BAY mare mule weighing 1,000 lbs., 5 years old, shipping shoes in front. $10 reward for finder. Notify L. B. Brumblow, Duluth, Georgia.

LOST—Taupe fox fur, Grand theater, Saturday night. Reward if returned to 41 S. Ashby street.

HELP WANTED—Male

OFFICE BOY WANTED AT ONCE. APPLY CIRCULATION DEPT., 3D FLOOR, CONSTITUTION BLDG.

WANTED — Several men to carry newspaper routes. A hustler can make $18.00 to $30.00 per week. See Mr. Moye, City Circulation Dept., The Constitution.

OFFICE MAN
WHO is capable of handling the office and inside management of local business. Will sell the right man a half interest. Salary $250 per month to start. Investment of $2,000 required for half interest. State your past experience in reply. Address W-726, Constitution.

WANTED — At once, first-class watchmaker and engraver. Steady position to the right man, and good salary. Address J. K. Roumain, Jeweler, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

WANTED — WAGON PAINTER. MORROW TRANSFER & STORAGE CO., 130 ELLIOTT ST.

WANTED—AUTO TRIMMER AND UPHOLSTERER. FIRST-CLASS MAN FOR HIGH-GRADE WORK. APPLY J. T. L. DIXON, 183 PEACHTREE ST.

SALESMAN.
CREW MANAGER.
ONE experienced house-to-house crew manager and six young men to learn to be salesmen. Call Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Salesmanager, Room 303, Southern Banking Bldg., 25 W. Peachtree street.

COLORED—75 men and boys for good inside jobs for this winter, same with board, porters, waiters, janitors, busboys, butlers, bellboys, cooks, hall boys, pressers, dishwashers, wardmen, chauffeurs, firemen, laborers, $10 to $25. 160½ Auburn avenue.

YES—Professor Branning guarantees to teach you the barber trade in few weeks; chain of shops; good wages. 14 E. Mitchell.

ENGINEERING graduates or men partly schooled or experienced in technical work are wanted for junior engineering and administrative positions in the larger cities of the southeast; immediate opportunities for advancement and good pay to start. Telephone, call or write, Kendall Vidsiger, Bell Telephone Company, Atlanta, Ga.

WANTED—Good architectural draftsman, with estimating and structural experience in frame and brick work. Apply, giving age, experience, salary expected, small sample draftsmanship, references and earliest report for duty. George MacKay, Ocala, Fla.

$117 MONTH average; railway mail clerks; hundreds wanted; list positions free. Write immediately. Franklin Institute, Dept. 57-W, Rochester, N. Y.

WANTED—Presser. Calhoun Dry Cleaning Co., 21-23 W. Peachtree. Call Ivy 2076.

YOUNG man wanted as news agent on train. Union News Co., 36 Madison avenue.

FREE shave and haircut, rear chairs; shave, 5c; haircut, 10c, front chairs. Atlanta Barber College, 14 East Mitchell.

WANTED—Immediately, thoroughly competent stenographer; splendid opportunity for ambitious, willing worker. Address quick, stating age, experience, references and salary expected, Treasurer, P. O. Box 875, Atlanta.

WANTED—BOILER MAKERS, SHEET IRON WORKERS AND HELPERS. APPLY J. J. FINNEGAN CO., 22 MEANS ST.

WANTED—Experienced dish washer; come ready to work. Jake's Cafeteria, Peachtree Arcade Bldg.

EXPERIENCED porter to look after office and ware rooms. Submit references. Address W-778, care Constitution.

25 FIRST-CLASS ALL-ROUND CARPENTERS, $7 PER DAY, 8 HOURS. 600 AUSTELL BLDG.

PHOTOGRAPHERS—Callers for flashlight view work at once, George Hyde. Address W-782, care Constitution.

WANTED—Steel die pressman; platen press feeder, makeup and stoneman. Byrd Printing Co.

WANTED—First-class presser. 40½ Luckie street.

WANTED—Three young men as news agents. Apply Van May Interstate Co., 62 W. Alabama street.

MEN learn barbering; more pay, light work; wages earned. Call or write Moler Barber College, Cl North Forsyth street Atlanta, Ga.

INTERNATIONAL CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOLS WILL TRAIN YOU FOR POSITION YOU WANT. 27 ARCADE BLDG.

FIREMEN, brakemen, baggagemen, $140-$200; colored porters, by railroads everywhere. Experience unnecessary. 688 Ry. Bureau, East St. Louis, Ill.

WANTED—Assistant bookkeeper; one with packing house experience preferred; can use experienced man only. Apply by letter, stating age, experience, etc. Addddress W-767, care Constitution.

DRY CLEANER and dyer wanted. Salary $50 per week. Must be able to turn out strictly first-class work; modern equipment and good working conditions. Wire or write Clarksdale Steam Laundry, Clarksdale, Miss.

THE ANDERSON VULCANIZER
REMEMBER, you can make $15 to $30 per day. Buyers taught free; others for $25. Shop and school.
38 JAMES ST., CITY.

SASH and door foreman, one capable of managing men and laying out work; permanent job and good wages. Write or phone Lookout Planing Mills, Chattanooga, Tennessee.

BOOKKEEPERS and accountants, learn accounting, the highest-paid profession. Taught thoroughly in a few months of home study by new system. Phone for appointment. International Accountants' Society, 501 Trust Co. of Ga. Bldg. Ivy 6316.

HELP WANTED—Male

WANTED—Salesmen; several experienced, house-to-house, advance salesmen or solicitors, with clean record; permanent position; straight salary basis; must furnish references. Call in person. Jewell Tea Co., 15 Tabernacle place.

WAREHOUSEMAN wanted. Experienced in farming implements; furnish references and amount of salary. Address W-779, care Constitution.

WANTED—First-class male stenographer; good salary; give ref. Ad. W-771, Consti.

ASSISTANT shipping clerk; moderate salary; give references. W-774, Const.

WANTED—Names men, 18-35, wishing become government railway mail clerks; commence $1,100 year. Address F-245, Constitution.

BE A DETECTIVE—Excellent opportunity; good pay; travel. Write C. T. Ludwig, 805 Westover Bldg., Kansas City, Mo.

WANTED—A competent engineer for light and ice plant; references must be furnished. Seymour Power & Ice Company, Seymour, Texas.

WANTED — FIRST-CLASS CARPENTERS AT $6.75 A DAY. YEAR'S JOB. WRITE U.S. NEWPORT SHIPBUILDING COMPANY, NEW BERN, N. C.

TWO single young men, capable of collecting on road; salary $120 per month and railroad fare; bond and references required. Bonus and commission in addition to above salary. Apply, with references, 407 Austell Building.

HELP WANTED—Female

WE REQUIRE THE SERVICES OF THIRTY OR MORE GIRLS TO PACK CANDY AND ALSO WE NEED EXPERIENCED CHOCOLATE DIPPERS AND BON-BON DIPPERS. GIRLS WITH OR WITHOUT EXPERIENCE WILL FIND PROFITABLE AND PLEASANT EMPLOYMENT. THE WILEY COMPANY, CORNER OF HUNTER AND HAYNES STREETS.

WANTED — YOUNG LADY, A-1 STENOGRAPHER EXPERIENCED IN GENERAL OFFICE WORK; SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY; GOOD SALARY. APPLY MR. KUNE, 400 GRAND THEATER BUILDING.

SALESLADIES to take orders from housewives through grocers for well known, nationally advertised food product. Pleasant and profitable work. Salary $3 per day, car fare and extra bonus. Competent instruction furnished inexperienced applicants who are accepted. Apply 411 Trust Company of Georgia Bldg.

WANTED—AT ONCE, EXPERIENCED COOK FOR PRIVATE FAMILY, SETTLED COLORED WOMAN PREFERRED. LIBERAL WAGES AND COMFORTABLE STEAM-HEATED ROOM FURNISHED ON PLACE. APPLY MRS. G. F. WILLIS, 1260 PONCE DE LEON AVENUE, DRUID HILLS. PHONE IVY 7846.

WANTED — Experienced linen room woman and inspectress, also chambermaids. Apply to Housekeeper, Hotel Ansley.

WANTED COMPETENT dictaphone operator. Very desirable situation. Congenial associates; good opportunity. Answer, giving experience and references. Also salary expected. Address W-773, care Constitution.

WANTED — TEN WHITE WOMEN FROM 30 TO 45 YEARS OF AGE, TO WASH PICKLE BOTTLES. APPLY GEORGIA PRESERVING CO., BELLWOOD AVE., AND SOUTHERN RY.

WANTED—White woman to take charge of 8-room house, including cooking; no washing; one child 14 years old. Call at 238 Central avenue or phone Main 345.

WANTED—3 experienced waitresses; must be first-class. Apply Partridge Cafe, 11 East Alabama street.

WANTED—Colored girl to do housework for small family; work half days only. Apply Wednesday morning, 173 Hopkins st., West End.

TWO young ladies to travel and do demonstrating; no samples to carry, nothing to sell; must be neat and well-dressed; straight salary and permanent position. Howard Dorsey, Winecoff hotel.

EXPERIENCED WHITE HEAD COOK FOR RESORT HOTEL. $100 PER MONTH. 600 AUSTELL BLDG.

WANTED—Nurse; live on place. Hemlock 2355.

NURSE wanted. Want settled nurse. Mrs. G. Anther Howell, 28 Fairview road. Hemlock 2131.

WANTED—Good nurse for two children. Apply 862 Peachtree, or call Hemlock 929.

WANTED—A servant for general house work. 140 Lee street. West 1108-J.

HELP WANTED—Female

WANTED—Two experienced saleslades, at once. Brown-Hayes Co., 387 Edgewood Ave.

WANTED—10 power sewing machine operators; good pay. Apply at once at Watson's, corner Pryor and Decatur streets.

WANTED—Two first-class white waitresses. White House Cafe, North Forsyth street.

SPARK'S MILLINERY COLLEGE.
WE specialize in remodeling and trimming hats to order by artistic milliner. Full course, $25. 40½ Whitehall street.

A TELEPHONE operator. Apply Miss Prince, 25 Auburn avenue.

WANTED—Working housekeeper for elderly widow; nice country home; no children; best references given and required. Address Postmaster, Bannockburn, Ga.

WANTED—A good all-around servant, who will sleep in house; pleasant home and good pay for right party. Apply 1074 Piedmont avenue.

WANTED—Saleswomen; several experienced house-to-house advanced saleswomen or solicitors, with clean record; permanent position; straight salary basis; must furnish references. Call in person, Jewell Tea Co., 15 Tabernacle place.

WANTED—Colored woman for general housework; must be reliable. Phone Ivy 7866, or 548 Peachtree.

WANTED—Thoroughly reliable servant to cook and help care for child; references. Call Hemlock 141.

WANTED—Colored women for night work; steady employment for winter. Apply Superintendent, 3d National Bank Bldg.

WANTED—First-class cook. McPherson Rubber Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Help Wanted--Male, Female

MEN-WOMEN—18 up, wanted: $100-$150 mo. Hundreds government jobs open; write for list. Franklin Institute, Dept. 56-W, Rochester, N. Y.

Salesmen and Solicitors

BIG OPPORTUNITY FOR THE RIGHT MAN
TERRITORY open all over Georgia selling a patented office appliance necessary in every business and professional office. Only high grade salesmen can qualify. See Mr. Samuels 712 Peters Bldg., 10 to 12 a. m.

HIGH-CLASS security salesmen wanted by North Carolina corporation; licensed in North and South Carolina; $325,000 already subscribed, and other salesmen now getting excellent results. Liberal commission. Address P. O. Box 407, Wilmington, N. C.

SALESMEN with wide experience, for state managers for the best and cheapest sweet potato curing house system (artificial air); saves all the potatoes; hundreds of these plants are wanted. Splendid opportunity for the right man. F-263, care Constitution.

WANTED—Three A-1 stock salesmen to sell stock in a mining company in proven territory; a real attractive proposition; if no experience in selling stock do not apply. Ideal Bauxite Co., Inc., Ideal, Ga.

WANTED—An experienced paint, also varnish, traveling salesman (no other need apply). State age, experience, territory canvassed, references and salary expected. F-261, Constitution.

WANTED—Experienced traveling shoe salesman with Atlanta as a basis, to cover eastern south. Westcott-Whitmore Co., Syracuse, N. Y. Women's shoe specialties in stock.

TEACHERS

TEACHERS desiring high school, grade or rural positions for January can be located in acceptable positions through our service. For particulars address Dept. C, Interstate Teachers' Bureau, Atlanta, Ga.

YOUNG LADY desires position as teacher in primary department; have college education and can furnish reference. Address "Miss K.," 10 College st., Monroe, N. C.

WANTED—Teachers of all classes. South Atlantic Teachers' Agency, 306 Walton bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

ACME TEACHERS' AGENCY, Healey Bldg., Atlanta, constantly placing teachers.

BUSINESS CHANCES

A SAFE INVESTMENT WITH POSSIBLE LARGE ADDITIONAL RETURNS.
THE owner will sell a fourth or a half of his interest in land in Texas near producing oil wells and still nearer where wells are shortly to be bored, at the value of the land alone. If the wells to be bored show oil the profit will be immense; if such wells produce no oil, the land is worth the price asked. If interested and have from $5,000 to $10,000 cash to invest write "Texas," care Constitution, No trades, and only a purchaser with character satisfactory to the owner will be accepted as an associate.

LARGE corporation wants capable men to manage branch office and salesmen; "Kerodox," the new, inexpensive heat. No wood; no coal; cheaper than city gas; $300 to $1,500 necessary. You handle own money. Somack, Inc., 416 N. Howard st., Baltimore, Md.

FOR SALE cheap, lunch room and fixtures; doing good business; located at Palmetto, Ga. Owner leaving. For particulars write Burma Jo Hoskins, Palmetto, Ga.

$300—Two-chair barber shop; good trade; established, union prices. Take English avenue car to Western Heights, 249 Kennedy street.

HIGH-CLASS delicatessen, and groceries and cafe in West End for sale. Call West 1405, Owner.

"150 BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES." Write, phone or call today for our new list LIGHTFOOT'S, 4 North Pryor st. Ivy 7044.

CAPITALIST! MANUFACTURER! WILL you furnish means first to prove out, later to exploit new patent for reducing heat and moisture in air of hospitals, living rooms, offices, etc.? Mechanism simple, inexpensive; affords nucleus for extensive business. Takes rank with heating and ventilation. Apply to Dr. B. J. DuBose, Lisbon, Ga.

DOCTOR NEEDED in small town within 50 miles of Atlanta. Physician, P. O. Box 1443, Atlanta, Ga.

H. G. KEENEY & CO.
BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.
403 Gould Bldg.

IF YOU have anything to manufacture, we have brick building, 125x25; 150-horsepower; we will be glad to discuss and co-operate financially in establishing a money-making plant. H. N. Alexander, Raymond, Ga.

WANTED—At once, partner with two to three thousand dollars in a good manufacturing business; able to clear three to four hundred a week above all expenses. Orders now on the books for six to seven thousand dollars; all good accounts. Want a hustler. Business well established. Address G. J. H., Crumps Park, Ga.

FOR SALE—Hotel and restaurant in a growing manufacturing city of Ohio, population 40,000; both are complete and the restaurant is the only up-to-date one in the city. Owner's reason for wanting to sell is he has other interests that demand his attention. Harry Chucales, 818 Gallia street, Portsmouth, Ohio.

PARTNER WANTED—Would sell a half interest in established business to a good live man who is capable of managing the inside end of business; experience unnecessary, but want a man who is not afraid of work and who wants to get into a good, straightforward business; good salary; married man preferred. State your past experience in reply. Investment $2,000 for half interest. Address W-725, care Constitution.

Situation Wanted—Male

MANUFCTURERS! JOBBERS!
YOUR CORRESPONDENCE
is the Lifeblood of your business.
I am a trained
BUSINESS LETTER WRITER
and need a position at once.
Let me help you to
DOUBLE YOUR SALES IN 1920.
I can build Catalogs, Booklets, and handle display advertising.
ASK ME TO CALL
and show you my practical work, and proof of my ability to make "things go."
Address W-775, Constitution.

YOUNG, experienced traffic man, familiar with freight rates and the compiling of tariffs; salary $150. Address W-747, Const.

YOUNG man desires work afternoons after 1 o'clock; office work or any kind of work. Address W-780, care Constitution.

Situation Wanted—Female

WANTED—By a refined, middle-aged woman, a position as practical nurse and companion to invalid, either lady or gentleman; good service given, good salary expected; best of references. Address Mrs. G. M. Branch, 125 North Broad st., Commerce, Ga.

STENOGRAPHER—Five years' experience, capable of handling correspondence, desires position. Miss Jean Herman, 210 W. Peachtree, Apt. D-1.

POSITION, private board operator or filing clerk; experience. Hemlock 1487.

WANTED—Position as experienced typist; billing preferred. Address W-777, Const.

FOR SALE—Miscellaneous

U. S. ARMY GOODS FOR SALE.
U. S. Army Army Wood Drab blankets, clean and sanitary, about 3 pounds, $5.95.
U. S. Army Army Drab wool blankets, clean and sanitary, 3½ pounds, $6.35.
U. S. Army Olive Drab wool blankets, perfect, weighs 4 pounds, $7.95.
U. S. Army Commercial Comforters, sterilized, $18 dozen, or each $1.75.
U. S. Army Commercial Comforters, selected, sterilized, renovated, $2.50.
U. S. Army Leather Jackets, wool-lined, sleeveless, new, $8.50.
U. S. Army sheep-lined coat, 38 inches long, great coat for the winter, new, $28.50.
U. S. Army Steel Ranges, 33 inches high, 33 inches wide, 52 niches long, with large bake oven, warming closet. Water backs ready to connect with hot water tank. Condition very good. Worth $200; special $67.50.
U. S. Army Heaters, Radiant Home, Hot Blast, Large size, nickel-trimmed; a beautiful stove, suitable for dwellings, offices, schools, stores, etc. A regular $65 heater. Special, $37.50.
U. S. Army Heaters, "Monica," No. 15, 37 inches high, 38 inches inside, 20x27 base, $15.00.
U. S. Army Heaters, "Monica," No. 17, 39½ inches high, 42 inches inside, 28x28 inches base, $17.50.
U. S. Army Heaters, "Cole" Blast. A splendid stove. Special $32.50.
U. S. Army Heaters, Western Jewel, No. 20. In good condition, $22.50.
U. S. Army Galvanized Hot Water Tank, almost new, capacity 82 gallons, $24.95.
U. S. Navy Hammocks, made of extra heavy canvas, about 20 oz. duck, 40 inches wide, 72 inches long, waterproof, excellent condition. Special $2.95.
U. S. Army Leather Halters. Only a limited number left. Odder today, $1.25.
U. S. Army Winter Caps. Caps are made of canvas with wool lining. Have ear protectors. In good condition, each 65 cents.
U. S. Army Olive Drab Wool Shirts, clean and ready to wear, have seen service, but in good condition. Everybody knows what satisfaction the army wool shirt gives. Prices $1.95, $2.35 and $2.75 grades.
English Heavy Leather Waist Belts, 2½ inches wide, good leather, $1.45.
English Heavy Leather Canvas Haversacks, splendid bag for hunting, fishing, school bag, tool bag, etc. Each $1.50.
U. S. Army McClellan Saddles, in good serviceable condition. A special lot at $20.95.
U. S. Army Rubber Hip Boots, almost new, $6.00.
U. S. Army Wool Underwear, clean, in serviceable condition. Garment $1.15.
U. S. Army Russet Leather Shoes, all sizes, repaired, pair, $2.95.
U. S Army Raincoats, used but in serviceable condition. Each $3.50.
U. S Army Raincoats, used but serviceable, selected, $4.95.
U. S. Army New Shoes, excellent shoe for wear and comfort. The genuine U. S. Army shoe, made for government. Pair $9.85.
U. S. Army Commercial Knives, some with wood handles. Per dozen $1.00.
U. S. Army Tents, 16 by 16 by 11 feet high, 3-foot wall, in excellent condition, nearly new, $39.75.
U. S. Army Wall Tent, 9 by 9, 3-foot wall. Splendid condition. Almost new, with poles, $23.95.
U. S. Army Tent Flies, 9 by 15, white, $18.75.
U. S. Galvanized Iron Heavy Water and Fire Bucket, 95 cents each; U. S. Army Galvanized Iron garbage Cans, in good condition, but without lid, $1.95.
U. S. Army Wool Overcoats, dyed dark blue, good serviceable condition; special, $15.95.
WRITE FOR OUR CATALOG. YOUR MONEY BACK IF NOT SATISFIED.
Prices f. o. b. Greenville, S. C. Terms, cash with order. References, any bank in Greenville.
Railroad fare refunded both ways to customers visiting our store and buying $300 or more, within 300-mile radius.
BRADLEY BONDED WAREHOUSE CO., GREENVILLE, S. C.

GATE CITY COAL CO. for good coal and heavy hauling. Main 666-J. Mr. Hutt.

ARMY COMFORTS, mixed color, at $1.75 each, at 11 North Pryor street.

FOR SALE—Carload fine white bread corn. Wm. L. McCoy, Dilliard, Ga.

FLORENCE oil heaters. Hightower Hardware Co., 100 Whitehall st.

FOR SALE—Mahogany settee, upholstered in tapestry, springs and mattress for single bed, carpet sweeper. Phone Hemlock 695.

SHANNON refrigerator; 600 lbs. ice capacity, in good shape. Write T. W. Howell, East Point, Ga.

TYPEWRITERS—All makes bought and sold. Southern Typewriter Co., Atlanta.

HIGH-GRADE nine-column adding machine, 1017 Empire Bldg. Ivy 1044.

PIANOS—Two slightly used mahogany and oak; good makes; real bargains. Walter Hughes Piano Co., 88 N. Pryor street.

ECLIPSE GAS RANGE, $30; Cadet coil heater, $7. 643 Edgewood ave.

FURNITURE FOR SALE at half price. 148-B S. Pryor. Main 2769.

EXPERT safe opening and repairing. Large stock new and second-hand safes. Atlanta Safe Company 64 West Mitchell street.

SAFES, new and 2d-hand, all sizes, Half vault doors. C. J. Daniel, 408 4th Natl. Bk

CASH registers. We buy and sell used cash registers; all sizes; some practically new. Bargains. Terms to right party. Phone Ivy 1598. 58-60 Decatur street.

Scales— The Atlanta Scales Co., 18 South Forsyth St.

FOR SALE—Miscellaneous

YOUR WINDOWS RATTLE? WE GUARANTEE TO STOP IT
60c a window. At present they annoy you, they let out the heat, they let in the cold. Money refunded if not satisfied.
LANE WINDOW ANTI-RATTLER COMPANY
26 Walton St., Grant Bldg. I. 4556
Representative wanted.

FRESH-SHELLED pecans and almonds. Mrs. Williams, 616 N. Jackson. Ivy 6792-J, for prices.

SEE ME FOR YOUR CHRISTMAS KODAKS; COME EARLY AND GET YOUR CHOICE; CUT PRICES ON ALL KODAKS. NEWT C. ERLIN, "THE KODAK MAN," 119 PEACHTREE ST.

LOOK—Monarch malleable steel range; Eclipse gas stove, refrigerator (3-door front icer); $80 takes it all. Stoves connected in modern bungalow. Act quick. 42 Killian street.

FOR SALE—Mahogany dresser and elaborate electric fixtures. Phone Ivy 7820.

FOR SALE—Handsome fur neckpiece and muff; light color; undervalued at $75. If taken at once, $37.50 gets it. 352 Peachtree street, city.

RUDD hot water heater, brand new; price $20. Call M. 1705.

LITTLE show, wall and pyramidal tents, wagon covers, tarpaulins, horse blankets, gloves and cots. 316

AUTOMOBILES

FOR SALE.

USED CARS

1919 Buick Six, 7-passenger.
1918 Marmon Sedan.
1918 Buick Six, 5-passenger.
1918 Velie Sedan.
1916 Big Six Buick.
1918 Oakland, 5-passenger.
1919 Dodge, 5-passenger.
1918 Haynes, 5-passenger.
1918 Westcott, 2-passenger.

The Atlanta Cadillac Co.
183 PEACHTREE ST.
IVY 900.

WE WILL SELL YOUR CAR FOR YOU OR BUY YOUR CAR AT OUR PRICE.
WE PAY CASH FOR USED CARS

1919 Maxwell Touring	$ 450
1918 Chevrolet Touring	400
1916 Maxwell Touring	250
1917 Buick "6" Sedan	1,250
Hupmobile "32" Touring	250
1917 Chalmers Touring	725
Brand-new Briscoe	950
1919 Hupmobile Touring	875
1916 Buick Little "6"	750
1917 Chevrolet Touring	235

USED CAR CLEARING HOUSE.
Second Floor—181 Marietta St.—Main 4231.

FRANKLIN FIVE-PASS. TOURING. PERFECT CONDITION. RUTHERFORD LIPSCOMB. IVY 1161. HEALEY BUILDING.

FORDS—FORDS—FORDS
JUST received carload lot of Fords, seven Tourings, two Roadsters. They were bought right. Can sell from $450 to $650. Fuller, Elrod & Powell, 32 Madison Ave., in front Terminal Station. Main 2704.

1918 STUTZ, 2-pass. touring.
1918 STUTZ, 2-pass. Bearcat speedster.
1916 STUTZ, 6-pass. touring.
If you want a good car we have them. Come to see us.
Stutz Company of Georgia
224 Peachtree St.

FORDS

1920 Ford Touring, brand-new	$690
1920 Ford Roadster, brand-new	660
1920 Ford Sedan, starter, brand-new	950
1919 Ford Touring	625
1919 Ford Truck, inclosed body	700
1917 Henderson 5-Passenger	650

Have just unloaded nine Ford cars from ..... $450 to $575
FULLER, ELROD & POWELL.
32 Madison ave. M. 2704.
(In Front Terminal Station.)

BUICK Light Six Roadster. Southern Oakland Co., 270 Peachtree St. Ivy 2385.

CHEVROLET "490" Touring. New paint. 270 Peachtree. Ivy 2385.

TEGDER MOTOR Company, pending completion of new building at 322 Peachtree, will be temporarily located at 92 Houston street, from September 1 to December 1.

PRACTICALLY new Buick; run 8,000 miles; perfect condition; $1,500. Call Hemlock 3071.

1920 DODGE touring; new. Am leaving city. Must sell. Ivy 4198.

OAKLAND used cars; good line to select from. So. Oakland Co., 272 Peachtree.

WE rebuild and paint used Stutz cars. See us. We might have what you want.
STUTZ COMPANY OF GEORGIA,
224 Peachtree St.

HAYNES 5-passenger touring car; late model; first-class condition. Will take smaller car as part payment. 92 Houston street.

CUT PRICE TIRES—All kinds and sizes. We buy and exchange used tires. Expert steam vulcanizing. Benson & Co., 165 Whitehall st.

5-PASSENGER Nash touring car, 1918 model; run 12,000 miles; splendid condition; 5 brand-new tires. A bargain for quick sale. Phone Hemlock 2431. Mr. McGuire.

USED car bargains. John Lottridge Motor Sales Co., 264 Peachtree st.

GOOD used cars. J. G. Lewis Motor Co., 232 Peachtree street.

1918 Dodge touring. Joseph G. Blount, 385 Peachtree street.

CHALMERS roadster, new top, tires, painted; electric lights; A-1 condition. 128 Magnolia street. Main 4335. Sundays, 437 Stewart avenue. West 1063-J.

FOR SALE—1914 Cadillac; first-class condition; full set new cord tires; price $650. Telephone Hemlock 2298-W.

USED CAR BARGAINS

1918 Roamer Touring	$1,500
1919 Maxwell Touring	625
1918 Oakland "6" Touring	675
1917 Hupmobile Touring	675
1918 Ford Cut Down	450
1913 Ford Touring	250

LEGG & PICKETT.
118 MARIETTA ST. MAIN 415.

FORD CARS
USED CAR DEPARTMENT
BELLE ISLE
380 PEACHTREE ST.

FORD 5-pass., first-class condition, ... $400
FORD racer $350
OVERLAND 5-pass. $275
BUICK cut-down $185
NATIONAL SALES CO.
155 Marietta St.

FOR SALE—By owner, '18 Ford touring car; new top, seat covers, repainted; good condition; also model "N" Hupmobile in A-1 condition; can be seen at Cain St. Garage.

PAIGE, 1918
5-PASS.—Used privately; good repair. Wish to trade or sell. L. R. H., care Const.

$1,500 BUYS late model Buick Six touring with extra tire, 2 bumpers, motor meter, spotlight; car practically new and perfect. Address W-765, care Constitution.

1919 DODGE touring in perfect condition; bargain for cash. P. O. Box 1301.

USED CARS bought and sold. Capital City Used Car Clearing House, 142 Decatur st.

SAYERS SIX—A car of rare beauty. C. S. Lee Motor Co., 217 Peachtree st. I. 5380.

USED CARS AND TRUCKS. See Langford-Gatlin Co., 239 Peachtree st.

FOR SALE—Ford sedan, model 1918; in good condition. Phone Ivy 2260-J.

OAKLAND touring, new paint, good tires. 270 Peachtree street. Ivy 2385.

PAIGE AGENCY temporarily located at 92 Houston street, pending completion of our new building at 322 Peachtree, about Dec. 1. Tegder Motor Co. Ivy 6365. 92 Houston street.

BUICK SIX; BRAND-NEW 1920 MODEL.
J. A. LATIMER, GRANTVILLE, GA.

USED CARS. GRANT MOTOR CO., 230 PEACHTREE ST.

USED cars bought and sold. J. M. Harrison & Co., 8-10 Ivy St., I. 3136.

AUTO purchase money notes bought. Am. Discount Co. of Ga., 255 Candler Bldg.

USED CARS HILL-HOLDEN CO. 246 P'tree. Ivy 1694

USED CARS BEARDSLEY MOTOR CO 169-171 Marietta St.

USED CARS SEE Atlanta Cadillac Co., 183 Peachtree st.

Used Cars BARGAINS. Willys-Overland, Inc., 451 Peachtree.

WANTED—AUTOS

WANTED—Ford 19 or 20 model. Call at once. Main 2704.

WANTED AT ONCE—FORD 19 OR 18 MODEL. CALL IVY 351.

TAXICABS

BELLE ISLE—TAXICABS
IVY 166 6 LUCKIE ST IVY 5190

GWIN'S TAXI SERVICE
6 Luckie St. Ivy 4551

BALDWIN TAXI SERVICE.
QUICK TRUNK TRANSFER.
Ivy 28. 89 N. Forsyth St. Ivy 1333.

BRYANT TAXI SERVICE
Ivy 7640. Ivy 82. ANSLEY HOTEL. Ivy 5293.

GARAGE—Wanted

TO RENT—Private garage in which to keep car. Address W-781, care Constitution.

AUTOMOBILES

FOR SALE. FOR SALE

Bargains in Good Used Cars

FORD SEDAN, nearly new	$ 875
NEW covered truck body	75
DIXIE FLYER, run 3,000 miles	1,000
BUICK "Big 6," run 15,000 miles	900
COLE "8," Club Roadster	1,200

ALL in excellent condition. Can be seen at

Auto Washing & Lubricating Co.
39-41-43 AUBURN AVE. IVY 3869
Next to Athletic Club.

OUR equipment enables us to wash seven cars at one time. WE CARRY in stock every well-known lubricating oil.
INVESTIGATE THIS NEW SERVICE
The cost is the same.

USED CAR BARGAINS

1916 HUPMOBILE ROADSTER.
1917 BUICK LITTLE SIX.
1917 DODGE, $550.
1917 CHEVROLET, 4-90.
DISTRIBUTORS SELDEN TRUCKS.

HOPE MOTOR CO.
143 MARIETTA ST. PHONE MAIN 4943.

AUTO ACCESSORIES AUTO ACCESSORIES

Zenith Carburetors

Best on earth, on water and in the air.
No adjustments, fool proof.
Some territory open.
Distributors

Southern Auto & Equipment Co., Inc.
AUTOMOTIVE ENGINEERS
111 S. Forsyth Street. Atlanta.

IGNITION AND STARTING.
HOPE MOTOR CO., 143 Marietta street. Ignition lighting and starting systems installed. All makes cars.

RADIATORS REPAIRED.
BARWALD RADIATOR CO.
29 IVY ST. PRICES RIGHT. IVY 4334.

AUTO TOP AND SEAT COVERS.
New tops, old tops recovered. For seat covers, come to headquarters.
"We do it better."
ATLANTA AUTO TOP AND TRIMMING CO.
155-157 EDGEWOOD AVENUE.

STORAGE SERVICE.
MARION GARAGE—Storage service by day or month. 97 N. Pryor place.

SUPPLIES AND ACCESSORIES.
AUTO TOPS
Re-covered out of the best material and done "Quickly" and "Best."
Forc Tops ready to set on.
WALKER ROOFING CO
273 Marietta St. M. 2917, M. 4075

AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING
JOHN M. SMITH CO.
AUTOMOBILE COACH WORK
CARS REPAINTED.
Tops recovered and repaired. Wheels springs and axles repaired.
120-122-124 AUBURN AVE.

AFTER trying others, try Cook's Garage for auto repairs. 20 Ivy st.

POULTRY FEED POULTRY FEED

ANOTHER REDUCTION

"MANA"—THE HIGHEST GRADE SCRATCH FEED MADE, 100-POUND. BAG, $4.75; 20 POUNDS, $1.00.
"HAPPY HEN"—BEST DRY MASH; MAKES HEN LAY. 100-POUND BAG, $4.75; 20 POUNDS, $1.00.
SAGINAW PIGEON FEED—HIGHEST GRADE PIGEON FEED. 100-POUND BAG, $6.00; HEALTH, $2.50 PER 100 POUNDS.
WE DELIVER TO ALL PARTS OF CITY.

EVERETT SEED CO.
CORNER ALABAMA AND FORSYTH STS.
BELL PHONE M. 5010, M. 446.

BUSINESS CARDS BUSINESS CARDS

ANY FIRM—ANY SERVICE

LOOK for the heading denoting the particular service or article you desire. Or better, read each of them and get many suggestions as to household and business conveniences that you are now doing without simply because it has never occurred to you that the services offered were so easily to be commanded.

A DAILY FEATURE.

ALTERING—TAILORING
OLD CLOTHES made to look like new. Clothes in bad condition our specialty. See our invisible patchwork. Wright Tailoring Co., 24 E. Hunter st. Phone Main 1896.

BARGAINS IN FURNITURE.
COAL ranges, cook stoves, gas stoves, etc., bought, exchanged. M. 1652-J. 424 Peters street.

BICYCLES AND SUPPLIES.
BERRY COHAN—Waleo and Indian bicycles, supplies, repairing. 164 Edgewood ave.

BUTTONS COVERED.
BUTTONS covered, first-class work. Mail orders given prompt attention. Atlanta Hemstitching and Plaiting Co., 73½ Whitehall.

CAMERAS AND DEVELOPING.
CAMERAS loaned free. Developing 24-hour service. U pay for satisfactory prints. Silvens Optical Co., 19 S. Broad.

CONTRACTOR.
WARNER FULLER,
CONTRACTOR, cement work, waterproof basements. We build garages. 814 Austell Bldg. Phone Ivy 659.

CHIROPODIST.
DR. FRANK E. PARKER
Chiropodist. Main 1679—At the ARCADE BEAUTY SHOP, 237-39 ARCADE.

CARPENTERS AND PAINTERS.
ACME PAINT AND REPAIR CO.
ALL kinds of carpenter and paint work. Roofs repaired and put on. 45 South Broad street. All work guaranteed. Main 3347.

CLOCKS.
BUY YOUR CLOCKS AT THE ATLANTA CLOCK HOUSE.
45 PEACHTREE ARCADE. MAIN 940.

DYEING.
THE finest dry cleaning and dyeing in city. We specialize on that particular thing. Guarantee every piece. I. 2867. 40½ Luckie.

DENTAL WORK.
DENTIST DR. L. JENSEN, 73½ Whitehall street.

DOLL REPAIRING.
DOLLS repaired and remodeled; all parts furnished. 227 Arcade Bldg., 2d floor.

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTORS.
BRYAN ELECTRIC CO.
DEALERS IN NEW AND USED ELECTRIC MACHINERY.
53 Edgewood Ave., Atlanta, Ga.
WIRING DEPARTMENT,
Bell Phone, Ivy 1790; Atlanta 5000.
SHOP DEPARTMENT,
Bell Phone, Ivy 1782.

ENGRAVING.
ENGRAVED SOCIAL and business stationery, wedding invitations, announcements. WEBB & VARY CO., ATLANTA, GA.

EXPERT SHOE REPAIRING.
GWINN'S NO. 2 S. Pryor st., across R. R., opp. Kimball house; No. 6 Luckie street, opp. Piedmont. Shoe repairing while you wait. Established 1897; ½ soles sewed 50c up. Rubber heels 35c up.

THE ELGIN WATCHMAKER.
FINE Watch, Clock and Jewelry Repairing. R. KETCHEM.
106 N. Pryor St. Candler Annex.

FURNITURE REPAIRING
Antique Furniture repaired, upholstering, refinishing. 250 Ivy st.

GIBSON MANDOLINS.
GIBSON mandolins, Holton cornets, etc. We buy, sell, exchange and repair. SOUTHERN DRUM CO., Auburn and Ivy.

ROOFING, PAINTING AND REPAIRING.
YES—We guarantee all work. We are in position to give quick service. Prices reasonable. Southern Repair Co., 81½ W. Ala. street, Atlanta, Ga. Main 3383.

TRANSFER AND SHIPPING.
Blue Line TRANSFER CO.—36 East Hunter street. Packing and shipping. Main 5227.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENT REPAIRING.
XCELO Musical Instrument Service. SOUTHERN DRUM CO., Auburn and Ivy

HEATING AND PLUMBING.
AMERICAN HEATING AND PLUMBING CO., 110 S. FORSYTH STREET. MAIN 778. OUR ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT IS SECOND TO NONE.

MATTRESS RENOVATING.
SHIRLEY MATTRESS CO., 807 Marietta, M. 993. High-grade mattress renovating, work guaranteed.

MOVING—STORAGE.
COCHRAN Transfer & Storage Co., light and heavy hauling. 45 E. Mitchell St. Main 5595.

FLANAGAN BROS. move, pack and ship anything anywhere at the right price. Try us. M. 2877. 51-53 Central avenue.

OPTICIAN.
EYES examined, glasses fitted, broken lenses duplicated; the lowest prices. See Dr. Crimm, 69 Whitehall, next McClure's.

OLD HATS MADE NEW.
OLD HATS made new; satisfaction guaranteed. Mail orders given prompt attention. ACME HATTERS. 20 EAST HUNTER ST.

PLUMBING.
CAPITAL PLUMBING AND HEATING CO., 52 South Forsyth. M. 4134. Repair work given prompt attention.

PLUMBING AND GAS FITTING.
WORK done reasonably and promptly. Kimberly & Grizzard, 509 Marietta st. M. 1583.

REPAIRING, UPHOLSTERING AND REFINISHING.
FURNITURE—Built, repaired, upholstered, refinished. Cabinet work, reasonable. Johnson Bros., 886 Marietta St. Main 1168.

PAINTING AND TINTING
TINTING AND PAINTING. ROOMS, $4 TO $6.50. CALL WEST 630-J.

PAINTING.
EXPERT painting and tinting. Prompt service. White labor. Ed. C. Mitchell. W. 9-J.

ROOF REPAIRING.
Mooney REPAIRS all kinds. 12 months' guarantee. Reasonable. Hemlock 1056.

ROOFING AND REPAIRS.
ROOFING
ANY KIND OF ROOFS PUT ON. NEW OR REPAIRED.
WORK GUARANTEED
WALKER ROOFING CO
273 Marietta St. M. 2917, M. 4075

ROOFING
SEE ME before you do any roofing. George O. Barrett. 73-74 Marietta street. Phone Main 4771.

ROOFING AND PAINTS.
TO SAVE MONEY on roofing and paint see Jacob Buchman, wholesale distributor of guaranteed roofing and paint. 45 S. Broad St. Main 3547.

TRUNKS AND SUIT CASES.
ROUNTREE'S 77 Whitehall Street. M. 1576.

FINE SELECTION OF WALL PAPER.
GUARANTEE first-class paper hanging work. I. 5011. Greengold, 113 Edgewood.

STOVE REPAIRING.
$100 REWARD
FOR ANY STOVE I cannot fix and make work like new. Call BARBER, THE STOVE MAN. I formerly ran under the name of Dan the Fixer until June 1, 1919. Phone Main 4982. 35 South Pryor street.

BUILDING AND CONTRACTING.
Phone Main 5552-L. 91 Ormond St.
RELIABLE, THOROUGH, EFFICIENT BUILDING REPAIR SERVICE.
IRA T. HAWKINS
BUILDING CONTRACTOR.
Building, Repairing, Painting, Roofing.
SATISFIED CUSTOMERS
MY REFERENCE. YOUR GUARANTEE.
ATLANTA, GA.

TYPEWRITERS.
TYPEWRITERS bought, sold and repaired. W. S. Smith, 217 Arcade. Main 4460.

AUTOMOBILES

AUTO TOPS AND PAINTING.
AUTOMOBILE painting, tops recovered, tailor made seat covers, trimming repairs. Springs, axles and wheels repaired.
A. C. MILLER & CO.
33 Gilmer St.

AUTO WASHING
EXPERT auto washing and lubricating at Auto Washing & Lubricating Co., 39-41-43 Auburn avenue, next to Athletic Club. Phone Ivy 3869.

AUTOMOBILE SUPPLIES.
ROY TODD, IVY 351
Approved Locking Devices.
27 ATLANTA THEATER BLDG.

AUTOMOBILE PAINTING
AUTOMOBILES PAINTED, TOPS RE-COVERED, SEAT COVERS PUT ON, ETC. REASONABLE RATES.
J. W. Goldsmith, Jr.—Grant Co., Inc.
229 Peachtree St.

ELECTRIC REPAIRING.
SIMS Magneto Service station. All kinds elec. repairing done. E. H. Odom Bros. Atlanta. Gill stop-leak piston rings. $1 each

AUTOGENOUS WELDING.
Southern Welding Co.
HIGH-CLASS auto repairing. All work guaranteed. 178 Courtland St. Ivy 7227.

MAGNETO SERVICE STATION.
EISEMAN MAGNETOS
Official Service Sta., 115 W. P'tree. I. 1969.

ELECTRIC WELDING.
ELECTRIC WELDING CO.
52 HOUSTON ST. IVY 4462.

AUTOMOBILE PAINTING.
FORD CARS PAINTED
EXCLUSIVE FORD PAINT SHOP AND UPHOLSTERING.
BELLE ISLE
380 PEACHTREE ST.

MONEY TO LOAN

QUICK LOANS.

THE NEXT TIME THE OCCASION ARISES WHERE YOU NEED $25 UP TO $300 IN A HURRY, DON'T BOTHER YOUR FRIENDS OR RELATIVES WITH A

"PERSONAL TOUCH,"

BUT MAKE A BUSINESS PROPOSITION OF IT BY CALLING AT OUR OFFICE AND STATING YOUR WANTS. YOU WILL BE ACCOMMODATED QUICKLY AND NO ONE WILL BE THE WISER.

"IT'S HUMILIATING"

TO ASK A FRIEND OR RELATIVE TO LEND YOU A FEW BONES OR "STICK" HIS NAME ON A NOTE, BUT WHEN YOU COME TO US IT'S DIFFERENT—IT'S A STRICTLY BUSINESS PROPOSITION WITHOUT FUSS OR FEATHER. YOU PAY FOR IT AND IT'S NOBODY'S BUSINESS.

PIANOS, FURNITURE, AUTOMOBILES, LIBERTY BONDS OR ANY GOOD COLLATERAL IS ALL THE SECURITY YOU NEED.

SURETY LOAN CO.,
408 FLATIRON BLDG.,
IVY 4296—PHONES—MAIN 180.

$25.00 $200.00

A LOAN SERVICE THAT IS PERFECTION

Through personal contact and personal service, plus a deep personal interest, we can serve you and your friends as you wish to be served.

LOANS ON FURNITURE

Pianos, etc., without removal from your possession. $25 to $200 loaned at low lawful rates and very easy terms of repayment. You can have all the time you need to repay a loan.

YOU CAN AFFORD TO BORROW

Borrow	$25	at a cost of $1.25
Borrow	$50	at a cost of $2.50
Borrow	$75	at a cost of $3.75
Borrow	$100	at a cost of $5.00
Borrow	$150	at a cost of $7.50

Place your business with us and learn what is meant by "A LOAN SERVICE THAT IS PERFECTION."

It is our purpose to help as well as serve you. When you stop to consider the great value of intelligent friendly advice and counsel, you will appreciate and avail yourself of our complete intimate practical personal service.

CITIZENS' LOAN CO.,
301 PETERS BUILDING.
MAIN 1043. ATLANTA 677.

ONE CLEAR DISTINCT FACT

STANDS OUT IN ALL THE CONFUSION OF HIGH COSTS. THE NECESSITY FOR PUTTING YOUR PERSONAL, YOUR HOUSEHOLD AFFAIRS, ON A BUSINESS FOOTING.

To help you pay overdue unpaid bills, to help you buy the things you need for CASH at great savings, to help you spend wisely and save regularly, is the service offered by the Guarantee Loan Company.

Loans on Furniture,
$25.00 to $150.00

On short notice and without publicity. We give you all the time you want to repay a loan

AT LAWFUL RATES.

$ 25 Loan costs but $123
$ 50 Loan costs but $2.50
$100 Loan costs but $5.00
$150 Loan costs but $7.50

The Manager takes great pride in his organization and is appreciative of the constantly increasing patronage of the many friends of the company. It is his desire to merit the confidence and esteem of the borrowing public by strict attention to the needs of his patrons. A courteous personal invitation to visit the office is extended.

GUARANTEE LOAN CO
308 Atlanta National Bank Building
Main 440—Phones—Atlanta 722.

Borrow Your Christmas Money
From Southern Security Co.

WE make loans from $10 to $500 on your household goods, pianos, Liberty bonds, live stock and all kinds of personal property at legal rates.

Payments as low as $2 per month.

$ 25 costs	$ 1.25
50 costs	2.50
100 costs	5.00
200 costs	10.00
400 costs	20.00

See us first. Business strictly confidential.
Southern Security Co.
212 ARCADE BLDG.
Phone Main 619.

WHEN YOU NEED $25 OR MORE
WE WILL LOAN IT TO YOU AT THE LAWFUL RATE.
Guarantee Loan Company
308 Atlanta National.
M. 440. Phones. Atl. 722.

MONEY FOR SALARIED PEOPLE AND OTHERS upon their own names, cheap rates, easy terms; confidential. Scott & Co. 820 Austell building.

CHRISTMAS LOANS

YOU CAN borrow your Christmas money from us and pay it back next year. You can't afford to be without money Christmas. We make loans on furniture, Liberty bonds, jewelry, etc.

O. F. WHITTEN CO.
201 Flatiron Bldg. Ivy 6150.

Ready Money for salaried men. No indorsers.
FEDERAL INVESTMENT CO.,
201 PETERS BUILDING.

QUICK ready money on salary. C. E. Jarvis, 204 McKenzie Bldg. Ivy 1076.

When You Need Money Quick
ON YOUR SALARY, SEE US.
No indorsement or mortgage required.
E. W. GREENWAY & CO.
Ivy 1654. 316-17 Empire Bldg.

MONEY on salaries, furniture, pianos, autos, indorsed notes. Patterson, 511 Silvey Bldg.

PLENTY money for real estate loans and notes. H. F. West, 218 Atlanta Natl.

MONEY—Wanted.

MONEY WANTED

SEVERAL small loans from private parties. No agents. From one to five thousand dollars on first mortgage 7 per cent, secured by brand-new residence. Call Ivy 725.

MONEY—On Real Estate

MONTHLY MONEY AT 6 PER CENT TO LEND ON REAL ESTATE, PAYABLE $1.90 OR MORE PER MONTH ON THE HUNDRED DOLLARS, WHICH INCLUDES INTEREST. MONEY HERE. NO DELAY. W. A. FOSTER, 47 NORTH FORSYTH. IVY 5986.

STRAIGHT MONEY, 5 TO 7 PER CENT, TO LEND ON REAL ESTATE, FIVE YEARS OR LESS. W. A. FOSTER, 47 NORTH FORSYTH. IVY 5986.

LOANS ON GEORGIA FARM LANDS
DIRECT CONNECTIONS, PROMPT HANDLING, CURRENT RATES
Communicate with Us.
COTTON STATES SECURITIES CO.
421 Healey Bldg. ATLANTA, GA.
H. N. RANDOLPH, President

$1,000—$2,000—$4,000—$5,000
TO LEND on improved real estate in Atlanta or suburbs
W. O. ALSTON, 1010 Hurt Bldg.

$500,000 TO LOAN at 6% on improved Atlanta residence or business property. Loans closed promptly.

T. B. GAY
Successor to Dunson & Gay,
409 Trust Co. of Georgia Bldg.
Ivy 5678.

FIRST MORTGAGE loans, Atlanta property. Low rate, expense reasonable. Established over 25 years.
TURMAN & CALHOUN
203 Empire Building

6% LOANS ON
ATLANTA REAL ESTATE
FARMS ANYWHERE
OR WELL-IMPROVED
SMALL TOWN PROPERTY
MADE PROMPTLY.
MARVIN R. M'CLATCHEY
CANDLER BLDG., ATLANTA, GA.

MONEY

TO LEND—1st or 2d mortgages, on city real estate. Current rates. Immediate action. J. S. Slicer, 51 N. Forsyth st. Ivy 955.

5, 6, 7 AND 8 PER CENT MONEY to lend on real estate, five years or less; interest payable semi-annually; splendid paying-back privileges. Brown-Beasley Company, 210 Flatiron Building.

REAL ESTATE LOANS—Reuben F. Gilliam, attorney, 4th Nat'l Bank Bldg. Ivy 855.

FUNDS on hand for loan and purchase money notes. A. F. Liebman, 17 Walton street, Real Estate and Renting

FARM LOANS closed immediately. Kirk Smith, 504 Fourth Nat. Bank bldg.

LOANS MADE and notes bought on Atlanta and suburban real estate. Elseman & Weil Investment Co., 313 Atlanta National Bank.

MONEY to lend at reasonable rates on improved real estate. Forrest & George Adair.

FARM MONEY.
Special Rate for Farms and City Property. S. W. Carson 414 Empire Bldg.

CITY and farm loans made without delay. W. B. Smith, 706 Fourth National Bank Bldg.

MONEY to loan without commission on farm and city property for Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co. B. G. Statham, General Agent, 522-3 Candler Bldg.

MONEY to loan on Atlanta real estate. Purchase money notes bought. Thos. J. Wesley, Vice Pres., 229 Grant Bldg.

LOAN AGENTS for Investors Savings Company, first and second mortgages on city real estate, payable monthly.
Cliff C. Hatcher Ins. Agency
See Rex B. Mooney 221 Grant building.

WE make first mortgage loans; low rate. Columbian National Life Ins. Co., Jno. D. Wood, 1506 Candler Bldg. Ivy 4927.

6% money for city property and farms, 7% 1116 Hurt Bldg. Edward Jones. I. 6631.

HAVE fine demand for real estate purchase money notes. W. A. Foster, 47 North Forsyth, Healey building. Ivy 5986.

FIRST and second mortgage loans. A. G. Smith, Connally building. Main 2940.

Typewriters and Supplies

TYPEWRITERS

ALL kinds, at lowest prices. Factory rebuilt and fully guaranteed. Your money's worth or your money back. Typewriters rented, non-visible, three months for $5.00; visible, three months for $7.50 and up. Call, phone or write for catalogue C-70. American Writing Machine Company, 48 N. Pryor street, Atlanta, Ga. Phone Ivy 7340.

FOR SALE—No. 5 Underwood rebuilt, latest model; guaranteed; good as new; $65. K. M. Schell, Main 2705. 13½ W. Alabama st.

WHEN the typewriter needs repairs, call an expert. K. M. Schell, Underwoods a specialty, 13½ W. Alabama street. Main 2705.

UNDERWOOD, $45; Royal, $22.50; rebuilt and guaranteed. K. M. Schell, 13½ W. Alabama. Main 2705.

BOARD AND ROOMS

CHOICE room for one or two gentlemen in steam-heated bungalow; meals near. 235 East Fourth street. Ivy 8517.

EXCELLENT rooms, steam heat; first-class board. 363 Peachtree. Call Ivy 2115.

ROOM and board for young man. 52 Ponce de Leon. Ivy 6195.

LARGE, attractive room; private family; table board; best residential section. Hemlock 2463-J.

Board and Room—Wanted

WANTED—Board in private family with pleasant surroundings by young man. Address W-774, care Constitution.

WANTED—Furnished room with two meals per day; prefer within walking distance. Address W-776, care Constitution.

ROOMS—For Rent

FURNISHED.

Gate City HOTEL, $3.50 per week and up. Corner Forsyth street and Trinity avenue.

PEACHTREE INN 391 PEACHTREE ST., 75c to $1.50 per day; $2.50 to $6 per week. Steam heat, hot water at all hours. Ph. I. 67.

THE ADOLF ROOMS — Up-to-date. Price $30, $35, $40. 10½ East Harris street. Ivy 6887.

Candler Hotel Weekly rates. 110 Ivy Street.

66 FORREST AVE.—Large room; furnace-heated; tiny kitchenette; bus. people preferred.

TWO nicely furnished rooms in private home with all modern conveniences; lovely location in Decatur. Decatur 700-W.

FURNISHED ROOM, close in; private family; heat, bath. 19 Baltimore Place.

WELL FUR. room for gentleman or business lady; north side private home. H. 1030-J.

ONE large steam-heated bedroom; fur.; near bath. Peachtree Apt. House; board next door. Mrs. Walsh, Ivy 813-W.

WELL furnished room; all conveniences. 340 South Pryor. Main 1159X2.

ROOM for couple with breakfast and 6:30 dinner. 720 Ponce de Leon. Hemlock 926.

FRONT corner bedrooms (two), in clean, quiet home. Ivy 5925-W.

NEATLY furnished large room with two beds; reasonable rent; heat; private bath. Ivy 2612. 23 Forrest avenue.

NEATLY furnished room for business men only; within walking distance; modern conveniences. 94 Forrest avenue.

20 CARNEGIE WAY, APT. C—Surprisingly nice, fur. room for critical gentlemen.

NICELY furnished room in private home; meals near. 186 Sinclair avenue.

UNFURNISHED.

ONE unfurnished room; conveniences; housekeeping privileges. 140 Windsor.

TWO or four rooms and kitchenette upstairs; one room and kitchenette downstairs; modern conveniences. Apply 221 S. Pryor street.

Housekeeping Rooms

FURNISHED.

VERY large room, comfortably furnished; telephone and hot water. Phone Ivy 2365X2. 302 Spring street.

Board and Room—Wanted

UNFURNISHED.

WANTED—Two or three light housekeeping downstairs rooms; north side; have children. W. H. N., 186 Peachtree street.

APARTMENTS—For Rent

FURNISHED.

FOUR rooms and sleeping porch in very desirable section of north side; possession December 1. Call Hemlock 1433-J.

APARTMENT—Also room, can be used by two couples or singly. 306 E. Hunter st.

UNFURNISHED.

DANDY 4-room apartment; close in; all conveniences; garage. Call Mr. Silvertooth, Ivy 7371. Ivy 8507-J.

6-ROOM apartment; also first floor parlor; adults only. 109 Cascade avenue. Take Whitehall-Beecher car.

APARTMENTS—Wanted

FURNISHED.

WANTED—Furnished apartment on north side; Highland avenue or Piedmont Park section preferred; 2 to 3 rooms, bath and kitchen; only bright, pleasing place considered; best care of furniture guaranteed. Address W-783, care Constitution, or phone Ivy 3010.

WANTED—3 or 4-room furnished apartment by Dec. 15; will lease 4 rms if can be had at reasonable price. Address W-756, care Constitution.

WANTED—Small furnished apartment or rooms, north side or suburbs. Call Ivy 1368.

WANTED—Furnished apartment, north side, by December 1. Phone Ivy 7290.

HOUSES—For Rent

FURNISHED.

FOR SALE—Furniture and lease on a 14-room house filled with paying guests, on Peachtree street. Address W-766, care Const.

UNFURNISHED.

ROOMING house or apartments. 158 Whitehall street. Apply to M. L. Thrower.

OWNER will rent to careful family of grown people elegant north side nine-room residence. $135 per month. Address P. O. Box 936, Atlanta.

FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED.
Consult Our Rental Bulletin.
SMITH, EWING & RANKIN.

For Rent—Business Space

LOFT FOR RENT.
67½ E. ALABAMA ST.—Near corner of Central avenue; two lofts of 25x125 feet.
FITZHUGH KNOX.
1208 Candler Bldg.

FOR RENT—Offices

WE HAVE five or six nice offices for rent; heat and light furnished. Apply Ellis Cotton Co., 25 Ivy street.

REAL ESTATE—For Sale

NORTH SIDE.

$2,000

THIS will buy pretty lot in burnt district. See John Starr, Mercantile Sales Co., 408-9 Gould Bldg., Ivy 6251.

ANSLEY PARK—8-room 2-story cream color brick-veneer home; quick sale, $9,500. Price reduced from $12,000.

NORTH SIDE—6-room brick-veneer bungalow; level east front lot. $8,000.

ALBEMARLE—Right at Moreland; modern 7-room bungalow. $6,250.
CARL FISCHER,
Ivy 3241.

FOR SALE—Beautiful 7-room brick bungalow, near Ponce de Leon avenue. It has everything you want. Driveway, garage; immediate possession. Terms, $1,250 cash, $60 per month. Only $9,500. Don't wait a minute; no more like it at the price. Martin-Ozburn Realty Co., 3d National Bank Bldg. Ivy 1276.

I HAVE plenty of nice homes on north side at reasonable prices and terms; glad to show them. W. H. S. Hamilton, 227 Candler building. Ivy 2026.

GREAT bargain in new 8-room bungalow; right up to date; North Piedmont Park; terms. J. B. Jackson & L. H. Smith, Arcade Bldg. Main 726.

BRAND-NEW bungalow, 29 Highland avenue, corner Hilliard street, $6,000; 6 rooms and bath; ready to move in; open for inspection. Special terms. Geo. P. Howard, 1520 Candler Bldg. Ivy 4950.

IF YOU want a bargain in a nice bungalow we have it. Norris Construction Co., 224 Peachtree Arcade. Phone Main 30.

THE W. A. MORRIS CO., Real Estate and Loans, 303 Healey Bldg. Ivy 725.

I WANT listing of your property. Give me a chance. Ben Padgett, Ivy 7468. 214 Empire Bldg.

Druid Hills Section

TWO-STORY 7-room and sleeping porch home; tile bath, bedroom first floor; furnace, garage; east front shaded lot. Price $9,000; $2,500 cash, terms.

JOHN S. SCOTT
PETERS BLDG. MAIN 2091.

HOUSES in various parts of the city; three to ten rooms each; quick possession. Fulton County House Builders, 530 Candler Bldg. Ivy 4674.

BRICK BUNGALOWS
PETERS LAND CO., 610 PETERS BLDG.

WM. S. ANSLEY, Real Estate, 217 Atlanta National Bldg. Main 288.

REAL ESTATE BARGAINS. Evans & Dodd, 213 Empire building.

REAL ESTATE in all parts of city. H. B. Scott.

$4,150—Fourth Ward investment property; rented $45. W. E. Perry. Ivy 6414.

R. W. BARNWELL real estate bargains. 621 Candler Bldg. Ivy 1852.

If you have anything for rent or sale, list it with Burdett Realty Co., 116 Candler Building.

WANT to buy a home? See me. John S. Scott, Peters Bldg.

REAL ESTATE & RENTING. Trust Co. of Ga. Phone Ivy 71.

FOR home bargains see Payne & McArthur, Transportation Bldg.

JONES, RAMSPECK & CO., insurance, real estate, renting, building, loans. Decatur, Ga.

LIST your property for sale or rent with A. S. Adams-Cates Co., 204 Grant Bldg.

5-ROOM cottage; East Fair street. $1,700. Ivy 679.

W. E. TREADWELL & CO.—Real estate for sale or exchange. Empire Bldg.

SEE our Sale List published weekly. M. L. Thrower 39 North Forsyth street.

A. Graves sells homes, lots, rent property and farms. 12½ Wall st.

SOUTH SIDE.

$3,000—Modern 6-room bungalow on Windsor st., level lot, 60x200; house is a good one, in excellent repair; easily worth $3,750; owner does not live in Atlanta and is not acquainted with present conditions here. Terms, $500 cash and $40 a month; no loan. Don't miss this one. C. A. Forsyth, 207 Central building. M. 2882.

250 GLENWOOD AVE.—At Grant park; 5-room bungalow; vacant; modern; $500 cash. P. B. Hopkins

THE GUMPS—ANDY'S GIFT TO MOTHER-IN-LAW.

ALLIANCE IS FORMED BY BALTIC STATES

Reval, November 25.—(By the Associated Press).—The Baltic states alliance is a fact and will be publicly declared when the government which participated in the negotiations at Dorpat have ratified the preliminary agreement.

Peace discussions will begin when Maxim Litvinoff, the bolshevik representative, returns from Copenhagen. Litvinoff has full power to negotiate a peace with the Baltic states on behalf of soviet Russia.

The bolsheviki are continuing to attack in the Yamburg district with strong forces in an endeavor to crush the Russian northwest army.

The correspondent is authorized to transmit the following:

"Although the Lithuanian government denies officially that there is to be a meeting with the bolshevik delegates December 1 at Dorpat to discuss peace, it is obvious that the Baltic and other border states, excepting Finland, will begin peace negotiations in a few weeks."

Litvinoff in Copenhagen.

Copenhagen, November 25.—M. Litvinoff, representative of the Russian soviet government, has arrived to treat with representatives of the allied governments with regard to an exchange of prisoners.

Maxim Litvinoff, who was at one time "bolshevik ambassador" in London, recently headed a bolshevik delegation to Dorpat, where the conference of delegates from the Baltic states was in session. An agreement was reached at this conference regarding an exchange of prisoners by Litvinoff and the other members of his party with the Esthonian, Letvian and Lithunian delegates.

In some parts of China, if a man fails to pay his debts, his creditors carry away one of his doors. It is thought that this permits evil spirits to enter.

MACON WILL HONOR GENERAL G. P. M'RAE WHO VISITS CITY

Macon, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—After having just completed several days of playing host to Admiral W. S. Benson, highest ranking officer in the navy during the world war, Macon is now preparing to honor another distinguished veteran, Major General G. P. McRae, who will arrive next Friday to visit his brother, D. L. McRae.

Word to this effect was received today and plans were at once set on foot for his entertainment. At the general's request there will be no public military demonstration, but he will be met by a reception committee and will be tendered a dinner by the chamber of commerce.

General McRae commanded the 78th division overseas and received British, French and American decorations. From Macon General McRae will go to Washington to attend a celebration in honor of General Pershing, in whose class he graduated, to be given by members of the graduating class. General McRae is stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kans.

Athens Prepared To Accord Royal Welcome to Shrine

Athens, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—All arrangements have been completed for the big Shrine ceremonial in Athens Wednesday, when the members of Yaarab temple will invade the city at least 1,000 strong. The principal business streets of the city, stores and other buildings have been appropriately decorated for the occasion.

A special train bearing the Atlanta members of Yaarab, accompanied by their famous million dollar band and several carloads of paraphernalia, will reach the city on the Seaboard Air Line at 11:30 o'clock, the festivities beginning shortly after the arrival of the special train. The program of entertainment for the visiting Nobles and the one hundred or more Neophytes includes lunches, theatorium parties, rides over the city, a banquet and a grand ball at the New Era club.

The students of the university, State Normal school and Lucy Cobb institute, as well as practically all the citizen population, will turn out to witness the spectacular parade of the wearers of the red fez at 4 o'clock. Following the banquet at the Y. M. C. A. at 6 o'clock, the ceremonial will be started at Moss auditorium.

MISS ANNIE L. REEVES DIED EARLY TUESDAY

Miss Annie L. Reeves, 65 years old, matron of the Home for Old Women on West End avenue, died Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Miss Reeves was superintending breakfast on Monday when she had a sudden stroke of paralysis. She had a second stroke at 7 a o'clock Monday night, and Tuesday she passed away.

The entire life of Miss Reeves had been devoted to institutional work. Before becoming matron of the Home for Old Women she was the matron of the Georgia Baptist orphanage at Hapeville. Prior to that she was matron of the Home for the Friendless.

She did much for the betterment of the Home for Old Women, and they keenly feel their loss in her death. She was a Christian woman, and was always interested in religious work of any nature.

Pending funeral arrangements the body was removed to the chapel or H. M. Patterson & Son. She is survived by five brothers, J. G., of Fort Worth, Tex.; W. E., of Hedley, Tex.; D. W., of Norfolk, Va.; J. W., of Atlanta, and R. B. Reeves, of Cave Springs, Ga.

BIG GOURD PRESENTED TO JUDGE S. H. SIBLEY

Rome, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—When Judge Samuel H. Sibley, who is now holding federal court here, leaves for his home he will take with him an old-fashioned gourd, with a five-foot stem. Every Georgian knows that water tastes sweeter out of a gourd than from any other drinking vessel, even better than from a cut glass goblet. There is nothing but water to drink in Georgia, at least the federal court is doing its best to stop moonshining, and Judge Sibley is a staunch prohibitionist anyhow.

The gourd was presented to Judge Sibley by Judge Harper Hamilton, and the accompanying card read: "To represent the drinking of all the sweets of life ,and full fruition of those things in the life to come."

DEMOCRATIC LEADER APPROVES SHIELDS

Knoxville, Tenn., November 25.—S. W. Mullins, chairman of the state democratic executiev commitee of Mississippi, has written Senator John K. Shields approving the latter's action in voting for reservations to the league of nations covenant.

In the letter Mr. Mullins refers to criticism of other senators for following their convictions in the past and tells something of the outcome of these affairs. He also refers to ex-Governor M. R. Patterson's indorsement of Senator Shields' position and declares that he believes any man who votes for the league covenant without reservations will be retired to private life by the people.

JAPANESE AND CHINESE RIOT OVER BOYCOTT

Washington, November 25.—Natives of Formosa, formerly Chinese, but claiming Japanese citizenship since the annexation of the island, were responsible for the attack on Chinese students in Foo Chow, China, November 10, according to advices received in Japanese circles here. Many islanders are in business in Foo Chow, it was said, and the riot was the result of the boycott which the Chinese students have laid upon all Japanese merchandise because the peace conference had confirmed Japan's title to Shantung.

Students were said to have attacked vans carrying Japanese goods from the docks to shops in the city The coolies in charge of the vans were Formosans and local Chinese laborers. Other Japanese Formosans went to their assistance, it was added, and heavy punishment was inflicted on the students.

In Finland lawyers, before they can obtain government employment, must serve as policemen for the purpose of gaining practical experience.

Feature Discussions For State Hotel Men In Meeting at Macon

Macon, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—A discussion of the sugar situation, the relation of good roads to hotels and consideration of other important subjects will feature the thirteenth annual convention of the Georgia Hotel Men's association, which will be held here December 4 and 5, according to announcement today.

Entertainment features call for a complimentary luncheon at the Hotel Lanier, the annual banquet at the Hotel Dempsey, and an oyster roast at Kilkare, the country home of Louis Rossignol, proprietor of the Hotel Macon. About 75 hotel men are expected to attend.

RESISTED ARREST; DRAWS $11 FINE

For attacking Patrolmen Cartwright and Williams when they attempted to arrest him, H. P. Walker, of 67 Whitehall Terrace, was fined $11 by Recorder Johnston Tuesday morning.

The patrolmen stated that Walker refused to move on when told to by them and when they attempted to arrest him he drew a pistol. Walker submitted a license issued in Meriwether county in 1916 allowing him to carry a gun. He was freed of the charge of pistol toting, but was fined for resisting arrest.

EIGHT MORE MURDERS CONFESSED BY BANDITS

Chicago, November 25.—Eight more murders, bringing the total to 12, were confessed today by the Cardinella-Campioni gang, "black hand" bandits of the South Side underworld.

Police say most of the victims were killed when they attempted to frustrate robberies.

Members of the gang, police say, declare Santo Orlando, one-time leader of the clique, whose body, with 14 bullet wounds, was found floating in the drainage canal, was slain because he was "double crossing" his "pals."

Sixteen detectives armed with rifles covered every window of the home of Frank Campioni, former leader of the gang, and arrested him without a fight. The home was a regular arsenal.

OCTOBER EXPORTS FROM UNITED STATES

Washington, D. C., November 25 Breadstuffs exported from the United States during October were valued at $67,704,073, a decrease o about $4,000,000 as compared with October, 1918. For the last 10 months breadstuffs exports were $793,814,020, as against $641,855,46 for the same period in 1918.

The monthly report of the department of commerce issued today also showed October cotton exports totaled 352,231 bales valued at $60,732,867, as against 383,995 bale worth $66,027,704 for October, 1918. In the last ten months cotton exports aggregated 4,755,593 bales, at $775,413,702 compared with 3,173,859 bales at $513,405,022 for the corresponding period of 1918.

Meat and dairy products exported in October amounted to $69,494,243 against $63,040,618 a year ago. While for the first ten months of this year they totaled $1,035,776,252, a heavy increase over the total of $782,353,845 during the same period last year.

Cotton seed oil exported during the month amounted to 11,747,514 pounds at $2,653,497, and mineral oils reached a total of 271,767,087 gallons, worth $34,705,895.

PEACE DELEGATION NAMED BY HUNGARY

Budapest, November 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Hungarian government has appointed the following peace delegation to negotiate a treaty between the allied powers and Hungary:

Count Albert Apponyi, premier; Count Stefan Bethlen, who has acted as adviser of Archduke Joseph; Count Paul Seleky, Martin Lovassy, who was foreign minister in the cabinet of Premier Stephen Friedrich, and Archbishop Gieswein. Among the counsellors named are Bishop Andor Leopold, a Catholic prelate, and Rev. Dr. Szabo, a Reformed churchman.

Orgy of Speculation Disturbing Country, According to Bedford

New York, November 25.—America's most vital enterprises, such as railroads and traction companies, "are starving in the midst of financail plenty" because of "an orgy of speculation," which has disturbed not only bankers, but the federal reserve board, according to A. C. Bedford, chairman of the international trade conference, held last month in Atlantic City.

Unable to speak because of a severe cold, Mr. Bedford's speech was read at a conference and luncheon here today under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States on the eve of the departure for home of foreign delegates attending the Atlantic City sessions. Reading of his speech followed pleas from the guests for extension of long time credit by the United States.

"I do not want you to think I am an alarmist," said Mr. Bedford, 'but I say, as emphatically as I can, that we must get away from our present national extravagance and get back to the building of solid foundations.

"Let us listen, for a change, to the dictates of our common sense. We did not wash our hands of the European situation on November 11, 1918. We are not quitters as individuals and we won't quit as a nation. We must make good our promises of practical, immediate help."

TWO STORES ROBBED BY BURGLARS AT ROME

Rome, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—Howell's store, located in North Rome, was burglarized yesterday and many articles of wearing apparel and some money from the cash drawer were stolen. Another burglary occurred in West Rome, when Casey's store was entered and a number of things taken.

The city police are working on the two cases and it is believed that a capture of the guilty party will be effected within a very short time. The identity of the guilty one is believed to have been established.

Raymond Scroggins And Wife Face Trial On Charge of Murder

Macon, Ga., November 25.—(Special.)—Raymond Scroggins and his wife, Ruby Scroggins, will go on trial in the Bibb superior court tomorrow on the charge of having murdered Andrew J. Elkin, Bibb county farmer, on October 8 last. John R. Cooper and W. O. Cooper, counsel for Scroggins, announce they will plead insanity, while Mrs. Scroggins will deny any connection with the killing, alleging she was not in the wagon when the crime was committed and had no knowledge of it until later.

The state, on the other hand, is prepared to meet Scroggins' insanity plea and also claims to have proof that the woman was implicated in the planning of the crime and aided in its consummation.

Elkin was killed by a blow on the head from a hammer, after he had permitted Scroggins to ride in his wagon with him. Robbery was the motive for the crime, according to an alleged confession made by Mrs. Scroggins, in which she placed the blame for the killing on her husband.

Scroggins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Scroggins, of Atlanta. His parents are here to attend the trial, and a number of witnesses have been brought from Atlanta to testify as to the defendant's mental condition.

Mayor Is Removed.

Columbus, Ohio, November 25.—Mayor Charles E. Poorman, of Canton, suspended by Governor Cox a month ago for failure to preserve order during the steel strike in that city, was permanently removed from office by the governor late today, following a formal hearing before the chief executive.

LODGE NOTICES

The regular communication of Malta Lodge No. 641, F. & A. M., will be held in the Masonic Temple, corner Peachtree and Cain streets, this (Wednesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Fellowcraft degree will be conferred by our Senior Warden, Brother W. G. Perry. All qualified brethren are cordially and fraternally invited to attend. By order of E. W. BROWN, W. M.
FRED P. GIBBS, Secretary.

FUNERAL NOTICES

LAWRENCE—Mrs. Walter C. Lawrence died at the home, 695 Edgewood avenue, Tuesday afternoon. She is survived by her husband; one son, Charles W.; three daughters, Misses Eleanor, Margaret and Frances. Funeral arrangements announced later by Barclay & Brandon Co.

REEVES—Died at 61 West End avenue Tuesday, November 25, 1919, Miss Annie L. Reeves, in the 66th year of her age. She is survived by five brothers, J. G., of Fort Worth, Texas; W. E., of Hedley, Texas; D. W., of Norfolk, Va.; J. W., of Atlanta, and R. B., of Cave Spring, Ga. Funeral arrangements will be announced later by H. M. Patterson & Son.

BUCKALEW—The friends and relatives of Mrs. Martha J. Buckalew (widow of the late J. P. Buckalew) and Miss Mary Willie Martin are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Martha J. Buckalew today (Wednesday), November 26, 1919, at 11 a. m., from the residence, 344 South Pryor. The Rev. Robert Lampkin and Rev. S. R. Belk will officiate. The interment will be at West View cemetery. The following gentlemen will please as as pallbearers and meet at the chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son at 10:30 o'clock: Mr. Henry M. Wood, Mr. George Knott, Mr. J. W. Simmons, Mr. R. E. O'Donnelly, Mr. Walter Brown and Mr. T. O. Poole.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. E. B. Thomas and family wish to express sincere appreciation to their friends for the many expressions of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings received during the sickness and death of Mrs. Iona Lorena Thomas.

Homes For Sale. Quick Possession

WEST TENTH ST.—Here we offer a 2-story, 7-room house, half block from West Peachtree St. This place has a large living room across entire front of house, a dining room, butler's pantry and kitchen; upstairs are three large bedrooms and a fine sleeping porch with tiled bathroom; all woodwork and walls are in good condition. This is an up-to-date house, with furnace and electric lights. Price, $9,000.

We also offer the following houses for sale:

East North Ave.....$5,500 Colquitt Ave.....$6,500
Elizabeth St.....$6,000 Euclid Ave.....$7,000

FORREST & GEORGE ADAIR
HEALEY BUILDING. PHONE IVY 100

MORTGAGE LOANS
Established 1890
WEYMAN & CONNORS
We have made a specialty of mortgage loans for nearly thirty years, and are prepared to handle promptly all applications submittted, We would appreciate your business.
S. T. WEYMAN
W. BAYNE GIBSON ANDREW B. CHAPMAN
624-5-6 Grant Building.

"Five Seconds From Five Points"
Good Printing
Requires attention to small details
Our complete equipment and extensive stocks, with experts in charge, assure you the best results. Whether your order is large or small, it commands our special attention to every detail.
Foote & Davies Company
Edgewood At Pryor :-: Phone Ivy 4600

UNITED STATES MORTGAGE & TRUST CO.
LOANS MONEY ON REAL ESTATE
ON DESIRABLE RESIDENCE AND BUSINESS PROPERTY
B. SMITH, REPRESENTATIVE, 706 FOURTH NAT'L BANK BLDG. IVY 16.

COME RUNNING
OR THEY ARE BARGAINS—Dandy, good 6-room house East Georgia Ave., at Capitol Ave., $3,250; $500 cash, balance monthly like rent.
ALSO, good 7-room house on Crew St. Lot 58x180 feet, at $4,000. Terms.
W. E. WORLEY
1107 HEALEY BLDG. IVY 381.

FARM LOANS
In Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina
In amounts of $1,000 to $50,000
The Southern Mortgage Co.
Central Building Atlanta, Ga.

$80,000.00 for Atlanta Mortgages
This money is available at current rates for loans on Real Estate in Atlanta, Decatur, College Park, East Lake, and other parts of the Atlanta Territory; part of it for straight five-year loans, and a part of it for loans on monthly plan.
Fulton Investment Company
Green, Tilson & McKinney, Attorneys. 1701-10 Hurt Building

JAMES L. RESPESS
CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT
ATLANTA, GA.
Expert on theory and practical application of income and excess profits tax. I receive as issued all government decisions and regulations.

JOEL HUNTER & CO., Atlanta
CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS
FEDERAL TAX ADVISERS
BUSINESS COUNSELLORS

COMPOSITION SHINGLES

Electile Individual 8x12 Asfalt Shingles, Highest Grade	$6.75 per sq.
Electile Individual 8x12 Asfalt Shingles, Seconds	5.50 per sq.
Electile Asfalt Strip Shingles, Highest Grade	5.75 per sq.
Electile Asfalt Strip Shingles, Seconds	5.25 per sq.
Electile Wide Space Asfalt Shingles, 9x14	5.50 per sq.
Electile Palatial Asfalt Strip Shingles, 2 Color Effect, Red and Green	5.75 per sq.

When ordering the above shingles specify whether you want Red or Green. These prices are only temporary.
Get our prices on all kinds of roofing products and Red Cedar Shingles.
CAROLINA PORTLAND CEMENT COMPANY
Atlanta, Ga.

North View Cemetery
—and—
Mausoleum
The finest in the south.
Offices 530 Candler Bldg.
Phone Ivy 1624.

Don't go Deaf
A simple, perfectly safe, pleasant home remedy has been found to relieve catarrh with tendency to head noises (buzzing, crackling, roaring, etc.) and deafness. Amazing benefits reported. Nature's true remedy; medicated herbal vapor—nothing to swallow or put in your ear. Get DR. BLOSSER'S CATARRH REMEDY at any busy drug store. Easy to use. Prove for yourself this is genuine; you found it at last! Bring new happiness into life. Show others this adv't.

SEND NO MONEY
Simply send your size and these wonderful Army Work Shoes will come to you at once. Chock full of wear. We guarantee them and you therefore buy at our risk. Pay only $4.49 on arrival for this smashing value.
ONLY $4.49 ON ARRIVAL
Lewis Mail Order Co., Dept. L. 74, 44 Federal St., Boston, Mass.
Send Shoes Postpaid. I Risk Nothing.
Name ..... Size .....
Address ..... Color .....

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.
P. H. Brewster. Albert Howell, Jr. Arthur Heyman.
Brewster, Howell & Heyman, Attorneys-at-Law.
Offices—507 to 520 Connally Building, Atlanta, Ga.
Long Distance Telephone 3023, 3024 and 2025, Atlanta, Ga.

Alonzo Richardson and Co.
CERTIFIED Public Accountants
1421 to 1425 EMPIRE BLDG.
TELEPHONE IVY 5493
--ATLANTA--

IVY 82 IVY 82
BRYANT TAXI SERVICE

HOTEL ANSLEY CALL IVY 82 ATLANTA, GA.

CORONA lbs. 6 $50
Fold it up—take it with you—typewrite anywhere 222 Arcade. M. 1140

KNOWLEDGE
Born of Experience
And some other things are behind our Form Letter Service
ATLANTA MULTIGRAPHING CO.
810 Flatiron Bldg.
Ivy 1436.

STRAIGHT HAIR

You can have long straight hair by using
EXELENTO
QUININE POMADE
which is a Hair Grower and stops falling hair, removes dandruff and makes the hair grow long, soft and silky. Try a box and if not satisfied your money will be returned.
Price 25c by mail on receipt of stamps or coin.
AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE.
Write for particulars.
EXELENTO MEDICINE CO.,
ATLANTA GA.

Merchants Desiring Men's and Boys' Clothing
Underwear, Skirts, Middies, House Dresses, Hosiery, etc., for immediate delivery, write us for samples and prices.
YALOVITZ BROS.
46 Piedmont Avenue, Atlanta, Ga.

FOR SALE USED TRUCKS
We have bargains in rebuilt one-ton trucks. Terms if desired.
Superior Motor Truck Co.
Whitehall and Stewart Ave.

DOLLARS SAVED ARE DOLLARS EARNED
By offering competent and honest truck repair service at a fair price we can save many dollars for every truck operator.
Gill Piston Rings, properly installed, are one of the factors in making this possible.
THE MARION GARAGE
Motor Repairing
Tire Repairing
Auto Storage
Service Station for Gill Piston Rings
95 N. Pryor Place
Half Block of Candler Bldg.
Rear Marion Hotel Ivy 3144

Corns 'Tween Toes? Use Easy "Gets-It"
Any Corn or Callus Comes Off Peacefully, Gloriously. Never Fails.
It is easy for "Gets-It" to reach "hard-to-get-at" corns, and better yet, it is easy to remove them, because "Gets-It" makes them come right off just like a banana peel. You can try to dig or drag out your corns with a knife, or slice them with a "bloody" razor, or use bandages and tape and wrap up your toe into a package, but that's the "treat-'em-rough," painful, foolish way. Use 2 or 3 drops of "Gets-It"—that's the peaceful, sure, common-sense way that never fails. You reach the corn easily with the little glass rod in the cork of every "Gets-It" bottle. It does not hurt the true flesh. Try it, trot and smile! It's a blessing; never fails.

Any Corn Peels Off With "Gets-It."
"Gets-It," the only sure, guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.—(adv.)

NOTICE TO GENERAL CONTRACTORS
Sealed bids will be received for the erection of a four-story and mezzanine floor, reinforced concrete building for the Nelms & Blum Company, Greenville, Miss. Plans and specifications prepared by J. Rice Scott & Co., of Greenville, Miss.
Bids to be addressed to the architects and plainly marked "Bids for General Contract, Nelms & Blum Building," must be sealed and will be received up to noon December 19, 1919, and then publicly opened in the office of the architects.
Plans and specifications for inspection of bidders are on file at the architects' office, Grand Opera House Building, Greenville, Mississippi.
Plans and specifications for the exclusive use of bidders may be obtained from the architects by depositing the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25) to insure the safe return of same, fifteen dollars ($15) of which will be returned to bidder on return of plans and specifications in good condition the day before the opening of bids.
The owner reserves the right to reject any or all bids.
A certified check for three per cent (3 per cent) of the amount of the bid must accompany each bid. Same to be made payable to the Nelms & Blum Company. Check to be returned to the unsuccessful bidders as soon as their bids are rejected.—(adv.)

"PERRY"
The Lock that thieves won't touch"—a size for every car.
Recommended by Insurance Companies, Boards of Underwriters, Police Departments and Automobile Engineers.
ATLANTA PERRY LOCK CO.
8 W. Harris. Ivy 397.

THANKSGIVING NOTICE
We will be closed all day tomorrow
THANKSGIVING
Be sure and make your purchases today, in the Big Warehouse Sale at
47 WEST HUNTER STREET
47 Rhodes Furniture Wood Company 47
COMPLETE HOUSE FURNISHERS
WEST HUNTER STREET